15 [u]Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: [x]it may be that the Lord GOD of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Jo'seph.

16 Therefore, the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord, saith thus; Wailing shall be in all streets; and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandmen to mourning, and [y]such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for [z]I will pass through thee, saith the LORD.

18 [a]Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? [b]the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light.

19 [c]As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 ¶[d]I hate, I despise your feast days, and [e]I will not ‖smell in your solemn assemblies.

out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, B. C. 787.

12 saith the LORD. Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Is'ra-el: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare 13 to meet thy God, O Is'ra-el. For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth; the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name.

5 Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamen-
2 tation over you, O house of Is'ra-el. The virgin of Is'ra-el is fallen; she shall no more rise: she [1]is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up.
3 For thus saith the Lord GOD: the city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left, and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to 4 the house of Is'ra-el. For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Is'ra-el, Seek ye me, and ye shall live:
5 but seek not Beth'-el, nor enter into Gil'gal, and pass not to Be'er-she'ba: for Gil'gal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth'-el shall [2]come to nought.
6 Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Jo'seph, and it devour and 7 there be none to quench it in Beth'-el: ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and cast down righteous-
8 ness to the earth; seek him that maketh the Ple'iades and O-ri'on, and turneth [3]the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the 9 LORD is his name; that [4]bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh
10 upon the fortress. They hate him that reproveth in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh up-
11 rightly. Forasmuch therefore as ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, 12 but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. For I know how manifold are your transgressions and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the needy in 13 the gate from their right. Therefore he that is prudent shall keep silence in such a time; for it is an evil
14 time. Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye 15 say. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of 16 Jo'seph. Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord: Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandmen to mourning, [5]and 17 such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through 18 the midst of thee, saith the LORD. Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? it is darkness, and not light.
19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; [6]or went into the house and leaned his hand
20 on the wall, and a serpent bit him. Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even 21 very dark, and no brightness in it? I hate, I despise your feasts, and I [7]will take no delight in your 22 solemn assemblies. Yea, though ye offer me [8]your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the [9]peace offerings of 23 your fat beasts. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 [g]But let judgment †run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25 [h]Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Is'ra-el?

26 But ye have borne ‖the tabernacle [i]of your Mo'loch and Chi'un your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves.

27 Therefore, will I cause you to go into captivity [k]beyond Da-mas'cus, saith the LORD, [l]whose name is The God of hosts.

CHAPTER VI.

The wantonness of Israel shall be plagued with desolation.

WOE [a]to them that ‖are at ease in Zi'on, and trust in the mountain of Sa-ma'ri-a, which are named [b]‖chief of the nations, to whom the house of Is'ra-el came!

2 [c]Pass ye unto [d]Cal'neh, and see; and from thence go ye to [e]Ha'math the great; then go down to [f]Gath of the Phi-lis'tines: [g]be they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?

3 Ye that [h]put far away the [i]evil day, [k]and cause [l]the ‖seat of violence to come near;

4 That lie upon beds of ivory, and ‖stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5 [m]That ‖chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of music, [n]like Da'vid;

6 That drink ‖wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: [o]but they are not grieved for the †affliction of Jo'seph.

7 ¶Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves shall be removed.

8 [p]The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhor [q]the excellency of Ja'cob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all †that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a man's uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No. Then shall he say, [r]Hold thy tongue: [s]for ‖we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.

11 For, behold, [t]the LORD commandeth, [u]and he will smite the great house with ‖breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 ¶Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plough there with oxen? for [x]ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock:

13 Ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength?

14 But, behold, [y]I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Is'ra-el, saith the LORD the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the [z]entering in of Ha'math unto the ‖river of the wilderness.

CHAPTER VII.

The judgments are diverted by the prayer of Amos, &c.

THUS hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me; and, behold, he formed ‖grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

2 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: [a]‖by whom shall Ja'cob arise? for he is small.

3 [b]The LORD repented for this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 ¶Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: [c]by whom shall Ja'cob arise? for he is small.

6 The LORD repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

24 But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteous-
25 ness as a [1]mighty stream. Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and [2]offerings in the wilderness forty years, 26 O house of Is'ra-el? Yea, ye [3]have borne [4]Sic'cuth your king and [5]Chi'un your images, the star of your 27 god, which ye made to yourselves. Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Da-mas'cus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

6 Woe to them that are at ease in Zi'on, and to them that are secure in the mountain of Sa-ma'ri-a, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to whom
2 the house of Is'ra-el come! Pass ye unto Cal'neh, and see; and from thence go ye to Ha'math the great: then go down to Gath of the Phi-lis'tines: be they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater
3 than your border? Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the [6]seat of violence to come near;
4 that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;
5 that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; that devise for themselves instruments of music, [7]like
6 Da'vid; that drink [8]wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not
7 grieved for the affliction of Jo'seph. Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves
8 shall pass away. The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor the [9]excellency of Ja'cob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.
9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men
10 in one house, that they shall die. And when a man's [10]uncle shall take him up, even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, Hold thy peace; for we may 11 not make mention of the name of the LORD. For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and [11]the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house
12 with clefts. Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? that ye have turned judgement into [12]gall, and the fruit of righteousness into 13 wormwood: ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our 14 own strength? For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Is'ra-el, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the [13]entering in of Ha'math unto the brook of the Ar'a-bah.

7 Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth
2 after the king's mowings. And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee:
3 how shall Ja'cob stand? for he is small. The LORD repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.
4 Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the [14]land.
5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee:
6 how shall Ja'cob stand? for he is small. The LORD repented concerning this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER VIII.

By a basket of summer fruit is shewed Israel's end.

THUS hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me: and behold a basket of summer fruit.
2 And he said, A'mos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, [a]The end is come upon my people of Is'ra-el; [b]I will not again pass by them any more.
3 And [c]the songs of the temple †shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD: there shall be many dead bodies in every place; [d]they shall cast them forth †with silence.
4 ¶Hear this, O ye that [e]swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail,
5 Saying, When will the ‖new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and [f]the sabbath, that we may †set forth wheat, [g]making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and †falsifying the balances by deceit?
6 That we may buy the poor for [h]silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?
7 The LORD hath sworn by [i]the excellency of Ja'cob, Surely [k]I will never forget any of their works.
8 [l]Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly a- a flood: and it shall be cast out and drowned, [m]as by the flood of E'gypt.
9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, [n]that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day:
10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; [p]and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; [q]and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.
11 ¶Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but [r]of hearing the words of the LORD:

5 fail, saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may [6]set forth wheat? making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit;
6 that we may buy the poor for [7]silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat.
7 The LORD hath sworn by the excellency of Ja'cob,
8 Surely I will never forget any of their works. Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled and sink
9 again, like the River of E'gypt. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken
10 the earth in the clear day. And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the 11 end thereof as a bitter day. Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not find it.
13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.
14 They that [a]swear by [b]the sin of Sa-ma'ri-a, and say, Thy god, O Dan, liveth; and, The [†]manner [c]of Be'er-she'ba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

CHAPTER IX.

The certainty of Israel's desolation; the restoring of the tabernacle of David.

I SAW the LORD standing upon the altar: and he said, Smite the [‖]lintel of the door, that the posts may shake: and [‖][d]cut them in the head, all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: [e]he that fleeth of them shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them shall not be delivered.
2 [f]Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them; [g]though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down:
3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Car'mel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them:
4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, [h]thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and [i]I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.
5 And the LORD God of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall [j]melt, [k]and all that dwell therein shall mourn: and it shall rise up wholly like a flood; and shall be drowned, as by the flood of E'gypt.
6 It is he that buildeth his [‖][†][l]stories in the heaven, and hath founded his [‖]troop in the earth; he that [m]calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: [n]The LORD is his name.
7 Are ye not as the children of the E-thi-o'pi-ans unto me, O children of Is'ra-el? saith the LORD. Have not I brought up Is'ra-el out of the land of E'gypt? and the [o]Phi-lis'tines from [p]Caph'tor, and the Syr'i-ans from [q]Kir?
8 Behold, [r]the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I [s]will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Ja'cob, saith the LORD.
9 For, lo, I will command, and I will [†]sift the house of Is'ra-el among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least [†]grain fall upon the earth.
10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, [t]which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.
11 ¶ [u]In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of Da'vid that is fallen, and [†]close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old:
12 [v]That they may possess the remnant of [w]E'dom, and of all the heathen [†]which are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this.
13 Behold, [x]the days come, saith the LORD, that the ploughman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that [†]soweth seed; [y]and the mountains shall drop [‖]sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.
14 [z]And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Is'ra-el, and [a]they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.
15 And I will plant them upon their land, and [b]they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not find it.
13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young
14 men faint for thirst. They that swear by the sin of Sa-ma'ri-a, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As the [1]way of Be'er-she'ba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

I saw the Lord standing [2]beside the altar: and he said, Smite the chapiters, that the thresholds may shake: and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: [3]there shall not one of them flee away,
2 and there shall not one of them escape. Though they dig into [4]hell, thence shall mine hand take them; and though they climb up to heaven, thence will I
3 bring them down. And though they hide themselves in the top of Car'mel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I com-
4 mand the serpent, and he shall bite them. And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.
5 For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, is he that toucheth the land and it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; and it shall rise up wholly like the River; and shall sink again, like the 6 River of E'gypt; it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heaven, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the 7 LORD is his name. Are ye not as the children of the E-thi-o'pi-ans unto me, O children of Is'ra-el? saith the LORD. Have not I brought up Is'ra-el out of the land of E'gypt, and the Phi-lis'tines from Caph'tor, and the 8 Syr'i-ans from Kir? Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Ja'cob, saith the 9 LORD. For, lo, I will command, and I will [5]sift the house of Is'ra-el among all the nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall
10 upon the earth. All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.
11 In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of Da'vid that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as 12 in the days of old; that they may possess the remnant of E'dom, and all the nations, which [6]are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this.
13 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.
14 And I will bring again the captivity of my people Is'ra-el, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gar-
15 dens, and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

OBADIAH

CHAPTER 1.

Destruction of Edom for their pride—Salvation and victory of Jacob.

THE vision of O-ba-di'ah. Thus saith the Lord GOD [a]concerning E'dom; [b]We have heard a rumor from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts [c]of the rock, whose habitation is high; [d]that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 [e]Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou [f]set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

5 If [g]thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grapegatherers came to thee, [h]would they not leave ‖ some grapes?

6 How are the things of E'sau searched out! how are his hidden things sought up!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: †[i]the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; †they that eat thy bread have laid a wound under thee: [k]there is none understanding ‖ in him.

8 [l]Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of E'dom, and understanding out of the mount of E'sau?

9 And thy [m]mighty men, O [n]Te'man, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of E'sau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 ¶For thy [o]violence against thy brother Ja'cob, shame shall cover thee, and [p]thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that the strangers ‖ carried away captive his forces, and foreigners entered into his gates, and [q]cast lots upon Je-ru'-sa-lem, even thou wast as one of them.

12 But ‖ thou shouldest not have [r]looked on [s]the day of thy brother in the day that he became a stranger; neither shouldest thou have [t]rejoiced over the children of Ju'dah in the day of their destruction; neither shouldest thou have †spoken proudly in the day of distress.

13 Thou shouldest not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; yea, thou shouldest not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity, nor have laid hands on their ‖ substance in the day of their calamity;

14 Neither shouldest thou have stood in the crossway, to cut off those of his that did escape; neither shouldest thou have ‖ delivered up those of his that did remain in the day of distress.

15 [u]For the day of the LORD is near upon all the heathen: [x]as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head.

16 [y]For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually; yea, they shall drink, and they shall ‖ swallow down, and they shall be as though they had not been.

17 ¶[z]But upon mount Zi'on [a]shall be ‖ deliverance, and ‖ there shall be holiness; and the house of Ja'cob shall possess their possessions.

18 And the house of Ja'cob [b]shall be a fire, and the house of Jo'seph a flame, and the house of E'sau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them; and there shall not be any remaining of the house of E'sau; for the LORD hath spoken it.

JONAH.

CHAPTER I.

Jonah, sent to Nineveh, fleeth to Tarshish; he is overtaken by a tempest.

NOW the word of the LORD came unto [a]‖ Jo'nah the son of A-mit'ta-i, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nin'e-veh, that [b]great city, and cry against it; for [c]their wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jo'nah [d]rose up to flee unto Tar'shish from the presence of the LORD, and went down to [e]Jop'pa: and he found a ship going to Tar'shish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tar'shish [f]from the presence of the LORD.

4 ¶ ‖ But [g]the LORD †sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship †was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and [h]cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jo'nah was gone down [i]into the sides of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, [k]call upon thy God, [l]if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us [m]cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jo'nah.

8 Then said they unto him, [n]Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said unto them, I am a He'brew; and I fear ‖ the LORD, the God of heaven, [o]which hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men †exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

11 ¶ Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea †may be calm unto us? for the sea ‖ †wrought and was tempestuous.

12 And he said unto them, [p]Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men †rowed hard to bring it to the land; [q]but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and [r]lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, [s]hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jo'nah, and cast him forth into the sea: [t]and the sea †ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men [u]feared the LORD exceedingly, and [v]†offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.

17 ¶ Now the LORD had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jo'nah. And [x]Jo'nah was in the †belly of the fish three days and three nights.

But Jo'nah rose up to flee unto Tar'shish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to Jop'pa, and found a ship going to Tar'shish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tar'shish 4 from the presence of the LORD. But the LORD [3]sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was 5 like to be broken. Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jo'nah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, 6 and was fast asleep. So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that 7 God will think upon us, that we perish not. And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot 8 fell upon Jo'nah. Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? 9 And he said unto them, I am an He'brew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath 10 made the sea and the dry land. Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he 11 had told them. Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempes- 12 tuous. And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tem- 13 pest is upon you. Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against 14 them. Wherefore they cried [2]unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, hast 15 done as it pleased thee. So they took up Jo'nah, and cast him forth into the sea; and the sea ceased 16 from her raging. Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the 17 LORD, and made vows. And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jo'nah; and Jo'nah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAPTER II.

The prayer of Jonah; he is delivered out of the belly of the fish.

THEN Jo'nah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly,

2 And said, I [a]cried ||by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD, [b]and he heard me; out of the belly of ||hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 [c]For thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the †midst of the seas; and the floods compassed me about: [d]all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.

4 [e]Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again [f]toward thy holy temple.

5 The [g]waters compassed me about, even to the soul: the depths closed me round about, the weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the †bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life [h]from ||corruption, O LORD my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me I remembered the LORD: [i]and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that observe [k]lying vanities forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will [l]sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that that I have vowed. [m]Salvation is of the LORD.

10 ¶And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jo'nah upon the dry land.

CHAPTER III.

Jonah, sent again, preacheth to the Ninevites, &c.

AND the word of the LORD came unto Jo'nah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nin'e-veh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jo'nah arose and went unto Nin'e-veh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nin'e-veh was an †exceeding great city of three days' journey.

4 And Jo'nah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and [a]he cried, and said, Yet forty days and Nin'e-veh shall be overthrown.

5 ¶So the people of Nin'e-veh [b]believed God and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nin'e-veh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, [c]and sat in ashes.

7 [d]And he caused it to be proclaimed and †published through Nin'e-veh by decree of the king and his †nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, [e]let them turn every one from his evil way and from [f]the violence that is in their hands.

9 [g]Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

10 ¶[h]And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not.

CHAPTER IV.

Jonah, repining at God's mercy, is reproved, by the type of a gourd.

BUT it displeased Jo'nah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I [a]fled before unto Tar'shish: for I knew that thou art a [b]gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

B. C. 862.

2 Then Jo'nah prayed unto the LORD his God out
2 of the fish's belly. And he said,
I called [1]by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD,
And he answered me;
Out of the belly of [2]hell cried I,
And thou heardest my voice.
3 For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas,
And the flood was round about me;
All thy waves and thy billows passed over me.
4 And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes;
Yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.
5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul;
The deep was round about me;
The weeds were wrapped about my head.
6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;
The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever:
Yet hast thou brought up my life from [3]the pit, O
LORD my God.
7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD:
And my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.
8 They that regard lying vanities
Forsake their own mercy.
9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving;

out Jo'nah upon the dry land.

2 second time, saying, Arise, go unto Nin'e-veh, that great city, and [4]preach unto it the preaching that 3 I bid thee. So Jo'nah arose, and went unto Nin'e-veh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nin'e-veh was [5]an exceeding great city, of three days' journey.
4 And Jo'nah began to enter into the city a day's

5 Nin'e-veh will be overthrown. And the people of Nin'e-veh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest 6 of them even to the least of them. [6]And the tidings reached the king of Nin'e-veh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.
7 And he made proclamation and [7]published through Nin'e-veh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:
8 but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God:
yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and 9 from the violence that is in their hands. Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish 10 not? And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, 4 which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not. But it displeased Jo'nah exceedingly, and he 2 was angry. And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I [8]hasted to flee unto Tar'shish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repentest thee of the evil.

CHAPTER I.

Micah sheweth the wrath of God against Jacob; he exhorteth to mourning.

B. C. about 750.

THE word of the LORD came to [a]Mi'cah the Mo'ras-thite in the days of Jo'tham, A'haz, and Hez-e-ki'ah, kings of Ju'dah, [b]which he saw concerning Sa-ma'ri-a and Je-ru'sa-lem.
2 †Hear, all ye people; [c]hearken, O earth, and †all that therein is: and let the Lord GOD [d]be witness against you, the Lord from [e]his holy temple.
3 For, behold, [f]the LORD cometh forth out of his [g]place, and will come down, and tread upon the [h]high places of the earth.

MICAH.

B. C. about 750.

1 The word of the LORD that came to Mi'cah the Mo'rash-tite in the days of Jo'tham, A'haz, and Hez-e-ki'ah, kings of Ju'dah, which he saw concerning Sa-ma'ri-a and Je-ru'sa-lem.
2 Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken, O earth, and [3]all that therein is: and let the Lord GOD be witness [4]against you, the Lord from his holy temple.
3 For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of 4 the earth. And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the 5 fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. For the transgression of Ja'cob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Is'ra-el. What is the transgression of Ja'cob? is it not Sa-ma'ri-a? and what are the high places
6 of Ju'dah? are they not Je-ru'sa-lem? Therefore I will make Sa-ma'ri-a as an heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foun-
7 dations thereof. And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of the hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and
8 unto the hire of an harlot shall they return. For this will I wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the jackals, and 9 a mourning like the ostriches. For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Ju'dah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Je-ru'-
10 sa-lem. Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at [5]Beth-le-Aph'rah [6]have I rolled myself in the dust.
11 Pass ye away, O [7]inhabitant of Sha'phir, in naked-ness and shame: the [7]inhabitant of Za'a-nan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-e'zel shall take from 12 you the [8]stay thereof. For the [7]inhabitant of Ma'roth [9]waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down from the LORD unto the gate of Je-ru'sa-lem.

13 O thou inhabitant of [z]La'chish, bind the chariot to the swift beast: she is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zi'on: for the transgressions of Is'ra-el were found in thee.
14 Therefore shalt thou [y]give presents ||to Mor'esh-eth-gath: the houses of ||[x]Ach'zib shall be a lie to the kings of Is'ra-el.
15 Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of [w]Ma-re'shah; ||he shall come unto [b]A-dul'lam the glory of Is'ra-el.
16 Make thee [c]bald, and poll thee for thy [d]delicate children; enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAPTER II.

Against oppression; reproof of injustice, &c.; a promise of restoring Jacob.

WOE to them [e]that devise iniquity, and [b]work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because [c]it is in the power of their hand.
2 And they covet [d]fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they ||oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.
3 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, against [e]this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; neither shall ye go haughtily: [f]for this time is evil.
4 ¶In that day shall one [g]take up a parable against you, and [h]lament †with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: [i]he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! ||turning away he hath divided our fields.
5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall [k]cast a cord by lot in the congregation of the LORD.
6 ||†[l]Prophesy ye not, say they to them that prophesy: they shall not prophesy to them, that they shall not take shame.
7 ¶O thou that art named The house of Ja'cob, is the Spirit of the LORD ||straitened? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh †uprightly?
8 Even †of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe †with the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war.
9 The ||women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.
10 Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your [m]rest: because it is [n]polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.
11 If a man ||[o]walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.
12 ¶[p]I will surely assemble, O Ja'cob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Is'ra-el; I will put them together [q]as the sheep of Boz'rah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: [r]they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.
13 The breaker is come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it; and [s]their king shall pass before them, [t]and the LORD on the head of them.

CHAPTER III.

Cruelty of the princes; falsehood of the prophets; security of them both.

AND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Ja'cob, and ye princes of the house of Is'ra-el: [u]Is it not for you to know judgment?
2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones;
3 Who also [b]eat the flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them; and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and [c]as flesh within the caldron.
4 Then [d]shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.
5 ¶Thus saith the LORD [e]concerning the prophets that make my people err, that [f]bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and [g]he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him:

13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O [1]inhabitant of La'chish: for she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zi'on; for the transgressions of Is'ra-el were found
14 in thee. Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Mor'esh-eth-gath: the houses of Ach'zib shall be [2]a 15 deceitful thing unto the kings of Is'ra-el. I will yet bring unto thee, O [1]inhabitant of Ma-re'shah, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Is'ra-el shall come even 16 unto A-dul'lam. Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight: enlarge thy baldness as the [3]eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

2 Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.
2 And they covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and
3 his house, even a man and his heritage. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye walk haughtily; for it
4 is an evil time. In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament [4]with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he changeth the portion of my people: how doth he [5]remove it from me! to the rebellious he divideth
5 our fields. Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the 6 LORD. [6]Prophesy ye not, thus they prophesy. They shall not prophesy [7]to these: reproaches shall not
7 depart. [8]Shall it be said, O house of Ja'cob, Is the spirit of the LORD [9]straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh up-
8 rightly? But [10]of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war.
9 The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away
10 my glory for ever. Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your rest: because of uncleanness [11]that destroy-
11 eth, even with a grievous destruction. If a man walking [12]in wind and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.
12 I will surely assemble, O Ja'cob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Is'ra-el; I will put them together as the sheep of Boz'rah: as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great 13 noise by reason of the multitude of men. The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and the LORD at the head of them.

3 And I said, Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Ja'cob, and rulers of the house of Is'ra-el: is it not for you
2 to know judgement? who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and
3 their flesh from off their bones; who also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.
4 Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in 5 their doings. Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth and cry, Peace: and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even [13]prepare war against him:

6 [h]Therefore night shall be unto you, †that ye shall not have a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, †that ye shall not divine; [i]and the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; yea, they shall all cover their †lips; [k]for there is no answer of God.

8 ¶But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, [l]to declare unto Ja'cob his transgression, and to Is'ra-el his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Ja'cob, and princes of the house of Is'ra-el, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.

10 [m]They build up Zi'on with [n]†blood, and Je-ru'sa-lem with iniquity.

11 [o]The heads thereof judge for reward, and [p]the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: [q]yet will they lean upon the LORD, †and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zi'on for your sake be [r]ploughed as a field, [s]and Je-ru'sa-lem shall become heaps, and [t]the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.

CHAPTER IV.

Establishment of Christ's kingdom; peace, restoration, kingdom, &c.

BUT [a]in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Ja'cob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zi'on, and the word of the LORD from Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 ¶And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off, and they shall beat their swords into [b]ploughshares, and their spears into ‖pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, [c]neither shall they learn war any more.

4 [d]But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For [e]all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and [f]we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, [g]will I assemble her that halteth, [h]and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halted [i]a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD [k]shall reign over them in mount Zi'on from henceforth, even for ever.

8 ¶And thou, O tower of ‖the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zi'on, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? [l]is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for [m]pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zi'on, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Bab'y-lon; there shalt thou be delivered; there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 ¶[n]Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye [o]look upon Zi'on.

12 But they know not [p]the thoughts of the LORD: neither understand they his counsel: for he shall gather them [q]as the sheaves into the floor.

13 [r]Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zi'on: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt [s]beat in pieces many people: [t]and I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto [u]the Lord of the whole earth.

B. C. 710.

6 Therefore it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over
7 them. And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; yea, they shall all cover their 8 lips: for there is no answer of God. But I truly am full of power [1]by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Ja'cob his 9 transgression, and to Is'ra-el his sin. Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Ja'cob, and rulers of the house of Is'ra-el, that abhor judgement, and per-10 vert all equity. They build up Zi'on with blood, and 11 Je-ru'sa-lem with iniquity. The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof [1]divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD in the 12 midst of us? no evil shall come upon us. Therefore shall Zi'on for your sake be plowed as a field, and Je-ru'sa-lem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

4 [2]But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established [3]in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above
2 the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Ja'cob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zi'on shall go forth [4]the law, and the word of the LORD from Je-ru'sa-lem.
3 And he shall judge [5]between [6]many peoples, and shall [7]reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against
4 nation, neither shall they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the 5 mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. For all the peoples [8]will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and 7 her that I have afflicted; and I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount
8 Zi'on from henceforth even for ever. And thou, O tower of [9]the flock, [10]the hill of the daughter of Zi'on, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem.
9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee, is thy counsellor perished, that pangs have 10 taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zi'on, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and shalt come even unto Bab'y-lon; there shalt thou be rescued; there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine
11 enemies. And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye
12 [11]see its desire upon Zi'on. But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the 13 threshing-floor. Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zi'on: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and [12]thou shalt devote their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAPTER V.

The birth of Christ; his kingdom; his conquest.

B.C. about 710.

NOW gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall [a]smite the judge of Is'ra-el with a rod upon the cheek.

2 But thou, [b]Beth'-le-hem Eph'ra-tah, though thou be little [c]among the [d]thousands of Ju'dah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be [e]ruler in Is'ra-el; [f]whose goings forth have been from of old, from †everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that [g]she which travaileth hath brought forth: then [h]the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Is'ra-el.

4 ¶ And he shall stand and ‖[i]feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God; and they shall abide: for now [k]shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

5 And this man [l]shall be the peace, when the As-syr'i-an shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight †principal men.

6 And they shall †waste the land of As-syr'i-a with the sword, and the land of [m]Nim'rod ‖in the entrances thereof: thus shall he [n]deliver us from the As-syr'i-an, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.

7 And [o]the remnant of Ja'cob shall be in the midst of many people [p]as the dew from the LORD, as the showers upon the grass, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men.

8 ¶ And the remnant of Ja'cob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of ‖sheep: who, if he go through, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

9 Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

10 [q]And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots:

11 And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strong holds:

12 And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more [r]soothsayers:

13 [s]Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy ‖standing images out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt [t]no more worship the work of thy hands.

14 And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thy ‖cities.

15 And I will [u]execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

CHAPTER VI.

God's controversy for unkindness, for ignorance, for injustice, and for idolatry.

HEAR ye now what the LORD saith; Arise, contend thou ‖before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 [a]Hear ye, O mountains, [b]the LORD's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for [c]the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Is'ra-el.

3 O my people, [d]what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 [e]For I brought thee up out of the land of E'gypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants; and I sent before thee Mo'ses, Aa'ron, and Mir'i-am.

5 O my people, remember now what [f]Ba'lak king of Mo'ab consulted, and what Ba'laam the son of Be'or answered him from [g]Shit'tim unto Gil'gal; that ye may know [h]the righteousness of the LORD.

6 ¶ Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves †of a year old?

7 [i]Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of [k]rivers of oil? [l]shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my †body for the sin of my soul?

5 Now shall thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Is'ra-el with a rod upon the cheek.

2 But thou, Beth'-le-hem Eph'ra-thah, which art little to be among the [1]thousands of Ju'dah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Is'ra-el; whose goings forth are from of old, [2]from everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the residue of his brethren shall return [3]unto the children of

4 Is'ra-el. And he shall stand, and shall feed his flock in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now

5 shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be our peace: when the As-syr'i-an shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and

6 eight [4]principal men. And they shall [5]waste the land of As-syr'i-a with the sword, and the land of Nim'rod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the As-syr'i-an, when he cometh into our land, and when

7 he treadeth within our border. And the remnant of Ja'cob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men.

8 And the remnant of Ja'cob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to 9 deliver. Let thine hand be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst

11 of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down

12 all thy strong holds: and I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more

13 soothsayers: and I will cut off thy graven images and thy [6]pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.

14 And I will pluck up thine [7]Ash'er-im out of the midst

15 of thee: and I will destroy thy [8]cities And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations [9]which hearkened not.

6 Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills

2 hear thy voice. Hear, O ye mountains, the LORD's controversy, and ye enduring foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his

3 people, and he will plead with Is'ra-el. O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I

4 wearied thee? testify against me. For I brought thee up out of the land of E'gypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before

5 thee Mo'ses, Aa'ron, and Mir'i-am. O my people, remember now what Ba'lak king of Mo'ab consulted, and what Ba'laam the son of Be'or answered him; remember from Shit'tim unto Gil'gal, that ye

6 may know the righteous acts of the LORD. Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year

7 old? Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

16 For the statutes of Om'ri are kept, and all the works of the house of A'hab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee [4]a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

CHAPTER I.

The majesty of God in goodness to his people, and severity against his enemies.

THE burden [a]of Nin'e-veh. The book of the vision of Na'hum the El'kosh-ite.

2 ‖God is [b]jealous, and [c]the LORD revengeth; the LORD revengeth, and †is furious; the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

3 The LORD is [d]slow to anger, and [e]great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked: [f]the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 [g]He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Ba'shan languisheth, and Car'mel, and the flower of Leb'a-non languisheth.

5 [i]The mountains quake at him, and [k]the hills melt, and [l]the earth is burned at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stand before his indignation? and [m]who can †abide in the fierceness of his anger? [n]his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.

7 [o]The LORD is good, a ‖strong hold in the day of trouble; and [p]he knoweth them that trust in him.

8 [q]But with an overrunning flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.

9 [r]What do ye imagine against the LORD? [s]he will make an utter end: affliction shall not rise up the second time.

10 For while they be folden together [t]as thorns, [u]and while they are drunken as drunkards, [x]they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.

11 There is one come out of thee, [y]that imagineth evil against the LORD, †a wicked counsellor.

12 Thus saith the LORD; ‖Though they be quiet, and likewise many, yet thus [z]shall they be †cut down, when he shall [a]pass through. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now will I [b]break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14 And the LORD hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image: [c]I will make thy grave; for thou art vile.

15 Behold [d]upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! O Ju'dah, †keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for †[e]the wicked shall no more pass through thee: [f]he is utterly cut off.

NAHUM.

1 The [4]burden of Nin'e-veh. The book of the vision of Na'hum the El'kosh-ite.
2 The LORD is a jealous God and avengeth; the LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; the LORD taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth
3 wrath for his enemies. The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty: the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his 4 feet. He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Ba'shan languisheth, and Car'mel, and the flower of Leb'a-non languisheth.
5 The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, the 6 world, and all that dwell therein. Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like
7 fire, and the rocks are broken asunder by him. The LORD is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that put their trust in him.
8 But with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and will pursue his enemies into 9 darkness. What do ye imagine against the LORD? he will make a full end: affliction shall not rise up 10 the second time. For though they be like tangled thorns, and be drenched as it were in their drink, they shall be devoured [5]utterly as dry stubble.
11 There is one gone forth out of thee, that imagineth evil against the LORD, [6]that counselleth [7]wickedness.
12 Thus saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away. [8]Though I have 13 afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more. And now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst
14 thy bonds in sunder. And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the moulten image; I will make thy grave; for thou art vile.
15 Behold, upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Ju'dah, perform thy vows: for [9]the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

2 [c]For the LORD hath turned away ‖ the excellency of Ja'cob, as the excellency of Is'ra-el: for [d]the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of [1]his mighty men is made [e]red, the valiant men are ‖ in scarlet: the chariots shall be with ‖ flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fir trees shall be terribly shaken.

4 The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways: †they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings.

5 He shall recount his ‖ worthies: they shall stumble in their walk; they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the †defence shall be prepared.

7 And ‖ Huz'zab shall be ‖ led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of [f]doves, tabering upon their breasts.

8 But Nin'e-veh is ‖ of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry; but none shall ‖ look back.

9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: ‖ for there is none end of the store and glory out of all the †pleasant furniture.

10 She is empty, and void, and waste: and the [g]heart melteth, and [h]the knees smite together, [i]and much pain is in all loins, and [k]the faces of them all gather blackness.

11 Where is the dwelling of [l]the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion, even the old lion, walked, and the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid.

12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravin.

13 [m]Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of [n]thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER III.

The miserable ruin of Nineveh; no power able to resist God.

WOE to the †[a]bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not;

2 The noise of a whip, and [b]the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the jumping chariots.

3 The horseman lifteth up both †the bright sword and the glittering spear: and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcasses; and there is none end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses:

4 Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of [c]the well favoured harlot, [c]the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.

5 [d]Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts; and [e]I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, [f]and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.

6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and [g]make thee vile, and will set thee as [h]a gazingstock.

7 And it [i]shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee [i]shall flee from thee, and say, Nin'e-veh is laid waste: [k]who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

8 [l]Art thou better than ‖ †populous [m]No, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about it, whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots [1]flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the [2]spears
4 are shaken terribly. The chariots rage in the streets, they justle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run
5 like the lightnings. He remembereth his worthies: they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared.
6 The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace

HABAKKUK.

CHAPTER I.

Unto Habakkuk is shewed the fearful vengeance by the Chaldeans.

THE burden which Ha-bak'kuk the prophet did see.
2 O LORD, how long shall I cry, [e]and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save?
3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.
4 Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the [b]wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore || wrong judgment proceedeth.
5 ¶ [e]Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you.
6 For, lo, [d]|| I raise up the Chal-de'ans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the †breadth of the land, to possess the dwellingplaces that are not theirs.
7 They are terrible and dreadful: || their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.
8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce †than the [e]evening wolves: and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far; [f]they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat.
9 They shall come all for violence: || †their faces shall sup up as the east wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the sand.
10 And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold; for they shall heap dust, and take it.
11 Then shall his mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, [g]imputing this his power unto his god.
12 ¶ [h]Art thou not from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? We shall not die, O LORD, [i]thou hast ordained them for judgment; and, O †mighty God, thou hast †established them for correction.
13 [k]Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on || iniquity: [l]wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?

HABAKKUK.

1 The [6]burden which Ha-bak'kuk the prophet did see.
2 O LORD, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee of violence, and thou
3 wilt not save. Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and [7]look upon perverseness? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. Therefore the law is slacked, and
4 judgement [8]doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judge-
5 ment goeth forth perverted. Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for [9]I work a work in your days, which ye will not
6 believe though it be told you. For, lo, I raise up the Chal-de'ans, that bitter and hasty nation; which march through the breadth of the earth, to possess
7 dwelling places that are not theirs. [10]They are terrible and dreadful: their judgement and their
8 dignity proceed from themselves. Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves; and their horsemen [11]spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far;
9 they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour. They come all of them for violence; [12]their faces are set eagerly [13]as the east wind; and they gather captives
10 as the sand. [14]Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him: he derideth every strong hold;
11 for he heapeth up dust, and taketh it. [15]Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall [16]pass over, and be guilty:
12 even he whose might is his god. Art not thou from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? [17]we shall not die. O LORD, thou hast ordained him for judgement; and thou, O [18]Rock, hast established him 13 for correction. Thou that art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he;

CHAPTER II.

The judgment upon the Chaldeans for their sins.

I WILL [a]stand upon my watch, and set me upon the †tower, [b]and will watch to see what he will say ||unto me, and what I shall answer ||†when I am reproved.
2 And the LORD answered me, and said, [c]Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.
3 For [d]the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will [e]surely come, it will not tarry.
4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up, is not upright in him: but the [f]just shall live by his faith.
5 ¶ ||Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire [g]as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people:
6 Shall not all these [h]take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, ||Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and to him that ladeth himself with thick clay!
7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them?
8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee; [h]because of men's †blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.
9 ¶Woe to him that [i]||coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may [m]set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the †power of evil!
10 Thou hast consulted shame to thy house by cutting off many people, and hast sinned against thy soul.
11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the ||beam out of the timber shall ||answer it.
12 ¶Woe to him that buildeth a town with [n]†blood, and establisheth a city by iniquity!
13 Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts [o]that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves ||for very vanity?
14 For the earth shall be filled ||with the [p]knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.
15 ¶Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that puttest thy [q]bottle to him, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest [r]look on their nakedness!
16 Thou art filled ||with shame for glory: [s]drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered; the cup of the LORD'S right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.
17 For the violence of Leb'a-non shall cover thee, and the spoil of beasts, which made them afraid, [t]because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.
18 ¶[u]What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a [x]teacher of lies, that †the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make [u]dumb idols?
19 Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, [z]and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.
20 But [a]the LORD is in his holy temple: †[b]let all the earth keep silence before him.

B. C. 626.

14 and makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the 15 creeping things, that have no ruler over them? He taketh up all of them with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag:
16 therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by them his portion is fat, 17 and his meat [1]plenteous. Shall he therefore empty his net, and not spare to slay the nations continually?

2 I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the [2]tower, and will look forth to see what he will speak
[3]with me, and what I shall answer concerning my
2 complaint. And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that
3 he may run that readeth it. For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it [4]hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, wait for it: be-
4 cause it will surely come, it will not delay. Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not [5]upright in him: but
5 the just shall live [6]by his faith. [7]Yea, moreover, wine is a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and [8]that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire as [9]hell, and he is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto 6 him all peoples. Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting [10]proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that ladeth himself with pledges!
7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall [11]bite thee, and awake that shall [12]vex thee, and thou shalt be for 8 booties unto them? Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.
9 Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he
10 may be delivered from the hand of evil! Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many 11 peoples, and hast sinned against thy soul. For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.
12 Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and 13 stablisheth a city by iniquity! Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity?
14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.
15 Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that [13]addest thy [14]venom thereto, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their naked-
16 ness! Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and [15]be as one uncircumcised: the cup of the LORD'S right hand shall be turned unto thee,
17 and foul shame shall be upon thy glory. For the violence done to Leb'a-non shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, [16]which made them afraid; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.
18 What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and the teacher of lies, that the maker of [17]his work trusteth
19 therein, to make dumb idols? Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise! Shall this teach? Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all 20 in the midst of it. But the LORD is in his holy temple: [18]let all the earth keep silence before him.

CHAPTER III.

Habakkuk's prayer; he trembleth at God's majesty; the stability of his faith.

A PRAYER of Ha-bak'kuk the prophet [a]|| upon Shi-gi'o-noth.

2 O LORD, I have heard †thy speech and was afraid: O LORD, || [b]revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from || Te'man, [c]and the Holy One from mount Pa'ran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light; he had || horns coming out of his hand: and there was the hiding of his power.

5 [d]Before him went the pestilence, and || [e]burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; [f]and the [g]everlasing mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his ways are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of || Cu'shan || in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Mid'i-an did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, [h]that thou didst ride upon thine horses, and || thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes, even thy word. Selah. || [i]Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 [k]The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and [l]lifted up his hands on high.

11 [m]The sun and moon stood till in their habitation: || at the light of thine [n]arrows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation, [o]thou didst thresh the heathen in anger.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine anointed; [p]thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, †by discovering the foundation unto the neck. Selah.

14 Thou didst strike through with his staves the head of his villages: they †came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 [q]Thou didst walk through the sea with thine horses, through the || heap of great waters.

16 When I heard, [r]my belly trembled; my lips quivered at the voice: rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in the day of trouble: when he cometh up unto the people, he will || invade them with his troops.

17 ¶ Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive shall †fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls:

18 [s]Yet I will [t]rejoice in the LORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

19 The Lord GOD is [u]my strength, and he will make my feet like [x]hinds' feet, and he will make me to [y]walk upon mine high places. To the chief singer on my †stringed instruments.

3 A prayer of Ha-bak'kuk the prophet, set to Shi-gi'o-noth.

2 O LORD, I have heard [1]the report of thee, and [2]am afraid:
O LORD, revive thy work in the midst of the years,
In the midst of the years make it known;
In wrath remember mercy.

3 God [3]came from Te'man,
And the Holy One from mount Pa'ran. [Selah
His glory covered the heavens,
And the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light;
He had [4]rays coming forth [5]from his hand:
And there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence,
And [6]fiery bolts went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and [7]measured the earth;
He beheld, and drove asunder the nations:
And the eternal mountains were scattered,
The everlasting hills did bow;
[8]His goings were as of old.

7 I saw the tents of Cu'shan in affliction:
The curtains of the land of Mid'i-an did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the rivers?
Was thine anger against the rivers,
Or thy wrath against the sea,
That thou didst ride upon thine horses,
Upon thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy bow was made quite bare;
[9]The oaths to the tribes were a sure word. [Selah
Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountains saw thee, and [10]were afraid;
The tempest of waters passed by:
The deep uttered his voice,
And lifted up his hands on high.

11 The sun and moon stood still in their habitation;
At the light of thine arrows as they went,
At the shining of thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation,
Thou didst thresh the nations in anger.

13 Thou [11]wentest forth for the salvation of thy people,
[12]For the salvation of thine anointed;
[13]Thou [14]woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked,
Laying bare the foundation even unto the neck. [Selah

14 Thou [15]didst pierce with his own staves the head of his [16]warriors:
They came as a whirlwind to scatter me:
Their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 Thou [17]didst tread the sea with thine horses,
The [18]heap of mighty waters.

16 I heard, and my belly trembled,
My lips quivered at the voice;
Rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place:
That I should rest [19]in the day of trouble,
[20]When it cometh up against the people [21]which invadeth him in troops.

17 For though the fig tree shall not blossom,
Neither shall fruit be in the vines;
The labour of the olive shall fail,
And the fields shall yield no meat;
The flock shall be cut off from the fold,
And there shall be no herd in the stalls:

18 Yet I will rejoice in the LORD,
I will joy in the God of my salvation.

19 Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength,
And he maketh my feet like hinds' feet,
And will make me to walk upon mine high places.

ZEPHANIAH.

CHAPTER I.

When Zephaniah prophesied; God's severe judgment against Judah.

THE word of the LORD which came unto Zeph-a-ni'ah, the son of Cu'shi, the son of Ged-a-li'ah, the son of Am-a-ri'ah, the son of Hiz-ki'ah, in the days of Jo-si'ah the son of A'mon, king of Ju'dah.

2 †I will utterly consume all things from off †the land, saith the LORD.

3 [a]I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and [b]the ‖ stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the LORD.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand upon Ju'dah and upon all the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem; and [c]I will cut off the remnant of Ba'al from this place, and the name of [d]the Chem'a-rim with the priests;

5 And them [e]that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; [f]and them that worship and [g]that swear ‖ by the LORD, and that swear [h]by Mal'cham;

6 And [i]them that are turned back from the LORD; and those that [k]have not sought the LORD, nor inquired for him.

7 [l]Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: [m]for the day of the LORD is at hand: for [n]the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath †bid his guests.

8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that I will †punish [o]the princes, and the king's children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that there shall be the noise of a cry from [p]the fish gate, and a howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.

11 [q]Howl, ye inhabitants of Mak'tesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all they that bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Je-ru'sa-lem with candles, and [r]punish the men that are †[s]settled on their lees: [t]that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore, their goods shall become a booty and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but [u]not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but [v]not drink the wine thereof.

14 [w]The great day of the LORD is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 [x]That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

16 A day of [y]the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall [z]walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and [a]their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh [b]as the dung.

18 [c]Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's wrath: but the whole land shall be [d]devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for [e]he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAPTER II.

The judgment of the Philistines, Moab and Ammon, Ethiopia and Assyria.

GATHER [c]yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation ||not desired;

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass [b]as the chaff, before [c]the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD'S anger come upon you.

3 [d]Seek ye the LORD, [e]all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: [f]it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD'S anger.

4 ¶For [g]Ga'za shall be forsaken, and Ash'ke-lon a desolation: they shall drive out Ash'dod [h]at the noonday, and Ek'ron shall be rooted up.

5 Woe unto the inhabitants of [i]the sea coast, the nation of the Cher'eth-ites! the word of the LORD is against you; O [k]Ca'naan, the land of the Phi-lis'tines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, [l]and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for [m]the remnant of the house of Ju'dah; they shall feed thereupon: in the houses of Ash'ke-lon shall they lie down in the evening: ||for the LORD their God shall [n]visit them, and [o]turn away their captivity.

8 ¶[p]I have heard the reproach of Mo'ab, and [q]the revilings of the children of Am'mon, whereby they have reproached my people, and [r]magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, Surely [s]Mo'ab shall be as Sod'om, and [t]the children of Am'mon as Go-mor'rah, [u]even the breeding of nettles and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: [v]the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have [w]for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.

11 The LORD will be terrible unto them: for he will †famish all the gods of the earth; [x]and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all [a]the isles of the heathen.

12 ¶[b]Ye E-thi-o'pi-ans also, ye shall be slain by [c]my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north and [d]destroy As-syr'i-a; and will make Nin'e-veh a desolation, and dry like a wilderness.

14 And [e]flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all [f]the beasts of the nations: both the ||[g]cormorant and the bittern shall lodge in the ||upper lintels of it; their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be in the thresholds: ||for he shall uncover the [h]cedar work.

15 This is the rejoicing city [i]that dwelt carelessly, [k]that said in her heart, I am, and there is none besides me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her [l]shall hiss, and [m]wag his hand.

CHAPTER III.

Reproof of Jerusalem for sins; exhortation to wait for the restoration of Israel.

WOE to ||†her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city!

2 She [a]obeyed not the voice; she [b]received not ||correction; she trusted not in the LORD; she drew not near to her God.

3 [c]Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are [d]evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her [e]prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done [f]violence to the law.

5 [g]The just LORD is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity: †every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but [h]the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their ||towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

B. C. 630.

2 Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together,
2 O nation that hath no [1]shame; before the decree bring forth, [2]before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before

8 again their captivity. I have heard the reproach of Mo'ab, and the revilings of the children of Am'mon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and 9 magnified themselves against their border. Therefore as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, Surely Mo'ab shall be as Sod'om, and the children of Am'mon as Go-mor'rah, a possession of [5]nettle, and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the 10 remnant of my nation shall inherit them. This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the 11 people of the LORD of hosts. The LORD will be terrible unto them: for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the [6]isles of the nations.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy As-syr'i-a; and will make Nin'e-veh a

And herds shall lie down in the midst of her, [7]all the beasts of the nations: both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapiters thereof: their voice shall sing in the windows; [8]desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he hath laid bare the cedar 15 work. This is the joyous city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

3 Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted, to the

7 [a]I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction; so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and [b]corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶Therefore [m]wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to [n]gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth [o]shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

8 doings. Therefore wait ye for me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my [3]determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.
9 For then will I turn to the peoples a pure [4]language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD,
10 to serve him with one [5]consent. From beyond the rivers of E-thi-o'pi-a [6]my suppliants, even the daughter

12 haughty in my holy mountain. But I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and 13 they shall trust in the name of the LORD. The remnant of Is'ra-el shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and 14 none shall make them afraid. Sing, O daughter of Zi'on; shout, O Is'ra-el; be glad and rejoice with all 15 the heart, O daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem. The LORD hath taken away thy judgements, he hath cast out thine enemy: the king of Is'ra-el, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not [8]fear evil any more.
16 In that day it shall be said to Je-ru'sa-lem, Fear thou
17 not: [9]O Zi'on, let not thine hands be slack. The LORD thy God is in the midst of thee, a mighty one who will save: he will rejoice over thee with joy, he will [10]rest in his love, he will joy over thee with 18 singing. [11]I will gather them that [12]sorrow for the solemn assembly, who were of thee: [13]to whom the 19 burden upon [14]her was a reproach. Behold, at that time I will deal with all them that afflict thee: and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven away; and I will make them a praise and a

CHAPTER I.

Haggai reproving the people's negligence, inciteth them to build the house.

IN [a]the second year of Da-ri'us the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD †by Hag'ga-i the prophet unto [b]Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, ‖governor of Ju'dah, and to [c]Josh'u-a the son of [d]Jos'e-dech, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD'S house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD [e]by Hag'ga-i the prophet, saying,

4 [f]Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; †[g]Consider your ways.

6 Ye have [h]sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and [i]he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag †with holes.

7 ¶Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD.

9 [k]Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, [l]I did ‖blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore [m]the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

11 And I [n]called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and [o]upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶[p]Then Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, and Josh'u-a the son of Jos'e-dech, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Hag'ga-i the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him, and the people did fear before the LORD.

13 Then spake Hag'ga-i the LORD'S messenger in the LORD'S message unto the people, saying, [q]I am with you, saith the LORD.

14 And [r]the LORD stirred up the spirit of Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, [s]governor of Ju'dah, and the spirit of Josh'u-a the son of Jos'e-dech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; [t]and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, 15 In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Da-ri'us the king.

CHAPTER II.

Haggai encourageth the people to the work.

IN the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD †by the prophet Hag'ga-i, saying,

2 Speak now to Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Ju'dah, and to Josh'u-a the son of Jos'e-dech the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 [a]Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? [b]is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

4 Yet now [c]be strong, O Ze-rub'ba-bel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Josh'u-a, son of Jos'e-dech the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts.

HAGGAI.

1 In the second year of Da-ri'us the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Hag'ga-i the prophet unto Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Ju'dah, and to Josh'u-a the son of Je-hoz'a-dak, the high priest, 2 saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, [1]It is not the time for us to come, 3 the time for the LORD'S house to be built. Then came the word of the LORD by Hag'ga-i the prophet, 4 saying, Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while this house lieth waste? 5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: [2]Consider your ways. 6 Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth 7 wages to put it into a bag with holes. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [2]Consider your ways. 8 Go up to the [3]mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith 9 the LORD. Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did [4]blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that lieth waste, while ye run every 10 man to his own house. Therefore [5]for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is 11 stayed from her fruit. And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 Then Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, and Josh'u-a the son of Je-hoz'a-dak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Hag'ga-i the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and 13 the people did fear before the LORD. Then spake Hag'ga-i the LORD'S messenger in the LORD'S message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith 14 the LORD. And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Ju'dah, and the spirit of Josh'u-a the son of Je-hoz'a-dak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house 15 of the LORD of hosts, their God, in the four and twentieth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Da-ri'us the king.

2 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by 2 Hag'ga-i the prophet, saying, Speak now to Ze-rub'-ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, governor of Ju'dah, and to Josh'u-a the son of Je-hoz'a-dak, the high priest, 3 and to the remnant of the people, saying, Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do you see it now? is it not in 4 in your eyes as nothing? Yet now be strong, O Ze-rub'ba-bel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Josh'u-a, son of Je-hoz'a-dak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts,

5 [d]According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of E'gypt, so [e]my Spirit remaineth among you; fear ye not.

6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; [f]Yet once, it is a little while, and [g]I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

7 And I will shake all nations, [h]and the Desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts.

8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 [i]The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give [k]peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

10 ¶In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD by Hag'ga-i the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, [l]Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Hag'ga-i, If one that is [m]unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Hag'ga-i, and said, [n]So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, [o]consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD:

16 Since those days were, [p]when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the pressfat for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.

17 [q]I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail [r]in all the labours of your hands; [s]yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD.

18 Consider now from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from [t]the day that the foundation of the LORD'S temple was laid, consider it.

19 [u]Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

20 ¶And again the word of the LORD came unto Hag'ga-i in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Ze-rub'ba-bel, [z]governor of Ju'dah, saying, [y]I will shake the heavens and the earth;

22 And [z]I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and [a]I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Ze-rub'ba-bel, my servant, the son of She-al'ti-el, saith the LORD, [b]and will make thee as a signet; for [c]I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

B. C. 520.

5 [1]according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of E'gypt, and my spirit [2]abode
6 among you: fear ye not. For thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and 7 the dry land; and I will shake all nations, and [3]the desirable things of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of 8 hosts. The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,
9 saith the LORD of hosts. The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.
10 In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the 11 LORD by Hag'ga-i the prophet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests concerning 12 the law, saying, If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it become holy? And the priest answered and said,
13 No. Then said Hag'ga-i, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be un-
14 clean. Then answered Hag'ga-i and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and 15 that which they offer there is unclean. And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple
16 of the LORD: [4]through all that time, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the winefat for to draw out fifty

18 the LORD. Consider, I pray you, from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of 19 the LORD'S temple was laid, consider it. Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth; from this day will I bless you.
20 And the word of the LORD came the second time unto Hag'ga-i in the four and twentieth day of the 21 month, saying, Speak to Ze-rub'ba-bel, governor of Ju'dah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the 22 earth: and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of 23 his brother. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Ze-rub'ba-bel, my servant, the son of She-al'ti-el, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

ZECHARIAH.

CHAPTER I.

Zechariah exhorteth to repentance; the vision of the horses.

IN the eighth month, [c]in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD [b]unto Zech-a-ri'ah, the son of Ber-e-chi'ah, the son of Id'do, the prophet, saying,

2 The LORD hath been †sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Turn [c]ye unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, [d]unto whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [e]Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But [f]my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not ‖ take hold of your fathers? and they returned and said, [g]Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 ¶Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Se'bat, in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD unto Zech-a-ri'ah, the son of Ber-e-chi'ah, the son of Id'do the prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold [h]a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom; and behind him were there [i]red horses, ‖ speckled, and white.

9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, [k]These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 [l]And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 ¶Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, [m]O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Je-ru'sa-lem and on the cities of Ju'dah, against which thou hast had indignation [n]these threescore and ten years?

13 And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with [o]good words and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; I am [p]jealous for Je-ru'sa-lem and for Zi'on with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for [q]I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD; [r]I am returned to Je-ru'sa-lem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and [s]a line shall be stretched forth upon Je-ru'sa-lem.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; My cities through †prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; [t]and the LORD shall yet comfort Zi'on, and [u]shall yet choose Je-ru'sa-lem.

18 ¶Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, [x]These are the horns which have scattered Ju'dah, Is'ra-el, and Je-ru'sa-lem.

20 And the LORD shewed me four carpenters.

ZECHARIAH.

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD unto Zech-a-ri'ah the son of Ber-e-chi'ah, the son of Id'do the prophet, saying, The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD. Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever? But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month She'bat, in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD unto Zech-a-ri'ah the son of Ber-e-chi'ah, the son of Id'do, the prophet, saying, I saw in the night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the [1]bottom; and behind him there were horses, red, sorrel, and white. Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be. And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth. And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest. Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Je-ru'sa-lem and on the cities of Ju'dah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years? And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with good words, even comfortable words. So the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Je-ru'sa-lem and for Zi'on with a great jealousy. And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they [2]helped forward the affliction. Therefore thus saith the LORD: I am returned to Je-ru'sa-lem with mercies; my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth over Je-ru'sa-lem. Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: My cities [3]through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; and the LORD shall yet comfort Zi'on, and shall yet choose Je-ru'sa-lem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns. And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Ju'dah, Is'ra-el, and Je-ru'sa-lem. And the LORD shewed me four smiths.

[1] Or, shady place
[2] Or, helped for evil.
[3] Or, shall yet overflow with prosperity [Ch. ii. 1 in Heb.]

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which have scattered Ju'dah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which [v]lifted up their horn over the land of Ju'dah to scatter it.

CHAPTER II.

An angel sent to measure Jerusalem; its flourishing state foretold.

I LIFTED up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold [a]a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, [b]To measure Je-ru'sa-lem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, [c]Je-ru'sa-lem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein:

5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her [d]a wall of fire round about, [e]and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 ¶ Ho, ho, come forth, and flee [f]from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have [g]spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD.

7 [h]Deliver thyself, O Zi'on, that dwellest with the daughter of Bab'y-lon.

8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that [i]toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For, behold, I will [k]shake my hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to their servants: and [l]ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.

10 ¶ [m]Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zi'on: for, lo, I come, and I [n]will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD.

11 [o]And many nations shall be joined to the LORD [p]in that day, and shall be [q]my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and [r]thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the LORD shall [s]inherit Ju'dah his portion in the holy land, and [t]shall choose Je-ru'sa-lem again.

13 [u]Be silent, O all flesh, before the LORD: for he is raised up [z]out of †this holy habitation.

CHAPTER III.

Under the type of Joshua, the restoration of the church promised.

AND he shewed me [a]Josh'u-a the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and [b]‖ Sa'tan standing at his right hand †to resist him.

2 And the LORD said unto Sa'tan, [c]The LORD, rebuke thee, O Sa'tan; even the LORD that [d]hath chosen Je-ru'sa-lem rebuke thee: [e]is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Josh'u-a was clothed with [f]filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, [g]and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a fair [h]mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the LORD stood by.

6 And the angel of the LORD protested unto Josh'u-a, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt [i]keep my ‖ charge, then thou shalt also [k]judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee †places to walk among these that [l]stand by.

8 Hear now, O Josh'u-a the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are [m]†men wondered at: for, behold, I will bring forth [n]my servant the [o]BRANCH.

9 For behold the stone that I have laid before Josh'u-a; [p]upon one stone shall be [q]seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and [r]I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 [s]In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour [t]under the vine and under the fig tree.

CHAPTER IV.

Zerubbabel's foundation; its success foreshewed by the golden candlestick.

AND [a]the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, [b]as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold [c]a candlestick all of gold, †with a bowl upon the top of it, [d]and his seven lamps thereon, and ||seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof:

3 [e]And two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Ze-rub'ba-bel, saying, [f]Not by ||might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Who art thou, [g]O great mountain? before Ze-rub'ba-bel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth [h]the headstone thereof [i]with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace, unto it.

8 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Ze-rub'ba-bel [k]have laid the foundation of this house; his hands [l]shall also finish it; and [m]thou shalt know that the [n]LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of [o]small things? ||for they shall rejoice, and shall see the †plummet in the hand of Ze-rub'ba-bel with those seven; [p]they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ¶Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these [q]two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof?

12 And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches which †through the two golden pipes ||empty †the golden oil out of themselves?

13 And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.

14 Then said he, [r]These are the two †anointed ones, [s]that stand by [t]the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAPTER V.

By the flying roll, is shewed the curse of thieves and of false swearers.

THEN I turned and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a flying [a]roll.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the [b]curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for ||every one that stealeth shall be cut off as on this side according to it; and every one that sweareth shall be cut off as on that side according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of [c]him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and [d]shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 ¶Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

CHAPTER VI.

The vision of the four chariots; the temple and kingdom of Christ.

AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were [a]red horses; and in the second chariot [b]black horses;

3 And in the third chariot [c]white horses; and in the fourth chariot grizzled and ||bay horses.

4 Then I answered [d]and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the angel answered and said unto me, [e]These are the four ||spirits of the heavens, which go forth from [f]standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein go forth into [g]the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the grizzled go forth toward the south country.

7 And the bay went forth, and sought to go that they might [h]walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me saying, Behold, these that go toward the north country have quieted my [i]spirit in the north country.

9 ¶And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Hel'da-i, of To-bi'jah, and of Je-da'iah, which are come from Bab'y-lon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Jo-si'ah the son of Zeph-a-ni'ah:

11 Then take silver and gold, and make [k]crowns, and set them upon the head of Josh'u-a the son of Jos'e-dech, the high priest;

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold [l]the man whose name is The [m]BRANCH; and he shall ||grow up out of his place, [n]and he shall build the temple of the LORD:

13 Even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he [o]shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne: and [p]he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to He'lem, and to To-bi'jah, and to Je-da'iah, and to Hen the son of Zeph-a-ni'ah, [q]for a memorial in the temple of the LORD.

6 from [7]standing before the Lord of all the earth. The chariot wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grisled went forth toward the 7 south country. And the [8]bay went forth, and sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro
8 through the earth. Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.

9 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Hel'da-i, of To-bi'jah, and of Je-da'iah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Jo-si'ah the son of Zeph-a-ni'ah, whither they are come from Bab'y-lon;
11 yea, take of them silver and gold, and make [9]crowns, and set them upon the head of Josh'u-a the son of 12 Je-hoz'a-dak, the high priest; and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold, the man [10]whose name is the [11]Branch; and he shall [12]grow up out of his place, and he shall build the 13 temple of the LORD: even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne: and [13]he shall be a priest upon his throne; and the counsel of peace
14 shall be between them both. And the [14]crowns shall be to He'lem, and to To-bi'jah, and to Je-da'iah, and [15]to Hen the son of Zeph-a-ni'ah, for a memorial in the 15 temple of the LORD. And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

7 And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Da-ri'us, that the word of the LORD came unto Zech-a-ri'ah in the 2 fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chis'lev. [16]Now they of Beth-'el had sent Sha-re'zer and Re-gem-me'lech, and their men, to intreat the favour of the LORD,

4 ¶Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye [c]fasted and mourned in the fifth [d]and seventh month, [e]even those seventy years, did ye at all fast [f]unto me, even to me?

7 ‖Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried †by the former prophets, when Je-ru'sa-lem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited [g]the south and the plain?

8 ¶And the word of the LORD came unto Zech-a-ri'ah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, [h]†Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother:

10 And [i]oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; [k]and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and [l]†pulled away the shoulder, and †[m]stopped their ears that they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their [n]hearts as an adamant stone, [o]lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his Spirit †by the former prophets: [p]therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear; so [q]they cried, and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts:

14 But [r]I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations [s]whom they knew not. Thus [t]the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid [u]the †pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER VIII.

They are encouraged to the building by God's favour of them.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [c]I was jealous for Zi'on with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith the LORD; [b]I am returned unto Zi'on, and [c]will dwell in the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem: and Je-ru'sa-lem [d]shall be called, A city of truth; and [e]the mountain of the LORD of hosts, [f]The holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [g]There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Je-ru'sa-lem, and every man with his staff in his hand †for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If it be ‖marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, [h]should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, [i]I will save my people from the east country, and from †the west country;

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem: [k]and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, [l]in truth and in righteousness.

9 ¶Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [m]Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of [n]the prophets, which were in [o]the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before these days ‖there was no [p]hire for man, nor any hire for beast; [q]neither was there any peace to him

8 And the word of the LORD came unto Zech-a-ri'ah, 9 saying, Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and 10 compassion every man to his brother: and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against 11 his brother in your heart. But they refused to hearken, and [2]pulled away the shoulder, and [3]stopped

13 from the LORD of hosts. And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts;
14 but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the [4]pleasant land desolate.

8 And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me,
2 saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zi'on with great jealousy, and I am jealous for
3 her with great fury. Thus saith the LORD: I am returned unto Zi'on, and will dwell in the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem: and Je-ru'sa-lem shall be called The city of truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts
4 The holy mountain. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet old men and old women [5]dwell in the streets of Je-ru'sa-lem, every man with his staff in
5 his hand [6]for very age. And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets
6 thereof. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvellous in 7 mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country:
8 and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteous-
9 ness. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple,

11 As for thee also, ||by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy [v]prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 ¶ Turn you to the strong hold, [w]ye prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that [x]I will render double unto thee;

13 When I have bent Ju'dah for me, filled the bow with E'phra-im, and raised up thy sons, O Zi'on, against thy sons, O Greece, and made thee as the sword of a mighty man.

14 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and [a]his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go [b]with whirlwinds of the south.

15 The LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour and ||subdue with sling stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine; and they ||shall be filled like bowls, and as [c]the corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for [d]they shall be as the stones of a crown, [e]lifted up as an ensign upon his land.

17 For [f]how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! [g]corn shall make the young men ||cheerful, and new wine the maids.

CHAPTER X.

God is to be sought unto, and not idols.

ASK ye [a]of the LORD [b]rain [c]in the time of the latter rain; so the LORD shall make ||bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the [d]†idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they [e]comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they ||were troubled [f]because there was no shepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, [g]and I †punished the goats: for the LORD of hosts [h]hath visited his flock the house of Ju'dah, and [i]hath made them as his goodly horse in the battle.

4 Out of him came forth [k]the corner, out of him [l]the nail, out of him the battle bow, out of him every oppressor together.

5 ¶ And they shall be as mighty men, which [m]tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle: and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them, and ||the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Ju'dah, and I will save the house of Jo'seph, and [n]I will bring them again to place them; for I [o]have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and [p]will hear them.

7 And they of E'phra-im shall be like a mighty man, and their [q]heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.

8 I will [r]hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: [s]and they shall increase as they have increased.

9 And [t]I will sow them among the people: and they shall [u]remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

10 [v]I will bring them again also out of the land of E'gypt, and gather them out of As-syr'i-a; and I will bring them into the land of Gil'e-ad and Leb'a-non; and [w]place shall not be found for them.

10 of an ass. And I will cut off the chariot from E'phra-im, and the horse from Je-ru'sa-lem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and he shall speak peace unto the nations: and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from [3]the River to the ends of 11 the earth. As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of 12 the pit wherein is no water. [4]Turn you to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that I will render double unto thee. For I have bent Ju'dah for me, I have filled the bow with E'phra-im; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zi'on, against thy sons, O [5]Greece, and will make thee as 14 the sword of a mighty man. And the LORD shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south.
15 The LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour, and shall tread down the sling stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, like the 16 corners of the altar. And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, [6]lifted on 17 high over his land. For how great is [7]his [8]goodness, and how great is [7]his beauty! corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maids.

10 Ask ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain, even of the LORD that maketh lightnings; and he shall give them showers of rain, to every one
2 grass in the field. For the teraphim have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and [9]they have told false dreams, they comfort in vain: therefore they go their way like sheep, they are afflicted,
3 because there is no shepherd. Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the he-goats: for the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Ju'dah, and shall make them as his
4 goodly horse in the battle. From him shall come forth the corner stone, from him the nail, from him the battle bow, from him every [10]exactor together.
5 And they shall be as mighty men, treading down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them: and the riders on horses shall be confounded.
6 And I will strengthen the house of Ju'dah, and I will save the house of Jo'seph, and I will [11]bring them again, for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them.
7 And they of E'phra-im shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their heart
8 shall be glad in the LORD. I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and 9 they shall increase as they have increased. [12]And I will sow them among the peoples; and they shall remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and shall return.
10 I will bring them again also out of the land of E'gypt, and gather them out of As-syr'i-a; and I will bring them into the land of Gil'e-ad and Leb'a-non; and place shall not be found for them.

CHAPTER XI.

By a type is showed Christ's care of his flock.

OPEN [a]thy doors, O Leb'a-non, that the fire may devour thy cedars.
2 Howl, fir tree, for the cedar is fallen; because the ||mighty are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Ba'shan; [b]for ||the forest of the vintage is come down.
3 ¶ There is a voice of the howling of the shepherds; for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jor'dan is spoiled.
4 Thus saith the LORD my God; [c]Feed the flock of the slaughter;
5 Whose possessors slay them, and [d]hold themselves not guilty: and they that sell them [e]say, Blessed be the LORD; for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not.
6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will †deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.
7 And I will [f]feed the flock of slaughter, ||even you, [g]O poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called ||Bands; and I fed the flock.
8 Three shepherds also I cut off [h]in one month; and my soul †loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.
9 Then said I, I will not feed you: [i]that that dieth, let it die; and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat every one the flesh †of another.
10 ¶And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.
11 And it was broken in that day: and ||so [k]the poor of the flock that waited upon me knew that it was the word of the LORD.
12 And I said unto them, †If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they [l]weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver.
13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the [m]potter: a goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD.
14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even ||Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Ju'dah and Is'ra-el.
15 ¶And the LORD said unto me, [n]Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.
16 For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be ||cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor ||feed that that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.
17 [o]Woe to the ||idol shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

CHAPTER XII.

The victorious restoring of Judah; the repentance of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for Is'ra-el, saith the LORD, [a]which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and [b]formeth the spirit of man within him.
2 Behold, I will make Je-ru'sa-lem [c]a cup of ||trembling unto all the people round about, ||when they shall be in the siege both against Ju'dah and against Je-ru'sa-lem.

12 shall depart away. And I will strengthen them in the LORD; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

B. C. 587.

[1]Or, the sea of trouble

11 Open thy doors, O Leb'a-non, that the fire may
2 devour thy cedars. Howl, O fir tree, for the cedar is fallen, because the [2]goodly ones are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Ba'shan, for the [3]strong forest is come
3 down. A voice of the howling of the shepherds! for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions! for the pride of Jor'dan is spoiled.
4 Thus said the LORD my God: Feed the flock of
5 slaughter; whose [4]possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich: and [5]their own
6 shepherds pity them not. For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not
7 deliver them. So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily [6]the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called [7]Beauty, and the other
8 I called [8]Bands; and I fed the flock. And I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also 9 loathed me. Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let it die; and [9]that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat
10 every one the flesh of another. And I took my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples.
11 And it was broken in that day: and [10]thus [6]the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew
12 that it was the word of the LORD. And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire thirty
13 pieces of silver. And the LORD said unto me, Cast it [11]unto the potter, the goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them [11]unto the potter, in the house
14 of the LORD. Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Ju'dah and Is'ra-el.
15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet
16 again the instruments of a foolish shepherd. For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not [12] visit those that be [13]cut off, neither shall seek [14]those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which [15]is sound, but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear
17 their hoofs in pieces. Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

3 ¶ [d]And in that day will I make Je-ru'sa-lem [e]a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the LORD, [f]I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Ju'dah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the governors of Ju'dah shall say in their heart, ‖The inhabitants of Je-ru'salem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 ¶In that day will I make the governors of Ju'dah [g]like a hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Je-ru'sa-lem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Je-ru'sa-lem.

7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Ju'dah first, that the glory of the house of Da'vid and the glory of the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem do not magnify themselves against Ju'dah.

CHAPTER XIII.

The fountain of purgation for Jerusalem, from idolatry and false prophecy.

IN [a]that day there shall be [b]a fountain opened to the house of Da'vid and to the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem for sin and for †uncleanness.

2 ¶And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will [c]cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause [d]the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him [e]shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [f]the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear [g]†a rough garment †to deceive:

5 [h]But he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a husbandman; for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.

8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; [n]but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part [o]through the fire, and will [p]refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: [q]they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: [r]I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

CHAPTER XIV.

The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdom, &c.

BEHOLD, [a]the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For [b]I will gather all nations against Je-ru'sa-lem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the [c]houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day [d]upon the mount of Olives, which is before Je-ru'sa-lem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, [e]and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of ‖ the mountains; ‖ for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto A'zal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the [f]earthquake in the days of Uz-zi'ah king of Ju'dah: [g]and the LORD my God shall come, and [h]all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, ‖ that the light shall not be †clear, nor †dark:

7 But ‖ it shall be [i]one day [k]which shall be known to the Lord, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at [l]evening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living [m]waters shall go out from Je-ru'sa-lem; half of them toward the ‖ former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the LORD shall be [n]King over all the earth: in that day shall there be [o]one LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be ‖ turned [p]as a plain from Ge'ba to Rim'mon, south of Je-ru'sa-lem: and it shall be lifted up, and [q]‖ inhabited in her place, from Ben'ja-min's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, [r]and from the tower of Ha-nan'e-el unto the king's winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be [s]no more utter destruction; [t]but Je-ru'sa-lem ‖ shall be safely inhabited.

12 ¶ And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Je-ru'sa-lem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [u]a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and [x]his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And ‖ Ju'dah also shall fight ‖ at Je-ru'sa-lem; [y]and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And [z]so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

16 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Je-ru'sa-lem, shall even [a]go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep [b]the feast of tabernacles.

smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine hand upon the little 8 ones. And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut
9 off and die; but the third shall be left therein. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

14 Behold, a day of the LORD cometh, when thy spoil
2 shall be divided in the midst of thee. For I will gather all nations against Je-ru'sa-lem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished: and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut
3 off from the city. Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the 4 day of battle. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Je-ru'sa-lem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and
5 half of it toward the south. And [1]ye shall flee [2]by the valley of [3]my mountains: for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto A'zel: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uz-zi'ah king of Ju'dah: and the LORD my God shall
6 come, and all the holy ones with thee. And it shall come to pass in that day, that [4]the light shall not be
7 [5]with brightness and with gloom: but it shall be one day which is known unto the LORD: not day, and not night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening
8 time there shall be light. And it shall come to pass in that day, that living waters shall go out from Je-ru'sa-lem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea: in summer and in 9 winter shall it be. And the LORD shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall the LORD be one, and 10 his name one. All the land shall be turned as the Ara'bah, from Ge'ba to Rim'mon south of Je-ru'sa-lem; and she shall be lifted up, and shall dwell in her place, from Ben'ja-min's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Han'a-nel
11 unto the king's winepresses. And men shall dwell therein, and there shall be no more [6]curse; but Je-ru'-
12 sa-lem shall dwell safely. And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the peoples that have warred against Je-ru'sa-lem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their sockets, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.
13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great [7]tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the 14 hand of his neighbour. And Ju'dah also shall fight [8]against Je-ru'sa-lem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and 15 silver, and apparel, in great abundance. And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall 16 be in those camps, as this plague. And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Je-ru'sa-lem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

MALACHI.

CHAPTER I.

Malachi complaineth of Israel's unkindness, of their irreligiousness.

THE burden of the word of the LORD to Is'ra-el †by Mal'a-chi.

2 [c]I have loved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not E'sau Ja'cob's brother? saith the LORD: yet [b]I loved Ja'cob,

CHAPTER II.

Malachi severely reproveth the priests and the people for their sins.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.

2 [a]If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will ‖corrupt your seed, and †spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and ‖one shall [b]take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Le'vi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5 [c]My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him [d]for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.

6 [e]The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did [f]turn many away from iniquity.

7 [g]For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: [h]for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way; ye [i]have caused many to ‖stumble at the law; [k]ye have corrupted the covenant of Le'vi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 Therefore [l]have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but ‖†have been partial in the law.

10 [m]Have we not all one father? [n]hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11 ¶Ju'dah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Is'ra-el and in Je-ru'sa-lem; for Ju'dah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he ‖loved, [o]and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, ‖the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Ja'cob, [p]and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 ¶Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and [q]the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously; [r]yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And [s]did not he make one? Yet had he the ‖residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek †a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal ‖treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For [u]the LORD, the God of Is'ra-el, saith, ‖that he hateth †putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 ¶[z]Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgment?

that which was taken by violence, and the lame and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should 14 I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for I am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is terrible among the Gentiles.

B. C. 397.

2 And now, O ye priests, this commandment is for
2 you. If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them
3 already, because ye do not lay it to heart. Behold, I will rebuke [1]the seed for your sake, and will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your [2]sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away [3]with 4 it. And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be
5 with Le'vi, saith the LORD of hosts. My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear, and he feared me, and
6 stood in awe of my name. The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and upright-
7 ness, and did turn many away from iniquity. For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the
8 messenger of the LORD of hosts. But ye are turned aside out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted the covenant
9 of Le'vi, saith the LORD of hosts. Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have had respect of persons in the law.

10 Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of 11 our fathers? Ju'dah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Is'ra-el and in Je-ru'-sa-lem; for Ju'dah hath profaned the [4]holiness of the LORD which he loveth, and hath married the daugh-
12 ter of a strange god. The LORD will cut off to the man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Ja'cob, and him that 13 offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts. And this [5]again ye do: ye cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither 14 receiveth it with good will at your hand. Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.
15 [6]And did he not make one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of 16 his youth. For [7]I hate putting away, saith the LORD, the God of Is'ra-el, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.
17 Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or where is the God of judgement?

BEHOLD, [c]I will send my messenger, and he shall [b]prepare the way before me: and the LORD, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, [c]even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, [d]he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who may abide [e]the day of his coming? and [f]who shall stand when he appeareth? for [g]he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap.

3 And [h]he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Le'vi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may [i]offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then [k]shall the offering of Ju'dah and Je-ru'sa-lem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ‖ former years.

5 And I will come near to you to judgment: and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, [l]and against false swearers, and against those that ‖ oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, [m]I change not; [n]therefore ye sons of Ja'cob are not consumed.

7 ¶Even from the days of [o]your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. [p]Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. [q]But ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [r]In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 [s]Bring ye all the tithes into [t]the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the [u]windows of heaven, and †[v]pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke [w]the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not †destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be [x]a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13 ¶[a]Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 [b]Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept †his ordinance, and that we have walked †mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

15 And now [c]we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness †are set up; yea, they that [d]tempt God are even delivered.

16 ¶Then they [e]that feared the LORD [f]spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it; and [g]a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name.

17 And [h]they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my ‖ [i]jewels; and [k]I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 [l]Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

3 Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple; [1]and the [2]messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in, behold,
2 he cometh, saith the LORD of hosts. But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and
3 like fullers' soap: and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Le'vi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto the LORD offerings in righteousness.
4 Then shall the offering of Ju'dah and Je-ru'sa-lem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and
5 as in ancient years. And I will come near to you to judgement; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers; and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and 6 fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts. For I the LORD change not; therefore ye, O sons of Ja'cob, are not consumed.
7 From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. But ye say, Wherein shall we
8 return? Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes
9 and [3]offerings. Ye are cursed with the curse; for 10 ye rob me, even this whole nation. Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing,
11 that there shall not be room enough to receive it. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the 12 field, saith the LORD of hosts. And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.
13 Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein have we spoken against 14 thee? Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his charge, and that we have walked [4]mournfully before the LORD
15 of hosts? And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are built up; yea, they 16 tempt God, and are delivered. Then they that feared the LORD spake one with another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared
17 the LORD, and that thought upon his name. And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in the day [5]that I [6]do make, even a peculiar treasure; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son 18 that serveth him. Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

CHAPTER IV.

God's judgment on the wicked, and his blessing on the good.

FOR, behold, [a]the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all [b]the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be [c]stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall [d]leave them neither root nor branch.

2 ¶But unto you that [e]fear my name shall the [f]Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

3 [g]And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 ¶Remember ye the [h]law of Mo'ses my servant, which I commanded unto him [i]in Ho'reb for all Is'ra-el, with [k]the statutes and judgments.

5 ¶Behold, I will send you [l]E-li'jah the prophet [m]before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD:

6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and [o]smite the earth with [p]a curse.

APPENDIX.

The American Old Testament Revision Company, while recognizing the cordial acceptance given to many of their suggestions, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as of sufficient importance to be appended to the Revision in accordance with the original agreement.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

I. Substitute the Divine name "Jehovah" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for "the LORD" and "GOD" and omit the marg. to "the LORD" at Gen. ii. 4, and "Heb. Jehovah" from the marg. at Ex. iii. 15; also substitute "Jehovah" for "the LORD" or "Jah" wherever the latter occurs in the Hebrew text, and retain or insert "Heb. Jah" in the marg.; where "Jehovah" immediately follows, viz. in Is. xii. 2, xxvi. 4, read "Jehovah, even Jehovah" and omit "Jehovah" from the marg.

II. Substitute "Sheol" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for the renderings "the grave" "the pit" and "hell" and omit these renderings from the marg.

III. Substitute "a" for "an", "my" for "mine" and "thy" for "thine" wherever followed by "h" aspirated.

IV. Substitute "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons.

V. Substitute "are" for "be" in the present indicative, and omit "for" before infinitives.

VI. Omit from the margin all renderings from the LXX., Vulgate, and other ancient Versions or "authorities."

VII. The following substitutions are preferred, with the necessary inflectional variations:

"adder" for "basilisk"
"annul" for "disannul"
"ascent" for "going up" when used as a noun.
"astonished" for "astonied"
"a year old" for "of the first year"
"base man" for "man of Belial" or "son of B."; "base woman" for "daughter of Belial"; "base men" for "men of Belial" "sons of B." or "children of B."
"before" for "afore"; also for "or ever" except in Ps. xc. 2; Eccl. xii. 1, 2, 6.
"blow the trumpet" for "blow with (or, "blow up") the trumpet"
"boil" "boiled" for "seethe" "sod" "sodden"
"bonds" for "bands" in Job xxxix. 5, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.
"capital" for "chapiter"
"chiefs" for "dukes"
"contend" for "plead" in Judg. vi. 31 (three times) and so wherever the latter rendering represents the same Hebrew verb unless followed by "cause", except in Is. i. 17. But substitute "enter into judgment" for "plead" in Jer. xxv. 31; Ezek. xvii. 20; xx. 35, 36 (twice).
"courses" for "rows" of timber or stone.
"devise" for "imagine" in Ps. x. 2; xxi. 11; cxl. 2; Hos. vii. 15; Nah. i. 9, 11; Zech. vii. 10; viii. 17.
"diminish" for "minish"
"encamp" for "camp"; also, for "pitch" when used intransitively.
"far be it from me" ("thee" etc.) for "God forbid", except in 1 Sam. xiv. 45; xx. 2, where substitute "Far from it"
"find favor" for "find grace"
"food" for "meat"
"fortified" for "fenced" and "defenced"
"frighten" for "fray"
"grain" for "corn"
"harlot" for "whore" and "whorish woman"; "play the harlot" for "go a whoring" and "commit whoredom"
"helped" for "holpen"
"know" and "knew" for "wot" and "wist"
"knoweth how" for "can skill" in 1 Kings v. 6; 2 Chron. ii. 7, 8.
"lain" for "lien"
"lamp" for "candle"
"lovingkindness" for "mercy" in Gen. xix. 19; for "favour" in Job x. 12; for "goodness" in Ps. cvii. 8; "lovingkindnesses" for "mercies" in 2 Chron. vi. 42. So substitute "lovingkindness" for either of these renderings wherever it stands for the same Hebrew word (hhésed) when used of God; but substitute "kindness" for "mercy" in Ps. cix. 12, 16; for "favour" in Esth. ii. 17, and wherever either of these renderings stands for the same Hebrew word, when used of men in relation to each other. In Hos. vi. 4 retain "goodness" and make ver. 6 conform.
"merciful" for "full of compassion"
"mound" for "mount" (cast up by invaders)
"new wine" for "wine" in Gen. xxvii. 28, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.
"number" for "tell" in Gen. xv. 5 (twice); Ps. xlviii. 12; lvi. 8; Jer. xxxiii. 13; and "count" for "tell" in 1 Kings viii. 5; 2 Kings xii. 10; 2 Chron. v. 6; Ps. cxlvii. 4.
"oil" for "ointment"
"olive oil" for "oil olive"
"perfumer" for "apothecary" and "confectionary."
"perverse" ("perverseness") for "froward" ("frowardness") except in 2 Sam. xxii. 27; Job v. 13; Ps. xviii. 26; "wayward" for "perverse" in Prov. ii. 15; for "froward" in iv. 24; xvii. 20, and "cunning" for "froward" in Job v. 13.
"put to shame" for "ashamed"
"refine" for "fine" (metal). So "refiner" for "finer"
"scoffer" for "scorner" and "scoffing" for "scornful" and "scorning"
"settings" for "ouches"
"since" for "sith"
"sitteth above" (the cherubim) for "sitteth upon" with marg. Or is enthroned
"skill" for "cunning" (noun) and "skillful" for "cunning" (adj.) when either relates to workman or work.
"stench" for "stink", when used as a noun.
"stronghold" for "hold", when used as a noun.
"take refuge" for "trust" (Deut. xxxii. 37) for "put . . . trust" (Ps. ii. 12), and so uniformly as the rendering of the same Hebrew verb.
"therewith" for withal" in Ex. xxv. 29; xxx. 4; xxxvii. 16; Lev. xi. 21.
"trespass offering" for "guilt offering"
"uncover" for "discover" except in 1 Sam. xiv. 8, 11, and xxii. 6.
"wail" for "howl" where it is used of persons.
"wait for" for "wait on" in Ps. xxv. 3, and so uniformly as the rendering of the same Hebrew verb, except in Ps. lii. 9.
"which" for "the which"
"winnow" for "fan" (the verb)
"wrath" for "fury" when it is attributed to God, except in Is. xlii. 25; lxvi. 15, and "wrathful" for "furious"

VIII. The modern spelling is preferred for the following words:

"basin" for "bason"
"brazen" for brasen"
"caterpillar" for "caterpiller"
"ceiled" and "ceiling" for cieled" and "cieling"
"chapped" for "chapt"

VIII. "crookbacked" for "crookbackt"

MEMORANDUM

FAMILY TEMPERANCE PLEDGE

WHY SIGN THE PLEDGE BECAUSE

1. Moderate drinking tends to drunkenness, while total abstinence directly from it.

2. While no one means to become a drunkard, there is said to be over six hundred thousand confirmed drunkards in our country to-day.

3. Intoxicating drinks can do no good as a beverage, and there are always safer and surer remedies to use in case of sickness.

4. The idea of moderation is full of deceit, and our estimate of the power of our own will is usually a mistaken one.

5. The drinking habit is the cause of the larger portion of the misery, poverty and crime in our land.

6. Both science and experience prove that even moderate drinking is injurious to health.

WHY SIGN THE PLEDGE BECAUSE

7. Eternal interests are often forfeited through drink, for the Bible declares that no drunkard shall enter heaven.

8. The Bible pronounces no blessing upon drinking, but many upon total abstinence.

9. It is easier to keep a pledge publicly, solemnly given than a simple resolution.

10. The pledge protects us from the solicitations of friends and removes us from the temptations of the saloon.

11. Persons miscalculate their ability to drink in moderation, and become slaves to the drinking habit before they are aware of it.

12. Intemperance obstructs civilization, education, religion and every useful reform.

REVISERS' PREFACE.

THE English version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539–41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:—'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:—'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tindale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:—'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—'The old ecclesiastical words to be kept; viz., the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.' This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language: and they express a fear lest they should 'be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great num- of good English words,' which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—'No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.' Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' The Translators had also the liberty, in 'any place of special obscurity,' to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfillment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgment of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connection with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either re-affirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are,—Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused as much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorised Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatical peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have, however, borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue, which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original seemed to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debatable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated,—the use of Italics, the arrangement into Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament,—all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870–73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that his favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in his name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt, more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organized efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognized in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

HISTORY OF HEROD, KING OF THE JEWS.

By Rev G. F. Maclear, D.D.

ANTIPATER appointed his eldest son, Phasael, Governor of Judæa, and conferred the tetrarchy of Galilee on his youngst son, Herod. Of the two sons thus appointed to prominent positions, the younger, Herod, soon began to display uncommon abilities, and the most unbounded ambition. Though only twenty-five years of age, the new governor of Galilee turned his energies at once to the efficient management of his province. Numerous robber-bands, which infested the confines of Syria, were resolutely attacked; their chief, Hezekias, was put to death, and security was restored. Such decision won the praises of multitudes in the towns and cities of Syria.

Two years later, B.C. 44, Cæsar was assassinated at Rome, and Antipater addressed himself to the task of meeting the new situation, unexpected even by his sagacity. Cassius, the chief conspirator in the murder of Cæsar, became pro-consul of Syria, and arriving in Judæa, enforced upon the country the enormous tribute of seven hundred talents of silver. Antipater commissioned Herod to collect the quota from Galilee, while Malichus, a powerful Jew, and an adherent of Hyrcanus, was directed to obtain the rest. Herod, with characteristic energy, employed himself in raising two hundred talents for Galilee, and so gained the favour of Cassius, while the people of Lydda, Gophna, and Emmaus, being backward in their contributions, were sold into slavery; but so incensed was the pro-consul at Malichus for his dilatoriness, that he would have put him to death, had it not been for the intervention of Antipater, who advanced one hundred talents on his account. Herod was now confirmed in the government of Cœle-Syria, and Cassius even promised him the kingdom of Judæa, if the arms of the Republic proved triumphant.

An unexpected power appeared in the country, and Judæa became the victim of the strife for empire between Rome and Parthia. While Antonius was wasting his time in the society of Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt, the Parthians, under Pacorus, having been bribed by Antigonus, advanced through Syria, and made themselves masters of Sidon, Ptolemais, and all the coast except Tyre. Hence a division of the Parthian forces marched against Jerusalem, and their leader, admitted within the walls, proposed to act as umpire between the rival claimants for the throne of Judæa.

Meanwhile the Parthians had obtained possession of Jerusalem. Antigonus was made king, and Hyrcanus and Phasael were delivered into his power. The latter, knowing his death was certain, beat out his brains against the walls of his prison. Thus Jerusalem was left in the hands of a foreign army, who committed the greatest excesses.

Herod in the meantime had not been idle. On arriving at Rome he found Antonius at the summit of power. The triumvir received him with the utmost distinction, and introduced him to Octavius, who at once recalled the services which the Idumean had rendered to the great Julius. A Parthian campaign was at this time being diligently planned by Antonius, and he found in Herod a useful ally. Within seven days, therefore, he procured a decree of the senate, nominating him king of Judæa, and Herod, successful beyond his most sanguine hopes, walked in procession between Octavius and Antonius, preceded by the consuls and other magistrates, to the Capitol, where the usual sacrifices were offered, and the decree investing him with royal power was enrolled.

Herod did not remain long at Rome. Everything depended on the celerity of his movements. The close of the week, therefore, saw him appointed king, and hurrying to Brundusium. Thence he took ship for Ptolemais, and arrived there after an absence of barely three months. Collecting a body of troops, he speedily won over all Galilee, where the recollection of his energy as governor was still fresh. Then he set out to attack Antigonus, who had unsuccessfully laid siege to Masâda, in the hope of obtaining possession of Mariamne. Joppa next fell into his hands; and having raised the siege of Masâda, and liberated his relatives, he proceeded, in conjunction with the Roman general Silo, to lay siege to Jerusalem, B.C. 37, and recommenced the siege, aided by Sosius, at the head of 50,000 troops.

But his progress was still slow. Forty days were spent in taking the first wall, fifteen in taking the second. Then the outer court of the Temple and the lower city were reduced. At last the signal for the assault was given, and an indiscriminate massacre ensued. Multitudes were cut down in the narrow streets, many more while crowded together in their houses. The fury of the legions was roused, and the massacre was only stayed by the repeated solicitations of Herod, who stood with a drawn sword before the entrance of the Holy of Holies, and threatened to cut down any one of the Roman soldiers who attempted to enter.

Herod had now attained the highest object of his ambition. By Roman aid, and under the influence of Roman supremacy, he had become sole ruler of Palestine, and he maintained his power unchallenged until his death. The eventful year, B.C. 31, was drawing on. The rival potentates of Judæa and Egypt had long been watching and fencing with each other, when the battle of Actium ended all their intrigues, and both found themselves obliged to petition for existence from the conqueror. Herod had raised a body of troops to assist Antonius, but the designs of Cleopatra had involved him in a war with Malchus, an Arabian prince. In the first campaign he had been signally defeated, owing to the unwillingness of the Jews to undertake a war against a nation with whom they had no quarrel. But in the spring of B.C. 31, a sudden earthquake convulsed the cities of southern Palestine, and the Arabs, taking advantage of the consternation, slew the Jewish ambassadors who had come to treat for peace. The news of their barbarity roused the whole people, and enabled Herod to win a decisive victory over his foes at Philadelphia, and to gain something like popular favour from his subjects. Thus, successful beyond all his expectations, Herod returned to Jerusalem with greater power secured to him than he had ever enjoyed before.

Herod's return to his capital was the signal for fresh cruelties. The secret orders entrusted to the guardian of Mariamne had been a second time divulged; she persisted in refusing the monarch's affection, and reproached him bitterly with his cruelty towards her family. At length, carried away by rage and jealousy, Herod executed not only Mariamne's guardian, Soemus, but his queen herself. Mariamne submitted to the axe of the executioner with calmness and intrepidity, B.C. 29, and showed herself in death worthy of the noble race of which she came. The horrible reality of the deed, and a sense of his own loss, wrung his spirit to madness. It was long before he recovered fully from the mental derangement which came on.

By the tribute he paid to Rome year by year he acknowledged the tenure on which he held his power. He filled Jerusalem with edifices built in the Greek taste. He inaugurated public exhibitions, and spectacles of all kinds. A theatre rose within, an amphitheatre without, the walls of Jerusalem. Quinquennial games were celebrated on a scale of the utmost magnificence. Shows of gladiators and combats of wild beasts were exhibited within the City of David itself.

He had already built two castles in the southern part of Jerusalem, erected a palace on the impregnable hill of Sion, restored and enlarged the Baris, and called it Antonia, in memory of his former patron. He now converted other places into strong fortresses. South-western Galilee needed a defence against Phœnicia, and his kingdom required a naval harbour and a maritime city. Thirty miles south of Mount Carmel a convenient point offered itself for the latter purpose, at a spot called Strato's Tower. This he converted into a magnificent city, called Cæsarea, with a harbour equal in size to the Piræus at Athens. West of Mount Tabor he built Gabatha; east of the Jordan he fortified the ancient Heshbon; while Samaria, which had been destroyed by John Hyrcanus, rose once more from its ruins, not only considerably increased, but also adorned with a new and magnificent temple, and called Sebaste or Augusta, in honour of the Roman Emperor.

While thus rebuilding the ruined cities of his kingdom, Herod repeatedly endeavoured, by acts of munificence and liberality, to conciliate the good-will of his subjects. Thus, when in B.C. 24, the crops in Palestine failed for the second time, he not only opened his own private stores, but sent to Petronius, the Roman governor of Egypt, a personal friend, and obtained permission to export corn from that country, with which he not only supplied the wants of his own people, but was even able to send seed into Syria. In this way, and by remitting more than once a great part of the heavy taxation, he earned for himself general gratitude, both from his heathen and Jewish subjects.

At length he resolved to take a step which should ingratiate himself with all classes. He determined to rival Solomon, and rebuild the Temple. Since the restoration of the second Temple by Zorobabel, that structure had fallen in many places into ruin, and had suffered much during the recent wars. He announced his intention, about the year B.C. 20, on the occasion of the Feast of the Passover. But his proposition roused the greatest mistrust, and he found himself obliged to proceed with the utmost caution, and to use every means to allay suspicion. Two years were spent in bringing together the materials, and vast preparations were made before a single stone of the old building was touched. At last, in the year B.C. 18, the foundations of the Temple of Zorobabel were removed, and on those laid centuries before by Solomon, the new pile arose, built of hard white stones of enormous size. Eighteen months were spent in building the Porch, the Holy Place, and the Holy of Holies. Eight years more elapsed before the courts and cloisters and other extensive and splendid buildings around the sacred structure were completed.

On the highest level of the rocky platform of Moriah rose the Naos, or Temple proper, erected solely by priestly hands, divided, as in the days of Solomon, into a Holy Place and a Holy of Holies by a veil or curtain of the finest work. "No figures, no sculpture, as in Persian and Egyptian temples, adorned the front. Golden vines and clusters of grapes, the typical plant and fruit of Israel, ran along the wall; and the greater and lesser lights of heaven were wrought into the texture of the veil. The whole façade was covered with plates of gold, which, when the sun shone upon them in the early day, sent back his rays with an added glory, so great that gazers standing on Olivet had to shade their eyes when turning towards the Temple mount."

The pavement was inlaid with marble of many colours. The most beautiful gateways led into this court, of great height, and ornamented with the utmost skill. One of these, on the eastern side, looking towards the Mount of Olives, was known as "Solomon's Porch;" close by it was another, the pride of the Temple area, as one writer says, "more like the gopura of an Indian temple than anything we are acquainted with in architecture." This, in all probability, was the one called the "Beautiful Gate" in the New Testament.

The Sanctuary was completed in the year B.C. 16, the anniversary of Herod's inauguration, and was celebrated with a magnificent feast and the most lavish sacrifices. Immediately afterwards Herod undertook a journey to Rome to fetch home his two sons, Alexander and Aristobulus. He was received with every mark of attention by Augustus, and returned to his capital about the spring of B.C. 15. Agrippa was now on a visit to Asia, to inspect these provinces of the empire for his master. Herod thereupon invited him to visit Judæa. Agrippa consented, and escorted by Herod, passed through his new cities of Sebaste and Cæsarea.

Returning from Asia Minor, B.C. 14, Herod landed at his new port of Cæsarea, and proceeding to Jerusalem, recounted the privileges he had secured for the nation, and remitted a fourth of the year's tribute. It might have been hoped that the close of his reign would make some atonement for the atrocities of earlier years; but a scene of bloodshed was now to be enacted far more awful than any which had darkened his reign, as if to show that the "spirit of the injured Mariamne hovered over Herod's devoted house, and, involving the innocent as well as the guilty in the common ruin, designated the dwelling of her murderous husband as the perpetual scene of misery and bloodshed."

On the return of the young princes, Alexander and Aristobulus, they were received by the populace with the utmost enthusiasm, in spite of their education in a foreign land. Their grace and beauty, their engaging manners, above all their descent from the ancient Asmonean line, made them objects of hope and joy on the part of the nation. But the keenest hatred of Pherôras and Salome was now aroused, and they began to whisper into Herod's ear that the young men were bent on avenging their mother's death. The king had given them in marriage, Alexander to Galphyra, the daughter of Archelaus, king of Cappadocia; Aristobulus to Mariamne, a daughter of Salome. Proud of the popularity his sons had acquired, Herod for some time refused to attach any credence to these vile insinuations. At length he adopted an expedient which led to the most disastrous results. By an earlier wife, named Doris, he had a son Antipater. After his alliance with the Asmonean princess he had put Doris away. Now he recalled her and her son, and made the young man a sort of spy over his two step-brothers. Cunning, ambitious, and unscrupulous, Antipater threw himself heart and soul into all the plots of Pherôras and Salome, and continued to make the two princes objects of more and more suspicion to their father.

The arrival at Jerusalem of Archelaus, king of Cappadocia, and father-in-law of Alexander, caused a temporary lull. This monarch succeeded in reinstating the young prince in his father's favour; but the reconciliation was only on the surface. His brother Pherôras, Salome, and, worst of all, Antipater, again filled Herod's mind with apprehensions and suspicions, and he determined once more to seek the advice of Augustus. Accordingly he set out for Rome in B.C. 8, and preferred his complaints against his sons before the emperor. Augustus advised that he should hold a court of arbitration, and recommended Berytus, in Phœnicia, as the place of meeting. There one hundred and fifty princes therefore assembled together, with Saturninus and Volumnius, the prefects of Syria. Before this tribunal Herod laid his complaints, pleaded his cause, and publicly accused his sons. After hearing the charge Saturninus advised that mercy should be extended towards the young men; Volumnius and the majority urged their condemnation, and eventually they were strangled at Samaria, at the very same place where their father had celebrated his marriage with their mother.

But the execution of those unfortunate princes did but little towards removing the elements of discord in Herod's household. Repeated dissensions had arisen between him and his brother Pherôras, who was at length ordered to retire to his own tetrarchy of Peræa. There he sickened and died, and his widow was accused of having poisoned him. The investigation that ensued revealed a new and still more formidable conspiracy, which Antipater and Pherôras had formed against Herod's life. Antipater was absent at Rome, but he was allowed to return to Cæsarea, and on reaching Jerusalem was instantly seized, and brought to trial before the Roman governor of Syria, Quintilius Varus. The charge was proved, and he was condemned to death, but his execution was respited till the will of the emperor could be ascertained.

Herod was now upwards of seventy years of age, and already felt the approach of his last mortal malady. Removing for change of air to Jericho, he resolved to make the final alterations in his will. Passing over Archelaus and Philip, whom Antipater had accused of treachery, he nominated Antipas, a son by Malthace, a Samaritan, his successor in the kingdom; and left magnificent bequests to Cæsar, to Cæsar's wife Julia, to her sons, and to the members of his own family.

Before Herod left for Jericho, and while he was still residing in the magnificent palace he had built on Zion, his fears and suspicions were still further increased by the visit to his capital of certain magi from the East, bearing the strange intelligence that they had seen in the East the star of a new-born King of the Jews, and had come to worship Him.

The inquiry respecting an hereditary King of the Jews roused the alarm of the Idumean tyrant, and, hastily convening an assembly of the chief priests and scribes, he inquired where, according to their prophetical books, the long-expected Messiah was to be born. Without any hesitation they pointed to the words of the prophet Micah, which declared that Bethlehem, in Judæa, was the favoured spot. Concealing his wicked intentions, the monarch therefore bade the magi repair to Bethlehem, bidding them let him know as soon as they had found the young child, that he, too, might come and do Him reverence.

Thus advised, the magi set out, and at Bethlehem they found "the young Child, and Mary his Mother, and they fell down and worshipped Him." For true it was that while Herod's blood-stained reign was drawing near its close, and when, after a life of tyranny and unsurpation, he was sinking "into the jealous decrepitude of his savage old age," a lowly Virgin had at Bethlehem brought "forth her first-born Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger." The advent of this true King of kings, "in great humility," had moved all heaven to its centre; and while Herod's palaces were the scenes of jealousies, suspicion, and murders, and his subjects were groaning under the yoke of his iron rule, the heavenly song had floated over the hills of Bethlehem, and shepherds keeping watch over their flocks had heard the words, breaking the stillness of the night, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men."

After they had offered their homage and their gifts to the heavenly Child, the magi would naturally have returned to Herod; but warned of God in a dream of peril awaiting them if they did so, they returned to their own land another way. Thus foiled, the jealousy of Herod assumed a more malignant aspect, and, unable to identify the royal Infant of the seed of David, he issued an edict that all the children of Bethlehem and its neighbourhood, from two years old and under, should be slain.

"Herod's whole career was red with the blood of murder. He had massacred priests and nobles; he had decimated the Sanhedrin; he had caused the high priest, his brother-in-law, the young and noble Aristobulus, to be drowned in pretended sport before his eyes; he had ordered the strangulation of his favourite wife, the beautiful Asmonean princess Mariamne, though she seems to have been the only human being whom he passionately loved. His sons Alexander, Aristobulus, and Antipater; his uncle Joseph; Antigonus and Alexander, the uncle and father of his wife; his mother-in-law Alexandra; his kinsman Cortobanus; his friends Dositheus and Gadias were but a few of the multitudes who fell victims to his sanguinary, suspicious, and guilty terrors. His reign which was so cruel that, in the energetic language of the Jewish ambassadors to the Emperor Augustus, 'the survivors during his lifetime were even more miserable than the sufferers.'"

Herod's disorder increased with the utmost violence. He lay in the magnificent palace which he had built for himself under the palm-trees of Jericho, racked with pain, and tormented with thirst. Still cherishing hopes of recovery, he now caused himself to be conveyed across the Jordan to Callirrhoë, not far from the Dead Sea, hoping to obtain relief from its warm bituminous springs. But the use of the waters produced no effect. He was conveyed back to Jericho, where he ordered the chiefs of the nation, under pain of death, to assemble. As they arrived they were shut up in the Hippodrome, and Herod charged Salome and Alexas, immediately upon his decease, to put them to death. Scarcely had he given these orders when a dispatch arrived from Rome, announcing the ratification by the emperor of the sentence pronounced upon Antipater. Thereupon the tyrant's desire for life instantly returned, but a paroxysm of racking pain coming on, he called for an apple and a knife, and in an unguarded moment tried to stab himself. His cousin Achiab stayed his hand, and Antipater, hearing the clamour from a neighbouring apartment, and thinking his father was dead, made a determined effort to escape by bribing his guards. No sooner did Herod hear of this, than, though almost insensible, he raised himself on his elbow, and ordered one of the spearmen to dispatch his son on the spot. Thus Antipater paid the penalty of his life of treachery and hypocrisy. Herod now once more amended his will, nominating his eldest son Archelaus as his successor on the throne, and appointing Herod Antipas tetrarch of Galilee and Peræa; Herod Philip, tetrarch of Auranitis, Trachonitis and Batanæa; and Salome mistress of Jamnia, Azotus, and some other towns.

Five days more of excruciating agony remained for the miserable monarch, and then, "choking as it were with blood, devising massacres in its very delirium, the soul of Herod passed forth into the night." Archelaus at once assumed the direction of affairs at Jerusalem, and proceeded to give his father a magnificent funeral. First, clad in armour, advanced a numerous force of troops, with their generals and officers; then followed five hundred of Herod's domestics and freedmen, bearing aromatic spices. Next came the body, covered with purple, with a diadem on the head, and a sceptre in the right hand, and lying on a bier of gold studded with precious stones. After the bier, which was surrounded by Herod's sons and relatives, came his body-guard; then his foreign mercenaries, men from Thrace, Germany, and Gaul, "whose stalwart and ruddy persons were at this time familiar in Jerusalem." In this order the procession advanced slowly from Jericho to Herodium, not far from Tekôa, a distance of about twenty-five miles, where the late monarch had erected a fortress. Here, in the tower-crowned citadel to which he had given his name, and not far from the spot where He was born whom the Idumean king had sought to cut off with the innocents of Bethlehem, Herod was buried.

SYNAGOGUES AND FORMS OF WORSHIP.

The word synagogue, which means a "congregation," is used in the New Testament to signify a recognized place of worship. A knowledge of the history and worship of the synagogues is of importance to the student, since they are the great characteristic institutions of the later phase of Judaism. More even than the temple and its services, in the time of which the New Testament treats, they at once represented and determined the religious life of the people. We cannot separate them from the most intimate connection with our Lord's life and ministry. In them he worshiped in his youth and in his manhood. Whatever we can learn of the ritual which then prevailed tells us of a worship which he recognized and sanctioned, which for that reason, if for NO other—though, like the statelier services of the temple, it was destined to pass away—is worthy of our respect and honor. They were the scenes, too, of no small portion of his work. In them were wrought some of his mightiest works of healing. In them were spoken some of the most glorious of his recorded words; many more, beyond all reckoning, which are not recorded.

We know too little of the life of Israel, both before and under the monarchy, to be able to say with certainty whether there was anything at all corresponding to the synagogues of later date. They appear to have arisen during the exile, in the abeyance of the temple-worship, and to have received their full development on the return of the Jews from captivity. The whole history of Ezra presupposes the habit of solemn, probably of periodic, meetings. The "ancient days" of which St. James speaks may, at least, go back so far. After the Maccabean struggle for independence, we find almost every town or village had its one or more synagogues. Where the Jews were not in sufficient numbers to be able to erect and fill a building, there was the Proseucha, or place of prayer, sometimes open, sometimes covered in, commonly by a running stream or on the sea-shore, in which devout Jews and proselytes met to worship, and perhaps to read.

It is hardly possible to overestimate the influence of the system thus developed. To it we may ascribe the tenacity with which, after the Maccabean struggle, the Jews adhered to the religion of their fathers and never again relapsed into idolatry. The people were now in no danger of forgetting the law and the external ordinances that hedged it round. If pilgrimages were still made to Jerusalem at the great feasts, the habitual religion of the Jews in, and yet more out of, Palestine was connected much more intimately with the synagogue than with the temple. Its simple edifying devotion, into which mind and heart could alike enter, attracted the heathen proselytes who might have been repelled by the sacrifices of the temple, or would certainly have been driven from it unless they could make up their minds to submit to circumcision. Here, too, there was an influence tending to diminish, and ultimately almost to destroy, the authority of the hereditary priesthood. The services of the synagogue required no sons of Aaron, gave them nothing more than a complimentary precedence. The way was silently prepared for a new and higher order, which should rise in "the fullness of time" out of the decay and abolition of both the priesthood and temple. In another way, too, the synagogues everywhere prepared the way for that order. Not "Moses" only, but "the Prophets," were read in them every Sabbath day, and thus the Messianic hopes of Israel, the expectation of a kingdom of heaven, were universally diffused.

The size of a synagogue, like that of a church or chapel, varied with the population. We have no reason for believing that there were any fixed laws of proportion for its dimensions, like those which are traced in the tabernacle and the temple. Its position was, however, determinate. It stood, if possible, on the highest ground, in or near the city to which it belonged. Failing this, a tall pole rose from the roof to render it conspicuous. And its direction too was fixed. Jerusalem was the Kibleh of Jewish devotion; and the synagogue was so constructed that the worshipers as they entered and as they prayed looked toward it. The building was commonly erected at the cost of the district, whether by a church-rate levied for the purpose or by free gifts must remain uncertain. Sometimes it was built by a rich Jew, or even, as in Luke 7:5, by a friendly proselyte. In the later stages of Eastern Judaism it was often erected, like the mosques of Mohammedans, near the tombs of famous rabbis or holy men. When the building was finished, it was set apart, as the temple had been, by a special prayer of dedication. From that time it had a consecrated character. The common acts of life—eating, drinking, reckoning up accounts—were forbidden in it. No one was to pass through it as a short cut. Even if it ceased to be used, the building was not to be applied to any base purpose—might not be turned into a bath, a laundry or a tannery.

In the internal arrangement of the synagogue we trace an obvious analogy to the type of the tabernacle. At the upper or Jerusalem end stood the ark, the chest which, like the older and more sacred ark, contained the book of the law. This part of the synagogue was naturally the place of honor. Here were the "chief seats" after which Pharisees and scribes strove so eagerly, to which the wealthy and honored worshiper was invited. Here, too, in front of the ark, still reproducing the type of the tabernacle, was the eight-branched lamp, lighted only on the greater festivals. Besides this, there was one lamp kept burning perpetually. Others, brought by devout worshipers, were lighted at the beginning of the Sabbath—i. e., on Friday evening. A little farther toward the middle of the building was a raised platform, on which several persons could stand at once, and in the middle of this rose a pulpit, in which the reader stood to read the lesson or sat down to teach. The congregation were divided, men on one side, women on the other. Within the ark, as above stated, were the rolls of the sacred books. The rollers round which they were wound were often elaborately decorated, the cases for them embroidered or enameled, according to their material. Such cases were customary offerings from the rich when they brought their infant children, on the first anniversary of their birthday, to be blessed by the rabbi of the synagogue. As part of the fittings we have also to note (1) another chest for the Haphtaroth, or rolls of the prophets; (2) alms-boxes at or near the door, after the pattern of those at the temple, one for the poor at Jerusalem, the other for local charities; (3) notice-boards, on which were written the names of offenders who had been "put out of the synagogue;" (4) a chest for trumpets and other musical instruments used at the New Years, Sabbaths and other festivals.

The most prominent functionary in a large synagogue was known as the Shĕliach (= legatus), the officiating minister, who acted as the delegate of the congregation, and was therefore the chief reader of prayers, etc., in their name. The conditions laid down for this office remind us of St. Paul's rule for the choice of a bishop. He was to be active, of full age, the father of a family, not rich or engaged in business, possessing a good voice, apt to teach. In him we find the prototype of the "angel of the church" of Rev. 1:20; 2:1, etc.

The Chazzán, or servant of the synagogue, had duties of a lower kind, resembling those of the Christian deacon or sub-deacon. He was to open the door, to get the building ready for service. For him, too, there were conditions like those for the legatus. Like the legatus and the elders, he was appointed by the imposition of hands. Practically, he often acted during the week as schoolmaster of the town or village, and in this way came to gain a prominence which placed him nearly on the same level as the legatus.

Besides these, there were ten men attached to every synagogue, known as the Batlanim (= Otiosi), and no synagogue was complete without them. They were to be men of leisure, not obliged to labor for their livelihood, able, therefore, to attend the week-day as well as the Sabbath services.

The ritual of the synagogue was to a large extent the reproduction (here also, as with the fabric, with many inevitable changes) of the statelier liturgy of the temple. It will be enough in this place to notice in what way the ritual, no less than the organization, was connected with the facts of the New Testament history and with the life and order of the Christian Church. Here, too, we meet with multiplied coincidences. It would hardly be an exaggeration to say that the worship of the Church was identical with that of the synagogue, modified (1) by the new truths, (2) by the new institution of the Supper of the Lord, (3) by the spiritual Charismata.

From the synagogue came the use of fixed forms of prayer. To that the first disciples had been accustomed from their youth. They had asked their Master to give them a distinctive one, and he had complied with their request, as the Baptist had done before for his disciples, as every rabbi did for his. The forms might be, and were, abused, but for the disciples this was as yet the true pattern of devotion, and their Master sanctioned it. To their minds there would seem nothing inconsistent with true heart-worship in the recurrence of a fixed order, of the same prayers, hymns, doxologies, such as all liturgical study leads us to think of as existing in the apostolic age.

The large admixture of a didactic element in Christian worship—that by which it was distinguished from all Gentile forms of adoration—was derived from the older order. "Moses" was "read in the synagogues every Sabbath-day," the whole law being read consecutively, so as to be completed, according to one cycle, in three years, or according to that which ultimately prevailed and determined the existing divisions of the Hebrew text, in the fifty-two weeks of a single year. The writings of the prophets were read as second lessons in a corresponding order. They were followed by the Derash, "the word of exhortation," the exposition, the sermon of the synagogue. The first Christian synagogues, we must believe, followed this order with but little deviation. It remained for them before long to add "the other Scriptures," which they had learned to recognize as more precious even than the law itself, the "prophetic word" of the New Testament. The synagogue use of Psalms, again, on the plan of selecting those which had a special fitness for special times, answered to that which appears to have prevailed in the Church of the first three centuries.

The conformity extends also to the times of prayer. In the hours of service this was obviously the case. The third, sixth and ninth hours were in the times of the New Testament, and had been probably for some time before, the fixed times of devotion. The same hours, it is well known, were recognized in the Church of the second, probably in that of the first, century also. The sacred days belonging to the two systems seem at first to present a contrast rather than a resemblance, but here too there is a symmetry which points to an original connection. The solemn days of the synagogue were the second, the fifth and the seventh, the last, or Sabbath, being the conclusion of the whole. In whatever way the change was brought about, the transfer of the sanctity of the Sabbath to the Lord's day involved a corresponding change in the order of the week, and the first, the fourth and the sixth became to the Christians what the other days had been to the Jews.

The language of the New Testament shows that the officers of the synagogue exercised in certain cases a judicial power. The synagogue itself was the place of trial—even, strange as it may seem, of the actual punishment of scourging. They do not appear to have had the right of inflicting any severer penalty, unless under this head we may include that of excommunication, or "putting a man out of the synagogue," placing him under an anathema, "delivering him to Satan." In some cases they exercised the right, even outside the limits of Palestine, of seizing the persons of the accused and sending them in chains to take their trial before the supreme council at Jerusalem.

It is not quite so easy, however, to define the nature of the tribunal and the precise limits of its jurisdiction. In two of the passages referred to they are carefully distinguished from the councils, yet both appear as instruments by which the spirit of religious persecution might fasten on its victims. The explanation commonly given, that the council sat in the synagogue, and was thus identified with it, is hardly satisfactory. It seems more probable that the council was the larger tribunal of twenty-three, which sat in every city, identical with that of the seven, with two Levites as assessors to each, which Josephus describes as acting in the smaller provincial towns, and that under the term synagogue we are to understand a smaller court, probably that of the ten judges mentioned in the Talmud, consisting either of the elders, the chazzán and the legatus, or otherwise of the ten Batlanim or Otiosi.

Here, also, we trace the outline of a Christian institution. The church, either by itself or by appointed delegates, was to act as a court of arbitration in all disputes among its members. The elders of the church were not, however, to descend to the trivial disputes of daily life.

CHAPTER I.

The Genealogy of Christ.

THE book of the [a]generation of Jesus Christ, [b]the son of Da'vid, [c]the son of A'bra-ham.

2 [d]A'bra-ham begat I'saac; and [e]I'saac begat Ja'cob; and [f]Ja'cob begat Ju'das and his brethren;

3 And [g]Ju'das begat Pha'res and Za'ra of Tha'mar; and [h]Pha'res begat Es'rom; and Es'rom begat A'ram;

4 And A'ram begat A-min'a-dab; and A-min'a-dab begat Na-as'son; and Na-as'son begat Sal'mon;

5 And Sal'mon begat Bo'oz of Ra'chab; and Bo'oz begat O'bed of Ruth; and O'bed begat Jes'se;

6 And [i]Jes'se begat Da'vid the king; and [k]Da'vid the king begat Sol'o-mon of her that had been the wife of U-ri'as;

7 And [l]Sol'o-mon begat Rob'o-am; and Rob'o-am begat A-bi'a; and A-bi'a begat A'sa;

8 And A'sa begat Jos'a-phat; and Jos'a-phat begat Jo'ram; and Jo'ram begat O-zi'as;

9 And O-zi'as begat Jo'a-tham; and Jo'a-tham begat A'chaz; and A'chaz begat Ez-e-ki'as;

10 And [m]Ez-e-ki'as begat Ma-nas'ses; and Ma-nas'ses begat A'mon; and A'mon begat Jo-si'as;

11 And ‖ [n]Jo-si'as begat Jech-o-ni'as and his brethren, about the time they were [o]carried away to Bab'y-lon:

12 And after they were brought to Bab'y-lon, [p]Jech-o-ni'as begat Sa-la'thi-el; and Sa-la'thi-el begat [q]Zo-rob'a-bel;

13 And Zo-rob'a-bel begat A-bi'ud; and A-bi'ud begat E-li'a-kim; and E-li'a-kim begat A'zor;

14 And A'zor begat Sa'doc; and Sa'doc begat A'chim; and A'chim begat E-li'ud;

15 And E-li'ud begat E-le-a'zar; and E-le-a'zar begat Mat'than; and Mat'than begat Ja'cob;

16 And Ja'cob begat Jo'seph the husband of Ma'ry, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from A'bra-ham to Da'vid are fourteen generations; and from Da'vid until the carrying away into Bab'y-lon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Bab'y-lon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶Now the [r]birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Ma'ry was espoused to Jo'seph, before they came together, she was found with child [s]of the Holy Ghost.

19 Then Jo'seph her husband, being a just man, and not willing [t]to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jo'seph, thou son of Da'vid, fear not to take unto thee Ma'ry thy wife: [u]for that which is †conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 [x]And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name ‖ JESUS: for [y]he shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 [z]Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and ‖ they shall call his name Em-man'u-el, which being interpreted is, God with us.

24 Then Jo'seph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth [a]her first-born son; and he called his name JESUS.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MATTHEW.

1 [1]The book of the [2]generation of Jesus Christ, the son of Da'vid the son of A'bra-ham.

2 A'bra-ham begat I'saac; and I'saac begat Ja'cob;
3 and Ja'cob begat Ju'dah and his brethren; and Ju'dah begat Pe'rez and Ze'rah of Ta'mar; and Pe'rez
4 begat Hez'ron; and Hez'ron begat [3]Ram; and [3]Ram begat Am-min'a-dab; and Am-min'a-dab begat Nah'- 5 shon; and Nah'shon begat Sal'mon; and Sal'mon begat Bo'az of Ra'hab; and Bo'az begat O'bed of 6 Ruth; and O'bed begat Jes'se; and Jes'se begat Da'vid the king.

And Da'vid begat Sol'o-mon of her that had been 7 the wife of U-ri'ah; and Sol'o-mon begat Re-ho-bo'am; and Re-ho-bo'am begat A-bi'jah; and A-bi'jah begat
8 [4]A'sa; and [4]A'sa begat Je-hosh'a-phat; and Je-hosh'a-
9 phat begat Jo'ram; and Jo'ram begat Uz-zi'ah; and Uz-zi'ah begat Jo'tham; and Jo'tham begat A'haz;
10 and A'haz begat Hez-e-ki'ah; and Hez-e-ki'ah begat Ma-nas'seh; and Ma-nas'seh begat [5]A'mon; and 11 [5]A'mon begat Jo-si'ah; and Jo-si'ah begat Jech-o-ni'ah and his brethren, at the time of the [6]carrying away to Bab'y-lon.

12 And after the [6]carrying away to Bab'y-lon, Jech-o-ni'ah begat [7]She-al'ti-el; and [7]She-al'ti-el begat Ze-rub'-
13 ba-bel; and Ze-rub'ba-bel begat A-bi'ud; and A-bi'ud 14 begat E-li'a-kim; and E-li'a-kim begat A'zor; and A'zor begat Sa'doc; and Sa'doc begat A'chim; and 15 A'chim begat E-li'ud; and E-li'ud begat E-le-a'zar; and E-le-a'zar begat Mat'than; and Mat'than begat
16 Ja'cob; and Ja'cob begat Jo'seph the husband of Ma'ry, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from A'bra-ham unto Da'vid are fourteen generations; and from Da'vid unto the [6]carrying away to Bab'y-lon fourteen generations; and from the [6]carrying away to Bab'y-lon unto the Christ fourteen generations.

18 Now the [8]birth [9]of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When his mother Ma'ry had been betrothed to Jo'-seph, before they came together she was found with 19 child of the [10]Holy Ghost. And Jo'seph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put 20 her away privily. But when he thought on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jo'seph, thou son of Da'vid, fear not to take unto thee Ma'ry thy wife: for that which is [11]conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.
21 And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name JESUS; for it is he that shall save his 22 people from their sins. Now all this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,
23 Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son,
And they shall call his name [12]Im-man'u-el;
24 which is, being interpreted, God with us. And Jo'-seph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his 25 wife; and knew her not till she had brought forth a son; and he called his name JESUS.

CHAPTER II.

The wise men directed to Christ.

The Fourth Year before the Common Account called Anno Domini

NOW when [a]Jesus was born in Beth'le-hem of Ju-de'a in the days of Her'od the king, behold, there came wise men [b]from the east to Je-ru'sa-lem,

2 Saying, [c]Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen [d]his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Her'od the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Je-ru'sa-lem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all [e]the chief priests and [f]scribes of the people together, [g]he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Beth'le-hem of Ju-de'a: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 [h]And thou Beth'le-hem, in the land of Ju'da, art not the least among the princes of Ju'da: for out of thee shall come a Governor, [i]that shall ‖ rule my people Is'ra-el.

7 Then Her'od, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Beth'le-hem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Ma'ry his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, [k]they ‖ presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God [l]in a dream that they should not return to Her'od, they departed into their own country another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Jo'seph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into E'gypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Her'od will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into E'gypt:

15 And was there until the death of Her'od: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, [m]Out of E'gypt have I called my son.

16 ¶Then Her'od, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Beth'le-hem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by [n]Jer'e-my the prophet, saying,

18 In Ra'ma was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Ra'chel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¶But when Her'od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jo'seph in E'gypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Is'ra-el: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Is'ra-el.

22 But when he heard that Ar-che-la'us did reign in Ju-de'a in the room of his father Her'od, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside [o]into the parts of Gal'i-lee:

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called [p]Naz'a-reth: that it might be fulfilled [q]which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Naz'a-rene.

2 Now when Jesus was born in Beth'le-hem of Ju-dæ'a in the days of Her'od the king, behold, [1]wise men
2 from the east came to Je-ru'sa-lem, saying, [2]Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his star in the east, and are come to worship him.
3 And when Her'od the king heard it, he was 4 troubled, and all Je-ru'sa-lem with him. And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should 5 be born. And they said unto him, In Beth'le-hem of Ju-dæ'a: for thus it is written [3]by the prophet,

6 And thou Beth'le-hem, land of Ju'dah,
Art in no wise least among the princes of Ju'dah:
For out of thee shall come forth a governor,
Which shall be shepherd of my people Is'ra-el.

7 Then Her'od privily called the [1]wise men, and learned
8 of them carefully [4]what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Beth'le-hem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may 9 come and worship him. And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came
10 and stood over where the young child was. And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceed-11 ing great joy. And they came into the house and saw the young child with Ma'ry his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures they offered unto him gifts, gold and 12 frankincense and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Her'od, they departed into their own country another way.
13 Now when they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth to Jo'seph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into E'gypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Her'od will seek the young child to destroy him.
14 And he arose and took the young child and his 15 mother by night, and departed into E'gypt; and was there until the death of Her'od: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, Out of E'gypt did I call my son.
16 Then Her'od, when he saw that he was mocked of the [1]wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Beth'le-hem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully
17 learned of the [1]wise men. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [3]by Jer-e-mi'ah the prophet, saying,

18 A voice was heard in Ra'mah,
Weeping and great mourning,
Rachel weeping for her children;
And she would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But when Her'od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jo'seph in E'gypt, 20 saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Is'ra-el: for they 21 are dead that sought the young child's life. And he arose and took the young child and his mother,
22 and came into the land of Is'ra-el. But when he heard that Ar-che-la'us was reigning over Ju-dæ'a in the room of his father Her'od, he was afraid to go thither; and being warned of God in a dream, he 23 withdrew into the parts of Gal'i-lee, and came and dwelt in a city called Naz'a-reth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [3]by the prophets, that he should be called a Naz'a-rene.

CHAPTER III.

The preaching of John the Baptist.

A.D. 26.

IN those days came [a]John the Baptist, preaching [b]in the wilderness of Ju-de'a,
2 And saying, Repent ye: for [c]the kingdom of heaven is at hand.
3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet E-sa'ias, saying, [d]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, [e]Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.
4 And [f]the same John [g]had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was [h]locusts and [i]wild honey.
5 [k]Then went out to him Je-ru'sa-lem, and all Ju-de'a, and all the region round about Jor'dan, 6 [l]And were baptized of him in Jor'dan, confessing their sins.
7 ¶But when he saw many of the Phar'i-sees and Sad'du-cees come to his baptism, he said unto them, [m]O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from [n]the wrath to come?
8 Bring forth therefore fruits ‖meet for repentance:
9 And think not to say within yourselves, [o]We have A'bra-ham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto A'bra-ham.
10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: [p]therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
11 [q]I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: [r]he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:
12 [s]Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will [t]burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.
13 ¶[u]Then cometh Jesus [x]from Gal'i-lee to Jor'dan unto John, to be baptized of him.
14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?
15 And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.
16 [y]And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw [z]the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him:
17 [a]And lo a voice from heaven, saying, [b]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER IV.

Christ's fasting and temptation.

THEN was [a]Jesus led up of [b]the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.
2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward a hungered.
3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.
4 But he answered and said, It is written, [c]Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.
5 Then the devil taketh him up [d]into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,
6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, [e]He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.
7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, [f]Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.
8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high

3 For this is he that was spoken of [1]by I-sa'iah the prophet, saying,
The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight.
4 Now John himself had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food
5 was locusts and wild honey. Then went out unto him Je-ru'sa-lem, and all Ju-dæ'a, and all the region
6 round about Jor'dan; and they were baptized of him
7 in the river Jor'dan, confessing their sins. But when he saw many of the Phar'i-sees and Sad'du-cees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, Ye offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath
8 to come? Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of 9 [2]repentance: and think not to say within yourselves, We have A'bra-ham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children
10 unto A'bra-ham. And even now is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast

13 Then cometh Jesus from Gal'i-lee to the Jor'dan
14 unto John, to be baptized of him. But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be bap-
15 tized of thee, and comest thou to me? But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer [6]it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he 16 suffereth him. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, the heavens were opened [7]unto him and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming 17 upon him; and lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, [7]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

3 hungered. And the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art the son of God, command that
4 these stones become [8]bread. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth

6 and he set him on the [9]pinnacle of the temple, and saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,
He shall give his angels charge concerning thee:
And on their hands they shall bear thee up,

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Sa'tan: for it is written, [g]Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.
11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, [h]angels came and ministered unto him.
12 ¶ [i]Now when Jesus had heard that John was ‖cast into prison, he departed into Gal'i-lee;
13 And leaving Naz'a-reth, he came and dwelt in Ca-per'-na-um, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zab'u-lon and Neph'tha-lim:
14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by E-sa'ias the prophet, saying,
15 [k]The land of Zab'u-lon, and the land of Neph'tha-lim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jor'dan, Gal'i-lee of the Gentiles;
16 [l]The people which sat in darkness saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung up.
17 ¶ [m]From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, [n]Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.
18 ¶ [o]And Jesus, walking by the sea of Gal'i-lee, saw two brethren, Si'mon [p]called Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.
19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and [q]I will make you fishers of men.
20 [r]And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.
21 [s]And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zeb'e-dee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.
22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.
23 ¶ And Jesus went about all Gal'i-lee, [t]teaching in their synagogues, and preaching [u]the gospel of the kingdom, [z]and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.
24 And his fame went throughout all Syr'i-a: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.
25 [y]And there followed him great multitudes of people from Gal'i-lee, and from De-cap'o-lis, and from Je-ru'sa-lem, and from Ju-de'a, and from beyond Jor'dan.

CHAPTER V.

Sermon on the mount.

AND seeing the multitudes, [a]he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:
2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,
3 [b]Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
4 [c]Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.
5 [d]Blessed are the meek: for [e]they shall inherit the earth.
6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: [f]for they shall be filled.
7 Blessed are the merciful: [g]for they shall obtain mercy.
8 [h]Blessed are the pure in heart: for [i]they shall see God.
9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
10 [k]Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Get thee hence, Sa'tan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou

12 Now when he heard that John was delivered up, 13 he withdrew into Gal'i-lee; and leaving Naz'a-reth, he came and dwelt in Ca-per'na-um, which is by the sea, 14 in the borders of Zeb'-u-lun and Naph'ta-li: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [1]by I-sa'iah the prophet, saying,
15 The land of Zeb'u-lun and the land of Naph'ta-li,
[2]Toward the sea, beyond Jor'dan,
Gal'i-lee of the [3]Gentiles,
16 The people which sat in darkness
Saw a great light,
And to them which sat in the region and shadow of death,
To them did light spring up.
17 From that time began Jesus to preach, and to say, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at 18 And walking by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw two

19 fishers. And he saith unto them, Come ye after 20 me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they 21 straightway left the nets, and followed him. And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, [4]James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zeb'e-dee their father, mending their 22 nets; and he called them. And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.
23 And [5]Jesus went about in all Gal'i-lee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the [6]gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all 24 manner of sickness among the people. And the report of him went forth into all Syr'i-a: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, [7]possessed with devils, and epileptic, and palsied; and he healed them.
25 And there followed him great multitudes from Gal'i-lee and De-cap'o-lis and Je-ru'sa-lem and Ju-dæ'a and from beyond Jor'dan.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples 2 came unto him: and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,
3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
4 [8]Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.
5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.
6 Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.
7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.
10 Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the king-11 dom of heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 [a]Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for [c]so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶Ye are the salt of the earth: [p]but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 [q]Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men [r]light a candle, and put it under ‖a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, [t]that they may see your good works, and [t]glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶[u]Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, [w]Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 [x]Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed [y]the righteousness of the scribes and Phar'i-sees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶Ye have heard that it was said ‖by them of old time, [z]Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 But I say unto you, That [a]whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, ‖[b]Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore, [c]if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee;

24 [d]Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 [e]Agree with thine adversary quickly, [f]while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, [g]Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 But I say unto you, That whosoever [h]looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 [i]And if thy right eye ‖offend thee, [k]pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, [l]Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement:

32 But I say unto you, That [m]whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery.

33 ¶Again, ye have heard that [n]it hath been said by them of old time, [o]Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but [p]shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

34 But I say unto you, [q]Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is [r]God's throne:

35 Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Je-ru'sa-lem; for it is [s]the city of the great King.

A. D. 31.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out
14 and trodden under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid.
15 Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all 16 that are in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the 18 prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away 19 from the law, till all things be accomplished. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in 20 the kingdom of heaven. For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Phar'i-sees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill
22 shall be in danger of the judgement: but I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother [1]shall be in danger of the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, [2]Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say, [3]Thou fool, shall be in danger [4]of the [5]hell of fire.
23 If therefore thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught
24 against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother,
25 and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge [6]deliver thee to the officer, and 26 thou be cast into prison. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the last farthing.

27 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not 28 commit adultery: but I say unto you, that every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath commited adultery with her already in his heart.
29 And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not
30 thy whole body be cast into [7]hell. And if thy right hand causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body
31 go into [7]hell. It was said also, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorce-
32 ment: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:
34 but I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither
35 by the heaven, for it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor [8]by Je-ru'sa-lem, for it is the city of the great King.

A. D. 31.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 [t]But let your communication be, Yea, yea; nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.

38 ¶Ye have heard that it hath been said, [u]An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:

39 But I say unto you, [x]That ye resist not evil: [y]but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 And whosoever [z]shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 Give to him that asketh thee, and [a]from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 ¶Ye have heard that it hath been said, [b]Thou shalt love thy neighbour, [c]and hate thine enemy.

44 But I say unto you, [d]love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray [e]for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you;

45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for [f]he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 [g]For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?

48 [h]Be ye therefore perfect, even [i]as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

CHAPTER VI.

Of alms, prayer, forgiveness, &c.

TAKE heed that ye do not your ‖alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward ‖of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore [a]when thou doest thine alms, ‖do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself [b]shall reward thee openly.

5 ¶And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, [c]enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, [d]use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: [e]for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: [f]Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. [g]Thy will be done in earth, [h]as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our [i]daily bread.

12 And [k]forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 [l]And lead us not into temptation, but [m]deliver us from evil: [n]For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 [o]For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But [p]if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶Moreover [q]when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst
37 not make one hair white or black. [1]But let your speech be, Yea, yea; nay, nay: and whatsoever is more than these is of [2]the evil one.

38 Ye have heard that it was said, An eye for an 39 eye, and a tooth for a tooth: but I say unto you, Resist not [3]him that is evil: but whosoever smiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.
40 And if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also.
41 And whosoever shall [4]compel thee to go one mile,
42 go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 Ye have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love
44 thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy: but I say unto you, Love your enemies, and pray for them
45 that persecute you; that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sendeth rain on 46 the just and the unjust. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the 47 [5]publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even 48 the Gentiles the same? Ye therefore shall be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have
3 received their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand
4 doeth: that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They
6 have received their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall 7 recompense thee. And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do: for they think that
8 they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not therefore like unto them: for [6]your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask 9 him. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.
10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven,
11 so on earth. Give us this day [7]our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven 13 our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but 14 deliver us from [8]the evil one.[9] For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also 15 forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, [r]anoint thine head, and wash thy face;
18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.
19 ¶ [s]Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:
20 [t]But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:
21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.
22 [u]The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.
23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!
24 ¶ [x]No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. [y]Ye cannot serve God and mammon.
25 Therefore I say unto you, [z]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?
26 [a]Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns: yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?
27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?
28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:
29 And yet I say unto you, That even Sol'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.
30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?
31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?
32 (For after all these things do the Gen'tiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.
33 But [b]seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.
34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER VII.

Christ endeth his sermon.

JUDGE [c]not, that ye be not judged.
2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: [b]and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.
3 [e]And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?
4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?
5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.
6 ¶ [d]Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.
7 ¶ [e]Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:
8 For [f]every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.
9 [g]Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?
10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?
11 If ye then, [h]being evil, know how to give good gifts

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and 18 wash thy face; that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.
19 Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust doth consume, and 20 where thieves [1]break through and steal; but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do
21 not [1]break through nor steal: for where thy treasure
22 is, there will thy heart be also. The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single,
23 thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be dark-

25 Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the 26 raiment? Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not 27 ye of much more value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his 28 [2]stature? And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they 29 grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: yet I say unto you, that even Sol'o-mon in all his glory was 30 not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much 31 more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 Therefore all things [f]whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for [h]this is the law and the prophets.
13 ¶[i]Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:
14 ‖ Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.
15 ¶[m]Beware of false prophets, [n]which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are [o]ravening wolves.
16 [p]Ye shall know them by their fruits. [q]Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?
17 Even so [r]every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.
18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.
19 [t]Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.
21 ¶Not every one that saith unto me, [u]Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.
22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we [w]not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?
23 And [x]then will I profess unto them? I never knew you: [y]depart from me, ye that work iniquity.
24 ¶Therefore [z]whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:
25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.
26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:
27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.
28 And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, [c]the people were astonished at his doctrine:
29 [b]For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER VIII.

Christ's miracles.

WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.
2 [a]And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
3 And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.
4 And Jesus saith unto him, [b]See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that [c]Mo'ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.
5 ¶[d]And when Jesus was entered into Ca-per'na-um, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,
6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.
7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.
8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, [e]I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but [f]speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.
9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.
10 When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them 12 that ask him? All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets.

13 Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide [1]is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruc-
14 tion, and many be they that enter in thereby. [2]For narrow is the gate, and straitened the way, that leadeth unto life, and few be they that find it.
15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves.
16 By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather
17 grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt
18 tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring 19 forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
20 21 Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the 22 will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out [3]devils,
23 and by thy name do many [4]mighty works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you:
24 depart from me, ye that work iniquity. Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, which
25 built his house upon the rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded 26 upon the rock. And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the 27 sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.
28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, the multitudes were astonished at his teach-29 ing: for he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 And when he was come down from the mountain,
2 great multitudes followed him. And behold, there came to him a leper and worshipped him, saying,

4 his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Mo'ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.
5 And when he was entered into Ca-per'na-um, there
6 came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, and saying, Lord, my [5]servant lieth in the house sick of the 7 palsy, grievously tormented. And he saith unto him,
8 I will come and heal him. And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not [6]worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but only say [7]the 9 word, and my [5]servant shall be healed. For I also am a man [8]under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my [9]servant, Do this, and he doeth it. And

11 And I say unto you, That [e]many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with A'bra-ham, and I'saac, and Ja'cob, in the kingdom of heaven:

12 But [h]the children of the kingdom [i]shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

14 ¶ [k]And when Jesus was come into Pe'ter's house, he saw [l]his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto [l]them.

16 ¶ [m]When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by E-sa'ias the prophet, saying, [n]Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 [o]And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 [p]And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, [q]suffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 [r]And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then [s]he arose and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

28 ¶ [t]And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Ger'ge-senes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And, behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them a herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and, behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them fled and went their ways into the city, and told every thing; and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And, behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, [u]they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

3 And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.
4 And Jesus [d]knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, [i]I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, [k]but sinners to repentance.

CHAPTER X.

Christ sendeth his apostles to do miracles.

AND [a]when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power||against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.
2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Si'mon, [b]who is called Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother; James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother;
3 Phil'ip, and Bar-thol'o-mew; Thom'as, and Mat'thew the publican; James the son of Al-phe'us, and Leb-be'us, whose surname was Thad-de'us;
4 [c]Si'mon the Ca'naan-ite, and Ju'das [d]Is'car-i-ot, who also betrayed him.
5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, [e]Go not into the way of the Gen'tiles, and into any city of [f]the Sa-mar'i-tans enter ye not:
6 [g]But go rather to the [h]lost sheep of the house of Is'ra-el.
7 [i]And as ye go, preach, saying, [k]The kingdom of heaven is at hand.
8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: [l]freely ye have received, freely give.
9 [m]||Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor [n]brass in your purses;
10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet †staves: [o]for the workman is worthy of his meat.
11 [p]And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.
12 And when ye come into a house, salute it.
13 [q]And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: [r]but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.
14 [s]And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, [t]shake off the dust of your feet.
15 Verily I say unto you, [u]It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sod'om and Go-mor'rah in the day of judgment, than for that city.
16 ¶[x]Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: [y]be ye therefore wise as serpents, and [z]||harmless as doves.
17 But beware of men,: for [a]they will deliver you up to the councils, and [b]they will scourge you in their synagogues;
18 And [c]ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gen'tiles.
19 [d]But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for [e]it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.
20 [f]For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.
21 [g]And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death,

30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus [1]strictly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.
31 But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.
32 And as they went forth, behold, there was brought 33 to him a dumb man possessed with a [2]devil. And when the [2]devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so 34 seen in Is'ra-el. But the Phar'i-sees said, [3]By the prince of the [4]devils casteth he out [4]devils.
35 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner
36 of disease and all manner of sickness. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and 37 scattered, as sheep not having a shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is 38 plenteous, but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth
10 labourers into his harvest. And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.
2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Si'mon, who is called Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother; James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his
3 brother; Phil'ip, and Bar-thol'o-mew; Thom'as, and Mat'thew the publican; James the son of Al-phæ'us,
4 and Thad-dæ'us; Si'mon the [5]Ca-nan-æ'an, and Ju'das
5 Is-car'i-ot, who also [6]betrayed him. These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,
Go not into any way of the Gen'tiles, and enter 6 not into any city of the Sa-mar'i-tans: but go rather 7 to the lost sheep of the house of Is'ra-el. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at 8 hand. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out [4]devils: freely ye received, freely
9 give. Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in 10 your [7]purses; no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff: for the labourer is worthy 11 of his food. And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and 12 there abide till ye go forth. And as ye enter 13 into the house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be 14 not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, 15 shake off the dust of your feet. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sod'om and Go-mor'rah in the day of judgement, than for that city.
16 Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and 17 [8]harmless as doves. But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their syna-
18 gogues they will scourge you; yea and before governors and kings shall ye be brought for my sake, 19 for a testimony to them and to the Gen'tiles. But when they deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that 20 hour what ye shall speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in 21 you. And brother shall deliver up brother to death,

CHAPTER XI.

Christ's testimony of John.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.
2 [a]Now when John had heard [b]in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,
3 And said unto him, Art thou [c]he that should come, or do we look for another?
4 Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see:
5 [d]The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and [e]the poor have the gospel preached to them.
6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not [f]be offended in me.

24 A disciple is not above his [2]master, nor a [3]servant
25 above his lord. It is enough for the disciple that he be as his [2]master, and the [3]servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house [4]Be-el'ze-bub, how much more shall they call them of his 18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, [q]a friend of publicans and sinners. [r]But wisdom is justified of her children.
20 ¶[s]Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not.
21 Woe unto thee, Cho-ra'zin! woe unto thee Beth-sa'i-da! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Si'don, they would have repented long ago [t]in sackcloth and ashes.
22 But I say unto you, [u]It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Si'don at the day of judgment, than for you.
23 And thou, Ca-per'na-um, [x]which art exalted unto heaven, shall be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sod'om, it would have remained until this day.
24 But I say unto you, [y]That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sod'om in the day of judgment, than for thee.
25 ¶[z]At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because [a]thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, [b]and hast revealed them unto babes.
26 Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.
27 [c]All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; [d]neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.
28 ¶Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
29 Take my yoke upon you, [e]and learn of me; for I am meek and [f]lowly in heart: [g]and ye shall find rest unto your souls.
30 [h]For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER XII.

The nature of the sabbath.

AT that time [a]Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were a hungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.
2 But when the Phar'i-sees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day.
3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read [b]what Da'vid did when he was a hungered, and they that were with him;

9 soft raiment are in king's houses. [1]But wherefore went ye out? to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto 10 you, and much more than a prophet. This is he, of whom is written,

Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is [2]but little in the kingdom
12 of heaven is greater than he. And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by 13 force. For all the prophets and the law prophesied
14 until John. And if ye are willing to receive [3]it, this 15 is E-li'jah which is to come. He that hath ears [4]to 21 repented not. Woe unto thee, Cho-ra'zin! woe unto thee, Beth-sa'i-da! for if the [9]mighty works had been done in Tyre and Si'don which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth

22 and ashes. Howbeit I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Si'don in the day of judge-
23 ment, than for you. And thou, Ca-per'na-um, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt [10]go down unto Ha'des: for if the [9]mighty works had been done in Sod'om which were done in thee, it would have 24 remained until this day. Howbeit I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sod'om in the day of judgement, than for thee.
25 At that season Jesus answered and said, I [11]thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and under-26 standing, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father, [12]for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight.
27 All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth the Son, save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he to 28 whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and 29 I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and 30 ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

12 At that season Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn fields; and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck ears of corn, and to shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, [d]but only for the priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the [e]law how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, That in this place is [f]one greater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, [g]I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

9 [h]And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:

10 ¶And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, [i]Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and [k]if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 ¶Then [l]the Phar'i-sees went out, and || held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knew it, [m]he withdrew himself from thence: [n]and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

16 And [o]charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by E-sa'ias the prophet, saying,

18 [p]Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, [q]in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 ¶[r]Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the Son of Da'vid?

24 [s]But when the Phar'i-sees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by †Be-el'ze-bub the prince of the devils.

25 And Jesus [t]knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Sa'tan cast out Sa'tan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Be-el'ze-bub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then [u]the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 [x]Or else, how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

31 ¶Wherefore I say unto you, [y]All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: [z]but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever [a]speaketh a word against the Son of man, [b]it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and [c]his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and [g]adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jo'nas.

40 [h]For as Jo'nas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 [i]The men of Nin'e-veh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and [k]shall condemn it: [l]because they repented at the preaching of Jo'nas; and, behold, a greater than Jo'nas is here.

CHAPTER XIII.

Of the sower and the seed.

[t]THE same day went Jesus out of the house, [t]and sat by the sea side.

2 [b]And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that [c]he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, [d]Behold, a sower went forth to sow;

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some [e]a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

9 [f]Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because [g]it is given

34 Ye offspring of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of 35 the heart the mouth speaketh. The good man out of his good treasure bringeth forth good things: and the evil man out of his evil treasure bringeth

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jo'nah the

42 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Sol'o-mon; and behold, [3]a greater than 43 Sol'o-mon is here. But the unclean spirit, when [4]he is gone out of the man, passeth through waterless
44 places, seeking rest, and findeth it not. Then [4]he saith, I will return into my house whence I came out; and when [4]he is come, [4]he findeth it empty,

46 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without,
47 seeking to speak to him. [6]And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without,
48 seeking to speak to thee. But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who [q] ch. 11. 6 2 Tim. 1. 15.

22 [r]He also that received seed [s]among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but [u]gather the wheat into my barn.

[u] ch. 3. 12.

31 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, [w]The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

[w] Isa. 2. 2, 3. Mic. 4. 1. Mark. 4. 30. Luke 13. 18, 19.

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. Therefore speak I to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of I-sa'iah, which saith,

By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand:
And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:
For this people's heart is waxed gross,
And their ears are dull of hearing.
And their eyes they have closed;
Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And should turn again,
And I should heal them.

But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear. For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not. Hear then ye the parable of the sower. When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway with joy receiveth it; yet hath he not root in himself, but endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway he stumbleth. And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth the word; and the care of the [1]world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; who verily beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed [2]tares also among the wheat, and went away. But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. And the [3]servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares? And he said unto them, [4]An enemy hath done this. And the [3]servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he saith, Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

Another parable set he before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field: which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

and hid in three †measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34 [v]All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, [s]I will open my mouth in parables; [a]I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 [b]The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are [c]the children of the wicked one;

39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; [d]the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, [e]and they shall gather out of his kingdom all ‖things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

42 [f]And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: [g]there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 [h]Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. [i]Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and [k]selleth all that he hath, and [l]buyeth that field.

45 ¶Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchantman seeking goodly pearls:

46 Who, when he had found [m]one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net that was cast into the sea, and [n]gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and [o]sever the wicked from among the just.

50 [p]And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure [q]things new and old.

53 ¶And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 [r]And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 [s]Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Ma'ry? and [t]his brethren, [u]James, and Jo'ses, and Si'mon, and Ju'das?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they [x]were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, [y]A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58 And [z]he did not many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER XIV.

Herod's opinion of Christ.

AT that time [a]Her'od the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus, 2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works ‖do shew forth themselves in him.

and hid in three [1]measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

34 All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he nothing 35 unto them: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken
[2]by the prophet, saying,

I will open my mouth in parables;
I will utter things hidden from the foundation [3]of the world.

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Explain unto us the parable of the tares of the field.
37 And he answered and said, He that soweth the good
38 seed is the Son of man; and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the king-
39 dom; and the tares are the sons of the evil one; and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and the harvest is [4]the end of the world; and the reapers
40 are angels. As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in [4]the end of the 41 world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things 42 that cause stumbling, and them that do iniquity, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall 43 be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and [5]in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man
46 that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls: and having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a [6]net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every 48 kind: which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good
49 into vessels, but the bad they cast away. So shall it be in [4]the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the right-
50 eous, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 Have ye understood all these things? They say
52 unto him, Yea. And he said unto them, Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished
54 these parables, he departed thence. And coming into his own country he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these 55 [7]mighty works? Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Ma'ry? and his brethren, 56 James, and Jo'seph, and Si'mon, and Ju'das? And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then 57 hath this man all these things? And they were [8]offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own coun-
58 try, and his own house. And he did not many [7]mighty works there because of their unbelief.

14 At that season Her'od the tetrarch heard the re-
2 port concerning Jesus, and said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore do these powers work in him.

4 For John said unto him, [c] It is not lawful for thee to have her.
5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, [d] because they counted him as a prophet.
6 But when Her'od's birthday was kept, the daughter of He-ro'di-as danced † before them, and pleased Her'od.
7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.
8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger.
9 And the king was sorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them that sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.
10 And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.
13 ¶ [e] When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship, into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.
14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and [f] was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.
15 ¶ [g] And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.
16 But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart; give ye them to eat.
17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.
18 He said, Bring them hither to me.
19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, [h] he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.
21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.
22 ¶ And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.
23 [i] And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: [k] and when the evening was come, he was there alone.
24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.
25 And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.
26 And when the disciples saw him [l] walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.
27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.
28 And Pe'ter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.
29 And he said, Come. And when Pe'ter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.
30 But when he saw the wind ‖ boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.
31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?
32 And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.
33 Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth [m] thou art the Son of God.

3 For Her'od had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for the sake of He-ro'di-as, his
4 brother Phil'ip's wife. For John said unto him, It
5 is not lawful for thee to have her. And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multi-
6 tude, because they counted him as a prophet. But when Her'od's birthday came, the daughter of He-ro'di-as danced in the midst, and pleased Her'od.
7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her
8 whatsoever she should ask. And she, being put forward by her mother, saith, Give me here in a
9 charger the head of John the Baptist. And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat with him, he commanded 10 it to be given; and he sent, and beheaded John in 11 the prison. And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her 12 mother. And his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.
13 Now when Jesus heard it, he withdrew from thence in a boat to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him [1] on 14 foot from the cities. And he came forth, and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, 15 and healed their sick. And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past; send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and 16 buy themselves food. But Jesus said unto them, They have no need to go away; give ye them to 17 eat. And they say unto him, We have here but 18 five loaves, and two fishes. And he said, Bring 19 them hither to me. And he commanded the multitudes to [2] sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples [4] to the multitudes.
20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces,
21 twelve baskets full. And they that did eat were about five thousand men, besides women and children.
22 And straightway he constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he should send the multitudes away.
23 And after he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when even 24 was come, he was there alone. But the boat [3] was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves;
25 for the wind was contrary. And in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking upon the 26 sea. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is an appari-27 tion; and they cried out for fear. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it

34 ¶ [m]And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Gen-nes'a-ret.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased;

36 And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and [n]as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

CHAPTER XV.

God's commandments.

THEN [o]came to Jesus scribes and Phar'i-sees, which were of Je-ru'sa-lem, saying,

2 [p]Why do thy disciples trangress [q]the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, [r]Honour thy father and mother: and, [s]He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, [t]It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 [u]Ye hypocrites, well did E-sa'ias prophesy of you, saying,

8 [v]This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain do they worship me, [w]teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ [x]And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 [y]Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Phar'i-sees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, [z]Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: [a]they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 [b]Then answered Pe'ter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jesus said, [c]Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that [d]whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But [e]those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 [f]For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ [g]Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Si'don.

22 And, behold, a woman of Ca'naan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Da'vid; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, [h]I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Is'ra-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it to [i]dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

34 And when they had crossed over, they came to the 35 land, unto Gen-nes'a-ret. And when the men of that place knew him, they sent into all that region round about, and brought unto him all that were sick;
36 and they besought him that they might only touch the border of his garment: and as many as touched were made whole.

15 Then there come to Jesus from Je-ru'sa-lem Phar'i-
2 sees and scribes, saying, Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they
3 wash not their hands when they eat bread. And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of 4 your tradition? For God said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, He that speaketh evil of 5 father or mother, let him [1]die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been 6 profited by me is given to God; he shall not honour his father[2]. And ye have made void the 7 [3]word of God because of your tradition. Ye hypocrites, well did I-sa'iah prophesy of you, saying,
8 This people honoureth me with their lips;
But their heart is far from me.
9 But in vain do they worship me,
Teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men.
10 And he called to him the multitude, and said unto 11 them, Hear, and understand: Not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man; but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man.
12 Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Phar'i-sees were [4]offended, when 13 they heard this saying? But he answered and said, Every [5]plant which my heavenly Father 14 planted not, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: they are blind guides. And if the blind guide the 15 blind, both shall fall into a pit. And Pe'ter answered and said unto him, Declare unto us the 16 parable. And he said, Are ye also even yet with-17 out understanding? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever goeth into the mouth passeth into the belly, 18 and is cast out into the draught? But the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of 19 the heart; and they defile the man. For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, 20 fornications, thefts, false witness, railings: these are the things which defile the man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.
21 And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into 22 the parts of Tyre and Si'don. And, behold, a Canaan-i'tish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Da'vid; my daughter is grievously vexed with a
23 [6]devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her 24 away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the 25 house of Is'ra-el. But she came and worshipped 26 him, saying, Lord, help me. And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's 27 [7]bread and cast it to the dogs. But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of the crumbs
28 which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was healed from that hour.

29 And Jesus departed from hence, and came nigh [v]unto the sea of Gal'i-lee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 [c]And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them:

31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Is'ra-el.

32 ¶[b]Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 [c]And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?

34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And [d]he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and [e]gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, besides women and children.

39 [f]And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Mag'da-la.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Pharisees require a sign.

[e]THE Phar'i-sees also with the Sad'du-cees came, and tempting desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?

4 [b]A wicked and adulterous nation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jo'nas. And he left them, and departed.

5 And [e]when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 ¶Then Jesus said unto them, [d]Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Phar'i-sees and of the Sad'du-cees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

8 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

9 [e]Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10 [f]Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Phar'i-sees and of the Sad'du-cees?

12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Phar'i-sees and of the Sad'du-cees.

13 ¶When Jesus came unto the coasts of Ces-a-re'a Phi-lip'pi, he asked his disciples, saying, [g]Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am?

14 And they said, [h]Some say that thou art John the Baptist; some, E-li'as; and others, Jer-e-mi'as, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Si'mon Pe'ter answered and said, [i]Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

29 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Gal'i-lee; and he went up into the mount-
30 ain, and sat there. And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them:
31 insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and they glorified the God of Is'ra-el.
32 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest 33 haply they faint in the way. And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude?
34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few small 35 fishes. And he commanded the multitude to sit 36 down on the ground; and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multi-37 tudes. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the 38 broken pieces, seven baskets full. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and 39 children. And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of Mag'a-dan.

16 And the Phar'i-sees and Sad'du-cees came, and tempting him asked him to shew them a sign from heaven.
2 But he answered and said unto them, [1]When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the
3 heaven is red. And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the heaven is red and lowring. Ye know how to discern the face of the heaven; but 4 ye cannot discern the signs of the times. An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of Jo'nah. And he left them, and departed.
5 And the disciples came to the other side and for-
6 got to take [2]bread. And Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Phar'i-sees and 7 Sad'du-cees. And they reasoned among themselves,
8 saying, [3]We took no [2]bread. And Jesus perceiving it said, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among 9 yourselves, because ye have no [2]bread? Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many [4]baskets ye took 10 up? Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand,
11 and how many [4]baskets ye took up? How is it that ye do not perceive that I spake not to you concerning [2]bread? But beware of the leaven of the 12 Phar'i-sees and Sad'du-cees. Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of [2]bread, but of the teaching of the Phar'i-sees and Sad'du-cees.
13 Now when Jesus came into the parts of Cæs-a-re'a Phi-lip'pi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men
14 say [5]that the Son of man is? And they said, Some say John the Baptist; some, E-li'jah: and others, Jer-e-mi'ah, 15 or one of the prophets. He saith unto them, But who 16 say ye that I am? And Si'mon Pe'ter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Si'mon Bar-jo'na: [k]for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but [l]my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, That [m]thou art Pe'ter, and [n]upon this rock I will build my church: and [o]the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 [p]And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20 [q]Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 ¶From that time forth began Jesus [r]to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and suffer many thing of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Pe'ter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, †Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Pe'ter, Get thee behind me, [s]Sa'tan; [t]thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶[u]Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For [x]whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or [y]what shall a man give in exchange for his soul.

27 For [z]the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father [a]with his angels; [b]and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

28 Verily, I say unto you, [c]There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAPTER XVII.

The transfiguration of Christ—He healeth the lunatic.

AND [d]after six days Jesus taketh Pe'ter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart,

2 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them Mo'ses and E-li'as talking with him.

4 Then answered Pe'ter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'as.

5 [h]While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, [i]This is my beloved Son, [j]in whom I am well pleased; [k]hear ye him.

6 [l]And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and [m]touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, [n]Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, [o]Why then say the scribes that E-li'as must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, E-li'as truly shall first come, and [p]restore all things:

12 [q]But I say unto you, that E-li'as is come already, and they knew him not, but [r]have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise [s]shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 [t]Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 ¶[u]And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man kneeling down to him, and saying,

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Si'mon Bar-Jo'nah: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in 18 heaven. And I also say unto thee, that thou art [1]Pe'ter, and upon this [2]rock I will build my church; and the gates of Ha'des shall not prevail against it.
19 I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt
20 loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.
21 From that time began [3]Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be 22 raised up. And Pe'ter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, [4]Be it far from thee, Lord: this
23 shall never be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Pe'ter, Get thee behind me, Sa'tan: thou art a stumbling-block unto me: for thou mindest
24 not the things of God, but the things of men. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross,
25 and follow me. For whosoever would save his [5]life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his [5]life for 26 my sake shall find it. For what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his [5]life? or what shall a man give in exchange for 27 his [5]life? For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then shall he render unto every man according to his [6]deeds.
28 Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

A. D. 32.

15 Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is lunatic, and sore vexed: for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.
16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.
17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.
18 And Jesus rebuked the devil: and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.
19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?
20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, [c]If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible unto you.
21 Howbeit, this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.
22 ¶ [r]And while they abode in Gal'i-lee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:
23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.
24 ¶ And [s]when they were come to Ca-per'na-um, they that received ‖tribute money came to Pe'ter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?
25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Si'mon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children or of strangers?
26 Pe'ter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.
27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find ‖a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Christ teacheth to be humble—Touching offences, and forgiving one another.

18 At [a]the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?
2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,
3 And said, Verily I say unto you, [b]Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.
4 [c]Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.
5 And whoso [d]shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.
6 [b]But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.
7 ¶ Woe unto the world because of offences! for [f]it must needs be that offences come; but [g]woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!
8 [h]Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire.
9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.
10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven [i]their angels do always [k]behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.
11 [l]For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.
12 [m]How think ye? if a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and

15 Lord have mercy on my son; for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously; for oft-times he falleth into

17 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me.
18 And Jesus rebuked him; and the [1]devil went out from him: and the boy was cured from that hour.
19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said,
20 Why could not we cast it out? And he saith unto them, Because of your little faith: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.[2]

24 And when they were come to Ca-per'na-um, they that received the [4]half-shekel came to Pe'ter, and said, 25 Doth not your [5]master pay the [4]half-shekel? He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, What thinkest thou, Si'mon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive toll or tribute? from their sons, or from 26 strangers? And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free.
27 But, lest we cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a [6]shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

18 In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is [7]greatest in the kingdom of heaven?
2 And he called to him a little child, and set him in 3 the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye turn, and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.
4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the [7]greatest in the kingdom
5 of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little 6 child in my name, receiveth me: but whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that [8]a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he
7 should be sunk in the depth of the sea. Woe unto the world because of occasions of stumbling! for it must needs be that the occasions come; but woe to 8 that man through whom the occasion cometh! And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the eternal fire.
9 And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes
10 to be cast into the [9]hell of fire. See that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

14 Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 ¶Moreover [n]if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, [o]thou hast gained thy brother.

16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in [p]the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a [q]heathen man and a publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, [r]Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19 [s]Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, [t]it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 ¶Then came Pe'ter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? [u]till seven times?

22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: [v]but, Until seventy times seven.

23 ¶Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand ‖talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him [w]to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and ‖worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow servants, which owed him a hundred ‖pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 [x]So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

CHAPTER XIX.

Christ answereth touching divorcement—How to attain everlasting life.

A. D. 33.

AND it came to pass, [a]that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Gal'i-lee, and came into the coasts of Ju-de'a, beyond Jor'dan;

2 [b]And great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that 13 which goeth astray? And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone 14 astray. Even so it is not [1]the will of [2]your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 And if thy brother sin [3]against thee, go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear 16 thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that at the mouth of two witnesses or three every word may be 17 established. And if he refuse to hear them, tell it unto the [4]church: and if he refuse to hear the [4]church also, let him be unto thee as the Gentile and the 18 publican. Verily I say unto you, What things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven:
and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall be 19 loosed in heaven. Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my 20 Father which is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Pe'ter, and said to him, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him?
22 until seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until [5]seventy 23 times seven. Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would make a 24 reckoning with his [6]servants. And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which 25 owed him ten thousand [7]talents. But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all 26 that he had, and payment to be made. The [8]servant therefore fell down and worshipped him, saying, Lord, 27 have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And the lord of that [8]servant, being moved with compas-28 sion, released him, and forgave him the [9]debt. But that [8]servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred [10]pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, 29 Pay what thou owest. So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, 30 and I will pay thee. And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which 31 was due. So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told 32 unto their lord all that was done. Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked
[8]servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou 33 besoughtest me: shouldest not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on 34 thee? And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was 35 due. So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother from your hearts.

19 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Gal'i-lee, and came 2 into the borders of Ju-dæ'a beyond Jor'dan; and great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 And there came unto him [11]Phar'i-sees, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, [c]that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female,

5 And said, [d]For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and [e]they twain shall be one flesh?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say unto him, [f]Why did Mo'ses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, Mo'ses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 [g]And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

10 ¶His disciples say unto him, [h]If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, [i]All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and [k]there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶[l]Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me; for [m]of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶[n]And, behold, one came and said unto him, [o]Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, [p]Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 [q]Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [r]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, [s]go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That [t]a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but [u]with God all things are possible.

27 ¶[w]Then answered Pe'ter and said unto him, Behold, [v]we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?

4 wife for every cause? And he answered and said,
Have ye not read, that he which [1]made them from 5 the beginning made them male and female, and said,
For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the twain 6 shall become one flesh? So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined 7 together, let not man put asunder. They say unto him, Why then did Mo'ses command to give a bill 8 of divorcement, and to put her away? He saith unto them, Mo'ses for your hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning 9 it hath not been so. And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, [2]except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: [3]and he that marrieth her when she is put away com-10 mitteth adultery. The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, it is not expedient 11 to marry. But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, but they to whom it is given.
12 For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him

13 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray:
14 and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of 15 heaven. And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 And behold, one came to him and said, [4] [5]Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal 17 life? And he said unto him, [6]Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldest enter into life, keep 18 the commandments. He saith unto him, Which?
And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt 19 not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as 20 thyself. The young man saith unto him, All these 21 things have I observed: what lack I yet? Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt 22 have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, It is hard for a rich man to enter into the 24 kingdom of heaven. And again I say unto you,
It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of 25 God. And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who then can be 26 saved? And Jesus looking upon them said to them,
With men this is impossible; but with God all 27 things are possible. Then answered Pe'ter and said unto him, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee;
28 what then shall we have? And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Is'ra-el.

CHAPTER XX.

Of the labourers in the vineyard.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a || penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace,

4 And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more: and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house,

12 Saying, These last ||have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.

15 [c]Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? [b]Is thine eye evil, because I am good?

16 [c]So the last shall be first, and the first last: [d]for many be called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ [e]And Jesus going up to Je-ru'sa-lem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 [f]Behold, we go up to Je-ru'sa-lem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 [g]And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

20 ¶ [h]Then came to him the mother of [i]Zeb'e-dee's children, with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons [k]may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.

22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of [l]the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with [m]the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, [n]Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to [o]give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 [p]And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

29 And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, [1]or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive [2]a hun-
30 dredfold, and shall inherit eternal life. But many shall be last that are first; and first that are last.

20 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the 2 morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a [3]penny
3 a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others stand-
4 ing in the marketplace idle; and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.
5 Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth
6 hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day
7 idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the 8 vineyard. And when even was come, the lord of the vineyard said unto his steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last 9 unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every 10 man a [3]penny. And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they like-
11 wise received every man a [3]penny. And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, 12 saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and the [4]scorching heat.
13 But he answered and said to one of them, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me
14 for a [3]penny? Take up that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even 15 as unto thee. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or is thine eye evil, because I 16 am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 And as Jesus was going up to Je-ru'sa-lem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said
18 unto them, Behold, we go up to Je-ru'sa-lem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, 19 and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify: and the third day he shall be raised up.

20 Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zeb'e-dee with her sons, worshipping him, and asking 21 a certain thing of him. And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy king-
22 dom. But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We 23 are able. He saith unto them, My cup indeed ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared of my Fa-
24 ther. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren.

CHAPTER XXI.

Christ's entry into Jerusalem.

AND [c]when they drew nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and were come to Beth'pha-ge, unto [b]the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 [e]Tell ye the daughter of Si'on, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 [d]And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and [e]put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; [f]others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, [g]Hosanna to the Son of Da'vid: [h]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.

10 [i]And when he was come into Je-ru'salem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus [k]the prophet of Naz'a-reth of Gal'i-lee.

12 ¶[l]And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the [m]money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said unto them, It is written, [n]My house shall be called the house of prayer; [o]but ye have made it a den of thieves.

25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and 26 their great ones exercise authority over them. Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would be-
27 come great among you shall be your [1]minister; and whosoever would be first among you shall be your 28 [2]servant: even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 And as they went out from Jer'i-cho, a great mul-
30 titude followed him. And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy
31 on us, thou son of Da'vid. And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy 32 on us, thou son of Da'vid. And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that 33 I should do unto you? They say unto him, 34 Lord, that our eyes may be opened. And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

[1] Or, servant
[2] Gr. bond-servant.

21 And when they drew nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and came unto Beth'pha-ge, unto the mount of Olives,
2 then Jesus sent two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her:
3 loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send 4 them. Now this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [3]by the prophet, saying,

[3] Or, through

5 Tell ye the daughter of Zi'on,
Behold, thy King cometh unto thee,
Meek, and riding upon an ass,
And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus ap-
7 pointed them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon.
8 And the most part of the multitude spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from 9 the trees, and spread them in the way. And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the son of Da'vid: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna
10 in the highest. And when he was come into Je-ru'-sa-lem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this?
11 And the multitudes said, This is the prophet, Jesus, from Naz'a-reth of Gal'i-lee.

12 And Jesus entered into the temple [4]of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers,
13 and the seats of them that sold the doves; and he saith unto them, It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer: but ye make it a den of 14 robbers. And the blind and the lame came to him
15 in the temple: and he healed them. But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, Hosanna to the son of Da'vid;
16 they were moved with indignation, and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: did ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast per-17 fected praise? And he left them, and went forth out of the city to Beth'a-ny, and lodged there.

20 [t]And when the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!
21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [u]If ye have faith, and [x]doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, [y]but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

35 [l]And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.
36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, [m]This is the heir; [n]come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.
39 [o]And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

The marriage of the king's son.

AND Jesus answered [a]and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

[a]Luke 14. 16. Rev. 19. 7, 9.

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: [b]my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

CHAPTER XXIII.

The destruction of Jerusalem foretold.

THEN spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples:
2 Saying, [a]The scribes and the Phar'i-sees sit in Mo'ses' seat.
3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for [b]they say, and do not.
4 [c]For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.
5 But [d]all their works they do for to be seen of men: [e]they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,
6 [f]And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,
7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.
8 [g]But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.
9 And call no man your father upon the earth: [h]for one is your Father, which is in heaven.
10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.
11 But [i]he that is greatest among you shall be your servant.
12 [k]And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

23 Then spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his
2 disciples, saying, The scribes and the Phar'i-sees sit
3 on Mo'ses' seat: all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: but do not ye
4 after their works; for they say, and do not. Yea, they bind heavy burdens [6]and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they them-
5 selves will not move them with their finger. But all their works they do for to be seen of men: for they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the 6 borders of their garments, and love the chief place at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues, 7 and the salutations in the market-places, and to be 8 called of men, Rabbi. But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your teacher, and all ye are brethren.
9 And call no man your father on the earth: for one 10 is your Father, [7]which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, even the 11 Christ. But he that is [8]greatest among you shall be 12 your [9]servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and whosoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 ¶But woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor!

17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is ‖ guilty.

19 Ye fools, and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and †anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

24 Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess.

26 Thou blind Phar'i-see, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous,

30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

31 Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets.

32 Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.

33 Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

34 ¶Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous A'bel, unto the blood of Zach-a-ri'as, son of Bar-a-chi'as, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 O Je-ru'sa-lem, Je-ru'sa-lem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!

38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

13 But woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! because ye shut the kingdom of heaven [1]against men: for ye enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter.[2]

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is become so, ye make him twofold more a son of [3]hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the [4]temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the 17 [4]temple, he is [5]a debtor. Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the [4]temple that 18 hath sanctified the gold? And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is [5]a debtor.
19 Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar
20 that sanctifieth the gift? He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things there-
21 on. And he that sweareth by the [4]temple, sweareth
22 by it, and by him that dwelleth therein. And he that sweareth by the heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye tithe mint and [6]anise and cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, judgement, and mercy, and faith: but these ye ought to have done, and not to leave the other undone.
24 Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow the camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from extortion and ex-
26 cess. Thou blind Phar'i-see, cleanse first the inside of the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead
28 men's bones, and of all uncleanness. Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and 30 garnish the tombs of the righteous, and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not 31 have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that 32 ye are sons of them that slew the prophets. Fill ye
33 up then the measure of your fathers. Ye serpents, ye offspring of vipers, how shall ye escape the judge-
34 ment of [3]hell? Therefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: some of them shall ye kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city
35 to city: that upon you may come all the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of A'bel the righteous unto the blood of Zach-a-ri'ah son of Bar-a-chi'ah, whom ye slew between the sanctuary and the 36 altar. Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 O Je-ru'sa-lem, Je-ru'sa-lem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her 38 wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is 39 left unto you [7]desolate. For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple.

AND [a]Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, [b]There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ¶And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, [c]the disciples came unto him privately, saying, [d]Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, [e]Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For [f]many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; [g]and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For [h]nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 [i]Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many [k]be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And [l]many false prophets shall rise, and [m]shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 [n]But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this [o]gospel of the kingdom [p]shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

15 [q]When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by [r]Dan'iel the prophet, stand in the holy place, ([s]whoso readeth, let him understand,)

16 Then let them which be in Ju-de'a flee into the mountains:

17 Let him which is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.

19 And [t]woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

21 For [u]then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: [v]but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 [w]Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

24 For [x]there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, [y]if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

27 [z]For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 [a]For wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶[b]Immediately after the tribulation of those days [c]shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

24 And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to
2 shew him the buildings of the temple. But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of 4 thy [1]coming, and of [2]the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that
5 no man lead you astray. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am the Christ; and shall lead
6 many astray. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for these things must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet.
7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines and 8 earthquakes in divers places. But all these things
9 are the beginning of travail. Then shall they deliver you up unto tribulation, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake.
10 And then shall many stumble, and shall deliver up
11 one another, and shall hate one another. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall lead many astray.
12 And because iniquity shall be multiplied, the love
13 of the many shall wax cold. But he that endureth
14 to the end, the same shall be saved. And [3]this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole [4]world for a testimony unto all the nations; and then shall the end come.
15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of [5]by Dan'iel the prophet, standing in [6]the holy place (let him that readeth
16 understand), then let them that are in Ju-de'a flee 17 unto the mountains: let him that is on the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in 18 his house: and let him that is in the field not re-19 turn back to take his cloke. But woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in 20 those days! And pray ye that your flight be not 21 in the winter, neither on a sabbath: for then shall be great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall 22 be. And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for the elect's
23 sake those days shall be shortened. Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or,
24 Here; believe [7]it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; so as to lead astray, if possible,
25 even the elect. Behold, I have told you before-
26 hand. If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is 27 in the inner chambers; believe [8]it not. For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the [1]coming of the 28 Son of man. Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the [9]eagles be gathered together.
29 But immediately, after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

30 [f]And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: [g]and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, [h]and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 [i]And he shall send his angels || with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now learn [k]a parable of the fig tree; When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know [l]that || it is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, [m]This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 [n]Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ [o]But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, [p]but my Father only.

37 But as the days of No'e were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 [q]For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that No'e entered into the ark,

39 And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 [r]Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ [s]Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 [t]But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 [u]Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

45 [x]Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

46 [y]Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, that [z]he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming;

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken;

50 The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

51 And shall || cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: [a]there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER XXV.

Parables of the ten virgins, etc.

THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet [a]the bridegroom.

2 [b]And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, [c]they all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight [d]there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and [e]trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are || gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

A. D. 33.

30 and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 And he shall send forth his angels [1]with [2]a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth

33 its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye

34 that [3]he is nigh, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till

35 all these things be accomplished. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not

36 pass away. But of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, [4]neither

37 the Son, but the Father only. And as were the days of No'ah, so shall be the [5]coming of the Son

38 of man. For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that No'ah

39 entered into the ark, and they knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall be the 40 [5]coming of the Son of man. Then shall two men

41 be in the field; one is taken, and one is left: two women shall be grinding at the mill; one is taken,

42 and one is left. Watch therefore: for ye know not

43 on what day your Lord cometh. [6]But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be [7]broken

44 through. Therefore be ye also ready: for in an hour that ye think not the Son of man cometh.

45 Who then is the faithful and wise [8]servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them

46 their food in due season? Blessed is that [8]servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, that he will set him over all

48 that he hath. But if that evil [8]servant shall say in

49 his heart, My lord tarrieth; and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants, and shall eat and drink with the

50 drunken; the lord of that [8]servant shall come in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when 51 he knoweth not, and shall [9]cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

25 Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their [10]lamps, and went forth

2 to meet the bridegroom. And five of them were

3 foolish, and five were wise. For the foolish, when they took their [10]lamps, took no oil with them:

4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their

5 [10]lamps. Now while the bridegroom tarried, they

6 all slumbered and slept. But at midnight there is a cry, Behold, the bridegroom! Come ye forth

7 to meet him. Then all those virgins arose, and

8 trimmed their [10]lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our [10]lamps are go-

9 ing out. But the wise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

A. D. 33.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and [f]the door was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, [g]Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, [h]I know you not.

13 [i]Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 ¶ [k]For the kingdom of heaven is [l]as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 And unto one he gave five ‖ talents, to another two, and to another one; [m]to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

16 Then he that had received the five talents, went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained besides them five talents more.

21 His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, [n]I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into [o]the joy of thy lord.

22 He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said unto him, [p]Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strewed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strewed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 [q]For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant [r]into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ [s]When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And [t]before him shall be gathered all nations: and [u]he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, [x]inherit the kingdom [y]prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 [z]For I was a hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: [a]I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 [b]Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: [c]I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

10 And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him
11 to the marriage feast: and the door was shut. Afterward come also the other virgins, saying, Lord, 12 Lord, open to us. But he answered and said, Verily
13 I say unto you, I know you not. Watch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour.

14 For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own [1]servants, and delivered unto 15 them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his several ability; and he went on his journey.
16 Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents.
17 In like manner he also that received the two gained 18 other two. But he that received the one went away and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.
19 Now after a long time the lord of those [1]servants
20 cometh, and maketh a reckoning with them. And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five
21 talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful [2]servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter
22 thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained
23 other two talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful [2]servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many 24 things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou didst not sow, and gathering
25 where thou didst not scatter: and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, thou
26 hast thine own. But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful [2]servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather 27 where I did not scatter; thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with 28 interest. Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents.
29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away.
30 And cast ye out the unprofitable [2]servant into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit on the 32 throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all the nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep
33 from the [3]goats: and he shall set the sheep on his
34 right hand, but the [3]goats on the left. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared 35 for you from the foundation of the world: for I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took 36 me in; naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

CHAPTER XXVI.

The rulers conspire against Christ—Judas selleth him—The passover.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 [a]Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 [b]Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Ca'ia-phas,

4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 ¶ [c]Now when Jesus was in [d]Beth'a-ny, in the house of Si'mon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head as he sat at meat.

8 [e]But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 [f]For ye have the poor always with you; but [g]me ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ [h]Then one of the twelve, called [i]Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, went unto the chief priests, 15 And said unto them, [k]What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ [l]Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

41 brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, [1]Depart from me, ye cursed, into the eternal fire which is prepared for the devil and his angels:
42 for I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat:

[1] Or, Depart from me under a curse

26 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all
2 these words, he said unto his disciples, Ye know that after two days the passover cometh, and the 3 Son of man is delivered up to be crucified. Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto the court of the high
4 priest, who was called Ca'ia-phas; and they took 5 counsel together that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. But they said, Not during the feast, lest a tumult arise among the people.
6 Now when Jesus was in Beth'a-ny, in the house of 7 Si'mon the leper, there came unto him a woman having [2]an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he 8 sat at meat. But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this 9 waste? For this ointment might have been sold for 14 Then one of the twelve, who was called Ju'das

15 Is-car'i-ot, went unto the chief priests, and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they weighed unto him thirty 16 pieces of silver. And from that time he sought opportunity to deliver him unto them.
17 Now on the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus saying, Where wilt thou that 18 we make ready for thee to eat the passover? And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The [5]Master saith, My time is at hand; I keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

20 [m]Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, [n]He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth [o]as it is written of him: but [p]woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 Then Ju'das, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 ¶ [q]And as they were eating, [r]Jesus took bread, and ‖ blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; [s]this is my body.

27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, [t]Drink ye all of it;

28 For [u]this is my blood [v]of the new testament, which is shed [w]for many for the remission of sins.

29 But [x]I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, [y]until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 [z]And when they had sung a ‖ hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

31 Then saith Jesus unto them, [a]All ye shall [b]be offended because of me this night: for it is written, [c]I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen again, [d]I will go before you into Gal'i-lee.

33 Pe'ter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 Jesus said unto him, [e]Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Pe'ter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ [f]Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Geth-sem'a-ne, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 And he took with him Pe'ter and [g]the two sons of Zeb'e-dee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

38 Then saith he unto them, [h]My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.

39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and [i]prayed, saying, [j]O my Father, if it be possible, [k]let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, [l]not as I will, but as thou will.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Pe'ter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 [p]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 ¶ And [q]while he yet spake, lo, Ju'das, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; hold him fast.

A. D. 33.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them; and 20 they made ready the passover. Now when even was come, he was sitting at meat with the twelve 21 [1]disciples; and as they were eating, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.
22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to 23 say unto him every one, Is it I, Lord? And he answered and said, He that dipped his hand with me
24 in the dish, the same shall betray me. The Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it [2]for that man if he had not 25 been born. And Ju'das, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, Rabbi? He saith unto him, 26 Thou hast said. And as they were eating, Jesus took [3]bread, and blessed, and brake it; and he gave to the 27 disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took [4]a cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them,
28 saying, Drink ye all of it; for this is my blood of [5]the [6]covenant, which is shed for many unto remis-
29 sion of sins. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.
30 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.
31 Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be [7]offended in me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be 32 scattered abroad. But after I am raised up, I will 33 go before you into Gal'i-lee. But Pe'ter answered and said unto him, If all shall be [7]offended in thee, I will 34 never be [7]offended. Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, 35 thou shalt deny me thrice. Pe'ter saith unto him, Even if I must die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
36 Then cometh Jesus with them unto [8]a place called Geth-sem'a-ne, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, 37 while I go yonder and pray. And he took with him Pe'ter and the two sons of Zeb'e-dee, and began to be 38 sorrowful and sore troubled. Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto 39 death: abide ye here, and watch with me. And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass away from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but 40 as thou wilt. And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Pe'ter, What,
41 could ye not watch with me one hour? [9]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the 42 spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink
43 it, thy will be done. And he came again and found
44 them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. And he left them again, and went away, and prayed a third 45 time, saying again the same words. Then cometh he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed unto the hands of 46 sinners. Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.
47 And while he yet spake, lo, Ju'das, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the 48 people. Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him.

49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master; [r]and kissed him.
50 And Jesus said unto him, [s]Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.
51 And, behold, [t]one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest, and smote off his ear.
52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: [u]for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.
53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me [x]more than twelve legions of angels?
54 But how then shall the Scriptures be fulfilled, [y]that thus it must be?
55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.
56 But all this was done, that the [z]Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then [a]all the disciples forsook him, and fled.
57 ¶ [b]And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Ca'ia-phas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.
58 But Pe'ter followed him afar off unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end.
59 Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death;
60 But found none: yea, though [c]many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came [d]two false witnesses,
61 And said, This fellow said, [e]I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.
62 [f]And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?
63 But [g]Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, [h]I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.
64 Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, [i]Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man [k]sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.
65 [l]Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.
66 What think ye? They answered and said, [m]He is guilty of death.
67 [n]Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and [o]others smote him with ‖ the palms of their hands,
68 Saying, [p]Prophesy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee?
69 ¶ [q]Now Pe'ter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Gal'i-lee.
70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.
71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Naz'a-reth.
72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.
73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Pe'ter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy [r]speech bewrayeth thee.
74 Then [s]began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.
75 And Pe'ter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, [t]Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Christ delivered to Pilate—Judas hangeth himself—Christ is crucified.

WHEN the morning was come, [a]all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death:

2 And when they had bound him they led him away, and [b]delivered him to Pon'ti-us Pi'late the governor.

3 ¶ [c]Then Ju'das, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, [d]and departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, [e]The field of blood, unto this day.

9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jer'e-my the prophet, saying, [f]And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, || whom they of the children of Is'ra-el did value;

10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 And Jesus stood before the governor: [g]and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, [h]Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, [i]he answered nothing.

13 Then saith Pi'late unto him, [k]Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 [l]Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Ba-rab'bas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pi'late said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Ba-rab'bas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

19 ¶ When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

20 [m]But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Ba-rab'bas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Ba-rab'bas.

22 Pi'late saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pi'late saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he [n]took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people and said, [o]His blood be on us, and on our children.

26 ¶ Then released he Ba-rab'bas unto them: and when [p]he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 [q]Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the ||common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and [r]put on him a scarlet robe.

29 ¶ [s]And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and

27 Now when morning was come all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against
2 Jesus to put him to death: and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pi'late the governor.

3 Then Ju'das, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests
4 and elders, saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed [1]innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us?
5 see thou to it. And he cast down the pieces of silver into the sanctuary, and departed; and he went away
6 and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into the [2]treasury, since it is the price of blood.
7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the 8 potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.
9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [3]by Jer-e-mi'ah the prophet, saying, And [4]they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, [5]whom certain of the children of Is'ra-el did price:
10 and [6]they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.
12 And when he was accused by the chief priests and 13 elders, he answered nothing. Then saith Pi'late unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they 14 witness against thee? And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: insomuch that the governor
15 marvelled greatly. Now at [7]the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, 16 whom they would. And they had then a notable
17 prisoner, called Ba-rab'bas. When therefore they were gathered together, Pi'late said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Ba-rab'bas, or Jesus
18 which is called Christ? For he knew that for envy
19 they had delivered him up. And while he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day in a 20 dream because of him. Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should 21 ask for Ba-rab'bas, and destroy Jesus. But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they 22 said, Ba-rab'bas. Pi'late saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? They 23 all say, Let him be crucified. And he said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out ex-
24 ceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. So when Pi'late saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent [8]of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it.
25 And all the people answered and said, His blood be 26 on us, and on our children. Then released he unto them Ba-rab'bas: but Jesus he scourged and delivered to be crucified.

they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

30 And [t]they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, [u]and led him away to crucify him.

32 [x]And as they came out, [y]they found a man of Cy-re'ne, Si'mon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 ¶ [z]And when they were come unto a place called Gol'go-tha, that is to say, A place of a skull, 34 [a]They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 [b]And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, [c]They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 [d]And sitting down they watched him there;

37 And [e]set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 [f]Then were there two thieves crucified with him; one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ And [g]they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, [h]Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. [i]If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others, himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Is'ra-el, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 [k]He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 [l]The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 [m]Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour [n]Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, E'li, E'li, la'ma sa-bach-tha'ni? that is to say, [o]My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for E-li'as.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, [p]and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether E-li'as will come to save him.

50 ¶ [q]Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 And, behold, [r]the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

52 And the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 [s]Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 And many women were there beholding afar off, [t]which followed Jesus from Gal'i-lee, ministering unto him:

56 [u]Among which was Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and Ma'ry the mother of James and Jo'ses, and the mother of Zeb'e-dee's children.

57 [v]When the even was come, there came a rich man of Ar-i-ma-the'a, named Jo'seph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple:

58 He went to Pi'late, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pi'late commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Jo'seph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, 30 saying, Hail, King of the Jews! And they spat upon him, and took the reed and smote him on the 31 head. And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cy-re'ne, Si'mon by name: him they [1]compelled to 33 go with them, that he might bear his cross. And when they were come unto a place called Gol'go-tha, 34 that is to say, The place of a skull, they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall: and when he had 35 tasted it, he would not drink. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments among them, 36 casting lots: and they sat and watched him there.
37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, 38 THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. Then are there crucified with him two robbers, one on the 39 right hand, and one on the left. And they that 40 passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the [2]temple, and build-
41 est it in three days, save thyself: if thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross. In like manner also the chief priests mocking him, with 42 the scribes and elders, said, He saved others; [3]himself he cannot save. He is the King of Is'ra-el; let him now come down from the cross, and we will 43 believe on him. He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am 44 the Son of God. And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over 46 all the [4]land until the ninth hour. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, E'li, E'li, la'ma sa-bach-tha'ni? that is, My God, my 47 God, [5]why hast thou forsaken me? And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, 48 This man calleth E-li'jah. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.
49 And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether E-li'jah
50 cometh to save him.[6] And Jesus cried again with a 51 loud voice, and yielded up his spirit. And behold, the veil of the [2]temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake; and 52 the rocks were rent; and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of the saints that had fallen asleep
53 were raised; and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into the holy city
54 and appeared unto many. Now the centurion, and they that were with him watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, Truly this was [7]the Son
55 of God. And many women were there beholding from afar, which had followed Jesus from Gal'i-lee, 56 ministering unto him: among whom was Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and Ma'ry the mother of James and Jo'ses, and the mother of the sons of Zeb'e-dee.
57 And when even was come, there came a rich man from Ar-i-ma-thæ'a, named Jo'seph, who also 58 himself was Jesus' disciple: this man went to Pi'late, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pi'late 59 commanded it to be given up. And Jo'seph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Christ's resurrection declared—Sendeth his disciples to teach and baptise.

IN the [a]end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne [b]and the other Ma'ry to see the sepulchre.

2 And, behold, there ‖ was a great earthquake: for [c]the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 [d]His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he has risen, [e]as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, [f]he goeth before you into Gal'i-lee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 ¶And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, [g]Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell [h]my brethren that they go into Gal'i-lee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

16 ¶Then the eleven disciples went away into Gal'i-lee, into a mountain [i]where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Jesus came, and spake unto them, saying, [k]All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

19 ¶[l]Go ye therefore, and [m]‖ teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:

20 [n]Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

28 Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne and the other Ma'ry to see the sepulchre.
2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Gal'i-lee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.
8 And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word.
9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped 10 him. Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: go tell my brethren that they depart into Gal'i-lee, and there shall they see me.
11 Now while they were going, behold, some of the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief 12 priests all the things that were come to pass. And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the 13 soldiers, saying, Say ye, His disciples came by 14 night, and stole him away while we slept. And if this [4]come to the governor's ears, we will persuade 15 him, and rid you of care. So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth until this day.
16 But the eleven disciples went into Gal'i-lee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them.
17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but

THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, [a]the Son of God;

2 As it is written in the prophets, [b]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 [c]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 [d]John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance ‖for the remission of sins.

5 [e]And there went out unto him all the land of Ju-de'a, and they of Je-ru'sa-lem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jor'dan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was [f]clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of skin about his loins; and he did eat [g]locusts and wild honey;

7 And preached, saying, [h]There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 [i]I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you [k]with the Holy Ghost.

9 [l]And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Naz'a-reth of Gal'i-lee, and was baptized of John in Jor'dan.

10 [m]And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens ‖opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, [n]Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 [o]And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days tempted of Sa'tan; and was with the wild beasts; [p]and the angels ministered unto him.

14 [q]Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Gal'i-lee, [r]preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, [s]The time is fulfilled, and [t]the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

16 [u]Now as he walked by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw Si'mon and An'drew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway [v]they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 [w]And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zeb'e-dee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 [x]And they went into Ca-per'na-um; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught.

22 [y]And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

23 [z]And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out,

24 Saying, Let us alone; [a]what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Naz'a-reth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25 And Jesus [b]rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit [c]had torn him, and cried [r]with a loud voice, he came out of him.

A. D. 26.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MARK.

1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, [1]the son of God.

2 Even as it is written [2]in I-sa'iah the prophet,
Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way;
3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight;

4 John came, who baptized in the wilderness and preached the baptism of repentance unto remission 5 of sins. And there went out unto him all the country of Ju-dæ'a, and all they of Je-ru'sa-lem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jor'dan, con- 6 fessing their sins. And John was clothed with camel's hair, and had a leathern girdle about his 7 loins, and did eat locusts and wild honey. And he preached, saying, There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not 8 [3]worthy to stoop down and unloose. I baptize you [4]with water; but he shall baptize you [4]with the [5]Holy Ghost.

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Naz'a-reth of Gal'i-lee, and was baptized 10 of John [6]in the Jor'dan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens rent asunder, and the Spirit as a dove descending upon 11 him: and a voice came out of the heavens, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.

12 And straightway the Spirit driveth him forth into 13 the wilderness. And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted of Sa'tan; and he was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

14 Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus came into Gal'i-lee, preaching the gospel of God, 15 and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

16 And passing along by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw Si'mon and An'drew the brother of Si'mon casting 17 a net in the sea: for they were fishers. And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make 18 you to become fishers of men. And straightway 19 they left the nets, and followed him. And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother, who also were in the 20 boat mending the nets. And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zeb'e-dee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 And they go into Ca-per'na-um; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and 22 taught. And they were astonished at his teaching: for he taught them as having authority, and not as 23 the scribes. And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried 24 out, saying, What have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Naz'a-reth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked [7]him, saying, Hold thy peace, and [7]Or, it
26 come out of him. And the unclean spirit, [8]tearing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. [8]Or, convulsing

[1]Some ancient authorities omit the Son of God.
[2]Some ancient authorities read in the prophets.
[3]Gr. sufficient.
[4]Or, in
[5]Or, Holy Spirit: and so throughout this book.
[6]Gr. into.

A. D. 31.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Gal'i-lee.

[f]Matt. 8. 14. Luke 4. 38.

29 [f]And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Si'mon and An'drew, with James and John.

30 But Si'mon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

[g]Matt. 8. 16. Luke 4. 40.

32 [g]And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.

35 And [i]in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Si'mon and they that were with him followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.

40 [n]And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

44 And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things [o]which Mo'ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

45 [p]But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: [q]and they came to him from every quarter.

[q]ch. 2. 13.

CHAPTER II.

Christ healeth one sick of the palsy.

[r]Matt. 9. 1. Luke 5. 18.

AND again [r]he entered into Ca-per'na-um after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.

3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

[s]Job 14. 4. Isa. 43. 25.

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? [s]who can forgive sins but God only?

[t]Matt. 9. 4.

8 And immediately, [t]when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

[u]Matt. 9. 5.

9 [u]Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? a new teaching! with authority he commandeth even 28 the unclean spirits, and they obey him. And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Gal'i-lee round about.

29 And straightway, [1]when they were come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Si'mon
30 and An'drew, with James and John. Now Si'mon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway 31 they tell him of her: and he came and took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were [2]pos-
33 sessed with devils. And all the city was gathered 34 together at the door. And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many [3]devils; and he suffered not the [3]devils to speak, because they knew him[4].

35 And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert
36 place, and there prayed. And Si'mon and they that 37 were with him followed after him; and they found
38 him, and say unto him, All are seeking thee. And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for to 39 this end came I forth. And he went into their synagogues throughout all Gal'i-lee, preaching and casting out [3]devils.

40 And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, [5]and kneeling down to him, and saying unto 41 him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I 42 will; be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean.
43 And he [6]strictly charged him, and straightway sent 44 him out, and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Mo'ses
45 commanded, for a testimony unto them. But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the [7]matter, insomuch that [8]Jesus could no more openly enter into [9]a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

2 And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the
3 door: and he spake the word unto them. And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy,
4 borne of four. And when they could not [11]come nigh unto him for the crowd, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the 5 palsy lay. And Jesus seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, [12]Son, thy sins are forgiven.
6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there,
7 and reasoning in their hearts, Why doth this man thus speak? he blasphemeth: who can forgive sins
8 but one, even God? And straightway Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these 9 things in your hearts? Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)
11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.
12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.
13 [c]And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.
14 [f]And as he passed by, he saw Le'vi the son of Al-phe'us sitting ‖at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.
15 [g]And it came to pass, that, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him.
16 And when the scribes and Phar'i-sees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?
17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, [h]They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.
18 [i]And the disciples of John and of the Phar'i-sees used to fast: and they come, and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Phar'i-sees fast, but thy disciples fast not?
19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they can not fast.
20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.
21 No man also seweth a piece of ‖new cloth on an old garment; else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.
22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.
23 [k]And it came to pass, that he went through the corn-fields on the sabbath day; and his disciples began, as they went, [l]to pluck the ears of corn.
24 And the Phar'i-sees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?
25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read [m]what Da'vid did, when he had need, and was a hungered, he, and they that were with him?
26 How he went into the house of God in the days of A-bi'a-thar the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, [n]which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?
27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:
28 Therefore, [o]the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

AND [c]he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.
2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day, that they might accuse him.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.
5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the ‖hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

CHAPTER IV.

Parable of the sower.

AND [r]he began again to teach by the sea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

A. D. 31.

7 And Jesus with his disciples withdrew to the sea: and a great multitude from Gal'i-lee followed: and 8 from Ju-dæ'a, and from Je-ru'sa-lem, and from I-du-mæ'a and beyond Jor'dan, and about Tyre and Si'don, a great multitude, hearing [1]what great things he did,
9 came unto him. And he spake to his disciples, that a little boat should wait on him because of the 10 crowd, lest they should throng him: for he had healed many; insomuch that as many as had [2]plagues [3]pressed upon him that they might touch
11 him. And the unclean spirits, whensoever they beheld him, fell down before him, and cried, saying,
12 Thou art the Son of God. And he charged them much that they should not make him known.
13 And he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth unto him whom he himself would: and they went 14 unto him. And he appointed twelve,[4] that they might be with him, and that he might send them
15 forth to preach, and to have authority to cast out
16 17 [5]devils: [6]and Si'mon he surnamed Pe'ter; and James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John the brother of James; and them he surnamed Bo-a-ner'ges, which is, Sons of 18 thunder: and An'drew, and Phil'ip, and Bar-thol'o-mew, and Mat'thew, and Thom'as, and James the son of Al-phæ'us, and Thad-dæ'us, and Si'mon the [7]Ca-nan-
19 æ'an, and Ju'das Is-car'iot, which also betrayed him.
20 And he cometh [8]into a house. And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not 21 so much as eat bread. And when his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, 22 He is beside himself. And the scribes which came down from Je-ru'sa-lem said, He hath Be-el'ze-bub, and, [9]By the prince of the [5]devils casteth he out the 23 [5]devils. And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Sa'tan cast out
24 Sa'tan? And if a kingdom be divided against itself, 25 that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able to 26 stand. And if Sa'tan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.
27 But no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.
28 Verily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies
29 wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: but whosoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin:
30 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.
31 And there come his mother and his brethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling 32 him. And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy 33 brethren without seek for thee. And he answereth them, and saith, Who is my mother, and my brethren?
34 And looking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my 35 brethren! For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

4 And again he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land.

A. D. 31.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, [b]and said unto them in his doctrine,
3 Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:
4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.
5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:
6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.
7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.
8 And other fell on good ground, [c]and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some a hundred.
9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.
10 [d]And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.
11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto [e]them that are without, all these things are done in parables:
12 [f]That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.
13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?
14 ¶ [g]The sower soweth the word.
15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Sa'tan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.
16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;
17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.
18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,
19 And the cares of this world, [h]and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.
20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred.
21 ¶ [i]And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a ‖bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?
22 [k]For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was anything kept secret, but that it should come abroad.
23 [l]If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.
24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear. [m]With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.
25 [n]For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.
26 ¶ And he said, [o]So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;
27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.
28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.
29 But when the fruit is ‖brought forth, immediately [p]he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.
30 ¶ And he said, [q]Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

2 And he taught them many things in parables, and
3 said unto them in his teaching, Hearken: Behold,
4 the sower went forth to sow: and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and
5 the birds came and devoured it. And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no

14 15 parables? The sower soweth the word. And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Sa'tan, and taketh away the word which hath been 16 sown in them. And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it with joy:
17 and they have no root in themselves, but endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway they stumble.

19 these are they that have heard the word, and the cares of the [1]world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the 20 word, and it becometh unfruitful. And those are they that were sown upon the good ground; such as hear the word, and accept it, and bear fruit, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.
21 And he said unto them, Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not 22 to be put on the stand? For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light.

33 [r]And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.
34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.
35 [s]And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.
36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.
37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.
38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?
39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.
40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith?
41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAPTER V.

A legion of devils cast out.

AND [a]they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gad'a-renes.
2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,
3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:
4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.
5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.
6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,
7 And cried with a loud voice and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.
8 (For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)
9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.
10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.
11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.
12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.
13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine; and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (there were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea.
14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.
15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind; and they were afraid.
16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.
17 And [b]they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.
18 And when he was come into the ship, [c]he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.
19 Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word
34 unto them, as they were able to hear it: and without a parable spake he not unto them: but privately to his own disciples he expounded all things.
35 And on that day, when even was come, he saith
36 unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with 37 him. And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the boat, insomuch that the 38 boat was now filling. And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, [1]Master, carest thou not that we

40 wind ceased, and there was a great calm. And he said unto them, Why are ye fearful? have ye not yet

15 had come to pass. And they come to Jesus, and behold [2]him that was possessed with devils sitting, clothed and in his right mind, even him that had the 16 legion: and they were afraid. And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell [2]him that was pos-
17 sessed with devils, and concerning the swine. And they began to beseech him to depart from their bor-
18 ders. And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with [3]devils besought him that 19 he might be with him. And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done

21 [d]And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him; and he was nigh unto the sea.

22 [e]And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Ja-i'rus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, [h]thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 [i]While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead; why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Pe'ter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but [k]sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn. [l]But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Tal'i-tha cu'mi: which is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say unto thee,) arise.

42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And [m]he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 [b]And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for [c]there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32 [d]And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 [e]And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and [f]he began to teach them many things.

35 [g]And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37 He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, [h]Shall we go and buy two hundred ‖ pennyworth of bread and give them to eat.

38 He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, [i]Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties:

41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, [k]and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

45 [l]And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before ‖ unto Beth-sa'i-da, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 [m]And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land,

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and [n]would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For [o]they considered not the miracle of the loaves; for their [p]heart was hardened.

53 [q]And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gen-nes'a-ret, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that [r]they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched ‖ him were made whole.

Jesus; and they told him all things, whatsoever they 31 had done, and whatsoever they had taught. And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure 32 so much as to eat. And they went away in the 33 boat to a desert place apart. And the people saw them going, and many knew them, and they ran there together [1]on foot from all the cities, and out-34 went them. And he came forth and saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he 35 began to teach them many things. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, The place is desert, and the day is now far 36 spent: send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy them-37 selves somewhat to eat. But he answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred [2]penny-38 worth of bread, and give them to eat? And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and 39 two fishes. And he commanded them that all should [3]sit down by companies upon the green 40 grass. And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, 41 and by fifties. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake the loaves; and he gave to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he 42 among them all. And they did all eat, and were 43 filled. And they took up broken pieces, twelve 44 basketfuls, and also of the fishes. And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side to Beth-sa'i-da, while he himself sendeth the 46 multitude away. And after he had taken leave of 47 them, he departed into the mountain to pray. And when even was come, the boat was in the midst of 48 the sea, and he alone on the land. And seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them, about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking on the sea; and he would have 49 passed by them: but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was an appari-50 tion, and cried out: for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he straightway spake with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I; be not 51 afraid. And he went up unto them into the boat; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in 52 themselves; for they understood not concerning the loaves, but their heart was hardened.

53 And when they had [4]crossed over, they came to the land unto Gen-nes'a-ret, and moored to the shore.
54 And when they were come out of the boat, straight-55 way the people knew him, and ran round about that whole region, and began to carry about on their beds 56 those that were sick, where they heard he was. And wheresoever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched [5]him were made whole.

CHAPTER VII.

Meat defileth not.

A. D. 32.

THEN [a]came together unto him the Phar'i-sees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Je-ru'sa-lem.
2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with ‖defiled, that is to say, with unwashen hands, they found fault.
3 For the Phar'i-sees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands ‖oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.
4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and ‖pots, and brazen vessels, and of ‖tables.
5 [b]Then the Phar'i-sees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?
6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath E-sa'ias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, [c]This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.
7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.
8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.
9 And he said unto them, Full well ye ‖reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.
10 For Mo'ses said, [d]Honour thy father and thy mother; and, [e]Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:
11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is [f]Cor'ban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free.
12 And ye suffer him no more to do aught for his father or his mother;
13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.
14 ¶ [g]And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand:
15 There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.
16 [h]If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.
17 [i]And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.
18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it can not defile him;
19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?
20 And he said that which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.
21 [k]For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,
22 Thefts, †covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness;
23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.
24 ¶ [l]And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Si'don, and entered into a house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid.
25 For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:
26 The woman was a ‖Greek, a Sy-ro-phe-ni'ci-an by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.
27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it unto the dogs.
28 And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.
29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

But their heart is far from me.

Teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men.

8 Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast

10 ye may keep your tradition. For Mo'ses said, Honour thy father and thy mother; and, He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him [6]die the

12 to God; ye no longer suffer him to do aught for 13 his father or his mother; making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered:
14 and many such like things ye do. And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, Hear 15 me all of you, and understand: there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the 17 man are those that defile the man.[7] And when he was entered into the house from the multitude, his 18 disciples asked of him the parable. And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth
19 into the man, it can not defile him; because it goeth not into his heart, but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? This he said, making all meats
20 clean. And he said, That which proceedeth out of 21 the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, [8]evil thoughts proceed,
22 fornications, thefts, murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, rail-

24 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre [9]and Si'don. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and 25 he could not be hid. But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having 26 heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. Now the woman was a [10]Greek, a Sy-ro-phœ-ni'ci-an by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the Four thousand miraculously fed.

[t] Matt. 15. 32.

IN those days [t] the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?

7 And they had a few small fishes; and [v] he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

5 And Pe'ter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'as.

6 For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

27 And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæs-a-re'a Phi-lip'pi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men

28 say that I am? And they told him, saying, John the Baptist: and others, E-li'jah; but others, One of

3 transfigured before them: and his garments became glistening, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth

4 can whiten them. And there appeared unto them E-li'jah with Mo'ses: and they were talking with

5 Jesus. And Pe'ter answereth and saith to Jesus, Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three [2]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one

6 for E-li'jah. For he wist not what to answer; for 7 they became sore afraid. And there came a cloud overshadowing them: and there came a voice out of the cloud, This is my beloved Son: hear ye him.

8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, save when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead.

A. D. 32.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.
11 ¶ And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes [f]that E-li'as must first come?
12 And he answered and told them, E-li'as verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and [g]how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and [h]be set at nought.
13 But I say unto you, That [i]E-li'as is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.
14 ¶ [k]And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.
15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him.
16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye ‖with them?
17 And [l]one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit;
18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he ‖ teareth him; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away; and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not.
19 He answereth him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.
20 And they brought him unto him: and [m]when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.
21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.
22 And ofttimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.
23 Jesus said unto him, [n]If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.
24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.
25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.
26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead.
27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose.
28 [o]And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?
29 And he said unto him, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.
30 ¶ And they departed thence, and passed through Gal'i-lee; and he would not that any man should know it.
31 [p]For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.
32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.
33 ¶ [q]And he came to Ca-per'na-um: and being in the house he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way?
34 But they held their peace: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.
35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, [r]If any man desire to be first the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.
36 And [s]he took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them,
37 Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and [t]whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

10 And they kept the saying, questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should 11 mean. And they asked him, saying, [1]The scribes
12 say that E-li'jah must first come. And he said unto them, E-li'jah indeed cometh first, and restoreth all things: and how is it written of the Son of man, that he should suffer many things and be set at 13 nought? But I say unto you, that E-li'jah is come, and they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.
14 And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning
15 with them. And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and running to 16 him saluted him. And he asked them, What ques-
17 tion ye with them? And one of the multitude answered him, [2]Master, I brought unto thee my son,
18 which hath a dumb spirit; and wheresoever it taketh him, it [3]dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and they 19 were not able. And he answereth them and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me.
20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit [4]tare him grievously; and 21 he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child.
22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us.
23 And Jesus said unto him, If thou canst! All things
24 are possible to him that believeth. Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said[5], I believe; help
25 thou mine unbelief. And when Jesus saw that a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and 26 enter no more into him. And having cried out, and [4]torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead; insomuch that the more part said, He 27 is dead. But Jesus took him by the hand, and 28 raised him up; and he arose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him pri-
29 vately, [6]saying, We could not cast it out. And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer[7].
30 And they went forth from thence, and passed through Gal'i-lee; and he would not that any man
31 should know it. For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, after three days he shall rise again.
32 But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.
33 And they came to Ca-per'na-um: and when he was in the house he asked them, What were ye reason-
34 ing in the way? But they held their peace: for they had disputed one with another in the way, who was 35 the [8]greatest. And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he saith unto them, If any man would be first, he shall be last of all, and minister of all.
36 And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them: and taking him in his arms, he said unto 37 them, Whosoever shall receive one of such little children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever receiveth me receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

THE TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM.—St. Matthew 21: 9.

A. D. 32.

38 ¶ [a]And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us; and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not: [c]for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For [d]he that is not against us is on our part.

41 [e]For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 [g]And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 [h]And if thy hand ‖ offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

44 [i]Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye ‖ offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes, to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, [k]and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 [l]Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [m]Have salt in yourselves, and [n]have peace one with another.

CHAPTER X.

Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorcement.

A. D. 33.

AND [a]he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Ju-de'a by the farther side of Jor'dan: and the people resort unto him again; and as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ¶ [b]And the Phar'i-sees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Mo'ses command you?

4 And they said, [c]Mo'ses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept:

6 But from the beginning of the creation [d]God made them male and female.

7 [e]For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife;

8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9 What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11 And he saith unto them, [f]Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 ¶ [g]And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them; and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for [h]of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, [i]Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

17 ¶ [k]And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him,

38 John said unto him, [1]Master, we saw one casting out [2]devils in thy name: and we forbade him, because he followed not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a [3]mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil

40 of me. For he that is not against us is for us.

41 For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, [4]because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you,

42 he shall in no wise lose his reward. And whosoever shall cause one of these little ones that believe [5]on me to stumble, it were better for him if [6]a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast

43 into the sea. And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into [7]hell,

45 into the unquenchable fire.[8] And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet

47 to be cast into [7]hell. And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than

48 having two eyes to be cast into [7]hell; where their

49 worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. For 50 every one shall be salted with fire[9]. Salt is good: but if the salt have lost its saltness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace one with another.

10 And he arose from thence, and cometh into the borders of Ju-dæ'a and beyond Jor'dan: and multitudes come together unto him again; and, as he was

2 wont, he taught them again. And there came unto him Phar'i-sees, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man

3 to put away his wife? tempting him. And he answered and said unto them, What did Mo'ses com-

4 mand you? And they said, Mo'ses suffered to write

5 a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. But Jesus said unto them, For your hardness of heart

6 he wrote you this commandment. But from the beginning of the creation, Male and female made he

7 them. For this cause shall a man leave his father

8 and mother, [10]and shall cleave to his wife; and the twain shall become one flesh: so that they are no

9 more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God

10 hath joined together, let not man put asunder. And in the house the disciples asked him again of this

11 matter. And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth

12 adultery against her: and if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery.

13 And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples rebuked

14 them. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me; forbid them not: for 15 of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter there-

16 in. And he took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

17 And as he was going forth [11]into the way, there ran one to him, and kneeled to him, and asked him, his disciples, How hardly shall they that have 24 riches enter into the kingdom of God! And the disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it [2]for them that trust in riches to 25 enter into the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a 26 rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. And they were astonished exceedingly, saying [3]unto 27 him, Then who can be saved? Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with 28 God. Pe'ter began to say unto him, Lo, we have 29 left all, and have followed thee. Jesus said, Verily

I say unto you, There is no man that hath left

32 And they were in the way, going up to Je-ru'sa-lem; not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41 [v]And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

42 But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, [x]Ye know that they which ‖ are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them.

43 [a]But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister:

44 And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

45 For even [b]the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and [c]to give his life a ransom for many.

46 ¶ [d]And they came to Jer'i-cho: and as he went out of Jer'i-cho with his disciples, and a great number of people, blind Bar-ti-me'us, the son of Ti-me'us, sat by the highway side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Naz'a-reth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of Da'vid, have mercy on me.

48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou son of Da'vid, have mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.

50 And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.

52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; [e]thy faith hath ‖ made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

CHAPTER XI.

Christ rideth into Jerusalem.

AND [a]when they came nigh to Je-ru'sa-lem, unto Beth'-pha-ge, and Beth'a-ny, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,

2 And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met; and they loose him.

5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt?

6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let them go.

7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him.

8 [b]And many spread their garments in the way; and others cut down branches off the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, [c]Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord:

10 Blessed be the kingdom of our father Da'vid, that cometh in the name of the Lord: [d]Hosanna in the highest.

11 [e]And Jesus entered into Je-ru'sa-lem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Beth'a-ny, with the twelve.

12 ¶ [f]And on the morrow, when they were come from Beth'a-ny, he was hungry:

13 [g]And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came not mine to give: but it is for them for whom it hath 41 been prepared. And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning 42 James and John. And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles lord it over them; and their great ones exercise authority over 43 them. But it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your [1]min-44 ister: and whosoever would be first among you, shall 45 be [2]servant of all. For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

46 And they come to Jer'i-cho: and as he went out from Jer'i-cho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Ti-mæ'us, Bar-ti-mæ'us, a blind beggar, 47 was sitting by the way side. And when he heard that it was Jesus of Naz'a-reth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of Da'vid, have mercy on 48 me. And many rebuked him, that he should hold his peace, but he cried out the more a great deal, 49 Thou son of Da'vid, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good cheer:
50 rise, he calleth thee. And he, casting away his gar-
51 ment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. And Jesus answered him, and said, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, [3]Rabboni, that I may receive my sight.
52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath [4]made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way.

11 And when they draw nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, unto Beth'pha-ge and Beth'a-ny, at the mount of Olives, 2 he sendeth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you: and straightway as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man ever yet sat; 3 loose him, and bring him. And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he [5]will send him [6]back 4 hither. And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they 5 loose him. And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt?
6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had said:
7 and they let them go. And they bring the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and 8 he sat upon him. And many spread their garments upon the way; and others [7]branches, which 9 they had cut from the fields. And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, Hosanna;
Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the 10 Lord: Blessed is the kingdom that cometh, the kingdom of our father Da'vid: Hosanna in the highest.

11 And he entered into Je-ru'sa-lem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, he went out unto Beth'a-ny with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come out
13 from Beth'a-ny, he hungered. And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came 18 robbers. And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 And [1]every evening [2]he went forth out of the city.
20 And as they passed by in the morning, they saw
21 the fig tree withered away from the roots. And Pe'ter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered

33 verily held John to be a prophet. And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and set a hedge about it, and digged a pit for the wine-press, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and
2 went into another country. And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a [7]servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruits

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one son, his well beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this Scripture; [b]The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 [c]And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people; for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ [d]And they send unto him certain of the Phar'i-sees, and of the He-ro'di-ans, to catch him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Ce'sar, or not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a || penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Ce'sar's.

17 And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Ce'sar the things that are Ce'sar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

18 ¶ [e]Then come unto him the Sad'du-cees, [f]which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, [g]Mo'ses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.

21 And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but [h]are as the angels which are in heaven.

26 And as touching the dead, that they rise; have ye not read in the book of Mo'ses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, [i]I am the God of A'bra-ham, and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.

28 ¶ [k]And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, [l]Hear, O Is'ra-el; The Lord our God is one Lord:

8 itance shall be ours. And they took him, and killed
9 him, and cast him forth out of the vineyard. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give 10 the vineyard unto others. Have ye not read even this scripture?

The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner:

11 This was from the Lord,
And it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 And they sought to lay hold on him; and they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spake the parable against them: and they left him, and went away.

13 And they send unto him certain of the Phar'i-sees and of the He-ro'di-ans, that they might catch him in 14 talk. And when they were come, they say unto him, [1]Master, we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one: for thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest the way of God: Is 15 it lawful to give tribute unto Cæ'sar, or not? Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me?
16 bring me a [2]penny, that I may see it. And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him,
17 Cæ'sar's. And Jesus said unto them, Render unto Cæ'sar the things that are Cæ'sar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

18 And there come unto him Sad'du-cees, which say that there is no resurrection; and they ask him,
19 saying, [1]Master, Mo'ses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and 20 raise up seed unto his brother. There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left 21 no seed; and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind him; and the third likewise:
22 and the seven left no seed. Last of all the woman
23 also died. In the resurrection whose wife shall she 24 be of them? for the seven had her to wife. Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that ye know not the scriptures, nor the power of 25 God? For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but are as 26 angels in heaven. But as touching the dead, that they are raised; have ye not read in the book of Mo'ses, in the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of A'bra-ham, 27 and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28 And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is 29 the first of all? Jesus answered, The first is, Hear, O Is'ra-el; [3]The Lord our God, the Lord is one:

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31 And the second is like, namely this, [m]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: there is none other commandment greater than these.

32 And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; [n]and there is none other but he:

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, [o]is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. [p]And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 ¶ [q]And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the son of Da'vid?

36 For Da'vid himself said [r]by the Holy Ghost, [s]The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 Da'vid therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 ¶ And [t]he said unto them in his doctrine, [u]Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and [x]love salutations in the marketplaces,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:

40 [y]Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ¶ [z]And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast ‖money [a]into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two ‖ mites, which make a farthing.

43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That [b]this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury:

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, [c]even all her living.

2 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? [e]there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Pe'ter and James and John and An'drew asked him privately,

4 [f]Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answering them began to say, [g]Take heed lest any man deceive you:

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am [h]christ; and shall deceive many.

7 And when ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines, and troubles: [i]these are the beginnings ‖ of sorrows.

41 And he sat down over against the treasury, and beheld how the multitude cast [6]money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.
42 And there came [7]a poor widow, and she cast in two 43 mites, which make a farthing. And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than all 44 they which are casting into the treasury: for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

13 And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, [2]Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of build-
2 ings! And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives over against the temple, Pe'ter and James and John and An'drew
4 asked him privately, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things
5 are all about to be accomplished? And Jesus began to say unto them, Take heed that no man lead you
6 astray. Many shall come in my name, saying, I am
7 he; and shall lead many astray. And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be not troubled: these things must needs come to pass; but
8 the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: there shall be earthquakes in divers places; there shall be famines: these things are the beginning of travail.

9 /But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.
10 And gthe gospel must first be published among all nations.
11 hBut when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, ibut the Holy Ghost.
12 Now kthe brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.
13 lAnd ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but mhe that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.
14 nBut when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, ospoken of by Dan'iel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then plet them that be in Ju-de'a flee to the mountains:
15 And let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house:
16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.
17 qBut woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!
18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.
19 rFor in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.
20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved; but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.
21 sAnd then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or lo, he is there; believe him not:
22 For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.
23 But ttake ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.
24 ¶ uBut in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light,
25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.
26 vAnd then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.
27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.
28 wNow learn a parable of the fig tree: When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:
29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.
30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.
31 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but xmy words shall not pass away.
32 ¶ But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.
33 yTake ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.
34 z*For the Son of man is* as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.
35 aWatch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning:
36 Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.
37 And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.

CHAPTER XIV.

Conspiracy against Christ—Judas betrayeth him—The last supper.

[a]Matt. 26. 2. Luke 22. 1. John 11. 55. & 13. 1.

AFTER [a]two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

[b]Matt. 26. 6. John 12. 1, 3. See Luke 7. 37.

3 ¶ [b]And being in Beth'a-ny, in the house of Si'mon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of ‖spikenard very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

[‖]Or, pure nard, or, liquid nard.

4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred ‖pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

[‖]See Matt. 18. 28.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

[c]Deut. 15. 11.

7 For [c]ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.

8 She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

[d]Matt. 26. 14. Luke 22. 3, 4.

10 ¶ [d]And Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

[e]Matt. 26. 17. Luke 22. 7.

12 ¶ [e]And the first day of unleavened bread, when they ‖killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover?

[‖]Or, sacrificed.

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

[f]Matt. 26. 20, &c.

17 [f]And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.

[g]Matt. 26. 24. Luke 22. 22.

21 [g]The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.

[h]Matt. 26. 26. Luke 22. 19. 1 Cor. 11. 23.

22 ¶ [h]And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

A. D. 33.

14 Now after two days was the feast of the passover and the unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him
2 with subtilty, and kill him: for they said, Not during the feast, lest haply there shall be a tumult of the people.
3 And while he was in Beth'a-ny in the house of Si'mon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having [1]an alabaster cruse of ointment of [2]spikenard very costly; and she brake the cruse, and 4 poured it over his head. But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the ointment been made?
5 For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred [3]pence, and given to the poor. And 6 they murmured against her. But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought
7 a good work on me. For ye have the poor always with you, and whensoever ye will ye can do them
8 good: but me ye have not always. She hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand for the burying.
9 And verily I say unto you, Wheresoever the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
10 And Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, [4]he that was one of the twelve, went away unto the chief priests, that he might de-
11 liver him unto them. And they, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently deliver him unto them.
12 And on the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and make ready
13 that thou mayest eat the passover? And he sendeth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a
14 pitcher of water: follow him; and wheresoever he shall enter in, say to the goodman of the house, The [5]Master saith, Where is my guest-chamber, where I
15 shall eat the passover with my disciples? And he will himself shew you a large upper room furnished
16 and ready: and there make ready for us. And the disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.
17 And when it was evening he cometh with the 18 twelve. And as they [6]sat and were eating, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray 19 me, even he that eateth with me. They began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I?
20 And he said unto them, It is one of the twelve, he 21 that dippeth with me in the dish. For the Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him: but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it [7]for that man if he had not been born.
22 And as they were eating, he took [8]bread, and when he had blessed, he brake it, and gave to them, and 23 said, Take ye: this is my body. And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them:
24 and they all drank of it. And he said unto them, This is my blood of [9]the [10]covenant, which is shed
25 for many. Verily I say unto you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

A. D. 33.

26 ¶ [t]And when they had sung a ||hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 [k]And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, [l]I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 But [m]after that I am risen, I will go before you into Gal'i-lee.

29 [n]But Pe'ter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

32 [o]And they came to a place which was named Geth-sem'a-ne: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Pe'ter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;

34 And saith unto them, [p]my soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 And he said [q]Abba, Father, [r]all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: [s]nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Pe'ter, Si'mon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. [t]The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, [u]the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 [x]Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¶ [y]And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Ju'das, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed him.

46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48 [z]And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but [a]the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 [b]And they all forsook him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him.

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ [c]And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 And Pe'ter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

26 And when they had sung a hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be [1]offended: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the 28 sheep shall be scattered abroad. Howbeit, after I
29 am raised up, I will go before you into Gal'i-lee. But Pe'ter said unto him, Although all shall be [1]offended, 30 yet will not I. And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou to-day, even this night, be-31 fore the cock crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. But he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 And they come unto [2]a place which was named Geth-sem'a-ne: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye 33 here, while I pray. And he taketh with him Pe'ter and James and John, and began to be greatly amazed, 34 and sore troubled. And he saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death: abide 35 ye here, and watch. And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were 36 possible, the hour might pass away from him. And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; remove this cup from me: howbeit not what 37 I will, but what thou wilt. And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Pe'ter, Si'mon, sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour?
38 [3]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.
39 And again he went away, and prayed, saying the 40 same words. And again he came, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy; and they 41 wist not what to answer him. And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough; the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of 42 sinners. Arise, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh Ju'das, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the 44 scribes and the elders. Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him away safely.
45 And when he was come, straightway he came to 46 him, and saith, Rabbi; and [4]kissed him. And they 47 laid hands on him, and took him. But a certain one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the [5]servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear.
48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out as against a robber, with swords and staves
49 to seize me? I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but this is done that 50 the scriptures might be fulfilled. And they all left him, and fled.

51 And a certain young man followed with him, having a linen cloth cast about him, over his naked 52 body: and they lay hold on him; but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and there come together with him all the chief priests
54 and the elders and the scribes. And Pe'ter had followed him afar off, even within, into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire.

A. D. 33.

55 [d]And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found none.
56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.
57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,
58 We heard him say, [e]I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.
59 But neither so did their witness agree together.
60 [f]And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?
61 But [g]he held his peace, and answered nothing. [h]Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?
62 And Jesus said, I am: [i]and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.
63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?
64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.
65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.
66 ¶ [k]And as Pe'ter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest:
67 And when she saw Pe'ter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Naz'a-reth.

CHAPTER XV.

Christ brought before Pilate.

AND [a]straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pi'late.
2 [b]And Pi'late asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it.
3 And the chief priests accused him of many things; but he answered nothing.
4 [c]And Pi'late asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.
5 [d]But Jesus yet answered nothing; so that Pi'late marvelled.
6 Now [e]at that feast he released unto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.
7 And there was one named Ba-rab'bas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.
8 And the multitude crying aloud began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.
9 But Pi'late answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews?
10 For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy.

55 Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witness against Jesus to put him to death; and 56 found it not. For many bare false witness against 57 him, and their witness agreed not together. And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against 58 him, saying, We heard him say, I will destroy this [1]temple that is made with hands, and in three days I
59 will build another made without hands. And not 60 even so did their witness agree together. And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which 61 these witness against thee? But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou the Christ, the 62 Son of the Blessed? And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven.
63 And the high priest rent his clothes, and saith,
64 What further need have we of witnesses? Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be [2]worthy of death.
65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the officers received him with [3]blows of their hands.
66 And as Pe'ter was beneath in the court, there 67 cometh one of the maids of the high priest; and seeing Pe'ter warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with the Naz'a-rene, even 68 Jesus. But he denied, saying, [4]I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest: and he went out into 69 the [5]porch; [6]and the cock crew. And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by,
70 This is one of them. But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Pe'ter, Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art
71 a Gal-i-læ'an. But he began to curse, and to swear, I
72 know not this man of whom ye speak. And straightway the second time the cock crew. And Pe'ter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. [7]And when he thought thereon, he wept.

15 And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, held a consultation, and bound Jesus, and carried
2 him away, and delivered him up to Pi'late. And Pi'late asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, Thou sayest.
3 And the chief priests accused him of many things.
4 And Pi'late again asked him, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee
5 of. But Jesus no more answered anything; insomuch that Pi'late marvelled.
6 Now at [8]the feast he used to release unto them
7 one prisoner, whom they asked of him. And there was one called Ba-rab'bas, lying bound with them that had made insurrection, men who in the in-
8 surrection had committed murder. And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as 9 he was wont to do unto them. And Pi'late answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto 10 you the King of the Jews? For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up.

[8] Or, a feast

A. D. 33.

11 But [f]the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Ba-rab'bas unto them.
12 And Pi'late answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews?
13 And they cried out again, Crucify him.
14 Then Pi'late said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.
15 ¶ [g]And so Pi'late, willing to content the people, released Ba-rab'bas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.
16 [h]And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Pre-to'ri-um; and they call together the whole band.
17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!
19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him.
20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.
21 [i]And they compel one Si'mon a Cy-re'ni-an, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Al-ex-an'der and Ru'fus, to bear his cross.
22 [k]And they bring him unto the place Gol'go-tha, which is being interpreted, The place of a skull.
23 [l]And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.
24 And when they had crucified him, [m]they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.
25 And [n]it was the third hour, and they crucified him.
26 And [o]the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.
27 And [p]with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.
28 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, [q]And he was numbered with the transgressors.
29 And [r]they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, [s]thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,
30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.
31 Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save.
32 Let Christ the King of Is'ra-el descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And [t]they that were crucified with him reviled him.
33 And [u]when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.
34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, [x]E-lo'i, E-lo'i, la'ma sa-bach'tha-ni? which is, being interpreted, My God, My God, Why hast thou forsaken me?
35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth E-li'as.
36 And [y]one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and [z]gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether E-li'as will come to take him down.
37 [a]And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.
38 And [b]the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.
39 ¶ And [c]when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.
40 [d]There were also women looking on [e]afar off: among whom was Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and Ma'ry the mother of James the less and of Jo'ses, and Sa-lo'me;
41 Who also, when he was in Gal'i-lee, [f]followed him, and ministered unto him; and many other women which came up with him unto Je-ru'sa-lem.

29 And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ha! thou that destroyest
30 the [5]temple, and buildest it in three days, save

32 [6]himself he cannot save. Let the Christ, the King of Is'ra-el, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reproached him.
33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole [7]land until the ninth hour.
34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, E-lo'i, E-lo'i, la'ma sa-bach'tha-ni? which is, being interpreted, My God, My God, [8]why hast thou for-

36 they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth E-li'jah. And one ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether E-li'jah cometh to take him down.
37 And Jesus uttered a loud voice, and gave up the 38 ghost. And the veil of the [5]temple was rent in 39 twain from the top to the bottom. And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he [9]so gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this

42 ¶ [g]And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath,

43 Jo'seph of Ar-i-ma-the'a, an honourable counsellor, which also [h]waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pi'late, and craved the body of Jesus.

44 And Pi'late marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.

45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Jo'seph.

46 [i]And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre.

47 And Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne and Ma'ry the mother of Jo'ses beheld where he was laid.

CHAPTER XVI.

An angel declareth the resurrection of Christ to three women.

AND [a]when the sabbath was past, Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and Ma'ry the mother of James, and Sa-lo'me, [b]had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 [c]And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

5 [d]And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.

6 [e]And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: ye seek Jesus of Naz'a-reth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Pe'ter, that he goeth before you into Gal'i-lee: there shall ye see him, [f]as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled, and were amazed: [g]neither said they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

9 ¶ Now when Jesus was risen early, the first day of the week, [h]he appeared first to Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, [i]out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10 [k]And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 [l]And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

12 ¶ After that he appeared in another form [m]unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

13 And they went and told it unto the residue: neither believed they them.

14 ¶ [n]Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat ‖ at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

15 [o]And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, [p]and preach the gospel to every creature.

16 [q]He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; [r]but he that believeth not shall be damned.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe: [s]In my name shall they cast out devils; [t]they shall speak with new tongues;

18 [u]They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; [x]they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 ¶ So then, [y]after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was [z]received up into heaven, and [a]sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, [b]and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

42 And when even was now come, because it was the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath,

43 there came Jo'seph of Ar-i-ma-thæ'a, a councillor of honourable estate, who also himself was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto

44 Pi'late, and asked for the body of Jesus. And Pi'late marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he [1]had 45 been any while dead. And when he learned it of the centurion, he granted the corpse to Jo'seph.

46 And he bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled 47 a stone against the door of the tomb. And Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne and Ma'ry the mother of Jo'ses beheld where he was laid.

16 And when the sabbath was past, Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne and Ma'ry the mother of James, and Sa-lo'me, bought

2 spices, that they might come and anoint him. And very early on the first day of the week, they come

3 to the tomb when the sun was risen. And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us

4 away the stone from the door of the tomb? and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back:

5 for it was exceeding great. And entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, arrayed in a white robe; and they were amazed.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, the Naz'a-rene, which hath been crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold, the place where

7 they laid him! But go, tell his disciples and Pe'ter, He goeth before you into Gal'i-lee: there shall ye

8 see him, as he said unto you. And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them: and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9 [2]Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne,

10 from whom he had cast out seven [3]devils. She went and told them that had been with him, as they

11 mourned and wept. And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, disbelieved.

12 And after these things he was manifested in another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their

13 way into the country. And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

14 And afterward he was manifested unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and he upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him

15 after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the 16 whole creation. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that disbelieveth shall be

17 condemned. And these signs shall follow them that believe: in my name shall they cast out [3]devils;

18 they shall speak with [4]new tongues; they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken unto them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at 20 the right hand of God. And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

S. LUKE.

CHAPTER I.

Conception of John Baptist, and of Christ—Prophecy of Zacharias.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,

2 [a]Even as they delivered them unto us, which [b]from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word;

3 [c]It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee [d]in order, [e]most excellent The-oph'i-lus,

4 [f]That thou mightest know the certainty of those things whereir thou hast been instructed.

5 ¶ THERE was [g]in the days of Her'od, the king of Ju-de'a, a certain priest named Zach-a-ri'as, [h]of the course of A-bi'a: and his wife was of the daughters of Aa'ron, and her name was E-lis'a-beth.

6 And they were both [i]righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that E-lis'a-beth was barren; and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that, while he executed the priest's office before God [k]in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was [l]to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 [m]And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of [n]the altar of incense.

12 And when Zach-a-ri'as saw him, [o]he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zach-a-ri'as: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife E-lis'a-beth shall bear thee a son, and [p]thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and [q]many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and [r]shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, [s]even from his mother's womb.

16 [t]And many of the children of Is'ra-el shall he turn to the Lord their God.

S. LUKE.

1 Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have
2 been [1]fulfilled among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses
3 and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent
4 The-oph'i-lus; that thou mightest know the certainty concerning the [2]things [3]wherein thou wast instructed.

5 There was in the days of Her'od, king of Ju-dæ'a, a certain priest named Zach-a-ri'as, of the course of A-bi'jah: and he had a wife of the daughters of Aa'ron,
6 and her name was E-lis'a-beth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the command-
7 ments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because that E-lis'a-beth was barren, and they both were now [4]well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course,
9 according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the [5]temple of the Lord and burn
10 incense. And the whole multitude of the people
11 were praying without at the hour of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord stand-
12 ing on the right side of the altar of incense. And Zach-a-ri'as was troubled when he saw him, and fear
13 fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zach-a-ri'as: because thy supplication is heard, and thy wife E-lis'a-beth shall bear thee a son, and 14 thou shalt call his name John. And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at 15 his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine nor [6]strong drink; and he shall be filled with the [7]Holy Ghost, even 16 from his mother's womb. And many of the children of Is'ra-el shall he turn unto the Lord their God.
17 And he shall [8]go before his face in the spirit and power of E-li'jah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; to make ready for the Lord a people
18 prepared for him. And Zach-a-ri'as said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man,
19 and my wife [9]well stricken in years. And the angel answering said unto him, I am Ga'bri-el, that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak un-
20 to thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. And behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall 21 be fulfilled in their season. And the people were waiting for Zach-a-ri'as, and they marvelled [10]while he 22 tarried in the [5]temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the [5]temple: and he continued
23 making signs unto them, and remained dumb. And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days E-lis'a-beth his wife conceived;
25 and she hid herself five months, saying, Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 And in the sixth month the angel Ga'bri-el was sent from God unto a city of Gal'i-lee, named Naz'a-reth, 27 To a virgin [d]espoused to a man whose name was Jo'seph, of the house of Da'vid; and the virgin's name was Ma'ry.
28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, [e]Hail, thou that art ||highly favoured, [f]the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.
29 And when she saw him, [g]she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.
30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Ma'ry: for thou hast found favour with God.
31 [h]And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and [i]shalt call his name JESUS.
32 He shall be great, [k]and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and [l]the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father Da'vid:
33 [m]And he shall reign over the house of Ja'cob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.
34 Then said Ma'ry unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?
35 And the angel answered and said unto her, [n]The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called [o]the Son of God.
36 And, behold, thy cousin E-lis'a-beth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren.
37 For [p]with God nothing shall be impossible.
38 And Ma'ry said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

41 And it came to pass, that, when E-lis'a-beth heard the salutation of Ma'ry, the babe leaped in her womb; and E-lis'a-beth was filled with the Holy Ghost:
42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, [r]Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.
43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?
44 For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.
45 And blessed is she ||that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

‖ Or, the night-watches.

Before the Account called Anno Domini the Fifth Year.

the glory of the Lord shone round about them; [f]and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, [g]which shall be to all people.

11 [h]For unto you is born this day in the city of Da'vid [i]a Saviour, [k]which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 [l]And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 [m]Glory to God in the highest, and on earth [n]peace, [o]good will toward men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, †the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Beth'le-hem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Ma'ry and Jo'seph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 [p]But Ma'ry kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 [q]And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called [r]JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when [s]the days of her purification according to the law of Mo'ses were accomplished, they brought him to Je-ru'sa-lem to present him to the Lord;

23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, [t]Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;)

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to [u]that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

25 And, behold, there was a man in Je-ru'sa-lem, whose name was Sim'e-on; and the same man was just and devout, [v]waiting for the consolation of Is'ra-el; and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not [w]see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came [x]by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God and said,

29 Lord, [y]now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes [z]have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32 [a]A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Is'ra-el.

33 And Jo'seph and his mother marveled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Sim'e-on blessed them, and said unto Ma'ry his mother, Behold, this child is set for the [d]fall and rising again of many in Is'ra-el; and for [e]a sign which shall be spoken against;

35 (Yea, [f]a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also;) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one An'na, a prophetess, the daughter of Pha-nu'el, of the tribe of A'ser: she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers [g]night and day.

the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and 10 they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people:
11 for there is born to you this day in the city of Da'vid
12 a Saviour, which is [1]Christ the Lord. And this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe wrapped in 13 swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest,
And on earth [2]peace among [3]men in whom he is well pleased.

15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Beth'le-hem, and see this [4]thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath 16 made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found both Ma'ry and Jo'seph, and the babe lying in 17 the manger. And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spoken to them
18 about this child. And all that heard it wondered at the things which were spoken unto them by the shep-
19 herds. But Ma'ry kept all these [5]sayings, pondering
20 them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken unto them.

21 And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the days of their purification according to the law of Mo'ses were fulfilled, they brought him
23 up to Je-ru'sa-lem, to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord),
24 and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or 25 two young pigeons. And behold, there was a man in Je-ru'sa-lem, whose name was Sim'e-on; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Is'ra-el: and the Holy Spirit was upon 26 him. And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death, before he 27 had seen the Lord's Christ. And he came in the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning 28 him after the custom of the law, then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Now lettest thou thy [6]servant depart, O [7]Lord,
According to thy word, in peace;
30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,
31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;
32 A light for [8]revelation to the Gentiles,
And the glory of thy people Is'ra-el.

33 And his father and his mother were marveling at 34 the things which were spoken concerning him; and Sim'e-on blessed them, and said unto Ma'ry his mother, Behold, this child is set for the falling and rising up of many in Is'ra-el; and for a sign which is 35 spoken against; yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts
36 may be revealed. And there was one An'na, a prophetess, the daughter of Pha-nu'el, of the tribe of Ash'er (she was [9]of a great age, having lived with a 37 husband seven years from her virginity, and she had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, worshipping with fastings and supplications night and day.

CHAPTER III.

John's testimony of Christ—Christ is baptized.

A. D. 26.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Ti-be'ri-us Ce'sar, Pon'ti-us Pi'late being governor of Ju-de'a, and Her'od being tetrarch of Gal'i-lee, and his brother Phil'ip tetrarch of It-u-re'a and of the region of Trach-o-ni'tis, and Ly-sa'ni-as the tetrarch of Ab-i-le'ne,

2 [q]An'nas and Ca'ia-phas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zach-a-ri'as in the wilderness.

3 [b]And he came into all the country about Jor'dan, preaching the baptism of repentance [c]for the remission of sins;

4 As it is written in the book of the words of E-sa'ias the prophet, saying, [d]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth;

6 And [e]all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, [f]O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits ||worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have A'bra-ham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto A'bra-ham.

9 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: [g]every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, [h]What shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith unto them, [i]He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

38 And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were 39 looking for the redemption of Je-ru'sa-lem. And when they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Gal'i-lee, to their own city Naz'a-reth.
40 And the child grew, and waxed strong, [1]filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.
41 And his parents went every year to Je-ru'sa-lem at 42 the feast of the passover. And when he was twelve years old, they went up after the custom of the feast;
43 and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Je-ru'sa-
44 lem; and his parents knew it not; but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk
45 and acquaintance: and when they found him not,
46 they returned to Je-ru'sa-lem, seeking for him. And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the [2]doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions:
47 and all that heard him were amazed at his under-
48 standing and his answers. And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, [3]Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? be-49 hold, thy father and I sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be [4]in my Father's house?
50 And they understood not the saying which he 51 spake unto them. And he went down with them, and came to Naz'a-reth; and he was subject unto them: and his mother kept all these [5]sayings in her heart.
52 And Jesus advanced in wisdom and [6]stature, and in [7]favour with God and men.

3 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Ti-be'ri-us Cæ'sar, Pon'ti-us Pi'late being governor of Ju-dæ'a, and Her'od being tetrarch of Gal'i-lee, and his brother Phil'ip tetrarch of the region of It-u-ræ'a and Trach-
2 o-ni'tis, and Ly-sa'ni-as tetrarch of Ab-i-le'ne, in the high-priesthood of An'nas and Ca'ia-phas, the word of God came unto John the son of Zach-a-ri'as in the 3 wilderness. And he came into all the region round about Jor'dan, preaching the baptism of repentance
4 unto remission of sins; as it is written in the book of the words of I-sai'ah the prophet,

The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled,
And every mountain and hill shall be brought low;
And the crooked shall become straight,
And the rough ways smooth;

6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 He said therefore to the multitudes that went out to be baptized of him, Ye offspring of vipers, who
8 warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of [8]repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have A'bra-ham to our father: for I say unto you that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto A'bra-ham.
9 And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore that bringeth not forth
10 good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. And the multitudes asked him, saying, What then must 11 we do? And he answered and said unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise.

12 Then [k]came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?

21 Now when all the people were baptized, [q]it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,
22 And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

12 And there came also [1]publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, [2]Master, what must we do?
13 And he said unto them, Extort no more than that 14 which is appointed you. And [3]soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, what must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither [4]exact anything wrongfully; and be content with your wages.
15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John,
16 whether haply he were the Christ; John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but there cometh he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not [5]worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you [6]with the Holy Ghost
17 and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, throughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.
18 With many other exhortations therefore preached
19 he [7]good tidings unto the people; but Her'od the tetrarch, being reproved by him for He-ro'di-as his brother's wife, and for all the evil things which 20 Her'od had done, added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.
21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that, Jesus also having been baptized,
22 and praying, the heaven was opened, and the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form as a dove, upon him, and a voice came out of heaven, Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

CHAPTER IV.

Christ's temptation—Overcometh the devil—Beginneth to preach.

AND [a]Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost, returned from Jor'dan, and [b]was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,
2 Being forty days tempted of the devil. And [c]in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.
3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.
4 And Jesus answered him, saying, [d]It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.
5 And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.
6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for [e]that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will, I give it.
7 If thou therefore wilt ‖ worship me, all shall be thine.
8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Sa'tan: for [f]it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.
9 [g]And he brought him to Je-ru'sa-lem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:
10 For [h]it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee:
11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.
12 And Jesus answering, said unto him, [i]It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.
13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him [k]for a season.
14 ¶[l]And Jesus returned [m]in the power of the Spirit into [n]Gal'i-lee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.
15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.
16 ¶And he came to [o]Naz'a-reth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, [p]he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read.
17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet E-sa'ias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,
18 [q]The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,
19 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.
20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.
21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.
22 And all bare him witness, and [r]wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, [s]Is not this Jo'seph's son?
23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in [t]Ca-per'na-um, do also here in [u]thy country.
24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No [v]prophet is accepted in his own country.

2 ness during forty days, being tempted of the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days: and when
3 they were completed, he hungered. And the devil said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, command
4 this stone that it become [2]bread. And Jesus answered unto him, It is written, Man shall not live
5 by bread alone. And he led him up, and shewed him all the kingdoms of [3]the world in a moment of

7 I will I give it. If thou therefore wilt worship be-
8 fore me, it shall all be thine. And Jesus answered and said unto him, It is written, Thou shall worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou

He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, to guard thee:

11 and,

On their hands they shall bear thee up,
Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.
13 And when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him [5]for a season.
14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Gal'i-lee: and a fame went out concerning him

21 synagogue were fastened on him. And he began to say unto them, To-day hath this scripture been 22 fulfilled in your ears. And all bare him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, Is not other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Si'mon Pe'ter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, [c]Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zeb'e-dee, which were partners with Si'mon. And Jesus said unto Si'mon, Fear not; [d]from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, [e]they forsook all, and followed him.

12 ¶ [f]And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy; who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: Be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 [g]And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, [h]according as Mo'ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: [i]and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ [k]And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Phar'i-sees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Gal'i-lee, and Ju-de'a, and Je-ru'sa-lem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ¶ [l]And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 [m]And the scribes and the Phar'i-sees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? [n]Who can forgive sins but God alone?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering, said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

27 ¶ [o]And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Le'vi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 [p]And Le'vi made him a great feast in his own house: and [q]there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Phar'i-sees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

32 [r]I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that 8 they began to sink. But Si'mon Pe'ter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart
9 from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord. For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the 10 draught of the fishes which they had taken; and so were also James and John, sons of Zeb'e-dee, which were partners with Si'mon. And Jesus said unto Si'mon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt [1]catch 11 men. And when they had brought their boats to land, they left all, and followed him.

12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities, behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.
13 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straight-
14 way the leprosy departed from him. And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Mo'ses commanded, for a testimony unto 15 them. But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirm-
16 ities. But he withdrew himself in the deserts, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Phar'i-sees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Gal'i-lee and Ju-dæ'a and Je-ru'sa-lem: and 18 the power of the Lord was with him [2]to heal. And behold, men bring on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him
19 before him. And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus.
20 And seeing their faith, he said, Man, thy sins are 21 forgiven thee. And the scribes and the Phar'i-sees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?
22 But Jesus perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, [3]What reason ye in your hearts?
23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven
24 thee; or to say, Arise and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath [4]power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go
25 unto thy house. And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and 26 departed to his house, glorifying God. And amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God; and they were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

27 And after these things he went forth, and beheld a publican, named Le'vi, sitting at the place of toll,
28 and said unto him, Follow me. And he forsook
29 all, and rose up and followed him. And Le'vi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude of publicans and of others 30 that were sitting at meat with them. And [5]the Phar'i-sees and their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with 31 the publicans and sinners? And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need 32 of a physician; but they that are sick. I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to repent-
33 ance. And they said unto him, The disciples of 8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

21 [o]Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. [p]Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.
22 [q]Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they [r]shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.
23 [s]Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for [t]in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.
24 [u]But woe unto you [x]that are rich! for [y]ye have received your consolation.
25 [z]Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. [a]Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.
26 [b]Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.
27 ¶[c]But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you, 35 But [l]love ye your enemies, and do good, and [m]lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and [n]ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

CHAPTER VII.

The centurion's faith—The widow's son raised.

[a]Matt. 8. 5.

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, [a]he entered into Ca-per'na-um.

2 And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof:

7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto †one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Is'ra-el.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house found the servant whole that had been sick.

11 ¶And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Na'in: and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

11 And it came to pass [7]soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Na'in; and his disciples went with 12 him, and a great multitude. Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of 13 the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her,
14 Weep not. And he came nigh and touched the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, 15 Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he gave 16 him to his mother. And fear took hold on all: and they glorified God, saying, A great prophet is arisen
17 among us: and, God hath visited his people. And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Ju-dæ'a, and all the region round about.

21 he that cometh, or look we for another? In that hour he cured many of diseases and [9]plagues and evil spirits; and on many that were blind he bestowed
22 sight. And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have [10]good tidings
23 preached to them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find none occasion of stumbling in me.

CHAPTER VIII.

The parable of the sower, and of the candle—Devils cast out, &c.

AND it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,

7 ¶ [p]Now Her'od the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead;

8 And of some, that E-li'as had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Her'od said, John have I beheaded; but who is this, of whom I hear such things? [o]And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ [n]And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. [m]And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Beth-sa'i-da.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 [l]And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¶ [k]And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him; and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

[j] Matt. 14. 2. ver. 7, 8.

19 They answering said, [j]John the Baptist; but some say, E-li'as; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter
50 is dead; trouble not the [1]Master. But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she 51 shall be [2]made whole. And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save Pe'ter, and John, and James, and the father of 52 the maiden and her mother. And all were weeping, and bewailing her: but he said, Weep not; for she 53 is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him
54 to scorn, knowing that she was dead. But he, taking her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, arise.
55 And her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that something be given 56 her to eat. And her parents were amazed: but he charged them to tell no man what had been done.

9 And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all [3]devils, and to cure dis-
2 eases. And he sent them forth to preach the king-
3 dom of God, and to heal [4]the sick. And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither have 4 two coats. And into whatsoever house ye enter,
5 there abide, and thence depart. And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, shake off the dust from your feet for a testimony against
6 them. And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.

7 Now Her'od the tetrarch heard of all that was done: and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, that John was risen from the 8 dead; and by some, that E-li'jah had appeared; and by others, that one of the old prophets was risen
9 again. And Her'od said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see him.

10 And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called 11 Beth-sa'i-da. But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he welcomed them, and spake to them of the kingdom of God, and them that had need of heal-
12 ing he healed. And the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals:
13 for we are here in a desert place. But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than five loaves and two fishes; except we 14 should go and buy food for all this people. For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them [5]sit down in companies,
15 about fifty each. And they did so, and made them
16 all [5]sit down. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set be-17 fore the multitude. And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.

18 And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying,
19 Who do the multitudes say that I am? And they answering said, John the Baptist; but others say, E-li'jah; and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

A. D. 32.

20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? [p]Pe'ter answering said, The Christ of God.

21 [q]And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing;

22 Saying, [r]The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¶ [s]And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 [t]For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 [u]For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.

27 [x]But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ [y]And it came to pass about an eight days after these || sayings, he took Pe'ter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Mo'ses and E-li'as:

31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Je-ru'sa-lem.

32 But Pe'ter and they that were with him [z]were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Pe'ter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'as: not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, [a]This is my beloved Son: [b]hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. [c]And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ [d]And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son; for he is mine only child.

39 And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 [e]Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 [f]But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

22 to no man; saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third
23 day be raised up. And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, 24 and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever would save his [1]life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his [1]life for my sake, the same

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which 31 were Mo'ses and E-li'jah; who appeared in glory, and spake of his [2]decease which he was about to ac-
32 complish at Je-ru'sa-lem. Now Pe'ter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: but [3]when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two 33 men that stood with him. And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Pe'ter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three [4]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'jah: not knowing what he said.
34 And while he said these things, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they 35 entered into the cloud. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is [5]my Son, my chosen:
36 hear ye him. And when the voice [6]came, Jesus was found alone. And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen.
37 And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multi-38 tude met him. And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, [7]Master, I beseech thee to look 39 upon my son; for he is mine only child: and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it [8]teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly de-40 parteth from him, bruising him sorely. And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and they could 41 not. And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you,
42 and bear with you? bring hither thy son. And as he was yet a coming, the [9]devil [10]dashed him down, and [11]tare him grievously. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him
43 back to his father. And they were all astonished at the majesty of God.

But while all were marvelling at all the things
44 which he did, he said unto his disciples, Let these words sink into your ears: for the Son of man shall 45 be delivered up into the hands of men. But they understood not this saying, and it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

46 ¶[o]Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.
47 And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,
48 And said unto them, [k]Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: [l]for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.
49 ¶[k]And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us.
50 And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for [l]he that is not against us is for us.
51 ¶And it came to pass, when the time was come that [m]he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Je-ru'sa-lem,
52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Sa-mar'i-tans, to make ready for him.
53 And [n]they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Je-ru'sa-lem.
54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as [o]E-li'as did?
55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.
56 For [p]the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.
57 ¶[q]And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.
58 And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.
59 [r]And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.
60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.
61 And another also said, Lord, [s]I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house.
62 And Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER X.

Christ sendeth out seventy disciples.

AFTER these things, the Lord appointed other seventy also, and [a]sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.
2 Therefore said he unto them, [b]the harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: [c]pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.
3 Go your ways: [d]behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.
4 [e]Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and [f]salute no man by the way.
5 [g]And into whatsoever [t]house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.
6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.
7 [h]And in the same house remain, [i]eating and drinking such things as they give: for [k]the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.
8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:
9 [l]And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, [m]The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.
10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,
11 [n]Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

A. D. 32.

46 And there arose a reasoning among them, which 47 of them should be [1]greatest. But when Jesus saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little child, 48 and set him by his side, and said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is [2]least among you all, the same is great.
49 And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out [3]devils in thy name; and we forbade him,
50 because he followeth not with us. But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against you is for you.
51 And it came to pass, when the days [4]were well-nigh come that he should be received up, he sted-
52 fastly set his face to go to Je-ru'sa-lem, and sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Sa-mar'i-tans, to make 53 ready for him. And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he were going to Je-
54 ru'sa-lem. And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid fire to come down from heaven, and consume them[5]?
55 56 But he turned, and rebuked them[6]. And they went to another village.
57 And as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou
58 goest. And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have [7]nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.
59 And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said,
60 Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. But he said unto him, Leave the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and publish abroad the kingdom
61 of God. And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; but first suffer me to bid farewell to them
62 that are at my house. But Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy[8] others, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was
2 about to come. And he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth
3 labourers into his harvest. Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves.
4 Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes: and salute no
5 man on the way. And into whatsoever house ye
6 shall [9]enter, first say, Peace be to this house. And if a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon [10]him: but if not, it shall turn to you again.
7 And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.
8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:
9 and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto [l]them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.
10 But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof
11 and say, Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh.

A D. 32.

12 But I say unto you, that [c]it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sod'om, than for that city.

13 [p]Woe unto thee, Cho-ra'zin! woe unto thee, Beth-sa'i-da! [q]for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Si'don, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Si'don at the judgment, than for you.

15 [r]And thou, Ca-per'na-um, which art [s]exalted to heaven, [t]shalt be thrust down to hell.

16 [u]He that heareth you heareth me; and [x]he that despiseth you despiseth me; [y]and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ And [z]the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

18 And he said unto them, [a]I beheld Sa'tan as lightning fall from heaven.

19 Behold, [b]I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because [c]your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ [d]In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 [e] || All things are delivered to me of my Father: and [f]no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, [g]Blessed are the eyes which see the things which ye see.

24 For I tell you, [h]that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 ¶ And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, [i]Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he answering said, [k]Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and [l]thy neighbour as thyself.

28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and [m]thou shalt live.

29 But he, willing to [n]justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neigbour?

30 And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Je-ru'sa-lem to Jer'i-cho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, [o]he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Le'vite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain [p]Sa-mar'i-tan, as he journeyed, came where he was; and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two || pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him: and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

12 I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable in that 13 day for Sod'om, than for that city. Woe unto thee, Cho-ra'zin! woe unto thee Beth-sa'i-da: for if the [1]mighty works had been done in Tyre and Si'don, which were done in you, they would have repented 14 long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. Howbeit it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Si'don in the 15 judgement, than for you. And thou, Ca-per'na-um, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be 16 brought down unto Ha'des. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and he that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.
17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the [2]devils are subject unto us in thy name.
18 And he said unto them, I beheld Sa'tan fallen as 19 lightning from heaven. Behold, I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and sco.pions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall 20 in any wise hurt you. Howbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.
21 In that same hour he rejoiced [3]in the Holy Spirit, and said, I [4]thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; [5]for so it was well-pleas-
22 ing in thy sight. All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, save the Father; and who the Father is, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth
23 to reveal him. And turning to the disciples, he said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things
24 that ye see: for I say unto you, that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.
25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying, [6]Master, what shall I do to inherit eter-
26 nal life? And he said unto him, What is written in 27 the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God [7]with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour 28 as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast an-29 swered right: this do, and thou shalt live. But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who 30 is my neighbour? Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Je-ru'sa-lem to Jer'i-cho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving 31 him half dead. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, 32 he passed by on the other side. And in like manner a Le'vite also, when he came to the place, and 33 saw him, passed by on the other side. But a certain Sa-mar'i-tan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with 34 compassion, and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, 35 and took care of him. And on the morrow he took out two [8]pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will 36 repay thee. Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the 37 robbers? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named [c]Mar'tha received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Ma'ry, [r]which also [s]sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.

40 But Mar'tha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus answered and said unto her, Mar'tha, Mar'tha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

42 But [t]one thing is needful; and Ma'ry hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAPTER XI.

Christ teacheth to pray.

A. D. 33.

AND it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, [c]Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us ‖day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 For a friend of mine ‖in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, [b]Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 [c]And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

11 [d]If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he †offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 ¶[e]And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, [f]He casteth out devils through †Be-el'ze-bub the chief of the devils.

16 And others, tempting him; [g]sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 [h]But [i]he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth.

18 If Sa'tan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Be-el'ze-bub.

19 And if I by Be-el'ze-bub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.

20 But if I [k]with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 [l]When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace:

22 But [m]when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Mar'tha 39 received him into her house. And she had a sister called Ma'ry, which also sat at the Lord's feet, and 40 heard his word. But Mar'tha was [1]cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help 41 me. But the Lord answered and said unto her,
[2]Mar'tha, Mar'tha, thou art anxious and troubled 42 about many things: [3]but one thing is needful: for Ma'ry hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

11 And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John 2 also taught his disciples. And he said unto them,
When ye pray, say, [4]Father, Hallowed be thy name.
3 Thy kingdom come.[5] Give us day by day [6]our 4 daily bread. And forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us.
And bring us not into temptation.[7] 5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say 6 to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have 7 nothing to set before him; and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I can-8 not rise and give thee? I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise 9 and give him [8]as many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened 10 unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that 11 knocketh it shall be opened. And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask [9]a loaf, and he give him a stone? or a fish, and he for a fish 12 give him a serpent? Or if he shall ask an egg, 13 will he give him a scorpion? If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?
14 And he was casting out a [10]devil which was dumb.
And it came to pass, when the [10]devil was gone out,
the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled.
15 But some of them said, [11]By Be-el'ze-bub the prince 16 of the [12]devils casteth he out [12]devils. And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.
17 But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; [13]and a house divided against a house 18 falleth. And if Sa'tan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye 19 say that I cast out [12]devils [11]by Be-el'ze-bub. And if I [11]by Be-el'ze-bub cast out [12]devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be 20 your judges. But if I by the finger of God cast out [12]devils, then is the kingdom of God come upon 21 you. When the strong man fully armed guardeth 22 his own court, his goods are in peace: but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him his whole armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 [a]He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.

[a]Matt. 12. 30.

24 [c]When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.

[c]Matt. 12. 43.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and [p]the last state of that man is worse than the first.

[p]John 5. 14. Heb. 6. 4. & 10. 26. 2 Pet. 2.20.

27 ¶And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, [q]Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

[q]ch. 1. 28 48.

28 But he said, Yea, [r]rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

[r]Matt. 7. 21. ch. 8. 21. Jam. 1. 25.

29 ¶[s]And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jo'nas the prophet.

[s]Matt. 12. 38, 39.

30 For as [t]Jo'nas was a sign unto the Nin'e-vites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

[t]Jonah 1. 17. & 2. 10.

31 [u]The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth, to hear the wisdom of Sol'o-mon; and, behold, a greater than Sol'o-mon is here.

[u]1 Kings 10. 1.

32 The men of Nin'e-veh shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for [x]they repented at the preaching of Jo'nas; and, behold, a greater than Jo'nas is here.

[x]Jonah 3. 5.

33 [y]No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a ‖ bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

[y]Matt. 5. 15 Mark 4.21. ch. 8. 16.

‖ See Matt. 5.15.

34 [z]The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

[z]Matt. 6. 22.

35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when †the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

37 ¶And as he spake a certain Phar'i-see besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And [a]when the Phar'i-see saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

[a]Mark 7.3.

39 [b]And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Phar'i-sees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but [c]your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

[b]Matt. 23. 25. [c]Tit 1. 15.

40 Ye fools, did not he, that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 [d]But rather give alms ‖ of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you.

[d]Isa. 58. 7. Dan. 4. 27. ch. 12. 33.

‖ Or, as you are able.

42 [e]But woe unto you, Phar'i-sees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

[e]Matt. 23. 23.

43 [f]Woe unto you, Phar'i-sees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

[f]Matt. 23. 6. Mark. 12. 38, 39.

44 [g]Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! [h]for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

[g]Matt. 23. 27. [h]Ps. 5. 9.

45 ¶Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest us also.

[i]Matt. 23. 4

47 [k]Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

[k]Matt. 23. 29.

48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

[l]Matt. 23. 34.

A. D. 33.

23 He that is not with me is against me; and he that
24 gathereth not with me scattereth. The unclean spirit when [1]he is gone out of the man, passeth through waterless places, seeking rest; and finding none, [1]he saith, I will turn back unto my house

27 And it came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare 28 thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 And when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, This generation is an evil generation: it seeketh after a sign; and there shall 30 no sign be given to it but the sign of Jo'nah. For even as Jo'nah became a sign unto the Nin'e-vites, so
31 shall also the Son of man be to this generation. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Sol'o-mon; and behold, [3]a greater 32 than Sol'o-mon is here. The men of Nin'e-veh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jo'nah; and behold, [3]a greater than Jo'nah is here.

[3]Gr, more than.

33 No man, when he hath lighted a lamp, putteth it in a cellar, neither under the bushel, but on the stand, 34 that they which enter in may see the light. The lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when 35 it is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not 36 darkness. If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, as when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

37 Now as he spake, a Phar'i-see asketh him to [4]dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.
38 And when the Phar'i-see saw it, he marvelled that he 39 had not first washed before [4]dinner. And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Phar'i-sees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward 40 part is full of extortion and wickedness. Ye foolish ones, did not he that made the outside make the in-41 side also? Howbeit give for alms those things which [5]are within; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

44 and the salutations in the marketplaces. Woe unto you! for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over them know it not.

45 And one of the lawyers answering saith unto him,
46 [6]Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. And he said, Woe unto you lawyers also! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.
47 Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the 48 prophets, and your fathers killed them. So ye are witnesses and consent unto the works of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their tombs.

them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;

51 [m]From the blood of A'bel unto the [n]blood of Zach-a-ri'as, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 [o]Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye ‖hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Phar'i-sees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things:

54 Laying wait for him, and [p]seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER XII.

Christ teacheth to avoid hypocrisy.

IN [q]the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, [b]Beware ye of the leaven of the Phar'i-sees, which is hypocrisy.

2 [c]For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore, whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

4 [d]And I say unto you [e]my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two ‖farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 [f]Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:

9 But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And [g]whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven.

11 [h]And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:

12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 ¶And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said unto him, [i]Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over you?

15 And he said unto them, [k]Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, [l]Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.

20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night ‖[m]thy soul shall be required of thee: [n]then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?

A. D. 33.

unto them prophets and apostles; and some of them 50 they shall kill and persecute; that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of 51 the world, may be required of this generation; from the blood of A'bel unto the blood of Zach-a-ri'ah, who perished between the altar and the [1]sanctuary: yea,
I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation.
52 Woe unto you lawyers! for ye took away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.
53 And when he was come out from hence, the scribes and the Phar'i-sees began to [2]press upon him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of [3]many 54 things; laying wait for him, to catch something out of his mouth.

12 In the mean time, when [4]the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to [5]say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of 2 the Phar'i-sees which is hypocrisy. But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and 3 hid, that shall not be known. Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon the house-4 tops. And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them which kill the body, and after that have no 5 more that they can do. But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath [6]power to cast into [7]hell; yea, I say unto you, 6 Fear him. Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and not one of them is forgotten in the sight 7 of God. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: ye are of more value than 8 many sparrows; And I say unto you, Every one who shall confess [8]me before men, [9]him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:
9 but he that denieth me in the presence of men shall be denied in the presence of the angels of God.
10 And every one who shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not 11 be forgiven. And when they bring you before the synagogues, and the rulers, and the authorities, be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what 12 ye shall say: for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say.
13 And one out of the multitude said unto him,
[10]Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with 14 me. But he said unto him, Man, who made me a 15 judge or a divider over you? And he said unto them, Take heed, and keep yourselves from all cov-etousness: [11]for a man's life consisteth not in the 16 abundance of the things which he possesseth. And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:
17 and he reasoned within himself, saying, What shall
I do, because I have not where to bestow my fruits?
18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow 19 all my corn and my goods. And I will say to my [12]soul, [12]Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, be merry.
20 But God said unto him, Thou foolish one, this night [13]is thy [12]soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, whose shall they be?

21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, [c]and is not rich toward God.

22 ¶And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, [p]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and [q]God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Sol'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, ‖ neither be ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 ¶[r]But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 Fear not, little flock; for [s]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 [t]Sell that ye have, and give alms; [u]provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [x]Let your loins be girded about, and [y]your lights burning;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 [z]Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 [a]And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 [b]Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ¶Then Pe'ter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 And the Lord said, [c]Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 [d]Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 [e]But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants, and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will ‖ cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And [f]that servant which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 [g]But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and

CHAPTER XIII.

Christ teacheth repentance.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Gal-i-le'ans, whose blood Pi'late had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Gal-i-le'ans were sinners above all the Gal-i-le'ans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay; but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Si-lo'am fell, and slew them, think ye that they were ‖sinners above all men that dwelt in Je-ru'sa-lem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable; [q]A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 ¶ And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 [s]And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, [t]There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and [u]not on the sabbath day.

25 seek to enter in, and shall not be [3]able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, I know you not whence
26 ye are; then shall ye begin to say, We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our 27 streets; and he shall say, I tell you, I know not whence ye are; depart from me, all ye workers of 28 iniquity. There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see A'bra-ham, and I'saac, and Ja'cob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, 29 and yourselves cast forth without. And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall [4]sit down in the kingdom of 30 God. And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.
31 In that very hour there came certain Phar'i-sees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go hence: for Her'od
32 would fain kill thee. And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out [5]devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third 33 day I am perfected. Howbeit I must go on my way to-day and to-morrow and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Je-ru'sa-lem.
34 O Je-ru'sa-lem, Je-ru'sa-lem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her own brood under her wings,
35 and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Phar'i-sees on a sabbath to 2 eat bread, that they were watching him. And behold, there was before him a certain man which had
3 the dropsy. And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal
4 on the sabbath, or not? But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go.

3 ¶ And he spake this parable unto them, saying,

[c]Matt. 18. 12.

4 [c]What man of you having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep [d]which was lost.

[d]1 Pet. 2. 10, 25.

7 I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, [e]more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

CHAPTER XVI.

The unjust steward—Hypocrisy of the covetous Pharisees reproved, &c.

AND he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.
2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.
3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.
4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.
5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

19 ¶There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain beggar named Laz'a-rus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into A'bra-ham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried:

23 And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth A'bra-ham afar off, and Laz'a-rus in his bosom.

24 And he cried and said, Father A'bra-ham, have mercy on me, and send Laz'a-rus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and [m]cool my tongue; for I [n]am tormented in this flame.

25 But A'bra-ham said, Son, [o]remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Laz'a-rus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 A'bra-ham saith unto him, [p]They have Mo'ses and the prophets; let them hear them.

CHAPTER XVII.

Avoid occasions of offence.

THEN said he unto the disciples, [a]It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come!

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 ¶Take heed to yourselves: [b]If thy brother trespass against thee, [c]rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 [d]And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.

7 But which of you, having a servant ploughing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, [e]and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are [f]unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 ¶And it came to pass, [g]as he went to Je-ru'sa-lem, that he passed through the midst of Sa-ma'ri-a and Gal'i-lee.

12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, [h]which stood afar off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, [1]faring sumptuously 20 every day: and a certain beggar named Laz'a-rus was 21 laid at his gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table;
22 yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into A'bra-ham's bosom:
23 and the rich man also died and was buried. And in Ha'des he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth A'bra-ham afar off, and Laz'a-rus in his bosom.
24 And he cried and said, Father A'bra-ham, have mercy on me, and send Laz'a-rus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in 25 anguish in this flame. But A'bra-ham said, [2]Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Laz'a-rus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish.
26 And [3]beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may 27 cross over from thence to us. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my 28 father's house; for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place
29 of torment. But A'bra-ham saith, They have Mo'ses
30 and the prophets; let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father A'bra-ham: but if one go to them from 31 the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Mo'ses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

9 ward thou shalt eat and drink? Doth he thank the [4]servant because he did the things that were com-
10 manded? Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable [5]servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.
11 And it came to pass, [6]as they were on the way to Je-ru'sa-lem, that he was passing [7]through the midst
12 of Sa-ma'ri-a and Gal'i-lee. And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Sa-mar'i-tan.

17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

19 [b]And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 ¶And when he was demanded of the Phar'i-sees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not ||with observation:

21 [l]Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, Lo there! for, behold, [m]the kingdom of God is ||within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, [n]The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 [o]And they shall say to you, See here; or, See there: go not after them, nor follow them.

24 [p]For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day.

25 [q]But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26 [r]And as it was in the days of No'e, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that No'e entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 [s]Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded;

29 [t]But the same day that Lot went out of Sod'om it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man [u]is revealed.

31 In that day, he [v]which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 [w]Remember Lot's wife.

33 [x]Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

34 [y]I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

36 ||Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

37 And they answered and said unto him, [z]Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The importunate widow.

AND he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought [a]always to pray, and not to faint;

2 Saying, There was †in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:

3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 [b]Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came 15 to pass, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed,
16 turned back, with a loud voice glorifying God; and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks:
17 and he was a Sa-mar'i-tan. And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten cleansed? but where are the 18 nine? [1]Were there none found that returned to 19 give glory to God, save this [2]stranger? And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath [3]made thee whole.

20 And being asked by the Phar'i-sees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:
21 neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is [4]within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days
23 of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go 24 not away, nor follow after them: for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be [5]in his day.
25 But first must he suffer many things and be re-
26 jected of this generation. And as it came to pass in the days of No'ah, even so shall it be also in the 27 days of the Son of man. They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that No'ah entered into the ark, and the 28 flood came, and destroyed them all. Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they 29 planted, they builded: but in the day that Lot went out from Sod'om it rained fire and brimstone
30 from heaven, and destroyed them all: after the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son 31 of man is revealed. In that day, he which shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let 32 him that is in the field likewise not return back. Re-33 member Lot's wife. Whosoever shall seek to gain his [6]life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his 34 [6]life shall [7]preserve it. I say unto you, In that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one
35 shall be taken, and the other shall be left. There shall be two women grinding together; the one
37 shall be taken, and the other shall be left.[8] And they answering say unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Where the body is, thither will the [9]eagles also be gathered together.

18 And he spake a parable unto them to the end that
2 they ought always to pray, and not to faint; saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God,
3 and regarded not man: and there was a widow in that city; and she came oft unto him, saying, [10]Avenge
4 me of mine adversary. And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though 5 I fear not God, nor regard man; yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she 6 [11]wear me out by her continual coming. And the Lord said, Hear what [12]the unrighteous judge saith.

7 And ᵉshall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?
8 I tell you ᵈthat he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?
9 And he spake this parable unto certain ᵉwhich trusted in themselves ‖ that they were righteous, and despised others:
10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Phar'i-see, and the other a publican.
11 The Phar'i-see ᶠstood and prayed thus with himself, ᵍGod, I thank thee that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.
12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.
13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.
14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: ʰfor every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.
15 ⁱAnd they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.
16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for ᵏof such is the kingdom of God.
17 ˡVerily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein.
18 ᵐAnd a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?
19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one, that is, God.
20 Thou knowest the commandments, ⁿDo not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, ᵒHonour thy father and thy mother.
21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.
22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: ᵖsell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.
23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.
24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, ᵍHow hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!
25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?
27 And he said, ʳThe things which are impossible with men are possible with God.
28 ˢThen Pe'ter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.
29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, ᵗThere is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,
30 ᵘWho shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

CHAPTER XIX.

Of Zaccheus the publican.

AND Jesus entered and passed through Jer'i-cho.
2 And, behold, there was a man named Zac-che'us, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.
3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.
4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.
5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zac-che'us, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house.
6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.
[a] Matt. 9. 11. ch. 5. 30. 7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, [a]That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.
8 And Zac-che'us stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I [b] ch. 3. 14. have taken any thing from any man by [b]false accusation, [c] Ex. 22. 1. 1 Sam. 12. 3 2 Sam. 12. 6 [c]I restore him fourfold.
9 And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as [d] Rom. 4. 11, 12, 16. Gal. 3. 7. [d]he also is [e] ch. 13. 16. [e]a son of A'bra-ham.
10 [f] Matt. 18. 11. See Matt. 10. 6. & 15. 24. [f]For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.
11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Je-ru'sa-lem, and because [g] Acts 1. 6. [g]they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

36 and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired
37 what this meant. And they told him that Jesus of 39 thou son of Da'vid, have mercy on me. And they that went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal,

40 Thou son of Da'vid, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked 41 him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.
42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy 43 faith hath [1]made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God. [1] Or, saved thee

19 And he entered and was passing through Jer'i-cho.
2 And behold, a man called by name Zac-chæ'us; and
3 he was a chief publican, and he was rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for 4 the crowd, because he was little of stature. And he ran on before, and climbed up into a sycomore tree
5 to see him: for he was to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zac-chæ'us, make haste, and come down; for 6 to-day I must abide at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.
7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner.
8 And Zac-chæ'us stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted aught of any man,
9 I restore fourfold. And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he 10 also is a son of A'bra-ham. For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.
11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Je-ru'sa-lem, and because they supposed that the kingdom of God

16 know what they had gained by trading. And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound
17 hath made ten pounds more. And he said unto him, Well done, thou good [4]servant: because thou wast found faithful in a very little, have thou 18 authority over ten cities. And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds.

Christ avoucheth his authority.

[a] Matt. 21. 23.

AND [a] it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders, am an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow; 23 then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and [1] I at my coming should have required it with interest? 24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him the pound, and give it unto him that hath 25 the ten pounds. And they said unto him, Lord, he 26 hath ten pounds. I say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken 27 away from him. Howbeit these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 And when he had thus spoken, he went on before, going up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

29 And it came to pass, when he drew nigh unto Beth'pha-ge and Beth'a-ny, at the mount that is called the mount of Olives, he sent two of the disciples, 30 saying, Go your way into the village over against you; in the which as ye enter ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man ever yet sat: loose him, and 31 bring him. And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The Lord hath need 32 of him. And they that were sent went away, and 33 found even as he had said unto them. And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto 34 them, Why loose ye the colt? And they said, The 35 Lord hath need of him. And they brought him to Jesus: and they threw their garments upon the 36 colt, and set Jesus thereon. And as he went, they 37 spread their garments in the way. And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all 38 the [2] mighty works which they had seen; saying, Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Phar'i-sees from the multitude said 40 unto him, [3] Master, rebuke thy disciples. And he answered and said, I tell you that, if these shall hold their peace, the stones will cry out.

For the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies shall cast up a [5] bank about thee, and compass thee round, and 44 keep thee in on every side, and shall dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 And he entered into the temple, and began to 46 cast out them that sold, saying unto them, It is written, And my house shall be a house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of robbers.

47 And he was teaching daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the principal 48 men of the people sought to destroy him: and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

20 And it came to pass, on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, there came upon him the chief priests and the scribes with the elders;

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us [b]by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

[b] Acts 4. 7. & 7. 27.

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: [c]for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable; [d]A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, [e]The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

5 And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and offerings, he said,
6 As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.
7 And they asked him, saying, [2]Master, when therefore shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are about to come to pass?
8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not led astray: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am he; and, The time is at hand: go ye not after them.
9 And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not terrified: for these things must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.
10 Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against 11 nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be great earthquakes, and in divers places famines and pestilences; and there shall be ter-
12 rors and great signs from heaven. But before all these things, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and [h]into prisons, [i]being brought before kings and rulers [k]for my name's sake.

[3] Or, and saw them that ... treasury, and they were rich.

13 And [l]it shall turn to you for a testimony.

14 [m]Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:

15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, [n]which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.

16 [o]And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and [p]some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

17 And [q]ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

18 [r]But there shall not a hair of your head perish.

19 In your patience possess ye your souls.

20 [s]And when ye shall see Je-ru'sa-lem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

21 Then let them which are in Ju-de'a flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out; and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto.

22 For these be the days of vengeance, that [t]all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 [u]But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Je-ru'sa-lem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, [x]until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 ¶ [y]And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: [z]for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Son of man [a]coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for [b]your redemption draweth nigh.

29 [c]And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

33 [d]Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.

34 ¶ And [e]take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 For [f]as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 [g]Watch ye therefore, and [h]pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and [i]to stand before the Son of man.

37 [k]And in the daytime he was teaching in the temple; and [l]at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

and shall persecute you, [1]delivering you up to the synagogues and prisons, [1]bringing you before kings 13 and governors for my name's sake. It shall turn
14 unto you for a testimony. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate beforehand how to answer:
15 for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or 16 to gainsay. But ye shall be delivered up even by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and some of you [2]shall they cause to be put to death.
17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's
18 sake. And not a hair of your head shall perish.
19 In your patience ye shall win your [3]souls.
20 But when ye see Je-ru'sa-lem compassed with armies,
21 then know that her desolation is at hand. Then let them that are in Ju-dæ'a flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein.
22 For these are days of vengeance, that all things
23 which are written may be fulfilled. Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the [4]land,
24 and wrath unto this people. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led captive into all the nations: and Je-ru'sa-lem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be 25 fulfilled. And there shall be signs in sun and moon and stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the billows;
26 men [5]fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on [6]the world: for the powers of 27 the heavens shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power
28 and great glory. But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads; because your redemption draweth nigh.
29 And he spake to them a parable: Behold the fig
30 tree, and all the trees: when they now shoot forth ye see it and know of your own selves that the sum-31 mer is now nigh. Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of 32 God is nigh. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be accom-
33 plished. Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.
34 But take heed to yourselves, lest haply your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day come on you suddenly
35 as a snare: for so shall it come upon all them that 36 dwell on the face of all the earth. But watch ye at every season, making supplication, that ye may prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.
37 And every day he was teaching in the temple; and every night he went out, and lodged in the mount 38 that is called the mount of Olives. And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh,
2 which is called the Passover. And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death; for they feared the people.

THE LAST SUPPER.—St. Matthew 26: 27.

A. D. 33.

3 ¶ [c]Then entered Sa'tan into Jud'as surnamed Is-car'i-ot, being of the number of the twelve.
4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.
5 And they were glad, and [d]covenanted to give him money.
6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them ||in the absence of the multitude.
7 ¶ [e]Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.
8 And he sent Pe'ter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.
9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?
10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in.
11 And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?
12 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.
13 And they went and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.
14 [f]And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.
15 And he said unto them, ||With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:
16 For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, [g]until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.
17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves:
18 For [h]I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.
19 ¶ [i]And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: [k]this do in remembrance of me.
20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, [l]This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.
21 ¶ [m]But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.
22 [n]And truly the Son of man goeth, [o]as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!
23 [p]And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.
24 ¶ [q]And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.
25 [r]And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.
26 [s]But ye shall not be so: [t]but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.
27 [u]For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but [x]I am among you as he that serveth.
28 Ye are they which have continued with me in [y]my temptations.
29 And [z]I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;
30 That [a]ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, [b]and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Is'ra-el.
31 ¶ And the Lord said, Si'mon, Si'mon, behold, [c]Sa'tan hath desired to have you, that he may [d]sift you as wheat:
32 But [e]I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: [f]and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.
33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.
34 [g]And he said, I tell thee, Pe'ter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

A. D. 33.

3 And Sa'tan entered into Ju'das who was called 4 Is-car'i-ot, being of the number of the twelve. And he went away and communed with the chief priests and 5 captains, how he might deliver him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.
6 And he consented, and sought opportunity to deliver him unto them [1]in the absence of the multitude.
7 And the day of unleavened bread came on which 8 the passover must be sacrificed. And he sent Pe'ter and John, saying, Go and make ready for us the 9 passover, that we may eat. And they said unto him,
10 Where wilt thou that we make ready? And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he goeth.
11 And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The [2]Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my
12 disciples? And he will shew you a large upper room
13 furnished: there make ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.
14 And when the hour was come, he sat down, and 15 the apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with 16 you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat
17 it, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. And he received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, Take this and divide it among youselves:
18 for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God
19 shall come. And he took [3]bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body [4]which is given for you: this do in 20 remembrance of me. And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, This cup is the new [5]covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you.
21 But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with 22 me on the table. For the Son of man indeed goeth, as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man
23 through whom he is betrayed! And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.
24 And there arose also a contention among them,
25 which of them is accounted to be [6]greatest. And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles have lordship over them; and they that have authority over
26 them are called Benefactors. But ye shall not be so: but he that is the greater among you let him become as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth 27 serve. For whether is greater, he that [7]sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that [7]sitteth at meat? but I am in the midst of you as he that serveth.
28 But ye are they which have continued with me in 29 my temptations; and [8]I appoint unto you a kingdom, 30 even as my Father appointed unto me, that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom: and ye shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of 31 Is'ra-el. Si'mon, Si'mon, behold, Sa'tan [9]asked to 32 have you, that he might sift you as wheat: but I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and do thou when once thou hast turned again,
33 stablish thy brethren. And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both to prison and to 34 death. And he said, I tell thee, Pe'ter, the cock shall not crow this day, until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 [k]And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.

37 For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, [l]And he was reckoned among the transgressors; for the things concerning me have an end.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ [k]And he came out, and [l]went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives; and his disciples also followed him.

40 [m]And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

41 [n]And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou be †willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, [o]not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared [p]an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.

44 [q]And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and [r]pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, [s]behold a multitude, and he that was called Ju'das, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him.

48 But Jesus said unto him, Ju'das, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49 When they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 ¶ And [t]one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 [u]Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: [v]but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 ¶ [w]Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. [x]And Pe'ter followed afar off.

55 [a]And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were sat down together, Pe'ter sat down among them.

56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.

57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 [b]And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Pe'ter said, Man, I am not.

59 [c]And about the space of one hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him; for he is a Gal-i-le'an.

60 And Pe'ter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.

61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Pe'ter. [d]And Pe'ter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, [e]Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

62 And Pe'ter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ [f]And the men that held Jesus mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that smote thee?

54 And they seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. But 55 Pe'ter followed afar off. And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the court, and had sat down together, Pe'ter sat in the midst of them.
56 And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking stedfastly upon him, said,
57 This man also was with him. But he denied, say-
58 ing, Woman, I know him not. And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one
59 of them. But Pe'ter said, Man, I am not. And after the space of about one hour another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with 60 him: for he is a Gal-i-le'an. But Pe'ter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, 61 while he yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked upon Pe'ter. And Pe'ter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, Before the cock crow this day, thou shalt deny 62 me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

63 And the men that held [5]Jesus mocked him, and 64 beat him. And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, Prophesy: who is he that struck thee?

[1]Or, and he that hath no sword, let him sell his cloke, and buy one.

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 ¶ [g]And as soon as it was day, [h]the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, saying,

67 [i]Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe:

68 And if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go.

69 [k]Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, [l]Ye say that I am.

71 [m]And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Herod mocketh Christ.

AND [a]the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pi'late.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow [b]perverting the nation, and [c]forbidding to give tribute to Ce'sar, saying, [d]That he himself is Christ a king.

3 [e]And Pi'late asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pi'late to the chief priests and to the people, [f]I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jew'ry, beginning from Gal'i-lee to this place.

6 When Pi'late heard of Gal'i-lee, he asked whether the man were a Gal-i-le'an.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto [g]Her'od's jurisdiction, he sent him to Her'od, who himself also was at Je-ru'sa-lem at that time.

8 ¶ And when Her'od saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for [h]he was desirous to see him of a long season, because [i]he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 [k]And Her'od with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pi'late.

12 And the same day [l]Pi'late and Her'od were made friends together; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¶ [m]And Pi'late, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, [n]Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold, [o]I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him;

15 No, nor yet Her'od: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 [p]I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 [q](For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)

18 And [r]they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Ba-rab'bas:

19 (Who, for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

20 Pi'late therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him; I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

65 And many other things spake they against him, reviling him.

66 And as soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away
67 into their council, saying, If thou art the Christ, tell us. But he said unto them, If I tell you, ye 68 will not believe: and if I ask you, ye will not 69 answer. But from henceforth shall the Son of man be seated at the right hand of the power of 70 God. And they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, [1]Ye say that I 71 am. And they said, What further need have we of witness? for we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.

[1] Or, Ye say it, because I am.

23 And the whole company of them rose up, and
2 brought him before Pi'late. And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cæ'sar,
3 and saying that he himself is [2]Christ a king. And Pi'late asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest.
4 And Pi'late said unto the chief priests and the mul-
5 titudes, I find no fault in this man. But they were the more urgent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Ju-dæ'a, and beginning from 6 Gal'i-lee even unto this place. But when Pi'late heard
7 it, he asked whether the man were a Gal-i-læ'an. And when he knew that he was of Her'od's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Her'od, who himself also was at Je-ru'sa-lem in these days.
8 Now when Her'od saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was of a long time desirous to see him, because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped 9 to see some [3]miracle done by him. And he questioned him in many words; but he answered him
10 nothing. And the chief priests and the scribes
11 stood, vehemently accusing him. And Her'od with his soldiers set him at nought, and mocked him, and arraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to 12 Pi'late. And Her'od and Pi'late became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.
13 And Pi'late called together the chief priests and 14 the rulers and the people, and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, having examined him before you, found no fault in this man touching those 15 things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Her'od: for he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing
16 worthy of death hath been done by him. I will 18 therefore chastise him, and release him.[4] But they cried out all together, saying, Away with this man,
19 and release unto us Ba-rab'bas: one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and for murder,
20 was cast into prison. And Pi'late spake unto them
21 again, desiring to release Jesus; but they shouted,
22 saying, Crucify, crucify him. And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath this man done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him and release him.

[3] Gr. sign.
[4] Many ancient authorities insert ver. 17. Now he must needs release unto them at the feast one prisoner. Others add the same words after ver. 19.

A. D. 33.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And [a]Pi'late ||gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

26 [c]And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Si'mon a Cy-re'ni-an, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

27 ¶And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Je-ru'-sa-lem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 [e]For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 [g]Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 [i]For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 [k]And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 And [m]when they were come to the place which is called ||Cal'va-ry, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ¶Then said Jesus, Father, [o]forgive them; for [p]they know not what they do. And [q]they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And [r]the people stood beholding. And the [s]rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself.

38 [v]And a superscription also was written over him, in letters of Greek, and Latin, and He'brew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶[x]And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 [c]And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the ||earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and [k]the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

46 ¶And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, [l]Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: [m]and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 [n]Now, when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts and returned.

49 [o]And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Gal'i-lee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ¶[p]And, behold, there was a man named Jo'seph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them:) he was of Ar-i-ma-the'a, a city of the Jews; [q]who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pi'late, and begged the body of Jesus.

55 And the women also, [t]which came with him from Gal'i-lee, followed after, and [u]beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and [z]prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day, [y]according to the commandment.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Christ's resurrection declared.

NOW [a]upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, [b]bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 [c]And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 [d]And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, [e]behold, two men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye ‖the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: [f]remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Gal'i-lee,

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And [g]they remembered his words,

9 [h]And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Mag-da-le'ne, and [i]Jo-an'na, and Ma'ry the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 [k]And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 [l]Then arose Pe'ter, and ran unto the sepulchre: and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 ¶ [m]And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Em'ma-us, which was from Je-ru'sa-lem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, [n]Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But [o]their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, [p]whose name was Cle'o-pas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Je-ru'sa-lem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Naz'a-reth, [q]which was a prophet [r]mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 [s]And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him?

21 But we trusted [t]that it had been he which should have redeemed Is'ra-el: and besides all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and [u]certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre;

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was hewn in 54 stone, where never man had yet lain. And it was the day of the Preparation, and the sabbath [1]drew 55 on. And the women, which had come with him out of Gal'i-lee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, 56 and how his body was laid. And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments.

24 And on the sabbath they rested according to the commandment. But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, bringing
2 the spices which they had prepared. And they
3 found the stone rolled away from the tomb. And they entered in, and found not the body [2]of the 4 Lord Jesus. And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by 5 them in dazzling apparel: and as they were affrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye [3]the living among 6 the dead? [4]He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Gal'i-lee,
7 saying that the Son of man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and 8 the third day rise again. And they remembered
9 his words, and returned [5]from the tomb, and told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest.
10 Now they were Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and Jo-an'na, and Ma'ry the mother of James: and the other women
11 with them told these things unto the apostles. And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk;
12 and they disbelieved them. [6]But Pe'ter arose, and ran unto the tomb; and stooping and looking in he seeth the linen cloths by themselves; and he [7]departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

13 And behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Em'ma-us, which was three-14 score furlongs from Je-ru'sa-lem. And they communed with each other of all these things which 15 had happened. And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus him-
16 self drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know
17 him. And he said unto them, [8]What communications are these that ye have one with another, as 18 ye walk? And they stood still, looking sad. And one of them, named Cle'o-pas, answering said unto him, [9]Dost thou alone sojourn in Je-ru'sa-lem and not know the things which are come to pass there in 19 these days? And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, The things concerning Jesus of Naz'a-reth, which was a prophet mighty in 20 deed and word before God and all the people: and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him.
21 But we hoped that it was he which should redeem Is'ra-el. Yea and beside all this, it is now the third 22 day since these things came to pass. Moreover certain women of our company amazed us, having 23 been early at the tomb; and when they found not his body, they came, saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

A. D. 33.

24 And [q]certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:

26 [r]Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 [s]And beginning at [t]Mo'ses and [u]all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and [v]he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But [w]they constrained him, saying, Abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, [x]he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he ‖ vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Je-ru'sa-lem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and [z]hath appeared to Si'mon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶[a]And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen [b]a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: [c]handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet believed not [d]for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, [e]Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of a honeycomb.

43 [f]And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, [g]These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Mo'ses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.

45 Then [h]opened he their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures,

46 And said unto them, [i]Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 And that repentance and [k]remission of sins should be preached in his name [l]among all nations, beginning at Je-ru'sa-lem.

48 And [m]ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶[n]And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Je-ru'sa-lem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

50 ¶And he led them out as [o]far as to Beth'a-ny, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51 [p]And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 [r]And they worshipped him, and returned to Je-ru'salem with great joy:

53 And were continually [s]in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

S. JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

The divinity of Christ—John's testimony of him.

[a]Prov. 8. 22, 23, &c. Col. 1. 17. [b]Prov. 8. 30. ch. 17. 5. 1 John 1. 2. [c]Phil. 2. 6. 1 John 5. 7. [d]Gen. 1. 1. [e]Ps. 33. 6. Col. 1. 16. ver. 10. [f]ch. 5. 26. 1 John 5. 11

IN the beginning [a]was the Word, and the Word was [b]with God, [c]and the Word was God.

2 [d]The same was in the beginning with God.

3 [e]All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 [f]In him was life; and [g]the life was the light of men.

5 And [h]the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

A. D. 26.

6 ¶[i]There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 [k]The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

9 [l]That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and [m]the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 [n]He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But [o]as many as received him, to them gave he ‖ power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

13 [p]Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 [q]And the Word [r]was made [s]flesh, and dwelt among us, (and [t]we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) [u]full of grace and truth.

15 ¶[v]John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, [w]He that cometh after me is preferred before me; [x]for he was before me.

16 And of his [y]fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For [z]the law was given by Mo'ses, but [a]grace and [b]truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 [c]No man hath seen God at any time; [d]the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 ¶And this is [e]the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Le'vites from Je-ru'salem, to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And [f]he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou [g]E-li'as? And he saith, I am not. Art thou [h]‖ that prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23 [i]He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as [k]said the prophet E-sa'ias.

24 And they which were sent were of the Phar'i-sees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor E-li'as, neither that prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, [l]I baptize with water: [m]but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

27 [n]He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done [o]in Beth-ab'a-ra beyond Jor'dan, where John was baptizing.

29 ¶The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold [p]the Lamb of God, [q]which ‖ taketh away the sin of the world!

30 [r]This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me; for he was before me.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

S. JOHN.

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word
2 was with God, and the Word was God. The same
3 was in the beginning with God. All things were made [1]by him: and without him [2]was not anything
4 made that hath been made. In him was life; and
5 the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness [3]apprehended it
6 not. There came a man, sent from God, whose name
7 was John. The same came for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, that all might believe
8 through him. He was not the light, but came that 9 he might bear witness of the light. [4]There was the true light, even the light which lighteth [5]every man,
10 coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made [1]by him, and the world knew 11 him not. He came unto [6]his own, and they that 12 were his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his 13 name: which were [7]born, not of [8]blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.
14 And the Word became flesh, and [9]dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of [10]the only begotten from the Father), full of grace and truth.
15 John beareth witness of him, and crieth, saying, [11]This was he of whom I said, He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was [12]before me.
16 For of his fulness we all received, and grace for 17 grace. For the law was given [1]by Mo'ses; grace
18 and truth came [1]by Jesus Christ. No man hath seen God at any time; [13]the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.
19 And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent unto him from Je-ru'sa-lem priests and Le'vites to 21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou E-li'jah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou the prophet?

22 And he answered, No. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?
23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said
24 I-sa'iah the prophet. [14]And they had been sent from 25 the Phar'i-sees. And they asked him, and said unto him, Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the 26 Christ, neither E-li'jah, neither the prophet? John answered them, saying, I baptize [15]with water: in the 27 midst of you standeth one whom ye know not, even he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe
28 I am not worthy to unloose. These things were done in [16]Beth'a-ny beyond Jor'dan, where John was baptizing.
29 On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, the Lamb of God, which

A. D. 30.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Is'ra-el, [t]therefore am I come baptizing with water.
32 [u]And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, [x]the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.
34 And I saw, and bare record, that this is the Son of God.
35 ¶Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;
36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, [y]Behold the Lamb of God!
37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.
38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where || dwellest thou?
39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was || about the tenth hour.
40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was [a]An'drew, Si'mon Pe'ter's brother.
41 He first findeth his own brother Si'mon, and saith unto him, We have found the Mes-si'as; which is, being interpreted, || the Christ.
42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Si'mon the son of Jo'na: [a]thou shalt be called Ce'phas, which is by interpretation, || A stone.
43 ¶The day following Jesus would go forth into Gal'i-lee, and findeth Phil'ip, and saith unto him, Follow me.
44 Now [b]Phil'ip was of Beth-sa'i-da, the city of An'drew and Pe'ter.
45 Phil'ip findeth [c]Na-than'a-el, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom [d]Mo'ses in the law, and the [e]prophets, did write, Jesus [f]of Naz'a-reth, the son of Jo'seph.
46 And Na-than'a-el said unto him, [g]Can there any good thing come out of Naz'a-reth? Phil'ip saith unto him, Come and see.
47 Jesus saw Na-than'a-el coming to him, and saith of him, Behold [h]an Is'ra-el-ite indeed, in whom is no guile!
48 Na-than'a-el saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Phil'ip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.
49 Na-than'a-el answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, [i]thou art the Son of God; thou art [k]the King of Is'ra-el.
50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.
51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [l]Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAPTER II.

Christ turneth water into wine.

AND the third day there was a marriage in [a]Ca'na of Gal'i-lee; and the mother of Jesus was there:
2 And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.
3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.
4 Jesus saith unto her, [b]Woman, [c]what have I to do with thee? [d]mine hour is not yet come.
5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.
6 And there were set there six waterpots of stone, [e]after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three || firkins apiece.
7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

37 walked, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God! And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed 38 Jesus. And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi (which is to say, being inter-39 preted, [2]Master), where abidest thou? He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was about the tenth hour.
40 One of the two that heard John speak, and followed 41 him, was An'drew, Si'mon Pe'ter's brother. He findeth first his own brother Si'mon, and saith unto him, We have found the Mes-si'ah (which is, being inter-42 preted, [3]Christ). He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Si'mon the son of [4]John: thou shalt be called Ce'phas (which is by interpretation, [5]Pe'ter).
43 On the morrow he was minded to go forth into Gal'i-lee, and he findeth Phil'ip: and Jesus saith unto 44 him, Follow me. Now Phil'ip was from Beth-sa'i-da,
45 of the city of An'drew and Pe'ter. Phil'ip findeth Na-than'a-el, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Mo'ses in the law, and the prophets, did 46 write, Jesus of Naz'a-reth, the son of Jo'seph. And Na-than'a-el said unto him, Can any good thing come out of Naz'a-reth? Phil'ip saith unto him, Come and 47 see. Jesus saw Na-than'a-el coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, an Is'ra-el-ite indeed, in whom is no
48 guile! Na-than'a-el saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Phil'ip called thee, when thou wast under the 49 fig tree, I saw thee. Na-than'a-el answered him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art King of Is'ra-el.
50 Jesus answered and said unto him. Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than 51 these. And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

2 And the third day there was a marriage in Ca'na of Gal'i-lee; and the mother of Jesus was there:
2 and Jesus also was bidden, and his disciples, to
3 the marriage. And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no
4 wine. And Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet
5 come. His mother saith unto the servants, What-
6 soever he saith unto you, do it. Now there were six waterpots of stone set there after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three firkins
7 apiece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted [f]the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Ca'na of Gal'i-lee, [g]and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 ¶ After this he went down to Ca-per'na-um, he, and his mother, and [h]his brethren, and his disciples; and they continued there not many days.

13 ¶ [i]And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

14 [k]And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not [l]my Father's house a house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, [m]The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 ¶ Then answered the Jews and said unto him, [n]What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, [o]Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake [p]of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, [q]his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 ¶ Now when he was in Je-ru'sa-lem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men,

25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for [r]he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER III.

The necessity of regeneration.

THERE was a man of the Phar'i-sees named Nic-o-de'mus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 [a]The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for [b]no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except [c]God be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [d]Except a man be born ‖again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nic-o-de'mus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [e]Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born ‖again.

8 [f]The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nic-o-de'mus answered and said unto him, [g]How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Is'ra-el, and knowest not these things?

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear
9 unto the [1]ruler of the feast. And they bare it. And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water [2]now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler
10 of the feast calleth the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse: thou hast kept the good wine until now.
11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Ca'na of Gal'i-lee, and manifested his glory; and his disciples believed on him.
12 After this he went down to Ca-per'na-um, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.
13 And the passover of the Jews was at hand, and 14 Jesus went up to Je-ru'sa-len. And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, 15 and the changers of money sitting: and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the 16 changers' money, and overthrew their tables; and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house
17 of merchandise. His disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house shall eat me
18 up. The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that 19 thou doest these things? Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this [3]temple, and in three days
20 I will raise it up. The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this [3]temple in building, and wilt 21 thou raise it up in three days? But he spake of the 22 [3]temple of his body. When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.
23 Now when he was in Je-ru'sa-lem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, beholding
24 his signs which he did. But Jesus did not trust him-
25 self unto them, for that he knew all men, and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning [4]man; for he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the Phar'i-sees, named
2 Nic-o-de'mus, a ruler of the Jews: the same came unto him by night, and said to him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou doest, except God be with 3 him. Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born [5]anew,
4 he cannot see the kingdom of God. Nic-o-de'mus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter a second time into his mother's 5 womb, and be born? Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.
6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that
7 which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not
8 that I said unto thee, Ye must be born [5]anew. [6]The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that 9 is born of the Spirit. Nic-o-de'mus answered and 10 said unto him, How can these things be? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Is'ra-el, and understandest not these things?

13 And [b]no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.
14 ¶ [t]And as Mo'ses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so [m]must the Son of man be lifted up:
15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but [n]have eternal life.
16 ¶ [o]For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
17 [p]For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.
18 ¶ [q]He that believeth on him, is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.
19 And this is the condemnation, [r]that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil.
20 For [s]every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be || reproved.
21 But he that doeth truth, cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.
22 ¶ After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Ju-de'a; and there he tarried with them, [t]and baptized.

24 For [y]John was not yet cast into prison.
25 ¶ Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying.
26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jor'dan, [z]to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.
27 John answered and said, [a]A man can || receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.
28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, [b]I am not the Christ, but [c]that I am sent before him.

35 [o]The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand.
36 [p]He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not [q]see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAPTER IV.

The woman of Samaria.

WHEN therefore the Lord knew how the Phar'i-sees had heard that Jesus made and [a]baptized more disciples than John,
2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,)
3 He left Ju-de'a, and departed again into Gal'i-lee.
4 And he must needs go through Sa-ma'ri-a.
5 Then cometh he to a city of Sa-ma'ri-a, which is called Sy'char, near to the parcel of ground [b]that Ja'cob gave to his son Jo'seph.
6 Now Ja'cob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied

11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and bear witness of that we have seen; and ye
12 receive not our witness. If I told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you 13 heavenly things? And no man hath ascended into heaven, but he that descended out of heaven, even 14 the Son of man, [1]which is in heaven. And as Mo'ses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must 15 the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever [2]believeth may in him have eternal life.
16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him
17 should not perish, but have eternal life. For God sent not the Son into the world to judge the world; but that the world should be saved through him.
18 He that believeth on him is not judged: he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten
19 Son of God. And this is the judgment that the light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their works were 20 evil. For every one that [3]doeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should 21 be [4]reproved. But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, [5]that they have been wrought in God.
22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Ju-dæ'a; and there he tarried with 23 them, and baptized. And John also was baptizing in Æ'non near to Sa'lim, because there [6]was much 24 water there: and they came, and were baptized. For 25 John was not yet cast into prison. There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples
26 with a Jew about purifying. And they came unto John, and said to him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jor'dan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to 27 him. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it have been given him from heaven.
28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not 29 the Christ, but, that I am sent before him. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice:
30 this my joy therefore is fulfilled. He must increase, but I must decrease.
31 He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is of the earth, and of the earth he speaketh: [7]he that cometh from heaven is above all.
32 What he hath seen and heard, of that he beareth 33 witness; and no man receiveth his witness. He that hath received his witness hath set his seal to 34 this that God is true. For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for he giveth not the 35 Spirit by measure. The Father loveth the Son, and 36 hath given all things into his hand. He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but he that [8]obeyeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

4 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Phar'i-sees had heard that Jesus was making and with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Sa-ma'ri-a, to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.)

9 Then saith the woman of Sa-ma'ri-a unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Sa-ma'ri-a? for [c]the Jews have no dealings with the Sa-mar'i-tans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee [d]living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Ja'cob, which gave us the well, and himself drank thereof, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst again:

14 But [e]whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him [f]shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 [g]The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, [h]I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshiped in [i]this mountain; and ye say, that in [k]Je-ru'sa-lem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, [l]when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Je-ru'sa-lem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship [m]ye know not what: we know what we worship; for [n]salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in [o]spirit [p]and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 [q]God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Mes-si'as cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, [r]he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith unto her, [s]I that speak unto thee am he.

27 ¶And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men,

29 Come, see a man, [t]which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him aught to eat?

34 Jesus saith unto them, [u]My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; [x]for they are white already to harvest.

36 [y]And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

with his journey, sat [1]thus by the [2]well. It was 7 about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Sa-ma'ri-a to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give 8 me to drink. For his disciples were gone away into 9 the city to buy food. The Sa-mar'i-tan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Sa-mar'i-tan woman?
10 ([3]For Jews have no dealings with Sa-mar'i-tans.) Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink: thou wouldest have asked of him, and he 11 would have given thee living water. The woman saith unto him, [4]Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with,
and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou 12 that living water? Art thou greater than our father
Ja'cob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof 13 himself, and his sons, and his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this 14 water shall thirst again: but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life.
15 The woman saith unto him, [4]Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way 16 hither to draw. Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy 17 husband, and come hither. The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto 18 her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is 19 not thy husband: this hast thou said truly. The woman saith unto him, [4]Sir, I perceive that thou art 20 a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, that in Je-ru'sa-lem is the place where 21 men ought to worship. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when neither in this mountain, nor in Je-ru'sa-lem, shall ye worship 22 the Father. Ye worship that which ye know not:
we worship that which we know: for salvation is 23 from the Jews. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: [5]for such doth the Father seek 24 to be his worshippers. [6]God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth.
25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Mes-si'ah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, 26 he will declare unto us all things. Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.
27 And upon this came his disciples; and they mar-velled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest 28 thou with her? So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, which told me all things that 30 ever I did: can this be the Christ? They went 31 out of the city, and were coming to him. In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, Rabbi, 32 eat. But he said unto them, I have meat to eat 33 that ye know not. The disciples therefore said one to another, Hath any man brought him aught 34 to eat? Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to accom-35 plish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are [7]white already unto harvest.
36 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that he that soweth and he 37 that reapeth may rejoice together. For herein is the saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 ¶And many of the Sa-mar'i-tans of that city believed on him, [a]for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Sa-mar'i-tans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed because of his own word;

42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for [c]we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43 ¶Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Gal'i-lee.

44 For [b]Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Gal'i-lee, the Gal-i-le'ans received him, [c]having seen all the things that he did at Je-ru'sa-lem at the feast: [d]for they also went unto the feast.

46 So Jesus came again into Ca'na of Gal'i-lee, [e]where he made the water wine. And there was a certain ‖nobleman, whose son was sick at Ca-per'na-um.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Ju-de'a into Gal'i-lee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jesus unto him, [f]Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Ju-de'a into Gal'i-lee.

CHAPTER V

The impotent man healed.

A. D. 31.

AFTER [a]this there was a feast of the Jews: and Jesus went up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

2 Now there is at Je-ru'sa-lem, [b]by the sheep ‖market, a pool, which is called in the He'brew tongue, Be-thes'da, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, [c]Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and [d]on the same day was the sabbath.

10 ¶The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: [e]it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, and ye are entered into their labour.

39 And from that city many of the Sa-mar'i-tans believed on him because of the word of the woman, who testified, He told me all things that ever I did.

40 So when the Sa-mar'i-tans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them: and he abode there

41 two days. And many more believed because of his

42 word; and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking: for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

43 And after the two days he went forth from thence 44 into Gal'i-lee. For Jesus himself testified, that a

45 prophet hath no honour in his own country. So when he came into Gal'i-lee, the Gal-i-læ'ans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Je-ru'sa-lem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

46 He came therefore again unto Ca'na of Gal'i-lee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain [1]nobleman, whose son was sick at Ca-per'-

47 na-um. When he heard that Jesus was come out of Ju-dæ'a into Gal'i-lee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son;

48 for he was at the point of death. Jesus therefore said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye

49 will in no wise believe. The [1]nobleman saith unto

50 him, [2]Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he 51 went his way. And as he was now going down, his [3]servants met him, saying, that his son lived.

52 So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday

53 at the seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed,

54 and his whole house. This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Ju-dæ'a into Gal'i-lee.

5 After these things there was [4]a feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

2 Now there is in Je-ru'sa-lem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called in He'brew [5]Be-thes'da, having

3 five porches. In these lay a multitude of them that

5 were sick, blind, halt, withered[6]. And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight

6 years in his infirmity. When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou be made

7 whole? The sick man answered him, [2]Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth

8 down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Arise,

9 take up thy bed, and walk. And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

10 Now it was the sabbath on that day. So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed.

A. D. 31.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.
12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?
13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, || a multitude being in that place.
14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: [f]sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.
15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.
16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.
17 ¶But Jesus answered them, [g]My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.
18 Therefore the Jews [h]sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, [i]making himself equal with God.
19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [k]The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do; for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.
20 For [l]the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.
21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; [m]even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.
22 For the Father judgeth no man, but [n]hath committed all judgment unto the Son:
23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. [o]He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.
24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [p]He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; [q]but is passed from death unto life.
25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when [r]the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.
26 For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;
27 And [s]hath given him authority to execute judgment also, [t]because he is the Son of man.
28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,
29 [u]And shall come forth; [x]they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.
30 [y]I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because [z]I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.
31 [a]If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.
32 ¶[b]There is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.
33 Ye sent unto John, [c]and he bare witness unto the truth.
34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.
35 He was a burning and [d]a shining light: and [e]ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.
36 ¶But [f]I have greater witness than that of John: for [g]the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.
37 And the Father himself which hath sent me, [h]hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, [i]nor seen his shape.
38 And ye have not his word abiding in you; for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

11 But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.
12 They asked him, Who is the man that said unto 13 thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? But he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed 14 himself away, a multitude being in the place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more,
15 lest a worse thing befall thee. The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made

17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even 18 until now, and I work. For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.
19 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them,
Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the 20 Son also doeth in like manner. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and greater works than these will 21 he shew him, that ye may marvel. For as the Father raiseth the dead and quickeneth them, even 22 so the Son also quickeneth whom he will. For neither doth the Father judge any man, but he hath 23 given all judgement unto the Son; that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the 24 Father which sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and cometh not into judgement, but hath passed out of death into life.
25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall 26 live. For as the Father hath life in himself, even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself:
27 and he gave him authority to execute judge-
28 ment, because he is [1]the Son of man. Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all that are 29 in the tombs shall hear his voice, and shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have [2]done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.
30 I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is righteous; because I seek not

34 unto the truth. But the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye
35 may be saved. He was the lamp that burneth and shineth: and ye were willing to rejoice for a season
36 in his light. But the witness which I have is greater than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me that the Father hath 37 sent me. And the Father which sent me, he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his 38 voice at any time, nor seen his form. And ye have not his word abiding in you; for whom he sent,
39 him ye believe not. [3]Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life, and these are they which bear witness of me;

CHAPTER VI.

Five thousand miraculously fed.

A. D. 32.

AFTER [a]these things Jesus went over the sea of Gal'i-lee, which is the sea of Ti-be'ri-as.
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.
3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.
4 [b]And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.
5 ¶[c]When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Phil'ip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?
6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.
7 Phil'ip answered him, [d]Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.
8 One of his disciples, An'drew, Si'mon Pe'ter's brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: [e]but what are they among so many?
10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.
11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.
12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.
13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.
14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth [f]that Prophet that should come into the world.
15 ¶When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.
16 [g]And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,
17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Ca-per'na-um. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.
18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.
19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship; and they were afraid.
20 But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid.
21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at [h]the land whither they went.
22 ¶The day following, when the people, which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;
23 Howbeit there came other boats from Ti-be'ri-as 41, 42 I receive not glory from men. But I know you, that 43 ye have not the love of God in yourselves. I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will 44 receive. How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and the glory that cometh from [1]the 45 only God ye seek not? Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, 46 even Mo'ses, on whom ye have set your hope. For if ye believed Mo'ses, ye would believe me; for he 47 wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

6 After these things Jesus went away to the other side of the sea of Gal'i-lee, which is the sea of Ti-be'ri-as.
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that were sick.
3 And Jesus went up into the mountain, and there he
4 sat with his disciples. Now the passover, the feast
5 of the Jews, was at hand. Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto Phil'ip, Whence are we to buy
6 [2]bread, that these may eat? And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.
7 Phil'ip answered him, Two hundred [3]pennyworth of [2]bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may 8 take a little. One of his disciples, An'drew, Si'mon
9 Pe'ter's brother, saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but 10 what are these among so many? Jesus said, Make the people sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about 11 five thousand. Jesus therefore took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; likewise also of the fishes as much as they
12 would. And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which re-
13 main over, that nothing be lost. So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto 14 them that had eaten. When therefore the people saw the [4]sign which he did, they said, This is of a truth the prophet that cometh into the world.
15 Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again into the mountain himself alone.
16 And when evening came, his disciples went down
17 unto the sea; and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Ca-per'na-um. And it was 18 now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that 19 blew. When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat:
20 and they were afraid. But he saith unto them, It is 21 I; be not afraid. They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat: and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.
22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other
[5]boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went 23 away alone (howbeit there came [6]boats from Ti-be'ri-as nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Ca-per'na-um, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ‖ Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but [h]for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: [i]for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do that we might work the works of God?

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, [k]This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, [l]What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 [m]Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, [n]He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 [o]Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, [p]I am the bread of life: [q]he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 [r]But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 [s]All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and [t]him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, [u]not to do mine own will, [x]but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, [y]that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, [z]that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, [a]Is not this Jesus, the son of Jo'seph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 [b]No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 [c]It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. [d]Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 [e]Not that any man hath seen the Father, [f]save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [g]He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 [h]I am that bread of life.

49 [i]Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 [k]This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread [l]which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever: and [m]the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore [n]strove among themselves, saying, [o]How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom [2]he hath sent.
30 They said therefore unto him, What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? what

35 bread. Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that 36 believeth on me shall never thirst. But I said unto 37 you, that ye have seen me, and yet believe not. All that which the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise
38 cast out. For I am come down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent 39 me. And this is the will of him that sent me, that of all that which he hath given me I should lose 40 nothing, but should raise it up at the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that every one that beholdeth the Son, and believeth on him, should have eternal life; and [3]I will raise him up at the last day.
41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, I am the bread which came down

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except [p]ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 [q]Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, [r]dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father; so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 [s]This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Ca-per'na-um.

60 [t]Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 [u]What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 [x]It is the Spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 But [y]there are some of you that believe not. For [z]Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore [a]said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 ¶[b]From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Si'mon Pe'ter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast [c]the words of eternal life.

69 [d]And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 Jesus answered them, [e]Have not I chosen you twelve, [f]and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, the son of Si'mon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER VII.

Christ teacheth in the temple.

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Gal'i-lee: for he would not walk in Jew'ry, [a]because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 [b]Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 [c]His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Ju-de'a, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.

5 For [d]neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, [e]My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 [f]The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, [g]because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; [h]for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Gal'i-lee.

10 ¶But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then [i]the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And [k]there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for [l]some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him, [m]for fear of the Jews.

53 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, ye have not life in yourselves.

54 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is [1]meat indeed, and my blood is [2]drink

56 indeed. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my 57 blood abideth in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of

58 me. This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that

59 eateth this bread shall live for ever. These things said he in [3]the synagogue, as he taught in Ca-per'na-um.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear [4]it?

61 But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you

62 to stumble? What then if ye should behold the

63 Son of man ascending where he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are

64 spirit, and are life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it was 65 that should betray him. And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

66 Upon this many of his disciples went back, and 67 walked no more with him. Jesus said therefore unto 68 the twelve, Would ye also go away? Si'mon Pe'ter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou 69 [5]hast the words of eternal life. And we have believed and know that thou art the Holy One of God.

70 Jesus answered them, Did not I choose you the 71 twelve, and one of you is a devil? Now he spake of Ju'das the son of Si'mon Is-car'i-ot, for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 And after these things Jesus walked in Gal'i-lee: for he would not walk in Ju-dæ'a, because the Jews

2 sought to kill him. Now the feast of the Jews, the

3 feast of tabernacles, was at hand. His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Ju-dæ'a, that thy disciples also may behold thy works

4 which thou doest. For no man doeth anything in secret, [6]and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, manifest thyself to the

5 world. For even his brethren did not believe on

6 him. Jesus therefore saith unto them, My time is

7 not yet come; but your time is alway ready. The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I

8 testify of it, that its works are evil. Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up [7]yet unto this feast; because 9 my time is not yet fulfilled. And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Gal'i-lee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publicly, but as it

11 were in secret. The Jews therefore sought him at 12 the feast, and said, Where is he? And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: some said, He is a good man; others said, 13 Not so, but he leadeth the multitude astray. Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.

14 ¶Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.
15 [a]And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man ||letters, having never learned?
16 Jesus answered them, and said, [c]My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
17 [d]If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.
18 [e]He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.
19 [f]Did not Mo'ses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? [g]Why go ye about to kill me?
20 The people answered and said, [h]Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?
21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.
22 [i]Mo'ses therefore gave unto you circumcision; (not because it is of Mo'ses, [k]but of the fathers;) and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.
23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, ||that the law of Mo'ses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because [l]I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day?
24 [m]Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.
25 Then said some of them of Je-ru'sa-lem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?
26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. [o]Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?
27 [p]Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.
28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, [q]Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and [r]I am not come of myself, but he that sent me [s]is true, [t]whom ye know not.
29 But [u]I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.
30 Then [v]they sought to take him: but [w]no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.
31 And [x]many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?
32 ¶The Phar'i-sees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Phar'i-sees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.
33 Then said Jesus unto them, [y]Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.
34 Ye [z]shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.
35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto [a]the dispersed among the ||Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?
36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?
37 [b]In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, [c]If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.
38 [d]He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, [e]out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.
39 ([f]But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given: because that Jesus was not yet [g]glorified.)
40 ¶Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is [h]the Prophet.
41 Others said, [i]This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come [k]out of Gal'i-lee?
42 [l]Hath not the Scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of Da'vid, and out of the town of Beth'le-hem, [m]where Da'vid was?
43 So [n]there was a division among the people because of him.

A. D. 32.

14 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus
15 went up into the temple, and taught. The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man 16 letters, having never learned? Jesus therefore answered them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but 17 his that sent me. If any man willeth to do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or 18 whether I speak from myself. He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is 19 true, and no unrighteousness is in him. Did not Mo'ses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth 20 the law? Why seek ye to kill me? The multitude answered, Thou hast a [1]devil: who seeketh to 21 kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them, I
22 did one work, and ye all [2]marvel. For this cause hath Mo'ses given you circumcision (not that it is of Mo'ses, but of the fathers); and on the sabbath ye
23 circumcise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Mo'ses may not be broken; are ye wroth with me, because I made 24 a man every whit whole on the sabbath? Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement.
25 Some therefore of them of Je-ru'sa-lem said, Is not 26 this he whom they seek to kill? And lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ?
27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, no one knoweth whence he is.
28 Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is 29 true, whom ye know not. I know him; because 30 I am from him, and he sent me. They sought therefore to take him: and no man laid his hand on him,
31 because his hour was not yet come. But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs
32 than those which this man hath done? The Phar'i-sees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Phar'i-
33 sees sent officers to take him. Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him
34 that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find 35 me: and where I am, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto the Dispersion [3]among the Greeks, and teach the 36 Greeks? What is this word that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?
37 Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let 38 him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly
39 shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: [4]for the Spirit was not yet given; because 40 Jesus was not yet glorified. Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This 41 is of a truth the prophet. Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, What, doth the Christ come 42 out of Gal'i-lee? Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh of the seed of Da'vid, and from 43 Beth'le-hem, the village were Da'vid was? So there arose a division in the multitude because of him.

44 And [e]some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 ¶Then came the officers to the chief priests and Phar'i-sees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, [d]Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Phar'i-sees, Are ye also deceived?

48 [e]Have any of the rulers or of the Phar'i-sees believed on him?

49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.

50 Nic-o-de'mus saith unto them, ([f]he that came †to Jesus by night, being one of them,)

51 [g]Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?

52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Gal'i-lee? Search, and look: for [h]out of Gal'i-lee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

CHAPTER VIII.

Of the woman taken in adultery.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Phar'i-sees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 [e]Now Mo'ses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them [b]He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, [c]being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, [d]Neither do I condemn thee: go, and [e]sin no more.

12 ¶Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, [f]I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 The Phar'i-sees therefore said unto him, [g]Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but [h]ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 [i]Ye judge after the flesh; [k]I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for [l]I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 [m]It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of myself, and [n]the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, [o]Ye neither know me, nor my Father: [p]if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in [q]the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and [r]no man laid hands on him; for [s]his hour was not yet come.

44 And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Phar'i-sees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not 46 bring him? The officers answered, Never man so 47 spake. The Phar'i-sees therefore answered them, Are 48 ye also led astray? Hath any of the rulers believed 49 on him, or of the Phar'i-sees? But this multitude 50 which knoweth not the law are accursed. Nic-o-de'mus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being 51 one of them), Doth our law judge a man, except it first hear from himself and know what he doeth?
52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Gal'i-lee? Search, and [1]see that out of Gal'i-lee ariseth no prophet.

53 [2][And they went every man unto his own
8 house: but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives.
2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and
3 he sat down, and taught them. And the scribes and the Phar'i-sees bring a woman taken in adul-
4 tery; and having set her in the midst, they say unto him, [3]Master, this woman hath been taken
5 in adultery, in the very act. Now in the law Mo'-ses commanded us to stone such: what then say-
6 est thou of her? And this they said, [4]tempting him, that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote
7 on the ground. But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a
8 stone at her. And again he stooped down, and with 9 his finger wrote on the ground. And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst.
10 And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee?
11 And she said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth sin no more.]

12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of 13 life. The Phar'i-sees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest witness of thyself; thy witness is not true.
14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, my witness is true; for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye know not 15 whence I come, or whither I go. Ye judge after the 16 flesh; I judge no man. Yea and if I judge, my judgement is true; for I am not alone, but I and the 17 Father that sent me. Yea and in your law it is writ-
18 ten, that the witness of two men is true. I am he that beareth witness of myself, and the Father that 19 sent me beareth witness of me. They said therefore unto him, Where thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye know neither me, nor my Father: if ye knew me, 20 ye would know my Father also. These words spake he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man took him; because his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and [t]ye shall seek me, and [u]shall die in your sins: whither I go ye cannot come.
22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.
23 And he said unto them, [x]Ye are from beneath; I am from above: [y]ye are of this world; I am not of this world.
24 [z]I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: [a]for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.
25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.
26 I have many things to say and to judge of you: but [b]he that sent me is true; and [c]I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.
27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.
28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have [d]lifted up the Son of man, [e]then shall ye know that I am he, and [f]that I do nothing of myself; but [g]as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.
29 And [h]he that sent me is with me: [i]the Father hath not left me alone; [k]for I do always those things that please him.
30 As he spake these words, [l]many believed on him.
31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;
32 And ye shall know the truth, and [m]the truth shall make you free.
33 ¶They answered him, [n]We be A'bra-ham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?
34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [o]Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.
35 And [p]the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.
36 [q]If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.
37 I know that ye are A'bra-ham's seed; but [r]ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.
38 [s]I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.
39 They answered and said unto him, [t]A'bra-ham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, [u]If ye were A'braham's children, ye would do the works of A'bra-ham.
40 [v]But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, [w]which I have heard of God: this did not A'bra-ham.
41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; [x]we have one Father, even God.
42 Jesus said unto them, [y]If God were your father, ye would love me; [z]for I proceeded forth and came from God; [a]neither came I of myself, but he sent me.
43 [b]Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.
44 [c]Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and [d]abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.
45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.
46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?
47 [e]He that is of God, heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.
48 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Sa-mar'i-tan, and [h]hast a devil?
49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.
50 And I [i]seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

A. D. 32.

21 He said therefore again unto them, I go away, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sin:
22 whither I go, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said, Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I
23 go, ye cannot come? And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this 24 world; I am not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for except ye believe that [1]I am he, ye shall die in your sins.
25 They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? Jesus said unto them, [2]Even that which I have also spoken
26 unto you from the beginning. I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: howbeit he that sent me is true; and the things which I heard 27 from him, these speak I [3]unto the world. They perceived not that he spake to them of the Father.
28 Jesus therefore said, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that [4]I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as the Father
29 taught me, I speak these things. And he that sent me is with me; he hath not left me alone; for I do 30 always the things that are pleasing to him. As he spake these things, many believed on him.
31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, If ye abide in my word, then are ye 32 truly my disciples; and ye shall know the truth,
33 and the truth shall make you free. They answered unto him, We be A'bra-ham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou,
34 Ye shall be made free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Every one that com-
35 mitteth sin is the bondservant of sin. And the bondservant abideth not in the house for ever: the 36 son abideth for ever. If therefore the Son shall 37 make you free, ye shall be free indeed. I know that ye are A'bra-ham's seed; yet ye seek to kill me, 38 because my word [5]hath not free course in you. I speak the things which I have seen with [6]my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard from your 39 father. They answered and said unto him, Our father is A'bra-ham. Jesus saith unto them, If ye [7]were A'bra-ham's children, [8]ye would do the works
40 of A'bra-ham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I heard from 41 God: this did not A'bra-ham. Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, We were not born 42 of fornication; we have one Father, even God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I came forth and am come from God; for neither have I come of myself, but he sent me.
43 Why do ye not [9]understand my speech? Even be-
44 cause ye cannot hear my word. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and [10]stood not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. [11]When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father
45 thereof. But because I say the truth, ye believe me
46 not. Which of you convicteth me of sin? If I say
47 truth, why do ye not believe me? He that is of God heareth the words of God: for this cause ye
48 hear them not, because ye are not of God. The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well
49 that thou art a Sa-mar'itan, and hast a [12]devil? Jesus answered, I have not a [12]devil; but I honour my Fa-
50 ther, and ye dishonour me. But I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [h]If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.
52 Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. [i]A'bra-ham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.
53 Art thou greater than our father A'bra-ham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself?
54 Jesus answered, [m]If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: [n]it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God:
55 Yet [o]ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.
56 Your father A'bra-ham [p]rejoiced to see my day: [q]and he saw it, and was glad.
57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen A'bra-ham?
58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before A'bra-ham was, [r]I am.
59 Then [s]took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, [t]going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER IX.

A man born blind restored to sight.

AND as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.
2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, [a]who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?
3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: [b]but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.
4 [c]I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.
5 As long as I am in the world, [d]I am the light of the world.
6 When he had thus spoken, [e]he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he ‖anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,
7 And said unto him, Go, wash [f]in the pool of Si-lo'am, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) [g]He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.
8 ¶The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?
9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.
10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?
11 He answered and said, [h]A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Si-lo'am, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.
12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.
13 ¶They brought to the Phar'i-sees him that aforetime was blind.
14 And it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.
15 Then again the Phar'i-sees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.
16 Therefore said some of the Phar'i-sees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, [i]How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And [k]there was a division among them.
17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, [l]He is a prophet.
18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my 52 word, he shall never see death. The Jews said unto him, Now we know that thou hast a [1]devil. A'bra-ham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my word, he shall never taste of death.
53 Art thou greater than our father A'bra-ham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest
54 thou thyself? Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: it is my Father that glorifieth
55 me; of whom ye say, that he is your God; and ye have not known him: but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be like unto you,
56 a liar: but I know him, and keep his word. Your father A'bra-ham rejoiced [2]to see my day; and he saw 57 it, and was glad. The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou 58 seen A'bra-ham? Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before A'bra-ham [3]was, I am.
59 They took up stones therefore to cast at him: but Jesus [4]hid himself, and went out of the temple[5].

9 And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from 2 his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he
3 should be born blind? Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works
4 of God should be made manifest in him. We must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day:
5 the night cometh, when no man can work. When I am in the world, I am the light of the world.
6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, [6]and anointed his eyes
7 with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Si-lo'am (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and came 8 seeing. The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, Is 9 not this he that sat and begged? Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I
10 am he. They said therefore unto him, How then 11 were thine eyes opened? He answered, The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Si-lo'am, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight.
12 And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.
13 They bring to the Phar'i-sees him that aforetime
14 was blind. Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.
15 Again therefore the Phar'i-sees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.
16 Some therefore of the Phar'i-sees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And there was a division among them.
17 They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes?
18 And he said, He is a prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, 19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:
21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.
22 These words spake his parents, because [m]they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he [n]should be put out of the synagogue.
23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.
24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, [o]Give God the praise: [p]we know that this man is a sinner.
25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.
26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?
27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?
28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Mo'ses' disciples.
29 We know that God spake unto Mo'ses; as for this fellow, [q]we know not from whence he is.
30 The man answered and said unto them, [r]Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?
37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and [y]it is he that talketh with thee.
38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.
39 ¶ And Jesus said, [z]For judgment I am come into this world, [a]that they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind.
40 And some of the Phar'i-sees which were with him heard these words, [b]and said unto him, Are we blind also?
41 Jesus said unto them, [c]If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER X.

Christ the good shepherd.

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.
2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.
3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.
4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.
5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers.
6 This parable spake Jesus unto them; but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.
7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

19 and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?
20 His parents answered and said, We know that this is 21 our son, and that he was born blind: but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak
22 for himself. These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.
23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.
24 So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God: we know
25 that this man is a sinner. He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I
26 know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee?
27 how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his 28 disciples? And they reviled him, and said, Thou
29 art his disciple; but we are disciples of Mo'ses. We know that God hath spoken unto Mo'ses; but as for 30 this man, we know not whence he is. The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he 31 opened mine eyes. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, 32 and do his will, him he heareth. Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the 33 eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not 34 from God, he could do nothing. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.
35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on [1]the Son of 36 God? He answered and said, And who is he, Lord, 37 that I may believe on him? Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh 38 with thee. And he said, Lord, I believe. And he 39 worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgement came I into this world, that they which see not may see; and that they which see may become blind.
40 Those of the Phar'i-sees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, Are we also blind?
41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

[1] Many ancient authorities read the Son of man.

10 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief
2 and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door
3 is [2]the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them
4 out. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they
5 know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the 6 voice of strangers. This [3]parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.
7 Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

[2] Or, a shepherd
[3] Or, proverb

A. D. 32.

8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.
9 [a]I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.
10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.
11 [b]I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.
12 But he that is a hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and [c]leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.
13 The hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep.
14 I am the good shepherd, and [d]know my sheep, and am known of mine.
15 [e]As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: [f]and I lay down my life for the sheep.
16 And [g]other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; [h]and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.
17 Therefore doth my Father love me, [i]because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.
18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I [k]have power to take it again. [l]This commandment have I received of my Father.
19 ¶ [m]There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.
20 And many of them said, [n]He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him?
21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. [o]Can a devil [p]open the eyes of the blind?
22 ¶ And it was at Je-ru'sa-lem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.
23 And Jesus walked in the temple [q]in Sol'o-mon's porch.
24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou ‖ make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.
25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: [r]the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.
26 But [s]ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.
27 [t]My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:
28 And I give unto them eternal life; and [u]they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand.
29 [v]My Father, [w]which gave them me, is greater than all; and none is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.
30 [x]I and my Father are one.
31 Then [b]the Jews took up stones again to stone him.
32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?
33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, [y]makest thyself God.
34 Jesus answered them, [z]Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?
35 If he called them gods, [a]unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken;
36 Say ye of him, [b]whom the Father hath sanctified, and [c]sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; [d]because I said, I am [e]the Son of God?
37 [f]If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.
38 But if I do, though ye believe not me, [g]believe the works; that ye may know, and believe, [h]that the Father is in me, and I in him.
39 [i]Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped out of their hand,

A. D. 32.

8 All that came before me are thieves and robbers:
9 but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and 10 shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may 11 [1]have it abundantly. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep.
12 He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the 13 wolf snatcheth them, and scattereth them: he fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for 14 the sheep. I am the good shepherd; and I know
15 mine own, and mine own know me, even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and I 16 lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must [2]bring, and they shall hear my voice; and [3]they 17 shall become one flock, one shepherd. Therefore doth the Father love me, because I lay down my 18 life, that I may take it again. No one [4]taketh it away from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have [5]power to lay it down, and I have [5]power to take it again. This commandment received I from my Father.
19 There arose a division again among the Jews be-20 cause of these words. And many of them said, He hath a [6]devil, and is mad; why hear ye him?
21 Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a [6]devil. Can a [6]devil open the eyes of the blind?
22 [7]And it was the feast of the dedication at Je-ru'- 23 sa-lem: it was winter; and Jesus was walking in the 24 temple in Sol'o-mon's porch. The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art 25 the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the works that I do in 26 my Father's name, these bear witness of me. But 27 ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they fol-
28 low me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them out
29 of my hand. [8]My Father, which hath given them unto me, is greater than all; and no one is able to 30 snatch [9]them out of the Father's hand. I and the 31 Father are one. The Jews took up stones again to 32 stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of 33 those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, 34 makest thyself God. Jesus answered them, Is it not 35 written in your law, I said, Ye are gods? If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came 36 (and the scripture cannot be broken), say ye of him, whom the Father [10]sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of 37 God? If I do not the works of my Father, believe 38 me not. But if I do them, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that the Father is in me, and I in the 39 Father. They sought again to take him: and he went forth out of their hand.

CHAPTER XI.

Lazarus restored to life.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Laz'a-rus, of Beth'-a-ny, the town of [a]Ma'ry and her sister Mar'tha.
2 ([b]It was that Ma'ry which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Laz'a-rus was sick.)
3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.
4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, [c]but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.
5 Now Jesus loved Mar'tha, and her sister, and Laz'a-rus.
6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, [d]he abode two days still in the same place where he was.
7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Ju-de'a again.
8 His disciples say unto him, Master, [e]the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?
9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? [f]If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.
10 But [g]if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.
11 These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Laz'a-rus [h]sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.
12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.
13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.
14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Laz'a-rus is dead.
15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.
16 Then said Thom'as, which is called Did'y-mus, unto his fellow disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.
17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.
18 Now Beth'a-ny was nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, ‖about fifteen furlongs off:
19 And many of the Jews came to Mar'tha and Ma'ry, to comfort them concerning their brother.
20 Then Mar'tha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Ma'ry sat still in the house.
21 Then said Mar'tha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.
22 But I know, that even now, [i]whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.
23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.
24 Mar'tha saith unto him, [k]I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.
25 Jesus said unto her, I am [l]the resurrection, and the [m]life: [n]he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:
26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?
27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: [o]I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.
28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Ma'ry her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.
29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.
30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Mar'tha met him.

40 And he went away again beyond Jor'dan into the place where John was at the first baptizing; and there
41 he abode. And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but all things whatsoever 42 John spake of this man were true. And many believed on him there.

11 Now a certain man was sick, Laz'a-rus of Beth'a-ny,
2 of the village of Ma'ry and her sister Mar'tha. And it was that Ma'ry which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose
3 brother Laz'a-rus was sick. The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou
4 lovest is sick. But when Jesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby.
5 Now Jesus loved Mar'tha, and her sister, and Laz'a-
6 rus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he 7 was. Then after this he saith to the disciples, Let 8 us go into Ju-dæ'a again. The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to stone
9 thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because 10 he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is 11 not in him. These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Laz'a-rus is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.
12 The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is 13 fallen asleep, he will [1]recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of 14 taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto 15 them plainly, Laz'a-rus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may 16 believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. Thom'as therefore, who is called [2]Did'y-mus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

21 Mar'tha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst

23 will give thee. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother
24 shall rise again. Mar'tha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last 25 day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die,
26 yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth
27 on me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even he that 28 cometh into the world. And when she had said this, she went away, and called Ma'ry [3]her sister secretly, 29 saying, The [4]Master is here, and calleth thee. And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto 31 [p]The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Ma'ry, that she rose up hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32 Then when Ma'ry was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, [q]Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and †was troubled, 34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 [r]Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, [s]which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

38 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Mar'tha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest [t]see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but [u]because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Laz'a-rus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes; and [z]his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Ma'ry, [y]and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Phar'i-sees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

47 ¶ [a]Then gathered the chief priests and the Phar'i-sees a council, and said, [c]What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Ro'mans shall come, and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named [b]Ca'ia-phas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,

50 [e]Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation;

52 And [d]not for that nation only, [e]but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus [f]therefore walked no more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called [g]E'phra-im, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ [h]And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Je-ru'sa-lem before the passover, to purify themselves.

56 [i]Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Phar'i-sees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Ma'ry, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb
32 to [1]weep there. Ma'ry, therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, 33 my brother had not died. When Jesus therefore saw her [2]weeping, and the Jews also [2]weeping which came with her, he [3]groaned in the spirit, and [4]was 36 The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him!

37 But some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of him that was blind, have caused 39 Now it was a cave, and a stone lay [6]against it. Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Mar'tha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

46 But some of them went away to the Phar'i-sees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.
47 The chief priests therefore and the Phar'i-sees gathered a council, and said, What do we? for this man

CHAPTER XII.

Mary anointeth the feet of Jesus.

A. D. 33.

THEN Jesus, six days before the passover, came to Beth'-a-ny, [a]where Laz'a-rus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

[a] ch. 11. 1, 43.

2 [b]There they made him a supper; and Mar'tha served: but Laz'a-rus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

[b] Matt. 26. 6. Mark 14. 3.

3 Then took [c]Ma'ry a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

[c] Luke 10. 38, 39. ch. 11. 2.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, Si'-mon's son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and [d]had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

[d] ch. 13. 29.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For [e]the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.

[e] Matt. 26. 11. Mark 14. 7.

9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Laz'a-rus also, [f]whom he had raised from the dead.

[f] ch. 11. 43, 44.

10 ¶ [g]But the chief priests consulted that they might put Laz'a-rus also to death;

[g] Luke 16. 31.

11 [h]Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

[h] ch. 11. 45. ver. 18.

12 ¶ [i]On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Je-ru'sa-lem,

[i] Matt. 21. 8. Mark 11. 8. Luke 19. 35, 36, &c.

13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, [k]Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Is'ra-el that cometh in the name of the Lord.

18 [q]For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

[q] ver. 11.

19 The Phar'i-sees therefore said among themselves, [r]Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold the world has gone after him.

[r] ch. 11. 47, 48.

20 ¶ And there [s]were certain Greeks among them [t]that came up to worship at the feast:

[s] Acts 17. 4.
[t] 1 Kings 8. 41, 42. Acts 8. 27.

21 The same came therefore to Phil'ip, [u]which was of Beth-sa'i-da of Gal'i-lee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.

[u] ch. 1. 44.

22 Phil'ip cometh and telleth An'drew: and again An'drew and Phil'ip tell Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them saying, [x]The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

[x] ch. 13. 32. & 17. 1.

[a] ch. 14. 3. & 17. 24. 1 Thess. 4. 17.

27 [b]Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: [c]but for this cause came I unto this hour.

[d] Matt. 3. 17.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him.

12 Jesus therefore six days before the passover came to Beth'a-ny, where Laz'a-rus was, whom Jesus 2 raised from the dead. So they made him a supper there: and Mar'tha served; but Laz'a-rus was one of 3 them that sat at meat with him. Ma'ry therefore took a pound of ointment of [1]spikenard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with 4 the odour of the ointment. But Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, one of his disciples, which should betray him, saith, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred 6 [2]pence, and given to the poor? Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and having the [3]bag [4]took away what was put 7 therein. Jesus therefore said, [5]Suffer her to keep it 8 against the day of my burying. For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

9 The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there; and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Laz'a-rus also, 10 whom he had raised from the dead. But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Laz'a-rus 11 also to death; because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 On the morrow [6]a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming 13 to Je-ru'sa-lem, took the branches of the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, Hosanna: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, 14 even the King of Is'ra-el. And Jesus, having found 15 a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, Fear not, daughter of Zi'on: behold, thy King cometh, sitting 16 on an ass's colt. These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things 17 unto him. The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Laz'a-rus out of the tomb, and 18 raised him from the dead, bare witness. For this cause also the multitude went and met him, for that 19 they heard that he had done this sign. The Phar'i-sees therefore said among themselves, [7]Behold how ye prevail nothing: lo, the world is gone after him.

20 Now there were certain Greeks among those that 21 went up to worship at the feast: these therefore came to Phil'ip, which was of Beth-sa'i-da of Gal'i-lee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. 22 Phil'ip cometh and telleth An'drew: An'drew cometh, 23 and Phil'ip, and they tell Jesus. And Jesus answereth them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son 24 of man should be glorified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it 25 die, it beareth much fruit. He that loveth his [8]life loseth it; and he that hateth his [8]life in this world 26 shall keep it unto life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will the 27 Father honour. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this [9]hour. 28 But for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, 29 and will glorify it again. The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, An angel hath spoken to him.

[8] Or, soul
[9] Or, hour?

A. D. 33.

30 Jesus answered and said, [c]This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.
31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall [d]the prince of this world be cast out.
32 And I, [e]if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw [h]all men unto me.
33 [f]This he said, signifying what death he should die.
34 The people answered him, [g]We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?
35 Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while [i]is the light with you. [m]Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for [n]he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.
36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be [o]the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and [p]did hide himself from them.
37 ¶But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:
38 That the saying of E-sa'ias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, [q]Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?
39 Therefore they could not believe, because that E-sa'ias said again,
40 [r]He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.
41 [s]These things said E-sa'ias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.
42 ¶Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but [t]because of the Phar'i-sees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:
43 [u]For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.
44 ¶Jesus cried and said, [x]He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.
45 And he [y]that seeth me seeth him that sent me.
46 [z]I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.
47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, [a]I judge him not: for [b]I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.
48 [c]He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: [d]the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.
49 For [b]I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, [f]what I should say, and what I should speak.
50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER XIII.

Jesus washeth his disciples' feet.

NOW [e]before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that [b]his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.
2 And supper being ended, [c]the devil having now put into the heart of Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, Si'mon's son, to betray him;
3 Jesus knowing [d]that the Father had given all things into his hands, and [e]that he was come from God, and went to God;
4 [f]He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself.
5 After that, he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.
6 Then cometh he to Si'mon Pe'ter: and †Pe'ter saith unto him, Lord, [g]dost thou wash my feet?

30 Jesus answered and said, This voice hath not come
31 for my sake, but for your sakes. Now is [1]the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this 32 world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up [2]from the 33 earth, will draw all men unto myself. But this he said, signifying by what manner of death he should 34 die. The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must 35 be lifted up? who is this Son of man? Jesus therefore said unto them, Yet a little while is the light [3]among you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.
36 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light.
These things spake Jesus, and he departed and 37 [4]hid himself from them. But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not 38 on him: that the word of I-sa'iah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake,
Lord, who hath believed our report?
And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?
39 For this cause they could not believe, for that I-sa'iah said again,
40 He hath blinded their eyes, and he hardened their heart;
Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart,
And should turn,
And I should heal them.
41 These things said I-sa'iah, because he saw his glory;
42 and he spake of him. Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; but because of the Phar'i-sees they did not confess [5]it, lest they should 43 be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.
44 And Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.
45 And he that beholdeth me beholdeth him that sent 46 me. I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me may not abide in the dark-
47 ness. And if any man hear my sayings, and keep them not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge
48 the world, but to save the world. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I spake, the same shall 49 judge him in the last day. For I spake not from myself; but the Father which sent me, he hath given me a commandment, what I should say, and what I
50 should speak. And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

13 Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them [6]unto
2 the end. And during supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, Si'mon's
3 son, to betray him, Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he
4 came forth from God, and goeth unto God, riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he
5 took a towel, and girded himself. Then he poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel where-
6 with he was girded. So he cometh to Si'mon Pe'ter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me; [f]and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye can not come; so now I say to you.

34 [g]A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 [h]By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 ¶Si'mon Pe'ter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but [i]thou shalt follow me afterwards.

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt understand here-
8 after. Pe'ter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not,
9 thou hast no part with me. Si'mon Pe'ter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and 10 my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not [1]save to wash his feet, but is clean every 11 whit: and ye are clean, but not all. For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

14 If I then, the Lord and the [3]Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet.
15 For I have given you an example, that ye also should 16 do as I have done to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you, A [4]servant is not greater than his lord; neither

21 When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto 22 you, that one of you shall betray me. The disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.
23 There was at the table reclining in Jesus' bosom one 24 of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. Si'mon Pe'ter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell 25 us who it is of whom he speaketh. He leaning back, as he was, on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who 26 is it? Jesus therefore answereth, He it is, for whom I shall dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and giveth it to Ju'das, the 27 son of Si'mon Is-car'i-ot. And after the sop, then entered Sa'tan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, 28 That thou doest, do quickly. Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.
29 For some thought, because Ju'das had the [9]bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of for the feast; or, that he should give something

CHAPTER XIV.

Christ comforteth his disciples.

LET [a]not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. [b]I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, [c]I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that [d]where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thom'as saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am [e]the way, and [f]the truth, and [g]the life: [h]no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 [i]If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Phil'ip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Phil'ip? [k]he that hath seen me, hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that [l]I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you [m]I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: [n]or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 [o]Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

13 [p]And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ¶ [q]If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and [r]he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

17 Even [s]the Spirit of truth; [t]whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, [u]and shall be in you.

18 [x]I will not leave you ‖comfortless: [y]I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but [z]ye see me: [a]because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know that [b]I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 [c]He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 [d]Ju'das saith unto him, not Is-car'i-ot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Jesus answered and said unto him, [e]If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, [f]and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and [g]the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But [h]the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, [i]he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 [k]Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. [l]Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

CHAPTER XV.

The union between Christ and his church.

I AM the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.
2 [s]Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.
3 [t]Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.
4 [u]Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.
5 I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much [v]fruit; for ‖ without me ye can do nothing.
6 If a man abide not in me, [w]he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.
7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, [x]ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.
8 [y]Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bare much fruit; [z]so shall ye be my disciples.
9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.
10 [a]If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.
11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and [b]that your joy might be full.
12 [c]This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.
13 [d]Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.
14 [e]Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.
15 Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; [f]for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.
16 [g]Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and [h]ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that [i]whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.
17 [k]These things I command you, that ye love one another.
18 [l]If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.
19 [m]If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but [n]because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.
20 Remember the word that I said unto you, [o]The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; [p]if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.
21 But [q]all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.
22 [r]If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin; [s]but now they have no ‖cloak for their sin.
23 [t]He that hateth me hateth my Father also.
24 If I had not done among them [u]the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

28 Ye heard how I said to you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father: for the Father is 29 greater than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may 30 believe. I will no more speak much with you, for the prince of the world cometh: and he hath nothing
31 in me; but that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

15 I am the true vine, and my Father is the husband-
2 man. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, that it may bear more fruit.
3 Already ye are clean because of the word which I
4 have spoken unto you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide
5 in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much
6 fruit: for apart from me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them, and cast
7 them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever
8 ye will, and it shall be done unto you. Herein [1]is my Father glorified, [2]that ye bear much fruit; and so 9 shall ye be my disciples. Even as the Father hath loved me, I also have loved you: abide ye in my 10 love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's com-
11 mandments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, 12 and that your joy may be fulfilled. This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I have 13 loved you. Greater love hath no man than this,
14 that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which I command
15 you. No longer do I call you [3]servants; for the [4]servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I heard 16 from my Father I have made known unto you. Ye did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.
17 These things I command you, that ye may love one
18 another. If the world hateth you, [5]ye know that it
19 hath hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love its own: but because ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the 20 world, therefore the world hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, A [4]servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they kept my word, they 21 will keep yours also. But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know
22 not him that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have 23 no excuse for their sin. He that hateth me hateth my 24 Father also. If I had not done among them the works which none other did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Holy Ghost promised.

THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye [a]should not be offended.

2 [b]They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, [c]that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 And [d]these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But [e]these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And [f]these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now [g]I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, [h]sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, [i]the Comforter will not come unto you; but [k]if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will ‖ reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 [l]Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 [m]Of righteousness, [n]because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 [o]Of judgment, because [p]the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, [q]but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, [r]the Spirit of truth, is come, [s]he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 [t]All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

16 [u]A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, [v]because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 [y]A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 [z]And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and [a]your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. [b]Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

25 But this cometh to pass, that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me
26 without a cause. But when the [1]Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which [2]proceedeth from the 27 Father, he shall bear witness of me: [3]and ye also bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

16 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye
2 should not be made to stumble. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the hour cometh, that whosoever killeth you shall think that he offereth
3 service unto God. And these things will they do, because they have not known the Father, nor me.
4 But these things have I spoken unto you, that when their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you from the beginning, because I was with you.
5 But now I go unto him that sent me; and none of 6 you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have spoken these things unto you, sorrow hath filled
7 your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the [1]Comforter will not come unto you; but 8 if I go, I will send him unto you. And he, when he is come, will convict the world in respect of sin, 9 and of righteousness, and of judgement: of sin, be-
10 cause they believe not on me; of righteousness, because I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more;
11 of judgement, because the prince of this world hath 12 been judged. I have yet many things to say unto 13 you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but what things soever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things
14 that are to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall 15 take of mine, and shall declare it unto you. All things whatsoever the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall declare 16 it unto you. A little while, and ye behold me no more; and again a little while, and ye shall see me.
17 Some of his disciples therefore said one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?
18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A 19 little while? We know not what he saith. Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall 20 see me? Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be 21 turned into joy. A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born
22 into the world. And ye therefore now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you.
23 And in that day ye shall [4]ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If ye shall ask anything of the Father, he will give it you in my name.

CHAPTER XVII.

Christ prayeth for his apostles.

THESE words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, [r]the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

2 [s]As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many [t]as thou hast given him.

3 And [u]this is life eternal, that they might know thee [v]the only true God, and Jesus Christ [w]whom thou hast sent.

4 [x]I have glorified thee on the earth: [y]I have finished the work [z]which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory [a]which I had with thee before the world was.

6 [b]I have manifested thy name unto the men [c]which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee:

8 For I have given unto them the words [d]which thou gavest me; and they have received them, [e]and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: [f]I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and [g]thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 [h]And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, [i]keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, [k]that they may be one, [l]as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, [m]I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and [n]none of them is lost, [o]but the son of perdition; [p]that the Scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 [q]I have given them thy word; [r]and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, [s]even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but [t]that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 [u]They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 [v]Sanctify them through thy truth: [w]thy word is truth.

18 [x]As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be fulfilled.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in [1]proverbs: the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in [1]proverbs, but shall tell you plainly of

26 the Father. In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will [2]pray the Father

27 for you; for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came forth

28 from the Father. I came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, 29 and go unto the Father. His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no [3]proverb.

30 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this

31 we believe that thou camest forth from God. Jesus

32 answered them, Do ye now believe? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with 33 me. These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye may have peace. In the world ye have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

17 These things spake Jesus; and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, the hour is come; glorify

2 thy Son, that the Son may glorify thee: even as thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that whatsoever thou hast given him, to them he should give eternal

3 life. And this is life eternal, that they should know thee the only true God, and him who thou didst

4 send, even Jesus Christ. I glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou

5 hast given me to do. And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which

6 I had with thee before the world was. I manifested thy name unto the men whom thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them

7 to me; and they have kept thy word. Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast given me

8 are from thee: for the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that I came forth from thee, and

9 they believed that thou didst send me. I [4]pray for them: I [4]pray not for the world, but for those whom

10 thou hast given me; for they are thine: and all things that are mine are thine, and thine are mine:

11 and I am glorified in them. And I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given me, that they may be one, even as 12 we are. While I was with them, I kept them in thy name which thou hast given me: and I guarded them, and not one of them perished, but the son of perdition; that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 But now I come to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled

14 in themselves. I have given them thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of 15 the world, even as I am not of the world. I [4]pray not that thou shouldest take them [5]from the world, but that thou shouldest keep them [6]from 16 [6]the evil one. They are not of the world, even

17 as I am not of the world. [7]Sanctify them in the 18 truth: thy word is truth. As thou didst send me into the world, even so sent I them into the world.

19 And [h]for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be ‖ sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone: but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;

21 [i]That they all may be one; [m]as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

25 O righteous Father, [r]the world hath not known thee: but [s]I have known thee, and [t]these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 [u]And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love [x]wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Judas betrayeth Jesus.

WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, [a]he went forth with his disciples over [b]the brook Ce'dron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 And Ju'das also, which betrayed him, knew the place: [c]for Jesus ofttimes resorted thither with his disciples.

3 [d]Ju'das, then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Phar'i-sees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Naz'a-reth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Ju'das also, which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Naz'a-reth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, [e]Of them which thou gavest me, have I lost none.

10 [f]Then Si'mon Pe'ter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Mal'chus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Pe'ter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: [g]the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him,

13 And [h]led him away to [i]An'nas first; for he was father in law to Ca'ia-phas, which was the high priest that same year.‖

14 [k]Now Ca'ia-phas was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ [l]And Si'mon Pe'ter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

16 [m]But Pe'ter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Pe'ter.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Pe'ter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals, for it was cold; and they warmed themselves: and Pe'ter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 And for their sakes I [1]sanctify myself, that they 20 themselves also may be sanctified in truth. Neither for these only do I [2]pray, but for them also that 21 believe on me through their word; that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: that the 22 world may believe that thou didst send me. And the glory which thou hast given me I have given unto them; that they may be one, even as we are
23 one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou didst send me, and lovedst them, even as thou lovedst
24 me. Father, [3]that which thou hast given me, I will that, where I am, they also may be with me; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the 25 world. O righteous Father, the world knew thee not, but I knew thee; and these knew that thou didst
26 send me; and I made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.

18 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the [4]brook [5]Kid'ron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, him-
2 self and his disciples. Now Ju'das also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus ofttimes
3 resorted thither with his disciples. Ju'das then, having received the [6]band of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Phar'i-sees, cometh thither
4 with lanterns and torches and weapons. Jesus therefore, knowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith unto them, Whom 5 seek ye? They answered him, Jesus of Naz'a-reth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Ju'das also,
6 which betrayed him, was standing with them. When therefore he said unto them, I am he, they went back-
7 ward, and fell to the ground. Again therefore he asked them, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus
8 of Naz'a-reth. Jesus answered, I told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:
9 that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one.
10 Si'mon Pe'ter therefore having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's [7]servant, and cut off his right
11 ear. Now the servant's name was Mal'chus. Jesus therefore said unto Pe'ter, Put up the sword into the sheath: the cup which the Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?
12 So the [6]band and the [8]chief captain, and the offi-
13 cers of the Jews, seized Jesus and bound him, and led him to An'nas first; for he was father in law to 14 Ca'ia-phas, which was high priest that year. Now Ca'ia-phas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.
15 And Si'mon Pe'ter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the 16 court of the high priest; but Pe'ter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto 17 her that kept the door, and brought in Pe'ter. The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Pe'ter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, 18 I am not. Now the [9]servants and the officers were standing there, having made [10]a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves: and Pe'ter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

19 ¶The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.
20 Jesus answered him, [n]I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.
21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.
22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, [o]struck Jesus ‖ with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?
23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?
24 ([p]Now An'nas had sent him bound unto Ca'ia-phas the high priest.)
25 And Si'mon Pe'ter stood and warmed himself. [q]They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.
26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Pe'ter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?
27 Pe'ter then denied again; and [r]immediately the cock crew.
28 ¶[s]Then led they Jesus from Ca'ia-phas unto ‖ the hall of judgment: and it was early; [t]and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.
29 Pi'late then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?
30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.
31 Then said Pi'late unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:
32 [u]That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.
33 [x]Then Pi'late entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?
34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?
35 Pi'late answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?
36 [y]Jesus answered, [z]My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.
37 Pi'late therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that [a]is of the truth heareth my voice.
38 Pi'late saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, [b]I find in him no fault at all.
39 [c]But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?
40 [d]Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Ba-rab'bas. [e]Now Ba-rab'bas was a robber.

[f]THEN [f]Pi'late therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.
2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,
3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.
4 Pi'late therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, [b]that ye may know that I find no fault in him.
5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns,

19 The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his dis-
20 ciples, and of his teaching. Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly to the world; I ever taught in [1]synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews
21 come together; and in secret spake I nothing. Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them: behold, these know the things

28 They lead Jesus therefore from Ca'ia-phas into the [4]palace: and it was early; and they themselves entered not into the [4]palace, that they might not be
29 defiled, but might eat the passover. Pi'late therefore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation 30 bring ye against this man? They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we 31 should not have delivered him up unto thee. Pi'late therefore said unto them, Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to 32 death: that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should die.
33 Pi'late therefore entered again into the [4]palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King
34 of the Jews? Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee concerning me?
35 Pi'late answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what 36 hast thou done? Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my [5]servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not and the purple robe. And Pi'late saith unto them, Behold the man!

6 [c]When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pi'late saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, [d]We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because [e]he made himself the Son of God.

8 ¶When Pi'late therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? [f]But Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pi'late unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not, that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11 Jesus answered, [g]Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pi'late sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, [h]If thou let this man go, thou art not Ce'sar's friend: [i]whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Ce'sar.

13 ¶When Pi'late therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the He'brew, Gab'ba-tha.

14 And [k]it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pi'late saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, [l]We have no king but Ce'sar.

16 [m]Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.

17 [n]And he bearing his cross [o]went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the He'brew, Gol'go-tha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 ¶[p]And Pi'late wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZ'A-RETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews; for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in He'brew, and Greek, and Lat'in.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pi'late, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pi'late answered, What I have written I have written.

23 ¶[q]Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, ‖woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, [r]They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 ¶[s]Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Ma'ry the wife of ‖[t]Cle'o-phas, and Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne.

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and [u]the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, [x]Woman, behold thy son.

17 They took Jesus therefore: and he went out bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in He'brew Gol'go-tha:

19 on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pi'late wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZ'A-RETH, THE

23 The soldiers therefore when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the [5]coat: now the [5]coat was without seam, woven from the top through-24 out. They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

CHAPTER XX.

The resurrection of Christ.

THE [a]first day of the week cometh Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

[a]Matt. 28. 1. Mark 16. 1. Luke 24. 1.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Si'mon Pe'ter, and to the [b]other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

[b]ch. 13. 23. & 19. 26. & 21. 7, 20, 24.

3 [c]Pe'ter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

[c]Luke 24. 12.

4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Pe'ter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw [d]the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

[d]ch. 19. 40.

6 Then cometh Si'mon Pe'ter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie,

7 And [e]the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

[e]ch. 11. 44.

8 Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the [f]Scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

[f]Ps. 16. 10. Acts 2. 25—31. & 13. 34, 35.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

28 After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now finished, that the scripture might be accomplished,
29 saith, I thirst. There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: so they put a sponge full of the vinegar
30 upon hyssop, and brought it to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up his spirit.

A. D. 33.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was a high day), asked of Pi'late that their legs might be 32 broken, and that they might be taken away. The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him:
33 but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was 34 dead already, they brake not his legs: howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and 35 straightway there came out blood and water. And he that hath seen hath borne witness, and his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that 36 ye also may believe. For these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled, A bone of him 37 shall not be [1]broken. And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.

[1]Or, crushed

38 And after these things Jo'seph of Ar-i-ma-thæ'a, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, asked of Pi'late that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pi'late gave him leave. He came 39 therefore, and took away his body. And there came also Nic-o-de'mus, he who at the first came to him by night, bringing a [2]mixture of myrrh and 40 aloes, about a hundred pound weight. So they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury.

[2]Some ancient authorities read roll.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new tomb wherein 42 was never man yet laid. There then because of the Jews' Preparation (for the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

20 Now on the first day of the week cometh Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb, and seeth the stone taken away from the
2 tomb. She runneth therefore, and cometh to Si'mon Pe'ter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they
3 have laid him. Pe'ter therefore went forth, and the 4 other disciple, and they went toward the tomb. And they ran both together: and the other disciple out-
5 ran Pe'ter, and came first to the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth the linen cloths lying; yet
6 entered he not in. Si'mon Pe'ter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and 7 he beholdeth the linen cloths lying, and the napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen
8 cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, which came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed.
9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must 10 rise again from the dead. So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

A. D. 33.

11 ¶ [o]But Ma'ry stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 [h]And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and [i]knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Ma'ry. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rab-bo'ni, which is to say, Master.

17 Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to [k]my brethren, and say unto them, [l]I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to [m]my God, and your God.

18 [n]Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

19 ¶ [o]Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. [p]Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: [q]as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

23 [r]Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thom'as, one of the twelve, [s]called Did'y-mus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 ¶ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thom'as with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thom'as, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and [t]reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.

28 And Thom'as answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

29 Jesus saith unto him, Thom'as, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: [u]blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 ¶ [x]And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:

31 [y]But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; [z]and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAPTER XXI.

Christ again appeareth to his disciples.

AFTER these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Ti-be'ri-as; and on this wise shewed he himself.

2 There were together Si'mon Pe'ter, and Thom'as called Did'y-mus, and [a]Na-than'a-el of Ca'na in Gal'i-lee, and [b]the sons of Zeb'e-dee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Si'mon Pe'ter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say

A. D. 33.

11 But Ma'ry was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she stooped and looked 12 into the tomb; and she beholdeth two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, 13 where the body of Jesus had lain. And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, 14 and I know not where they have laid him. When she had thus said, she turned herself back, and beholdeth Jesus standing, and knew not that it was 15 Jesus. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, 16 and I will take him away. Jesus saith unto her, Ma'ry. She turneth herself, and saith unto him in 17 He'brew, Rab-bo'ni; which is to say, [1]Master. Jesus saith to her, [2]Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto my brethren, and say to them, I ascend unto my Father and your 18 Father, and my God and your God. Ma'ry Magda-le'ne cometh and telleth the disciples, I have seen the Lord; and how that he had said these things unto her.

19 When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were shut where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, 20 Peace be unto you. And when he had said this, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the 21 Lord. Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father hath sent me, even so send 22 I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the [3]Holy 23 Ghost: whose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them; whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 But Thom'as, one of the twelve, called [4]Did'y-mus, 25 was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thom'as with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, 27 Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and 28 be not faithless, but believing. Thom'as answered 29 and said unto him, My Lord and my God. Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, [5]thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 Many other signs therefore did Jesus in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this 31 book: but these are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life in his name.

21 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples at the sea of Ti-be'ri-as; and he 2 manifested himself on this wise. There were together Si'mon Pe'ter, and Thom'as called [4]Did'y-mus, and Na-than'a-el of Ca'na in Gal'i-lee, and the sons of 3 Zeb'e-dee, and two other of his disciples. Si'mon Pe'ter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore; but the disciples [c]knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Then [d]Jesus saith unto them, ||Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, [e]Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore [f]that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Pe'ter, It is the Lord. Now when Si'mon Pe'ter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Si'mon Pe'ter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith unto them, [g]Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now [h]the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Si'mon Pe'ter, Si'mon son of Jo'nas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again the second time, Si'mon son of Jo'nas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. [i]He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 He saith unto him the third time, Si'mon son of Jo'nas, lovest thou me? Pe'ter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, [k]thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 [l]Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake he, signifying [m]by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Pe'ter, turning about, seeth the disciple [n]whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 Pe'ter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

22 Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry [o]till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and [p]we know that his testimony is true.

25 [q]And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, [r]I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

13 ing that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh, and taketh the [5]bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise.
14 This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had broken their fast, Jesus saith to Si'mon Pe'ter, Si'mon, son of [6]John, [7]lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I [8]love thee. He saith unto him,
16 Feed my lambs. He saith to him again a second time, Si'mon, son of [6]John, [7]lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I [8]love
17 thee. He saith unto him, Tend my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Si'mon, son of [6]John, [8]lovest thou me? Pe'ter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, [8]Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou [9]knowest that I [8]love thee. Jesus saith unto him,
18 Feed my sheep. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou 19 wouldest not. Now this he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.
20 Pe'ter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth
21 thee? Pe'ter therefore seeing him saith to Jesus, 22 Lord, [10]and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is 23 that to thee? follow thou me. This saying therefore went forth among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?
24 This is the disciple which beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his witness is true.

THE

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAPTER I.

The ascension of Christ.

THE former treatise have I made, O [c]The-oph'i-lus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

2 [b]Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost [c]had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

3 [d]To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 [e]And, ||being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Je-ru'sa-lem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, [f]saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 [g]For John truly baptized with water; [h]but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, [i]Lord, wilt thou at this time [k]restore again the kingdom to Is'ra-el?

7 And he said unto them, [l]It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 [m]But ye shall receive ||power, [n]after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and [o]ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Je-ru'sa-lem, and in all Ju-de'a, and in Sa-ma'ri-a, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 [p]And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, [q]he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them [r]in white apparel;

11 Which also said, [s]Ye men of Gal'i-lee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, [t]shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 [u]Then returned they unto Je-ru'sa-lem from the mount called Ol'i-vet, which is from Je-ru'sa-lem a sabbath day's journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up [x]into an upper room, where abode both [y]Pe'ter, and James, and John, and An'drew, Phil'ip, and Thom'as, Bar-thol'o-mew, and Mat'thew, James the son of Al-phe'us, and [z]Si'mon Ze-lo'tes, and [a]Ju'das the brother of James.

14 [b]These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with [c]the women, and Ma'ry the mother of Jesus, and with [d]his brethren.

15 ¶And in those days Pe'ter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number [e]of the names together were about a hundred and twenty),

16 Men and brethren, this Scripture must needs have been fulfilled, [f]which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of Da'vid spake before concerning Ju'das, [g]which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For [h]he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of [i]this ministry.

18 [k]Now this man purchased a field with [l]the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Je-ru'sa-lem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, A-cel'da-ma, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, [m]Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and, [n]His ||bishoprick let another take.

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

1 The [1]former treatise I made, O The-oph'i-lus, concerning all that Jesus began both to do and to teach,
2 until the day in which he was received up after that he had given commandment through the [2]Holy Ghost
3 unto the apostles whom he had chosen: to whom he also [3]shewed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking the things concerning the king-
4 dom of God: and, [4]being assembled together with them, he charged them not to depart from Je-ru'sa-lem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, said
5 he, ye heard from me: for John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized [5]with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.
6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, dost thou at this time re-
7 store the kingdom to Is'ra-el? And he said unto them, It is not for you to know times or seasons, which the 8 Father hath [6]set within his own authority. But ye shall receive power, when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses both in Je-ru'salem, and in all Ju-dæ'a and Sa-ma'ri-a, and unto 9 the uttermost part of the earth. And when he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.
10 And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold, two men stood by them in white
11 apparel; which also said, Ye men of Gal'i-lee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven.
12 Then returned they unto Je-ru'sa-lem from the mount called Ol'i-vet, which is nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, a sab-
13 bath day's journey off. And when they were come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where they were abiding; both Pe'ter and John and James and An'drew, Phil'ip and Thom'as, Bar-thol'o-mew and Mat'thew, James the son of Al-phæ'us, and Si'mon the 14 Zealot, and Ju'das the [7]son of James. These all with one accord continued stedfastly in prayer, [8]with the women, and Ma'ry the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.
15 And in these days Pe'ter stood up in the midst of the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of [9]persons gathered together, about a hundred and 16 twenty), Brethren, it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of Da'vid concerning Ju'das, who 17 was guide to them that took Jesus. For he was numbered among us, and received his [10]portion in this 18 ministry. (Now this man obtained a field with the reward of his iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.
19 And it became known to all the dwellers at Je-ru'salem; insomuch that in their language that field was 20 called A-kel'da-ma, that is, The field of blood.) For it is written in the book of Psalms,

Let his habitation be made desolate,
And let no man dwell therein:

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us, all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, 22 [o]Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that [p]he was taken up from us, must one be ordained [q]to be a witness with us of his resurrection.
23 And they appointed two, Jo'seph called [r]Bar'sa-bas, who was surnamed Jus'tus, and Mat-thi'as.
24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, [s]which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,
25 [t]That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Ju'das by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.
26 And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon
Mat-thi'as; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

The apostles, filled with the Holy Ghost, speak divers languages—Peter's sermon.

AND when [a]the day of Pentecost was fully come, [b]they were all with one accord in one place.
2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty wind, and [c]it filled all the house where they were sitting.
3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.
4 And [d]they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began [e]to speak with† other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.
5 And there were dwelling at Je-ru'sa-lem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.
6 Now †when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were ‖ confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.
7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak [f]Gal-i-le'ans?
8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?
9 Par'thi-ans, and Medes, and E'lam-ites, and the dwellers in Mes-o-po-ta'mi-a, and in Ju-de'a, and Cap-pa-do'ci-a, in Pon'tus, and A'si-a,
10 Phryg'i-a, and Pam-phyl'i-a, in E'gypt, and in the parts of Lib'y-a about Cy-re'ne, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes,
11 Cretes and A-ra'bi-ans, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.
12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?
13 Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine.
14 ¶But Pe'ter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Ju-de'a, and all ye that dwell at Je-ru'sa-lem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:
15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, [g]seeing it is but the third hour of the day.
16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Jo'el;
17 [h]And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God,
[i]I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and [k]your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:
18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; [l]and they shall prophesy:
19 [m]And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
20 [n]The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:
21 And it shall come to pass, that [o]whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

21 Of the men therefore which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and 22 went out [1]among us, beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that he was received up from us, of these must one become a witness with us of 23 his resurrection. And they put forward two, Jo'seph called Bar-sab'bas, who was surnamed Jus'tus, and 24 Mat-thi'as. And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these 25 two the one whom thou hast chosen, to take the place in this ministry and apostleship, from which Ju'das fell away, that he might go to his own place.
26 And they gave lots [2]for them; and the lot fell upon Mat-thi'as; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2 And when the day of Pentecost [3]was now come,
2 they were all together in one place. And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where 3 they were sitting. And there appeared unto them tongues, [4]parting asunder, like as of fire; and it sat 4 upon each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.
5 Now there were dwelling at Je-ru'sa-lem Jews, de-6 vout men, from every nation under heaven. And when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language.
7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying,
Behold, are not all these which speak Gal-i-læ'ans?
8 And how hear we, every man in our own language, 9 wherein we were born? Par'thi-ans and Medes and E'lam-ites, and the dwellers in Mes-o-po-ta'mi-a, in Ju-dæ'a and Cap-pa-do'ci-a, in Pon'tus and A'si-a, 10 in Phryg'i-a and Pam-phyl'i-a, in E'gypt and the parts of Lib'y-a about Cy-re'ne, and sojourners from 11 Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cre'tans and A-ra'- bi-ans, we do hear them speaking in our tongues the 12 mighty works of God. And they were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, What 13 meaneth this? But others mocking said, They are filled with new wine.
14 But Pe'ter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, saying, Ye men of Ju-dæ'a, and all ye that dwell at Je-ru'sa-lem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words.
15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; seeing it 16 is but the third hour of the day; but this is that which hath been spoken [5]by the prophet Jo'el;
17 And it shall be in the last days, saith God,
I will pour forth of my Spirit upon all flesh:
And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams:
18 Yea and on my [6]servants and on my [7]handmaidens in those days
Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy.
19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath;
Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
20 The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before the day of the Lord come,
That great and notable day:
21 And it shall be, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Is'ra-el, hear these words; Jesus of Naz'a-reth, a man approved of God among you [p]by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, [q]being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, [r]ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 [s]Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Da'vid speaketh concerning him, [t]I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, || let me freely speak unto you [u]of the patriarch Da'vid, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, [w]and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, [y]that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 [z]This Jesus hath God raised up, [a]whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore [b]being by the right hand of God exalted, and [c]having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he [d]hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For Da'vid is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, [e]The LORD saith unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Is'ra-el know assuredly, that God [f]hath made that same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 ¶Now when they heard this, [g]they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Pe'ter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Pe'ter said unto them, [h]Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is unto you, and [i]to your children, and [k]to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 ¶Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 [l]And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and [m]many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and [n]had all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and [o]parted them to all men as every man had need.

46 [p]And they, continuing daily with one accord [q]in the temple, and [r]breaking bread || from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart,

47 Praising God, and [s]having favour with all the people. And [t]the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved

22 Ye men of Is'ra-el, hear these words: Jesus of Naz'a-reth, a man approved of God unto you by [1]mighty works and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves
23 know; him, being delivered up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye by the 24 hand of [2]lawless men did crucify and slay: whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden
25 of it. For Da'vid saith concerning him,

I beheld the Lord always before my face;
For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:
26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced;
Moreover my flesh also shall [3]dwell in hope:
27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in Ha'des,
Neither wilt thou give thy Holy One to see corruption.
28 Thou madest known unto me the ways of life;
Thou shalt make me full of gladness [4]with thy countenance.

29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of the patriarch Da'vid, that he both died and was buried, and his 30 tomb is with us unto this day. Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins [5]he would 31 set one upon his throne; he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he 32 left in Ha'des, nor did his flesh see corruption. This Jesus did God raise up, [6]whereof we all are witnesses.
33 Being therefore [7]by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this, which ye 34 see and hear. For Da'vid ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,

The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,
35 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.
36 Let [8]all the house of Is'ra-el therefore know assuredly, that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom ye crucified.

37 Now when they heard this they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Pe'ter and the rest of the 38 apostles, Brethren, what shall we do? And Pe'ter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of 42 in that day about three thousand souls. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' teaching and [10]fellowship, in the breaking of bread and the prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many won-
44 ders and signs were done [11]by the apostles[12]. And all that believed were together, and had all things
45 common; and they sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, according as any man had 46 need. And day by day, continuing stedfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they did take their food with gladness and 47 singleness of heart, praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added [13]to them day by day those that were being saved.

CHAPTER III.

Peter cureth a lame man, &c.

A. D. 33.

NOW Pe'ter and John went up together [c]into the temple at the hour of prayer, [b]being the ninth hour.

2 And [c]a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, [d]to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who, seeing Pe'ter and John about to go into the temple, asked an alms.

4 And Pe'ter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Pe'ter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: [e]In the name of Jesus Christ of Naz'a-reth, rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle-bones received strength.

8 And he [f]leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 [g]And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which [h]sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed held Pe'ter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch [i]that is called Sol'o-mon's, greatly wondering.

12 ¶And when Pe'ter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Is'ra-el, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 [k]The God of A'bra-ham, and of I'saac, and of Ja'cob, the God of our fathers, [l]hath glorified his son Jesus; whom ye [m]delivered up, and [n]denied him in the presence of Pi'late, when he was determined to let him go.

14 But ye denied [o]the Holy One, [p]and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15 And killed the || Prince of life, [q]whom God hath raised from the dead; [r]whereof we are witnesses.

16 [s]And his name, through faith in his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I wot that [t]through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But [u]those things which God before had shewed [x]by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶[y]Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord;

20 And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 [z]Whom the heaven must receive, until the times of [a]restitution of all things, [b]which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.

22 For Mo'ses truly said unto the fathers, [c]A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to pass, that every soul, which will not hear that Prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Sam'u-el and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.

25 [d]Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto A'bra-ham, [e]And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

4 And as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Sad'du-cees, came upon them,

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And An'nas the high priest, and Cai'a-phas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jeru'sa-lem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 Then Pe'ter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Is'ra-el,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Is'ra-el, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Naz'a-reth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

13 Now when they saw the boldness of Pe'ter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed also hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jeru'sa-lem; and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 But Pe'ter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pon'tius Pi'late, with the Gentiles, and the people of Is'ra-el, were gathered together, 28 For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word,

30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.

31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Jo'ses, who by the apostles was surnamed Bar'na-bas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Le'vite, and of the country of Cy'prus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

5 But a certain man named Ana'ni-as, with Sap'phi-ra his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being aware of it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 But Pe'ter said, Ana'ni-as, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 And Ana'ni-as hearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Pe'ter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Pe'ter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12 And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Sol'o-mon's porch.

13 And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)

15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Pe'ter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jeru'sa-lem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sad'du-cees,) and were filled with indignation,

18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Is'ra-el, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jeru'sa-lem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

29 Then Pe'ter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.

32 And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Pha'ri-see, named Ga-ma'li-el, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Is'ra-el, take heed to yourselves what ye intend as touching these men, what you are about to do.

36 For before these days rose up Theu'das, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Ju'das of Gal'i-lee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

6 And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Gre'cians against the He'brews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Ste'phen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Pro'chor-us, and Ni-ca'nor, and Ti'mon, and Par'me-nas, and Nic'o-las a proselyte of An'ti-och:

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jeru'sa-lem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Ste'phen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Lib'er-tines, and Cyre'ni-ans, and Alexandri'ans, and of them of Cil'i-cia and of Asia, disputing with Ste'phen.

10 And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Mo'ses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Naz'a-reth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Mo'ses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

7 Then said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father A'bra-ham, when he was in Mes-o-po-ta'mi-a, before he dwelt in Cha'ran,

3 And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chal-de'ans, and dwelt in Cha'ran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

8 And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so A'bra-ham begat I'saac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and I'saac begat Ja'cob; and Ja'cob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pha-ra'oh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 Now there came a dearth over all Egypt and Ca'naan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 But when Ja'cob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pha-ra'oh.

14 Then sent Joseph, and called his father Ja'cob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 So Ja'cob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And were carried over into Sy'chem, and laid in the sepulchre that A'bra-ham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Em'mor the father of Sy'chem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to A'bra-ham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 In which time Mo'ses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And when he was cast out, Pha-ra'oh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Mo'ses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.

23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Is'ra-el.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Will thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Mo'ses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Ma-di'an, where he begat two sons.

30 And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Si'nai an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Mo'ses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him,

32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of A'bra-ham, and I'saac, and Ja'cob. Then Mo'ses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Mo'ses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37 This is that Mo'ses, which said unto the children of Is'ra-el, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.

38 This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Si'nai, and with our fathers: who received the lively oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,

40 Saying unto Aa'ron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Mo'ses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Is'ra-el, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Mo'loch, and the star of your god Rem'phan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Bab'y-lon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Mo'ses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 Which also our fathers that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gen'tiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of Da'vid;

46 Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Ja'cob.

47 But Sol'o-mon built him a house.

48 Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet, 49 Heaven is my throne, and earth my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord,

58 And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Ste'phen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

8 And Saul was consenting unto his death. At that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jeru'sa-lem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Ju-dæ'a and Sa-ma'ri-a, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Ste'phen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5 Then Philip went down to the city of Sa-ma'ri-a, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was certain man, called Si'mon, which before time in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Sa-ma'ri-a, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Si'mon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jeru'sa-lem heard that Sa-ma'ri-a had received the word of God, they sent unto them Pe'ter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.)

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Si'mon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Pe'ter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Si'mon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jeru'sa-lem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Sa-mar'i-tans.

26 And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jeru'sa-lem unto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, a man of Ethi-o'pi-a, an eunuch of great authority under Can'da-ce queen of the Ethi-o'pians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jeru'sa-lem for to worship,

28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esa'ias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esa'ias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Philip was found at Az'o-tus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cæ-sa're-a.

9 And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jeru'sa-lem.

3 And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ana'ni-as; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ana'ni-as. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Ju'das for one called Saul of Tar'sus: for, behold, he prayeth,

12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ana'ni-as coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ana'ni-as answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jeru'sa-lem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gen'tiles, and kings, and the children of Is'ra-el:

16 For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

17 And Ana'ni-as went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jeru'sa-lem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:

24 But their laying wait was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Jeru'sa-lem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Bar'na-bas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Jeru'sa-lem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Gre'cians: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cæ-sa're-a, and sent him forth to Tar'sus.

31 Then had the churches rest throughout all Ju-dæ'a and Gal'i-lee and Sa-ma'ri-a, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

32 And it came to pass, as Pe'ter passed throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lyd'da.

33 And there he found a certain man named Æ-ne'as, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Pe'ter said unto him, Æ-ne'as, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lyd'da and Sha'ron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 Now there was at Jop'pa a certain disciple named Tab'i-tha, which by interpretation is called Dor'cas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lyd'da was nigh to Jop'pa, and the disciples had heard that Pe'ter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Pe'ter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dor'cas made, while she was with them.

40 But Pe'ter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tab'i-tha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Pe'ter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Jop'pa; and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Jop'pa with one Si'mon a tanner.

10 There was a certain man in Cæ-sa're-a called Cor-ne'li-us, a centurion of the band called the Ital'i-an band,

2 A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always.

3 He saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cor-ne'li-us.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Jop'pa, and call for one Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter:

6 He lodgeth with one Si'mon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cor-ne'li-us was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Jop'pa.

9 On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Pe'ter went up upon the house top to pray about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Pe'ter; kill, and eat.

14 But Pe'ter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Pe'ter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cor-ne'li-us had made inquiry for Si'mon's house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked whether Si'mon, which was surnamed Pe'ter, were lodged there.

19 While Pe'ter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Pe'ter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cor-ne'li-us; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cor-ne'li-us the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Pe'ter went away with them, and certain brethren from Jop'pa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Cæ-sa're-a. And Cor-ne'li-us waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Pe'ter was coming in, Cor-ne'li-us met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Pe'ter took him up, saying, Stand up; I myself also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me?

30 And Cor-ne'li-us said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and, behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cor-ne'li-us, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Jop'pa, and call hither Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter; he is lodged in the house of one Si'mon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Pe'ter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35 But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The word which God sent unto the children of Is'ra-el, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all:)

37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Ju-dæ'a, and began from Gal'i-lee, after the baptism which John preached;

38 How God anointed Jesus of Naz'a-reth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jeru'sa-lem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41 Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.

43 To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

44 While Pe'ter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Pe'ter, because that on the Gen'tiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Pe'ter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

11 And the apostles and brethren that were in Ju-dæ'a heard that the Gen'tiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Pe'ter was come up to Jeru'sa-lem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.

4 But Pe'ter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,

5 I was in the city of Jop'pa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of heaven.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Pe'ter; slay and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cæ-sa're-a unto me.

12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

13 And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Jop'pa, and call for Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ; what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gen'tiles granted repentance unto life.

19 Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Ste'phen travelled as far as Phe-ni'ce, and Cy'prus, and An'ti-och, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cy'prus and Cy-re'ne, which, when they were come to An'ti-och, spake unto the Gre'cians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jeru'sa-lem: and they sent forth Bar'na-bas, that he should go as far as An'ti-och.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord.

25 Then departed Bar'na-bas to Tar'sus, for to seek Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto An'ti-och. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Chris'tians first in An'ti-och.

27 And in these days came prophets from Jeru'sa-lem unto An'ti-och.

28 And there stood up one of them named Ag'a-bus, and signified by the spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cæ'sar.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Ju-dæ'a:

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Bar'na-bas and Saul.

CHAPTER IV.

Peter and John imprisoned.

AND as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the ‖captain of the temple, and the Sad'du-cees came upon them,
2 [e]Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.
4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.
5 ¶And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,
6 And [b]An'nas the high priest, and Ca'ia-phas, and John, and Al-ex-an'der, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Je-ru'sa-lem.
7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, [c]By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?
8 [d]Then Pe'ter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Is'ra-el,
9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;
10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Is'ra-el, [e]that by the name of Jesus Christ of Naz'a-reth, whom ye crucified, [f]whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.
11 [g]This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.
12 [h]Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.
13 ¶Now when they saw the boldness of Pe'ter and John, [i]and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.
14 And beholding the man which was healed [k]standing with them, they could say nothing against it.
15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,
16 Saying, [l]What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is [m]manifest to all them that dwell in Je-ru'sa-lem; and we cannot deny it.
17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.
18 [n]And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.
19 But Pe'ter and John answered and said unto them, [o]Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.
20 [p]For we cannot but speak the things which [q]we have seen and heard.
21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, [r]because of the people: for all men glorified God for [s]that which was done.
22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.
23 ¶And being let go, [t]they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.
24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, [u]thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is;
25 Who, by the mouth of thy servant Da'vid hast said, [x]Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.
27 For [b]of a truth against [c]thy holy child Jesus, [d]whom thou hast anointed, both Her'od, and Pon'ti-us Pi'late, with the Gentiles, and the people of Is'ra-el, were gathered together, 28 [b]For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.
29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, [e]that with all boldness they may speak thy word, 30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; [f]and that signs and wonders may be done [g]by the name of [f]thine holy child Jesus.
31 ¶And when they had prayed, [h]the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, [e]and they spake the word of God with boldness.
32 And the multitude of them that believed [i]were of one heart and of one soul: [k]neither said any of them that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.
33 And with [l]great power gave the apostles [m]witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and [n]great grace was upon them all.
34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: [o]for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, 35 [p]And laid them down at the apostles' feet: [q]and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.
36 And Jo'ses, who by the apostles was surnamed Bar'na-bas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Le'vite, and of the country of Cy'prus, 37 [r]Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

CHAPTER V.

Ananias and Sapphira fall down dead.

BUT a certain man named An-a-ni'as, with Sap-phi'ra his wife, sold a possession, 2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, [q]and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.
3 [b]But Pe'ter said, An-a-ni'as, why hath [c]Sa'tan filled thine heart ‖ to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?
4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.
5 And An-a-ni'as hearing these words [d]fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.
6 And the young men arose, [s]wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.
7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.
8 And Pe'ter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.
9 Then Pe'ter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together [f]to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.
10 [g]Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.
11 [h]And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.
12 ¶And [t]by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; ([k]and they were all with one accord in Sol'o-mon's porch.
13 And [l]of the rest durst no man join himself to them:
[m]but the people magnified them.

26 The kings of the earth set themselves in array,
And the rulers were gathered together,
Against the Lord, and against his [1]Anointed:
27 for of a truth in this city against thy holy Servant
Jesus, whom thou didst anoint, both Her'od and Pon'ti-us Pi'late, with the Gentiles and the peoples of 28 Is'ra-el, were gathered together, to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel foreordained to come to pass.
29 And now, Lord, look upon their threatenings: and grant unto thy [2]servants to speak thy word with all 30 boldness, while thou stretchest forth thy hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done 31 through the name of thy holy Servant Jesus. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.
32 And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul: and not one of them said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; 33 but they had all things common. And with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus[3]: and great grace was 34 upon them all. For neither was there among them any that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices 35 of the things that were sold, and laid them at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need.
36 And Jo'seph, who by the apostles was surnamed Bar'na-bas (which is, being interpreted, Son of [4]ex-37 hortation), a Le'vite, a man of Cy'prus by race, having a field, sold it, and brought the money, and laid
it at the apostles' feet.

5 But a certain man named An-a-ni'as, with Sap-
2 phi'ra his wife, sold a possession, and kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' 3 feet. But Pe'ter said, An-a-ni'as, why hath Sa'tan filled thy heart to [5]lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep 4 back part of the price of the land? Whiles it remained, did it not remain thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thy power? How is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thy heart? thou 5 hast not lied unto men, but unto God. And An-a-ni'as hearing these words fell down and gave up the ghost: and great fear came upon all that heard it.
6 And the [6]young men arose and wrapped him round, and they carried him out and buried him.
7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.
8 And Pe'ter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for 9 so much. But Pe'ter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and they shall carry 10 thee out. And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her 11 out and buried her by her husband. And great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.
12 And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all with one accord in Sol'o-mon's 13 porch. But of the rest durst no man join himself to them: howbeit the people magnified them;

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;)

15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick ||into the streets and laid them on beds and couches, [n]that at the least the shadow of Pe'ter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Je-ru'sa-lem, bringing [o]sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 ¶[p]Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sad'du-cees,) and were filled with ||indignation,

18 [q]And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But [r]the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison-doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people, [s]all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. [t]But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Is'ra-el, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when he had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and [u]the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: [x]for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, [y]Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Je-ru'sa-lem with your doctrine, [z]and intend to bring this man's [a]blood upon us.

29 ¶Then Pe'ter and the other apostles answered and said, [b]We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 [c]The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and [d]hanged on a tree.

31 [e]Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be [f]a Prince and [g]a Saviour, [h]for to give repentance to Is'ra-el, and forgiveness of sins.

32 And [i]we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, [k]whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 ¶[l]When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34 Then stood there one up in the council, a Phar'i-see, named [m]Ga-ma'li-el, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Is'ra-el, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theu'das, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as ||obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Ju'das of Gal'i-lee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: [n]for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

14 [1]and believers were the more added to the Lord,
15 multitudes both of men and women; insomuch that they even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that, as Pe'ter came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow some 16 one of them. And there also came together the multitude from the cities round about Je-ru'sa-lem, bringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.
17 But the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sad'du-cees), and 18 they were filled with jealousy, and laid hands on the 19 apostles, and put them in public ward. But an angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors,
20 and brought them out, and said, Go ye, and stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words
21 of this Life. And when they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Is'ra-el, and sent to the 22 prison-house to have them brought. But the officers that came found them not in the prison; and
23 they returned and told, saying, The prison-house we found shut in all safety, and the keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no
24 man within. Now when the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this 25 would grow. And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison are in 26 the temple standing and teaching the people. Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for they feared the people, lest 27 they should be stoned. And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the 28 high priest asked them, saying, We straitly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Je-ru'sa-lem with your teaching, and intend to 29 bring this man's blood upon us. But Pe'ter and the apostles answered and said, We must obey God
30 rather than men. The God of our fathers raised up
31 Jesus, whom ye slew, hanging him on a tree. Him did God exalt [2]with his right hand to be a Prince and a Savior, for to give repentance to Is'ra-el, and 32 remission of sins. And we are witnesses[3] of these [4]things; [5]and so is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.
33 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the 34 heart, and were minded to slay them. But there stood up one in the council, a Phar'i-see, named Ga-ma'li-el, a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a 35 little while. And he said unto them, Ye men of Is'ra-el, take heed to yourselves as touching these 36 men, what ye are about to do. For before these days rose up Theu'das, giving himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and 37 came to nought. After this man rose up Ju'das of Gal'i-lee in the days of the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered 38 abroad. And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown:

42 And daily [t]in the temple, and in every house, [u]they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER VI.

The apostles' care for the poor—Seven deacons chosen.

AND in those days, [a]when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the [b]Gre'cians against the He'brews, because their widows were neglected [c]in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, [d]It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, [e]look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we [f]will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Ste'phen, [g]a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and [h]Phil'ip, and Proch'o-rus, and Ni-ca'nor, and Ti'mon, and Par'me-nas, and [i]Nic'o-las a proselyte of An'ti-och;

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and [k]when they had prayed, [l]they laid their hands on them.

7 And [m]the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Je-ru'sa-lem greatly; and a great company [n]of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Ste'phen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 ¶ Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Lib'er-tines, and Cy-re'ni-ans, and Al-ex-an'dri-ans, and of them of Ci-li'ci-a, and of A'si-a, disputing with Ste'phen.

10 And [o]they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 [p]Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Mo'ses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 [q]For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Naz'a-reth shall [r]destroy this place, and shall change the ‖customs which Mo'ses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

CHAPTER VII.

Stephen answereth to his accusation—They stone him to death.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, [a]Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father A'bra-ham when he was in Mes-o-po-ta'mi-a, before he dwelt in Char'ran,

3 And said unto him, [b]Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then [c]came he out of the land of the Chal-de'ans, and dwelt in Char'ran; and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

40 against God. And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles unto them, they beat them, and charged them not to speak in the name
41 of Jesus, and let them go. They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for the 42 Name. And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

6 Now in these days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a murmuring of the [1]Gre'cian Jews against the He'brews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.
2 And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not [2]fit that we should for-

8 And Ste'phen, full of grace and power, wrought

it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, [c]That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil [d]four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and [e]serve me in this place.

8 [h]And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: [i]and so A'bra-ham begat I'saac, and circumcised him the eighth day; [k]and I'saac begat Ja'cob, and [l]Ja'cob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 [m]And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Jo'seph into E'gypt: [n]but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, [o]and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pha'raoh king of E'gypt; and he made him governor over E'gypt and all his house.

11 [p]Now there came a dearth over all the land of E'gypt and Cha'naan, and great affliction; and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 [q]But when Ja'cob heard that there was corn in E'gypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 [r]And at the second time Jo'seph was made known to his brethren; and Jo'seph's kindred was made known unto Pha'raoh.

14 [s]Then sent Jo'seph, and called his father Ja'cob to him, and [t]all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 [u]So Ja'cob went down into E'gypt, [w]and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And [x]were carried over into Sy'chem, and laid in [y]the sepulchre that A'bra-ham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Em'mor, the father of Sy'chem.

17 But when [z]the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to A'bra-ham, [a]the people grew and multiplied in E'gypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Jo'seph.

19 The same dealt subtilely with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, [b]so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 [c]In which time Mo'ses was born, and [d]was ‖ exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And [e]when he was cast out, Pha'raoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Mo'ses was learned in all the wisdom of the E-gyp'tians, and was [f]mighty in words and in deeds.

23 [g]And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Is'ra-el.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the E-gyp'tian:

25 ‖ For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them; but they understood not.

26 [k]And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, [l]Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the E-gyp'tian yesterday?

29 [k]Then fled Mo'ses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Ma'di-an, where he begat two sons.

30 [l]And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Si'na an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Mo'ses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him,

32 Saying, [m]I am the God of thy fathers, the God of A'bra-ham, and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob. Then Mo'ses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 [n]Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and 7 entreat them evil, four hundred years. And the nation to which they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and 8 serve me in this place. And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so A'bra-ham begat I'saac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and I'saac begat 9 Ja'cob, and Ja'cob the twelve patriarchs. And the patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Jo'seph, sold 10 him into E'gypt: and God was with him, and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pha'raoh king of E'gypt; and he made 11 him governor over E'gypt and all his house. Now there came a famine over all E'gypt and Ca'naan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. 12 But when Ja'cob heard that there was corn in E'gypt, 13 he sent forth our fathers the first time. And at the second time Jo'seph was made known to his brethren; and Jo'seph's race became manifest unto Pha'raoh. 14 And Jo'seph sent, and called to him Ja'cob his father, 15 and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls. And Ja'cob went down into E'gypt; and he died, himself, 16 and our fathers; and they were carried over unto She'chem, and laid in the tomb that A'bra-ham bought for a price in silver of the sons of [1]Ha'mor in She'- 17 chem. But as the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto A'bra-ham, the people 18 grew and multiplied in E'gypt, till there arose another 19 king over E'gypt, which knew not Jo'seph. The same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, that [2]they should cast out their babes to the 20 end they might not [3]live. At which season Mo'ses was born, and was [4]exceeding fair; and he was 21 nourished three months in his father's house: and when he was cast out, Pha'raoh's daughter took him 22 up, and nourished him for her own son. And Mo'ses was instructed in all the wisdom of the E-gyp'tians; 23 and he was mighty in his words and works. But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Is'ra-el. 24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting 25 the E-gyp'tian: and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving 26 them [5]deliverance; but they understood not. And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to 27 another? But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and 28 a judge over us? Wouldest thou kill me, as thou 29 killedst the E-gyp'tian yesterday? And Mo'ses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land 30 of Mid'i-an, where he begat two sons. And when forty years were fulfilled, an angel appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Si'nai, in a flame of fire 31 in a bush. And when Mo'ses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold, there came 32 a voice of the Lord, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of A'bra-ham, and of I'saac, and of Ja'cob. And 33 Mo'ses trembled, and durst not behold. And the Lord said unto him, Loose the shoes from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.

A. D. 33.

34 °I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in E'gypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into E'gypt.

35 This Mo'ses, whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer ᵖby the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 ᵍHe brought them out, after that he had ʳshewed wonders and signs in the land of E'gypt, ˢand in the Red sea, ᵗand in the wilderness forty years.

37 ¶This is that Mo'ses, which said unto the children of Is'ra-el, ᵘA Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, ‖like unto me; ᵘhim shall ye hear.

38 ᵛThis is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with ʷthe angel which spake to him in the mount Si'na, and with our fathers: ˣwho received the lively ᵇoracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into E'gypt,

40 ᶜSaying unto Aa'ron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Mo'ses, which brought us out of the land of E'gypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 ᵈAnd they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then ᵉGod turned, and gave them up to worship ᶠthe host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, ᵍO ye house of Is'ra-el, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Mo'loch, and the star of your god Rem'phan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Bab'ylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, ‖speaking unto Mo'ses, ʰthat he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 ⁱWhich also our fathers ‖that came after brought in with †Je'sus into the possession of the Gentiles, ᵏwhom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of Da'vid;

46 ˡWho found favour before God, and ᵐdesired to find a tabernacle for the God of Ja'cob.

47 ⁿBut Sol'o-mon built him a house.

48 Howbeit ᵒthe Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet, 49 ᵖHeaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 ¶Ye ᵍstiffnecked, and ʳuncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 ˢWhich of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of ᵗthe Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 ᵘWho have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 ¶ˣWhen they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, ʸbeing full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, ᶻI see the heavens opened, and the ᵃSon of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord,

58 And ᵇcast him out of the city, ᶜand stoned him: and ᵈthe witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

34 I have surely seen the affliction of my people which is in E'gypt, and have heard their groaning, and I am come down to deliver them: and now come,
35 I will send thee into E'gypt. This Mo'ses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him hath God sent to be both a ruler and a [1]deliverer with the hand of the angel which ap-
36 peared to him in the bush. This man led them forth, having wrought wonders and signs in E'gypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.
37 This is that Mo'ses, which said unto the children of Is'ra-el, A prophet shall God raise up unto you from 38 among your brethren, [2]like unto me. This is he that was in the [3]church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Si'nai, and with our fathers: who received living oracles to give 39 unto us: to whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and turned back in 40 their hearts unto E'gypt, saying unto Aa'ron, Make us gods which shall go before us: for as for this Mo'ses, which led us forth out of the land of E'gypt, 41 we wot not what is become of him. And they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice unto the 42 idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands. But God turned, and gave them up to serve the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets,

Did ye offer unto me slain beasts and sacrifices
Forty years in the wilderness, O house of Is'ra-el?
43 And ye took up the tabernacle of Mo'loch,
And the star of the god Re'phan,
The figures which ye made to worship them:
And I will carry you away beyond Bab'y-lon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he appointed who spake unto Mo'ses, that he should make it according to the figure
45 that he had seen. Which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with [4]Josh'u-a when they entered on the possession of the nations, which God thrust out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of Da'vid;
46 who found favour in the sight of God, and asked to 47 find a habitation for the God of Ja'cob. But Sol'o-mon
48 built him a house. Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not in houses made with his hands; as saith the prophet,
49 The heaven is my throne,
And the earth the footstool of my feet:
What manner of house will ye build me? saith the Lord:
Or what is the place of my rest?
50 Did not my hand make all these things?
51 Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your 52 fathers did, so do ye. Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which shewed before of the coming of the Righteous One; of whom ye have now become betrayers and 53 murderers; ye who received the law [5]as it was ordained by angels, and kept it not.
54 Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with 55 their teeth. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of 56 God, and said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand
57 of God. But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with 58 one accord; and they cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man named Saul.

CHAPTER VIII.

Persecution in Jerusalem.

A. D. 34.

AND [a]Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Je-ru'sa-lem; and [b]they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Ju-de'a and Sa-ma'ri-a, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Ste'phen to his burial, and [c]made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, [d]he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore [e]they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5 Then [f]Phil'ip went down to the city of Sa-ma'ri-a, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Phil'ip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For [g]unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, called Si'mon, which beforetime in the same city [h]used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Sa-ma'ri-a, [i]giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Phil'ip preaching the things [k]concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Si'mon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Phil'ip, and wondered, beholding the †miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Je-ru'sa-lem heard that Sa-ma'ri-a had received the word of God, they sent unto them Pe'ter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them [l]that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 (For [m]as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only [n]they were baptized in [o]the name of the Lord Jesus.)

17 Then [p]laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Si'mon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Pe'ter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because [q]thou hast thought that [r]the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, [s]if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in [t]the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Si'mon, and said, [u]Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Je-ru'sa-lem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Sa-mar'i-tans.

8 said this, he fell asleep. And Saul was consenting unto his death.

A. D. 33.

And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Je-ru'sa-lem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Ju-dæ'a and Sa-ma'ri-a, except the apostles.
2 And devout men buried Ste'phen, and made great
3 lamentation over him. But Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.
4 They therefore that were scattered abroad went
5 about preaching the word. And Phil'ip went down to the city of Sa-ma'ri-a, and proclaimed unto them
6 the Christ. And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Phil'ip, when they heard and saw the signs which he did.
7 [1]For from many of those which had unclean spirits, they came out, crying with a loud voice: and many that were palsied, and that were lame, were healed.
8 And there was much joy in that city.
9 But there was a certain man, Si'mon by name, which beforetime in the city used sorcery, and amazed the [2]people of Sa-ma'ri-a, giving out that himself was 10 some great one: to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is that 11 power of God which is called Great. And they gave heed to him, because that of long time he had 12 amazed them with his sorceries. But when they believed Phil'ip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, 13 they were baptized, both men and women. And Si'mon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Phil'ip; and beholding signs and great [3]miracles wrought, he was amazed.
14 Now when the apostles which were at Je-ru'sa-lem heard that Sa-ma'ri-a had received the word of God, 15 they sent unto them Pe'ter and John: who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they 16 might receive the Holy Ghost: for as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they had been bap-17 tized into the name of the Lord Jesus. Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the 18 Holy Ghost. Now when Si'mon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the [4]Holy Ghost
19 was given, he offered them money, saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, 20 he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Pe'ter said unto him, Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God with money.
21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this [5]matter: for 22 thy heart is not right before God. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee.
23 For I see that thou [6]art in the gall of bitterness and 24 in the bond of iniquity. And Si'mon answered and said, Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.
25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Je-ru'sa-lem, and preached the gospel to many villages of the Samar'i-tans.

26 And the angel of the Lord spake unto Phil'ip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Je-ru'sa-lem unto Ga'za, which is desert.

[z]Zeph. 3. 10.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, [z]a man of E-thi-o'pi-a, a eunuch of great authority under Can'da-ce queen of the E-thi-o'pi-ans, who had the charge of all her treasure, and [y]had come to Je-ru'sa-lem for to worship, [y]John 12. 20.

28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read E-sa'ias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Phil'ip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Phil'ip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet E-sa'ias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Phil'ip that he would come up, and sit with him.

[x]Isa. 53 7, 8.

32 The place of the Scripture which he read was this, [x]He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humilation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Phil'ip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

[a]Luke 24. 27. ch. 18. 28.

35 Then Phil'ip opened his mouth, [a]and began at the same Scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; [b]what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Phil'ip said, [c]If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, [d]I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Phil'ip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, [e]the Spirit of the Lord caught away Phil'ip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

CHAPTER IX.

Saul's Conversion.

A. D. 35.

AND [e]Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, [e]ch. 8. 3. Gal. 1. 13. 1Tim.1.13.

2 And desired of him letters to Da-mas'cus to the synagogues, that if he found any †of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Je-ru'sa-lem.

†Gr. of the way. So ch. 19. 9, 23.

3 And [b]as he journeyed, he came near Da-mas'cus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

[b]ch. 22. 6. & 26. 12. 1 Cor. 15.8.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, [c]why persecutest thou me?

[c]Matt. 25. 40, &c.

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: [d]it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

[d]ch. 5. 39.

6 And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, [e]what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

[e]Luke 3. 10. ch. 2. 37. & 16. 30.

7 And [f]the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

[f]Dan. 10.7. See ch. 22. 9. & 26. 13.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Da-mas'cus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶And there was a certain disciple at Da-mas'cus, [g]named An-a-ni'as; and to him said the Lord in a vision, An-a-ni'as. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

[g]ch. 22. 12.

26 But an angel of the Lord spake unto Phil'ip, saying, Arise, and go [1]toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Je-ru'sa-lem unto Ga'za: the 27 same is desert. And he arose and went: and behold, a man of E-thi-o'pi-a, a eunuch of great authority under Can'da-ce, queen of the E-thi-o'pi-ans, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Je-ru'sa-lem for to wor-
28 ship; and he was returning and sitting in his chariot,
29 and was reading the prophet I-sa'iah. And the Spirit said unto Phil-ip, Go near, and join thyself to this 30 chariot. And Phil'ip ran to him, and heard him reading I-sa'iah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou
31 what thou readest? And he said, How can I except some one shall guide me? And he besought Phil'ip 32 to come up and sit with him. Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

He was led as a sheep to the slaughter;
And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,
So he openeth not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgement was taken away:
His generation who shall declare?
For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Phil'ip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of him-
35 self, or of some other? And Phil'ip opened his mouth, and beginning from this scripture, preached
36 unto him Jesus. And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; what doth hinder me
38 to be baptized?[2] And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Phil'ip and the eunuch; and he baptized
39 him. And when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Phil'ip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way
40 rejoicing. But Phil'ip was found at A-zo'tus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Cæs-a-re'a.

9 But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the
2 high priest, and asked of him letters to Da-mas'cus unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring
3 them bound to Je-ru'sa-lem. And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Da-mas'cus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light
4 out of heaven: and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest
5 thou me? And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And 6 he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: but rise, and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee
7 what thou must do. And the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the [3]voice, but
8 beholding no man. And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw nothing; and they led him by the hand, and brought him
9 into Da-mas'cus. And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.
10 Now there was a certain disciple at Da-mas'cus, named An-a-ni'as; and the Lord said unto him in a vision, An-a-ni'as. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

A. D. 36.

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Ju'das for one called Saul, [h]of Tar'sus: for, behold, he prayeth,
12 And hath seen in a vision a man named An-a-ni'as, coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.
13 Then An-a-ni'as answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, [i]how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Je-ru'sa-lem:
14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all [k]that call on thy name.
15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for [l]he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before [m]the Gentiles, and [n]kings, and the children of Is'ra-el:
16 For [o]I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.
17 [p]And An-a-ni'as went his way, and entered into the house; and [q]putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and [r]be filled with the Holy Ghost.
18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.
19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. [s]Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Da-mas'cus.
20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, [t]that he is the Son of God.
21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said; [u]Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Je-ru'sa-lem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?
22 But Saul increased the more in strength, [x]and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Da-mas'cus, proving that this is very Christ.

A. D. 37.

23 ¶And after that many days were fulfilled, [y]the Jews took counsel to kill him:
24 [z]But their laying wait was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.
25 Then the disciples took him by night, and [a]let him down by the wall in a basket.
26 [b]And when Saul was come to Je-ru'sa-lem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.
27 [c]But Bar'na-bas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, [d]and how he had preached boldly at Da-mas'cus in the name of Jesus.
28 And [e]he was with them coming in and going out at Je-ru'sa-lem.
29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the [f]Gre'cians: [g]but they went about to slay him.
30 Which, when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Ces-a-re'a, and sent him forth to Tar'sus.
31 [h]Then had the churches rest throughout all Ju-de'a, and Gal'i-lee, and Sa-ma'ri-a, and were edified: and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

A. D. 38.

32 ¶And it came to pass, as Pe'ter passed [i]throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lyd'da.
33 And there he found a certain man named E'ne-as, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.
34 And Pe'ter said unto him, E'ne-as, [k]Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.
35 And all that dwelt at Lyd'da and [l]Sa'ron saw him, and [m]turned to the Lord.
36 ¶Now there was at Jop'pa a certain disciple named

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Ju'das for one named Saul, a man of Tar'-

22 bound before the chief priests. But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Da-mas'cus, proving that this is the Christ.
23 And when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took 24 counsel together to kill him: but their plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates also 25 day and night that they might kill him: but his disciples took him by night, and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.
26 And when he was come to Je-ru'sa-lem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.

31 So the church throughout all Ju-dæ'a and Gal'i-lee and Sa-ma'ri-a had peace, being [3]edified; and, walking [4]in the fear of the Lord and [4]in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, was multiplied.
32 And it came to pass, as Pe'ter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt

34 was palsied. And Pe'ter said unto him, Æ'ne-as, Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And 35 straightway he arose. And all that dwelt at Lyd'da and in Shar'on saw him, and they turned to the Lord.

CHAPTER X.

Cornelius sendeth for Peter.

A. D. 41.

THERE was a certain man in Ces-a-re'a, called Cor-ne'li-us, a centurion of the band called the I-tal'ian band,

2 [a]A devout man, and one that [b]feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always.

3 [c]He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cor-ne'li-us.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Jop'pa, and call for one Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter:

6 He lodgeth with one [d]Si'mon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: [e]he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cor-ne'li-us was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Jop'pa.

9 ¶On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, [f]Pe'ter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And [g]saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Pe'ter; kill, and eat.

14 But Pe'ter said, Not so, Lord; [h]for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, [i]What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Pe'ter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cor-ne'li-us had made inquiry for Si'mon's house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked whether Si'mon, which was surnamed Pe'ter, were lodged there.

19 ¶While Pe'ter thought on the vision, [k]the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

Tab'i-tha, which by interpretation is called [1]Dor'cas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds 37 which she did. And it came to pass, in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an upper chamber.
38 And as Lyd'da was nigh unto Jop'pa, the disciples, hearing that Pe'ter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, Delay not to come on unto us.
39 And Pe'ter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dor'cas

A. D. 41.

20 [t]Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Pe'ter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cor-ne'li-us; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, [m]Cor-ne'li-us the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and [n]of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Pe'ter went away with them, [o]and certain brethren from Jop'pa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Ces-a-re'a. And Cor-ne'li-us waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Pe'ter was coming in, Cor-ne'li-us met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Pe'ter took him up, saying, [p]Stand up: I myself also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how [q]that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but [r]God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me?

30 And Cor-ne'li-us said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and, behold, [s]a man stood before me [t]in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cor-ne'li-us, [u]thy prayer is heard, [x]and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Jop'pa, and call hither Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter; he is lodged in the house of one Si'mon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 ¶Then Pe'ter opened his mouth, and said, [y]Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35 But [z]in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is accepted with him.

36 The word which God sent unto the children of Is'ra-el, [a]preaching peace by Jesus Christ: ([b]he is Lord of all:)

38 How [d]God anointed Jesus of Naz'a-reth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; [e]for God was with him.

39 And [f]we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Je-ru'sa-lem; [g]whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him [h]God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41 [i]Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, [k]who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And [l]he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify [m]that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge [n]of quick and dead.

43 [o]To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name [p]whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

44 ¶While Pe'ter yet spake these words, [q]the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 [r]And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Pe'ter, [s]because that

20 But arise, and get thee down, and go with them,
21 nothing doubting: for I have sent them. And Pe'ter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are

And on the morrow he arose and went forth with them, and certain of the brethren from Jop'pa accom-

CHAPTER XI.

Peter maketh his defence.

AND the apostles and brethren that were in Ju-de'a, heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Pe'ter was come up to Je-ru'sa-lem, [a]they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, [b]Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, [c]and didst eat with them.

4 But Pe'ter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it [d]by order unto them, saying,

5 [e]I was in the city of Jop'pa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Pe'ter; slay, and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Ces-a-re'a unto me.

12 And [f]the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover [g]these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

13 [h]And he showed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Jop'pa, and call for Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, [i]as on us at the beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, [k]John indeed baptized with water; but [l]ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17 [m]Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, [n]what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, [o]Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

19 ¶ [p]Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Ste'phen travelled as far as Phe-ni'ce, and Cy'prus, and An'ti-och, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cy'prus and Cy-re'ne, which, when they were come to An'ti-och, spake unto [q]the Gre'cians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And [r]the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and [s]turned unto the Lord.

22 ¶ Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Je-ru'sa-lem: and they sent forth [t]Bar'na-bas, that he should go as far as An'ti-och.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and [u]exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

9 ever entered into my mouth. But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath 10 cleansed, make not thou common. And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into 11 heaven. And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent 12 from Cæs-a-re'a unto me. And the Spirit bade me go with them, making no distinction. And these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into 13 the man's house: and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Jop'pa, and fetch Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter;

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send [f]relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Ju-de'a:
30 [g]Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Bar'na-bas and Saul.

CHAPTER XII.

Herod persecuteth the Christians.

A. D. 44.

NOW about that time, Her'od the king ‖stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.
2 And he killed James [a]the brother of John with the sword.
3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Pe'ter also. (Then were [b]the days of unleavened bread.)
4 And [c]when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.
5 Pe'ter therefore was kept in prison: but ‖prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.
6 And when Her'od would have brought him forth, the same night Pe'ter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.
7 And, behold, [d]the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Pe'ter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.
8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals: and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.
9 And he went out, and followed him; and [e]wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought [f]he saw a vision.
10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; [g]which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.
11 And when Pe'ter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that [h]the Lord hath sent his angel, and [i]hath delivered me out of the hand of Her'od, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.
12 And when he had considered the thing, [k]he came to the house of Ma'ry the mother of [l]John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together [m]praying.
13 And as Pe'ter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came ‖to hearken, named Rho'da.
14 And when she knew Pe'ter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Pe'ter stood before the gate.
15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, [n]It is his angel.
16 But Pe'ter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.
17 But he, [o]beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

24 for he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the 25 Lord. And he went forth to Tar'sus to seek for 26 Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto An'ti-och. And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together [1]with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called Christians first in An'ti-och.
27 Now in these days there came down prophets
28 from Je-ru'sa-lem unto An'ti-och. And there stood up one of them named Ag'a-bus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be a great famine over all [2]the world: which came to pass in the days of 29 Clau'di-us. And the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send [3]relief unto the 30 brethren that dwelt in Ju-dæ'a: which also they did, sending it to the elders by the hand of Bar'na-bas and Saul.

A. D. 44.

12 Now about that time Her'od the king put forth his
2 hands to afflict certain of the church. And he killed
3 James the brother of John with the sword. And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Pe'ter also. And those were the days of un-
4 leavened bread. And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him, intending after the
5 Passover to bring him forth to the people. Pe'ter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him.
6 And when Her'od was about to bring him forth, the same night Pe'ter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and guards before the door
7 kept the prison. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and he smote Pe'ter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his 8 hands. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and 9 follow me. And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done [4]by the 10 angel, but thought he saw a vision. And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straight-
11 way the angel departed from him. And when Pe'ter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Her'od, and from 12 all the expectation of the people of the Jews. And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Ma'ry the mother of John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and 13 were praying. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a maid came to answer, named Rho'da.
14 And when she knew Pe'ter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told that Pe'ter
15 stood before the gate. And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it
16 was even so. And they said, It is his angel. But Pe'ter continued knocking: and when they had 17 opened, they saw him, and were amazed. But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place.

CHAPTER XIII.

Paul and Barnabas sent to the Gentiles.

A. D. 45.

NOW there were [a]in the church that was at An'ti-och certain prophets and teachers; as [b]Bar'na-bas, and Sim'e-on that was called Ni'ger, and [c]Lu'ci-us, of Cy-re'ne, and Man'a-en, ‖which had been brought up with Her'od the tetrarch, and Saul.

2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, [d]Separate me Bar'na-bas and Saul for the work [e]whereunto I have called them.

3 And [f]when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 ¶So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Se-leu'ci-a; and from thence they sailed to [g]Cy'prus.

5 And when they were at Sal'a-mis, [h]they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also [i]John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone through the isle unto Pa'phos, they found [k]a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-je'sus:

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Ser'gi-us Pau'lus, a prudent man; who called for Bar'na-bas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But [l]El'y-mas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) [m]filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, [n]thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, [o]the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Pa'phos, they came to Per'ga in Pam-phyl'i-a: and [p]John departing from them returned to Je-ru'sa-lem.

14 ¶But when they departed from Per'ga, they came to An'ti-och in Pi-sid'i-a, and [q]went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

15 And [r]after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have [s]any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

18 And [f]about the time of forty years †suffered he their manners in the wilderness.
19 And when [g]he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Cha'naan, [h]he divided their land to them by lot.
20 And after that [i]he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, [k]until Sam'u-el the prophet.
21 [l]And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Ben'-ja-min, by the space of forty years.
22 And [m]when he had removed him, [n]he raised up unto them Da'vid to be their king: to whom also he gave testimony, and said, [o]I have found Da'vid the son of Jes'se, [p]a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.
23 [q]Of this man's seed hath God, according [r]to his promise, raised unto Is'ra-el [s]a Saviour, Jesus:
24 [t]When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Is'ra-el.
25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, [u]Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.
26 Men and brethren, children of the stock of A'bra-ham, and whosoever among you feareth God, [v]to you is the word of this salvation sent.
27 For they that dwell at Je-ru'salem, and their rulers, [w]because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets [x]which are read every sabbath day, [y]they have fulfilled them in condemning him.
28 [z]And though they found no cause of death in him, [a]yet desired they Pi'late that he should be slain.
29 [b]And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, [c]they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.
30 [d]But God raised him from the dead:
31 And [e]he was seen many days of them which came up with him [f]from Gal'i-lee to Je-ru'sa-lem, [g]who are his witnesses unto the people.
32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that [h]the promise which was made unto the fathers,
33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again: as it is also written in the second psalm, [i]Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.
34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, [k]I will give you the sure †mercies of Da'vid.
35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, [l]Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.
36 For Da'vid, ‖after he had served his own generation by the will of God, [m]fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:
37 But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.
38 ¶Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that [n]through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins;
39 And [o]by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Mo'ses.
40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken of in [p]the prophets;
41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.
42 And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them †the next sabbath.
43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and 16 And Paul stood up, and beckoning with the hand said,

Men of Is'ra-el, and ye that fear God, hearken.
17 The God of this people Is'ra-el chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they sojourned in the land of E'gypt, and with a high arm led he them forth out
18 of it. And for about the time of forty years [1]suffered
19 he their manners in the wilderness. And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Ca'naan, he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about 20 four hundred and fifty years: and after these things
21 he gave them judges until Sam'u-el the prophet. And afterward they asked for a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of

31 the dead: and he was seen for many days of them that came up with him from Gal'i-lee to Je-ru'sa-lem, 32 who are now his witnessess unto the people. And we bring you good tidings of the promise made unto 33 the fathers, how that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he raised up Jesus; as also it is written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, 34 this day have I begotten thee. And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise, I will give you the holy and sure blessings of Da'vid.
35 Because he saith also in another psalm, Thou wilt
36 not give thy Holy One to see corruption. For Da'vid, after he had [4]in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, 37 and saw corruption: but he whom God raised up saw 38 no corruption. Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that through this man is proclaimed unto 39 you remission of sins: and by him every one that believeth is justified from all things, from which ye
40 could not be justified by the law of Mo'ses. Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets;

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and [p]spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Bar'na-bas waxed bold, and said, [q]It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but [r]seeing you put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, [s]we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, [t]I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

CHAPTER XIV.

Paul and Barnabas are persecuted.

A. D. 46.

AND it came to pass in I-co'ni-um, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, [a]which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted [b]signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the [b]apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews ith their rulers, [c]to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and [d]fled unto Lys'tra and Der'be, cities of Ly-ca-o'ni-a, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 ¶[e]And there sat a certain man at Lys'tra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speak: who steadfastly beholding him, and [f]perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a l ud voice, [g]Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Ly-ca-o'ni-a, The [h]gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Bar'na-bas, Ju'pi-ter; and Paul, Mercu'ri-us, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Ju'pi-ter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, [i]and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Bar'na-bas and Paul, heard of, [k]they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out, Bar'na-bas: who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was 45 gathered together to hear the word of [1]God. But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which 46 were spoken by Paul, and [2]blasphemed. And Paul and Bar'na-bas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you. Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, lo, we 47 turn to the Gentiles. For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying,

I have set thee for a light of the Gentiles,
That thou shouldest be for salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of [1]God: and as many as were 49 ordained to eternal life believed. And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the 50 region. But the Jews urged on the devout women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Bar-
51 na-bas, and cast them out of their borders. But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and 52 came unto I-co'ni-um. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.

14 And it came to pass in I-co'ni-um, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of Jews and of
2 Greeks believed. But the Jews that were disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made
3 them evil affected against the brethren. Long time therefore they tarried there, speaking boldly in the Lord, which bare witness unto the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their 4 hands. But the multitude of the city was divided; and part held with the Jews, and part with the apos-
5 tles. And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, to 6 entreat them shamefully, and to stone them, they became aware of it, and fled unto the cities of Ly-ca-o'ni-a, Lys'tra, and Der'be, and the region round
7 about: and there they preached the gospel.
8 And at Lys'tra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother's womb, 9 who never had walked. The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and 10 seeing that he had faith to be [3]made whole, said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet.
11 And he leaped up and walked. And when the multitudes saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Ly-ca-o'ni-a, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

14 would have done sacrifice with the multitudes. But when the apostles, Bar'na-bas and Paul, heard of it, they rent their garments, and sprang forth among 15 the multitude, crying out and saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like [6]passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ye should turn from these vain things unto the living God, who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and

18 And with these saying scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 ¶ [t]And there came thither certain Jews from An'ti-och, and I-co'ni-um, who persuaded the people, [u]and, having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Bar'na-bas to Der'be.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, [x]and †had taught many, they returned again to Lys'tra, and to I-co'ni-um, and An'ti-och,

22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and [y]exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that [z]we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had [a]ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pi-sid'i-a, they came to Pam-phyl'i-a.

25 And when they had preached the word in Per'ga, they went down into At-ta'li-a:

26 And thence sailed to An'ti-och, [b]from whence they had been [c]recommended to the grace of God, for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, [d]they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had [e]opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

CHAPTER XV.

Dissension about circumcision.

AND [a]certain men which came down from Ju-de'a taught the brethren, and said, [b]Except ye be circumcised [c]after the manner of Mo'ses, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Bar'na-bas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that [d]Paul and Bar'na-bas, and certain other of them, should go up to Je-ru'sa-lem unto the apostles and elders about this question.

3 And [e]being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phe-ni'ce and Sa-ma'ri-a, [f]declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Je-ru'sa-lem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and [g]they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 But there ‖ rose up certain of the sect of the Phar'i-sees, which believed, saying, [h]That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Mo'ses.

6 ¶ And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had been much disputing, Pe'ter rose up and said unto them, [i]Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 And God, [k]which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, [l]giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us;

9 [m]And put no difference between us and them, [n]purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, [o]to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But [p]we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

17 And yet he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave you from heaven rains and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and 18 gladness. And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.
19 But there came Jews thither from An'ti-och and I-co'ni-um: and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, sup-
20 posing that he was dead. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Bar'na-
21 bas to Der'be. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lys'tra, and to I-co'ni-um, and to 22 An'ti-och, confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many tribulations we must enter into the 23 kingdom of God. And when they had appointed for them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on 24 whom they had believed. And they passed through 25 Pi-sid'i-a, and came to Pam-phyl'i-a. And when they had spoken the word in Per'ga, they went down to 26 At-ta'li-a; and thence they sailed to An'ti-och, from whence they had been committed to the grace of 27 God for the work which they had fulfilled. And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and how that he had opened a 28 door of faith unto the Gentiles. And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

15 And certain men came down from Ju-dæ'a and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the custom of Mo'ses, ye cannot be saved.
2 And when Paul and Bar'na-bas had no small dissension and questioning with them, the brethren appointed that Paul and Bar'na-bas, and certain other of them, should go up to Je-ru'sa-lem unto the apostles
3 and elders about this question. They therefore, being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phœ-ni'ci-a and Sa-ma'ri-a, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great
4 joy unto all the brethren. And when they were come to Je-ru'sa-lem, they were received of the church and the apostles and the elders, and they rehearsed
5 all things that God had done with them. But there rose up certain of the sect of the Phar'i-sees who believed, saying, It is needful to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Mo'ses.
6 And the apostles and the elders were gathered
7 together to consider of this matter. And when there had been much questioning, Pe'ter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that [l] a good while ago God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel, and 8 believe. And God, which knoweth the heart, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as 9 he did unto us; and he made no distinction between 10 us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith. Now therefore why tempt ye God, that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither 11 our fathers nor we were able to bear? But we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, in like manner as they.

12 ¶Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Bar'na-bas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had [e]wrought among the Gentiles by them.
13 ¶And after they had held their peace, [f]James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me.
14 [g]Si'me-on hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.
15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,
16 [h]After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of Da'vid, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:
17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.
18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.
19 Wherefore [k]my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles [l]are turned to God:
20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain [m]from pollutions of idols, and [n]from fornication, and from things strangled, [o]and from blood.
21 For Mo'ses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, [p]being read in the synagogues every sabbath day.
22 Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to An'ti-och, with Paul and Bar'na-bas; namely, Ju'das surnamed [q]Bar'sa-bas, and Si'las, chief men among the brethren:
23 And they wrote letters by them after this manner; The apostles and elders and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in An'ti-och, and Syr'i-a, and Ci-li'ci-a:
24 Forasmuch as we have heard, that [r]certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment:
25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Bar'na-bas and Paul,
26 [s]Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.
27 We have sent therefore Ju'das and Si'las, who shall also tell you the same things by †mouth.
28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;
29 [t]That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and [u]from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.
30 So when they were dismissed, they came to An'ti-och: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:
31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the ‖ consolation.
32 And Ju'das and Si'las, being prophets also themselves, [x]exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.
33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let [y]go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.
34 Notwithstanding it pleased Si'las to abide there still.
35 [z]Paul also and Bar'na-bas continued in An'ti-och, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

A. D. 53.

36 ¶And some days after, Paul said unto Bar'na-bas, Let us go again and visit our brethren [a]in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.
37 And Bar'na-bas determined to take with them [b]John, whose surname was Mark.
38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, [c]who departed from them from Pam-phyl'i-a, and went not with them to the work.
39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Bar'na-bas and Paul rehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the 13 Gentiles by them. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, 14 Brethren, hearken unto me: Sym'e-on hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take 15 out of them a people for his name. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,
16 After these things I will return,
And I will build again the tabernacle of Da'vid, which is fallen;
And I will build again the ruins thereof,
And I will set it up:
17 That the residue of men may seek after the Lord,
And all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called,
18 Saith the Lord, [1]who maketh these things known from the beginning of the world.
19 Wherefore my judgement is, that we trouble not them
20 which from among the Gentiles turn to God; but that we [2]write unto them, that they abstain from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from 21 what is strangled, and from blood. For Mo'ses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.
22 Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to An'ti-och with Paul and Bar'na-bas; namely, Ju'das called Bar-sab'bas,
23 and Si'las, chief men among the brethren: and they wrote thus by them, The apostles and the elder brethren unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in An'ti-och and Syr'i-a and Ci-li'ci-a, greeting:
24 Forasmuch as we have heard that certain [3]which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no com-
25 mandment; it seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them
26 unto you with our beloved Bar'na-bas and Paul, men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our 27 Lord Jesus Christ. We have sent therefore Ju'das and Si'las, who themselves also shall tell you the 28 same things by word of mouth. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;
29 that ye abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. Fare ye well.
30 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to An'ti-och; and having gathered the multitude to-31 gether, they delivered the epistle. And when they 32 had read it, they rejoiced for the [4]consolation. And Ju'das and Si'las, being themselves also prophets, [5]exhorted the brethren with many words, and con-
33 firmed them. And after they had spent some time there, they were dismissed in peace from the brethren
35 unto those that had sent them forth[6]. But Paul and Bar'na-bas tarried in An'ti-och, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.
36 And after some days Paul said unto Bar'na-bas, Let us return now and visit the brethren in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of 37 the Lord, and see how they fare. And Bar'na-bas was minded to take with them John also, who 38 was called Mark. But Paul thought not good to take with them him who withdrew from them from Pam-phyl'i-a, and went not with them to the 39 work. And there arose a sharp contention, so that

CHAPTER XVI.

Paul circumciseth Timothy.

16 THEN came he to [c]Der'be and Lys'tra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, [b]named Ti-mo'the-us, [c]the son of a certain woman which was a Jew'ess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:
2 Which [d]was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lys'tra and I-co'ni-um.
3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and [e]took and circumcised him, because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.
4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, [f]that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Je-ru'sa-lem.
5 And [g]so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.
6 Now when they had gone throughout Phryg'i-a, and the region of Ga-la'ti-a, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in A'si-a,
7 After they were come to Mys'i-a, they assayed to go into Bi-thyn'i-a: but the Spirit suffered them not.
8 And they passing by Mys'i-a [h]came down to Tro'as.
9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a [i]man of Mac-e-do'ni-a, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Mac-e-do'ni-a, and help us.
10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go [k]into Mac-e-do'ni-a, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.
11 Therefore loosing from Tro'as, we came with a straight course to Sam-o-thra'ci-a, and the next day to Ne-ap'o-lis;
12 And from thence to [l]Phi-lip'pi, which is ‖ the chief city of that part of Mac-e-do'ni-a, and a colony: and we were in that city abiding certain days.
13 And on the †sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.
14 And a certain woman named Lyd'i-a, a seller of purple, of the city of Thy-a-ti'ra, which worshipped God, heard us: whose [m]heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.
15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And [n]she constrained us.
16 ¶And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel [o]possessed with a spirit ‖ of divination met us, which brought her masters [p]much gain by soothsaying:
17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.
18 And this did she many days. But Paul, [q]being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. [r]And he came out the same hour.
19 ¶And [s]when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, [t]they caught Paul and Si'las, and [u]drew them into the ‖ marketplace unto the rulers,
20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, [x]do exceedingly trouble our city,
21 And teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Ro'mans.
22 And the multitude rose up together against them; and they parted asunder one from the other, and Bar'na-bas took Mark with him, and sailed away unto Cy'- 40 prus; but Paul chose Si'las, and went forth, being commended by the brethren to the grace of the 41 Lord. And he went through Syr'i-a and Ci-li'ci-a, confirming the churches.

16 And he came also to Der'be and to Lys'tra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Tim'o-thy, the son of a Jew'ess which believed; but his father
2 was a Greek. The same was well reported of by the 3 brethren that were at Lys'tra and I-co'ni-um. Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was a Greek.
4 And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, which had been ordained of the apostles and elders that 5 were at Je-ru'sa-lem. So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.
6 And they went through the region of Phryg'i-a and Ga-la'ti-a, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost
7 to speak the word in A'si-a; and when they were come over against Mys'i-a, they assayed to go into Bi-thyn'i-a;
8 and the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not; and pass-
9 ing by Mys'i-a, they came down to Tro'as. And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There was a man of Mac-e-do'ni-a standing, beseeching him, and say-
10 ing, Come over into Mac-e-do'ni-a, and help us. And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Mac-e-do'ni-a, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.
11 Setting sail therefore from Tro'as, we made a straight course to Sam-o-thra'ce, and the day follow-
12 ing to Ne-ap'o-lis; and from thence to Phi-lip'pi, which is a city of Mac-e-do'ni-a, the first of the district, a Ro'man colony: and we were in this city tarrying
13 certain days. And on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down and spake unto the women which were come
14 together. And a certain woman named Lyd'i-a, a seller of purple, of the city of Thy-a-ti'ra, one that worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were 15 spoken by Paul. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.
16 And it came to pass, as we were going to the place of prayer, that a certain maid having [1]a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters
17 much gain by soothsaying. The same following after Paul and us cried out, saying, These men are [2]servants of the Most High God, which proclaim 18 unto you [3]the way of salvation. And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, I charge thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And it came out that very hour.
19 But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was [4]gone, they laid hold on Paul and Si'las, and dragged them into the marketplace before
20 the rulers, and when they had brought them unto the [5]magistrates, they said, These men, being 21 Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to re-22 ceive, or to observe, being Ro'mans. And the multitude rose up together against them: and

CHAPTER XVII.

Paul preacheth at Thessalonica.

17 NOW when they had passed through Am-phip'o-lis and Ap-ol-lo'ni-a, they came to Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, where was a synagogue of the Jews:
2 And Paul, as his manner was, [a]went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the Scriptures,
3 Opening and alleging, [b]that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, || whom I preach unto you, is Christ.
4 [c]And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and [d]Si'las; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.
5 ¶But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of [e]Ja'son, and sought to bring them out to the people.
6 And when they found them not, they drew Ja'son and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, [f]These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;
7 Whom Ja'son hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Ce'sar, [g]saying that there is another king, one Jesus.

17 Now when they had passed through Am-phip'o-lis and Ap-ol-lo'ni-a, they came to Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, where was
2 a synagogue of the Jews: and Paul, as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three [7]sabbath days
3 reasoned with them from the scriptures, opening and alleging, that it behoved the Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom,
4 said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. And some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Si'las; and of the devout Greeks a great
5 multitude, and of the chief women not a few. But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of Ja'son, they sought to bring them forth to 6 the people. And when they found them not, they dragged Ja'son and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned [8]the world
7 upside down are come hither also; whom Ja'son hath received: and these all act contrary to the decrees of Cæ'sar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.
9 And when they had taken security of Ja'son, and of the others, they let them go.
10 ¶And [h]the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Si'las by night unto Be-re'a: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.
11 These were more noble than those in Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and [i]searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.
12 Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.
13 But when the Jews of Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Be-re'a, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.
14 [k]And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Si'las and Ti-mo'the-us abode there still.
15 And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Ath'ens: and [l]receiving a commandment unto Si'las and Ti-mo'the-us for to come to him with all speed, they departed.
16 ¶Now while Paul waited for them at Ath'ens, [m]his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city ‖ wholly given to idolatry.
17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.
18 Then certain philosophers of the Ep-i-cu-re'ans, and of the Sto'ics, encountered him. And some said, What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.
19 And they took him, and brought him unto ‖A-re-op'-a-gus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?
20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears; we would know therefore what these things mean.
21 (For all the A-the'ni-ans, and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.)
22 ¶Then Paul stood in the midst of ‖ Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Ath'ens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.
23 For as I passed by, and beheld your ‖devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.
24 [n]God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is [o]Lord of heaven and earth, [p]dwelleth not in temples made with hands;
25 Neither is worshipped with men's hands, [q]as though he needed any thing, seeing [r]he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;
26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and [s]the bounds of their habitation;
27 [t]That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, [u]though he be not far from every one of us:
28 For [v]in him we live, and move, and have our being; [w]as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.
29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, [x]we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.
30 And [a]the times of this ignorance God winked at; but [b]now commandeth all men every where to repent:
31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which [c]he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath ‖ given assurance unto all men, in that [d]he hath raised him from the dead.

8 And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of 9 the city, when they heard these things. And when they had taken security from Ja'son and the rest, they let them go.
10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Si'las by night unto Be-rœ'a: who when they were come thither went into the synagogue of the 11 Jews. Now these were more noble than those in Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the scriptures daily,
12 whether these things were so. Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honour-
13 able estate, and of men, not a few. But when the Jews of Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Be-rœ'a also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and troubling the 14 multitudes. And then immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Si'las and 15 Tim'o-thy abode there still. But they that conducted Paul brought him as far as Ath'ens: and receiving a commandment unto Si'las and Tim'o-thy that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.
16 Now while Paul waited for them at Ath'ens, his spirit was provoked within him, as he beheld the 17 city full of idols. So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with them that met with him.
18 And certain also of the Ep-i-cu-re'an and Sto'ic philosophers encountered him. And some said, What would this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange [1]gods: because he preached Jesus
19 and the resurrection. And they took hold of him, and brought him [2]unto [3]the A-re-op'a-gus, saying, May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken
20 by thee? For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things
21 mean. (Now all the A-the'ni-ans and the strangers sojourning there [4]spent their time in nothing else, 22 but either to tell or to hear some new thing.) And Paul stood in the midst of the A-re-op'a-gus, and said,

Ye men of Ath'ens, in all things I perceive that ye 23 are somewhat [5]superstitious. For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, [6]TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this 24 set I forth unto you. The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in [7]temples made with hands;
25 neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he himself giveth to all life,
26 and breath, and all things; and he made of one every nation of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed sea-
27 sons, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he is not far from each one of 28 us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said,
29 For we are also his offspring. Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that [8]the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven
30 by art and device of man. The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked; but now he [9]commandeth 31 men that they should all everywhere repent: inasmuch as he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge [10]the world in righteousness [11]by [12]the man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

Paul accused before Gallio.

A. D. 55.

AFTER these things Paul departed from Ath'ens, and came to Cor'inth;

[a]Rom. 16. 3. 1Cor. 16. 19. 2 Tim. 4. 19.

2 And found a certain Jew named [a]Aq'ui-la, born in Pon'tus, lately come from It'a-ly, with his wife Pris-cil'la, (because that Clau'di-us had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome,) and came unto them.

4 [c]And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And [d]when Si'las and Ti-mo'the-us were come from Mac-e-do'ni-a, Paul was [e]pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus ‖was Christ.

6 And [f]when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, [g]he shook his raiment, and said unto them, [h]Your blood be upon your own heads; [i]I am clean: [k]from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 ¶And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house named Jus'tus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 [l]And Cris'pus, the chief ruler of the synagogue believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Co-rin'thi-ans hearing believed, and were baptized.

11 And he †continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶And when Gal'li-o was the deputy of A-cha'ia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gal'li-o said unto the Jews, [o]If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took [p]Sos'the-nes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. And Gal'li-o cared for none of those things.

18 ¶And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syr'i-a, and with him Pris-cil'la, and Aq'ui-la; having [q]shorn his head in [r]Cen'chre-a: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Eph'e-sus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, [s]I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Je-ru'sa-lem: but I will return again unto you, [t]if God will. And he sailed from Eph'e-sus.

A. D. 56.

22 And when he had landed at Ces-a-re'a, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to An'ti-och.

[u]Gal. 1. 2. & 4. 14. [v]ch. 14. 23. & 15. 32, 41.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of [u]Ga-la'ti-a and Phryg'i-a in order, [v]strengthening all the disciples.

32 Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, We will hear
33 thee concerning this yet again. Thus Paul went 34 out from among them. But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Di-o-ny'si-us the A-re-op'a-gite, and a woman named Dam'a-ris, and others with them.

A. D. 54.

18 After these things he departed from Ath'ens, and
2 came to Cor'inth. And he found a certain Jew named Aq'ui-la, a man of Pon'tus by race, lately come from It'a-ly, with his wife Pris-cil'la, because Clau'di-us had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome:
3 and he came unto them; and because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought;
4 for by their trade they were tentmakers. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and [1]persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5 But when Si'las and Tim'o-thy came down from Mac-e-do'ni-a, Paul was constrained by the word,

12 But when Gal'li-o was proconsul of A-cha'ia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and 13 brought him before the judgement-seat, saying, This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary
14 to the law. But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gal'li-o said unto the Jews, If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked villany, O ye Jews,
15 reason would that I should bear with you: but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves; I am not minded
16 to be a judge of these matters. And he drave them
17 from the judgement-seat. And they all laid hold on Sos'the-nes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgement-seat. And Gal'li-o cared for none of these things.

18 And Paul having tarried after this yet many days, took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence for Syr'i-a, and with him Pris-cil'la and Aq'ui-la; having shorn his head in Cen'chre-æ: for he had a vow.

The Holy Ghost given.

AND it came to pass, that, while [e]A-pol'los was at Cor'inth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Eph'e-sus; and finding certain disciples,
2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, [c]We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.
3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, [d]Unto John's baptism.
4 Then said Paul, [e]John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.
5 When they heard this, they were baptized [f]in the name of the Lord Jesus.
6 And when Paul had [g]laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and [h]they spake with tongues, and prophesied.
7 And all the men were about twelve.
8 [i]And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things [k]concerning the kingdom of God.
9 But [l]when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil [m]of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Ty-ran'nus.
10 And [n]this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in A'si-a heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.
11 And [o]God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:
12 [p]So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.
13 ¶ [q]Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, [r]took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.
14 And there were seven sons of one Sce'va a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.
15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?
16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.
17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Eph'e-sus; and [s]fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.
18 And many that believed came, and [t]confessed, and shewed their deeds.
19 Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.
20 [u]So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

24 Now a certain Jew named A-pol'los, an Al-ex-an'dri-an by race, [1]a learned man, came to Eph'e-sus, and he
25 was mighty in the scriptures. This man had been [2]instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught carefully the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism
26 of John: and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Pris-cil'la and Aq'ui-la heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him
27 the way of God more carefully. And when he was minded to pass over into A-cha'ia, the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, he [3]helped them

2 and he said unto them, Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, we did not so much as hear whether [5]the Holy
3 Ghost was given. And he said, Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into John's baptism.
4 And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is,
5 on Jesus. And when they heard this, they were 6 baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues,
7 and prophesied. And they were in all about twelve men.
8 And he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading as to the things concerning the kingdom

10 And this continued for the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in A'si-a heard the word of 11 the Lord, both Jews and Greeks. And God wrought
12 special [6]miracles by the hands of Paul: insomuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed
13 from them, and the evil spirits went out. But certain also of the strolling Jews, exorcists, took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, I adjure you by 14 Jesus whom Paul preacheth. And there were seven sons of one Sce'va, a Jew, a chief priest, which did 15 this. And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, Jesus I [7]know, and Paul I know; but who are 16 ye? And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that 17 house naked and wounded. And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Eph'e-sus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord
18 Jesus was magnified. Many also of them that had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds.
19 And not a few of them that practised [8]curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

21 ¶ [a]After these things were ended, Paul [b]purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Mac-e-do'ni-a and A-cha'ia, to go to Je-ru'-sa-lem, saying, After I have been there [c]I must also see Rome.

22 So he sent into Mac-e-do'ni-a two of [d]them that ministered unto him, Ti-mo'the-us and [e]E-ras'tus: but he himself stayed in A'si-a for a season.

23 And [f]the same time there arose no small stir about [g]that way.

24 For a certain man named De-me'tri-us, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Di-an'a, brought [h]no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Eph'e-sus, but almost throughout all A'si-a, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that [i]they be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at naught; but also that the temple of the great goddess Di-an'a should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all A'si-a and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Di-an'a of the E-phe'si-ans.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught [k]Ga'ius and [l]Ar-is-tar'chus, men of Mac-e-do'ni-a, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of A'si-a, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Al-ex-an'der out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And [m]Al-ex-an'der [n]beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Di-an'a of the E-phe'si-ans.

35 And when the townclerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Eph'e-sus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the E-phe'si-ans is †a worshipper of the great goddess Di-an'a, and of the image which fell down from Ju'pi-ter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if De-me'tri-us, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, ‖the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a ‖lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER XX.

Paul preacheth at Troas.

AND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and [o]departed for to go into Mac-e-do'ni-a.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Mac-e-do'-ni-a and A-cha'ia, to go to Je-ru'sa-lem, saying, After 22 I have been here, I must also see Rome. And having sent into Mac-e-do'ni-a two of them that ministered unto him, Tim'o-thy and E-ras'tus, he himself stayed in A'si-a for a while.
23 And about that time there arose no small stir
24 concerning the Way. For a certain man named De-me'tri-us, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of [1]Di-an'a, brought no little business unto the crafts-
25 men; whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that
26 by this business we have our wealth. And ye see and hear, that not alone at Eph'e-sus, but almost throughout all A'si-a, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no
27 gods, which are made with hands: and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess [1]Di-an'a be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all A'si-a and 28 [2]the world worshippeth. And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying,
29 Great is [1]Di-an'a of the E-phe'si-ans. And the city was filled with the confusion: and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized Ga'ius and Ar-is-tar'chus, men of Mac-e-do'ni-a, Paul's companions
30 in travel. And when Paul was minded to enter in 31 unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. And certain also of the [3]chief officers of A'si-a, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to 32 adventure himself into the theatre. Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was in confusion; and the more part knew not 33 wherefore they were come together. [4]And they brought Al-ex-an'der out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Al-ex-an'der beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto 34 the people. But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours
35 cried out, Great is [1]Di-an'a of the E-phe'si-ans. And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Eph'e-sus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the E-phe'si-ans is temple-keeper of the great [1]Di-an'a, and of the image
36 which fell down from [5]Ju'pi-ter? Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be 37 quiet, and to do nothing rash. For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of tem-
38 ples nor blasphemers of our goddess. If therefore De-me'tri-us, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, [6]the courts are open, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one an-39 other. But if ye seek anything about other matters, 40 it shall be settled in the regular assembly. For indeed we are in danger to be [7]accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of 41 this concourse. And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 And after the uproar was ceased, Paul having sent for the disciples and exhorted them, took leave of 2 them, and departed for to go into Mac-e-do'ni-a. And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece.

A. D. 60.

3 And there abode three months. And [b]when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syr'i-a, he purposed to return through Mac-e-do'ni-a.

4 And there accompanied him into A'si-a, Sop'a-ter of Be-re'a; and of the Thes-sa-lo'ni-ans, [c]Ar-is-tar'chus and Se-cun'dus; and [d]Ga'ius of Der'be, and [e]Ti-mo'the-us; and of A'si-a, [f]Tych'i-cus and [g]Troph'i-mus.

5 These going before tarried for us at Tro'as.

6 And we sailed away from Phi-lip'pi, after [h]the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them [i]to Tro'as in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 And upon [k]the first day of the week, when the disciples came together [l]to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights [m]in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eu'ty-chus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and [n]fell on him, and embracing him said, [o]Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 ¶And we went before to ship, and sailed unto As'sos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at As'sos, we took him in, and came to Mit-y-le'ne.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chi'os; and the next day we arrived at Sa'mos, and tarried at Tro-gyl'li-um; and the next day we came to Mi-le'tus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Eph'e-sus, because he would not spend the time in A'si-a: [p]for he hasted, if it were possible for him, [q]to be at Je-ru'sa-lem [r]the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶And from Mi-le'tus he sent to Eph'e-sus, and called the elders of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, [s]from the first day that I came to A'si-a, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations which befell me [t]by the lying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how [u]I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 [v]Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, [w]repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now, behold, [x]I go bound in the spirit unto Je-ru'sa-lem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that [y]the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying, that bonds and afflictions ‖abide me.

24 But [z]none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, [a]so that I might finish my course with joy, [b]and the ministry, [c]which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, [d]I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am [e]pure from the blood of all men.

27 For [f]I have not shunned to declare unto you all [g]the counsel of God.

28 ¶[h]Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost [i]hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, [m]which he hath purchased [n]with his own blood.

A. D. 60.

3 And when he had spent three months there, and a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syr'i-a, he determined to return
4 through Mac-e-do'ni-a. And there accompanied him [1]as far as A'si-a Sop'a-ter of Be-rœ'a, the son of Pyr'rhus; and of the Thes-sa-lo'ni-ans, Ar-is-tar'chus and Se-cun'dus; and Ga'ius of Der'be, and Tim'o-thy; and 5 of A'si-a, Tych'i-cus, and Troph'i-mus. But these [2]had gone before, and were waiting for us at Tro'as.
6 And we sailed away from Phi-lip'pi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Tro'as in five days; where we tarried seven days.
7 And upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight.
8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber,
9 where we were gathered together. And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eu'ty-chus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he fell down from the third story, and was 10 taken up dead. And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him, said, Make ye no ado; for 11 his life is in him. And when he was gone up, and had broken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, so
12 he departed. And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted.
13 But we, going before to the ship, set sail for As'sos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go [3]by land.
14 And when he met us at As'sos, we took him in, and 15 came to Mit-y-le'ne. And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chi'os; and the next day we touched at Sa'mos; and [4]the day after we 16 came to Mi-le'tus. For Paul had determined to sail past Eph'e-sus, that he might not have to spend time in A'si-a; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be at Je-ru'sa-lem the day of Pentecost.
17 And from Mi-le'tus he sent to Eph'e-sus, and called 18 to him the [5]elders of the church. And when they were come to him, he said unto them,

Ye yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in A'si-a, after what manner I was with you all
19 the time, serving the Lord with all lowliness of mind, and with tears, and with trials which befell
20 me by the plots of the Jews: how that I shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly, and from house to 21 house, testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord
22 Jesus [6]Christ. And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Je-ru'sa-lem, not knowing the things that 23 shall befall me there: save that the Holy Ghost testifieth unto me in every city, saying that bonds
24 and afflictions abide me. But I hold not my life of any account, as dear unto myself, [7]so that I may accomplish my course, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of 25 the grace of God. And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I went about preaching the king-
26 dom, shall see my face no more. Wherefore I testify unto you this day, that I am pure from the blood of 27 all men. For I shrank not from declaring unto you
28 the whole counsel of God. Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in the which the Holy Ghost hath made you [8]bishops, to feed the church of [9]God, which he [10]purchased with his own blood.

CHAPTER XXI.

Paul goeth to Jerusalem.

AND it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Co'os, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Pat'a-ra:
2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phe-ni'ci-a, we went aboard, and set forth.
3 Now when we had discovered Cy'prus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syr'i-a, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.
4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: [c]who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Je-ru'sa-lem.
5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and [b]we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.
6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned [c]home again.
7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptol-e-ma'is, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.
8 And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Ces-a-re'a; and we entered into the house of Phil'ip [d]the evangelist, [e]which was one of the seven; and abode with him.
9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, [f]which did prophesy.
10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Ju-de'a a certain prophet, named [g]Ag'a-bus.
11 And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, [h]So shall the Jews at Je-ru'sa-lem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.
12 And when he heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Je-ru'sa-lem.
13 Then Paul answered, [i]What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Je-ru'sa-lem for the name of the Lord Jesus.
14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, [k]The will of the Lord be done.
15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Je-ru'sa-lem.
16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Ces-a-re'a,

29 I know that after my departing grievous wolves shall 30 enter in among you, not sparing the flock; and from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them.
31 Wherefore watch ye, remembering that by the space of three years I ceased not to admonish every one 32 night and day with tears. And now I commend you to [1]God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among 33 all them that are sanctified. I coveted no man's sil-
34 ver, or gold, or apparel. Ye yourselves know that these hands ministered unto my necessities, and to 35 them that were with me. In all things I gave you an example, how that so labouring ye ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.
36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down,
37 and prayed with them all. And they all wept sore,
38 and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him, sorrowing most of all for the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And they brought him on his way unto the ship.

[1] Some ancient authorities read the Lord.

21 And when it came to pass that we were parted from them, and had set sail, we came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and
2 from thence unto Pat'a-ra: and having found a ship crossing over unto Phœ-ni'ci-a, we went aboard, and
3 set sail. And when we had come in sight of Cy'prus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syr'i-a, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her
4 burden. And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Je-ru'sa-lem.
5 And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and kneeling down
6 on the beach, we prayed, and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.
7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptol-e-ma'is; and we saluted the breth-
8 ren, and abode with them one day. And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cæs-a-re'a: and entering into the house of Phil'ip the evangelist, who 9 was one of the seven, we abode with him. Now this man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.
10 And as we tarried there [2]many days, there came down from Ju-dæ'a a certain prophet, named Ag'a-bus.
11 And coming to us, and taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Je-ru'sa-lem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him
12 into the hands of the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought
13 him not to go up to Je-ru'sa-lem. Then Paul answered, What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at 14 Je-ru'sa-lem for the name of the Lord Jesus. And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.
15 And after these days we [3]took up our bag-
16 gage, and went up to Je-ru'sa-lem. And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Cæs-a-re'a,

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto [m] James; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, [n] he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles [o] by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all [p] zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Mo'ses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may [q] shave their heads: and all may know that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

[r] ch. 15. 20, 29.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, [r] we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

30 And [a] all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Je-ru'sa-lem was in an uproar:

33 Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and [c] commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, [d] Away with him.

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek?

[e] See ch. 5. 36. [f] ch. 9. 11. & 22. 3.

38 [e] Art not thou that E-gyp'tian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, [f] I am a man which am a Jew of Tar'sus, bringing with them one Mna'son of Cy'prus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Je-ru'sa-lem, the brethren received us gladly. And the day following Paul 18 went in with us unto James; and all the elders were 19 present. And when he had saluted them, he rehearsed one by one the things which God had wrought
20 among the Gentiles by his ministry. And they, when they heard it, glorified God; and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many [1] thousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and 21 they are all zealous for the law: and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Mo'ses, telling them not to circumcise their children, neither 22 to walk after the customs. What is it therefore?
23 they will certainly hear that thou art come. Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men
24 which have a vow on them; these take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges for them, that they may shave their heads: and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thy-
25 self also walkest orderly, keeping the law. But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, we [2] wrote, giving judgement that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and 26 from what is strangled, and from fornication. Then Paul [3] took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification, until the offering was offered for every one of them.
27 And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from A'si-a, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on 28 him, crying out, Men of Is'ra-el, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place: and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath 29 defiled this holy place. For they had before seen with him in the city Troph'i-mus the E-phe'si-an, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.
30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors
31 were shut. And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the [4] chief captain of the [5] band,
32 that all Je-ru'sa-lem was in confusion. And forthwith he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain
33 and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and 34 inquired who he was, and what he had done. And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into 35 the castle. And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the vio-
36 lence of the crowd; for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, Away with him.
37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know 38 Greek? Art thou not then the E-gyp'tian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the 39 Assassins? But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tar'sus

40 And when he had given him license, Paul stood on the stairs, and [g]beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the He'brew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER XXII.

Paul declareth how he was converted.

MEN, [a]brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the He'brew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)

3 [b]I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tar'sus, a city in Ci-li'ci-a, yet brought up in this city [c]at the feet of [d]Ga-ma'li-el, and taught [e]according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and [f]was zealous toward God, [g]as ye all are this day.

4 [h]And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and [i]all the estate of the elders: [k]from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Da-mas'cus, to bring them, which were there bound unto Je-ru'sa-lem, for to be punished.

6 And [l]it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Da-mas'cus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Naz'a-reth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And [m]they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Da-mas'cus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Da-mas'cus.

12 And [n]one An-a-ni'as, a devout man according to the law, [o]having a good report of all the [p]Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, [q]The God of our fathers [r]hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and [s]see [t]that Just One, and [u]shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 [x]For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of [y]what thou hast seen and heard.

16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, [z]and wash away thy sins, [a]calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And [b]it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Je-ru'sa-lem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And [c]saw him saying unto me, [d]Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Je-ru'sa-lem; for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, [e]they know that I imprisoned and [f]beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 [g]And when the blood of thy martyr Ste'phen was shed, I also was standing by, and [h]consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart: [i]for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, [k]Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that [l]he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air, 26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest; for this man is a Ro'man.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Ro'man? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have ‖ examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Ro'man, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and

[1]Or, for

30 But on the morrow, desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

23 And Paul, looking stedfastly on the council, said, Brethren, I have lived before God in all good con- 2 science until this day. And the high priest An-a-ni'as commanded them that stood by him to smite him 3 on the mouth. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and commandest me 4 to be smitten contrary to the law? And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest? 5 And Paul said, I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil 6 of a ruler of thy people. But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sad'du-cees, and the other Phar'i-sees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, I am a Phar'i-see, a son of Phar'i-sees: touching the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. 7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Phar'i-sees and Sad'du-cees: and the as- 8 sembly was divided. For the Sad'du-cees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: 9 but the Phar'i-sees confess both. And there arose a great clamor: and some of the scribes of the Phar'i-sees' part stood up, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: and what if a spirit hath spoken 10 to him, or an angel? And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Je-ru'sa-lem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing un- 15 til we have killed Paul. Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he 16 come near, are ready to slay him. But Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, [2]and he came 17 and entered into the castle, and told Paul. And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

[o]ver. 12. 20 And he said, [o]The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Ces-a-re'a, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Fe'lix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Clau'di-us Lys'i-as unto the most excellent governor Fe'lix sendeth greeting.

[p]ch. 21. 33. & 24. 7. 27 [p]This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army and rescued him, having understood that he was a Ro'man.

[q]ch. 22. 30. 28 [q]And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:

[r]ch. 18. 15. & 25. 19. [s]ch. 26. 31. 29 Whom I perceived to be accused [r]of questions of their law, [s]but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

[t]ver. 20. [u]ch. 24. 8. & 25. 6. 30 And [t]when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and [u]gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to An-tip'a-tris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Ces-a-re'a, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of [x]Ci-li'ci-a;

[x]ch. 21. 39. [y]ch. 24. 1, 10. & 25. 16. [z]Matt. 27. 27. 35 [y]I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in [z]Her'od's judgment hall.

CHAPTER XXIV

Paul accused by Tertullus, and his defence.

[a]ch. 21. 27. [b]ch. 23. 2, 30, 35. & 25. 2. AND after [a]five days [b]An-a-ni'as the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Ter-tul'lus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Ter-tul'lus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Fe'lix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

[c]Luke 23. 2. ch. 6. 13. & 16. 20. & 17. 6. & 21. 28. 1 Pet. 2. 12, 15. 5 [c]For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Naz'a-renes:

A. D. 60.

said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain:
18 for he hath something to tell him. So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who 19 hath something to say to thee. And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me?
20 And he said, The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more 21 exactly concerning him. Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, look-
22 ing for the promise from thee. So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man
23 that thou hast signified these things to me. And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Cæs-a-re'a, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the 24 night: and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto 25 Fe'lix the governor. And he wrote a letter after this form:
26 Clau'di-us Lys'i-as unto the most excellent governor
27 Fe'lix, greeting. This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be slain of them, when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, hav-
28 ing learned that he was a Ro'man. And desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, [1]I brought 29 him down unto their council: whom I found to be accused about questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of 30 bonds. And when it was shewn to me that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.[2]
31 So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took 32 Paul, and brought him by night to An-tip'a-tris. But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with 33 him, and returned to the castle: and they, when they came to Cæs-a-re'a, and delivered the letter to 34 the governor, presented Paul also before him. And when he had read it, he asked of what province he was;
35 and when he understood that he was of Ci-li'ci-a, I will hear thy cause, said he, when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Her'od's [3]palace.

[1] Some ancient authorities omit I brought him down unto their council.

[2] Many ancient authorities add Farewell.

[3] Gr. Prætorium.

24 And after five days the high priest An-a-ni'as came down with certain elders, and with an orator, one Ter-tul'lus; and they informed the governor against
2 Paul. And when he was called, Ter-tul'lus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much peace, and that by thy providence evils are corrected for this 3 nation, we accept it in all ways and in all places,
4 most excellent Fe'lix with all thankfulness. But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee
5 to hear us of thy clemency a few words. For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout [4]the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Naz'a-renes:

[4] Gr. the inhabited earth.

A. D. 60.

6 [d]Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would [e]have judged according to our law.
7 [f]But the chief captain Lys'i-as came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,
8 [g]Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.
9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

A. D. 53. Felix made procurator over Judea.

10 Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:
11 Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Je-ru'sa-lem [h]for to worship.
12 [i]And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:
13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.
14 But this I confess unto thee, that after [k]the way which they call heresy, so worship I the [l]God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in [m]the law and in the prophets:
15 And [n]have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, [o]that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.
16 And [p]herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.
17 Now, after many years [q]I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.
18 [r]Whereupon certain Jews from A'si-a found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.
19 [s]Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had aught against me.
20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council,
21 Except it be for this one voice, that I cried, standing among them, [t]Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.
22 And when Fe'lix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When [u]Lys'i-as the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.
23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and [x]that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.
24 And after certain days, when Fe'lix came with his wife Dru-sil'la, which was a Jew'ess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.
25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Fe'lix trembled and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.
26 He hoped also that [y]money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

A. D. 62.

27 But after two years Por'ci-us Fes'tus came into Fe'lix' room: and Fe'lix, [z]willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER XXV.

Paul accused before Festus.

NOW when Fes'tus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Ces-a-re'a to Je-ru'sa-lem.
2 [a]Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,
3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Je-ru'sa-lem, [b]laying wait in the way to kill him.
4 But Fes'tus answered, that Paul should be kept at Ces-a-re'a, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

6 who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on 8 whom also we laid hold: [1] from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge 9 of all these things, whereof we accuse him. And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.
10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make 11 my defence: seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that it is not more than twelve days since I went up 12 to worship at Je-ru'sa-lem: and neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city.
13 Neither can they prove to thee the things whereof 14 they now accuse me. But this I confess unto thee, that after the Way which they call [2] a sect, so serve
I the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in 15 the prophets: having hope toward God, which these also themselves [3] look for, that there shall be a resur-16 rection both of the just and unjust. Herein do
I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of 17 offence toward God and men alway. Now after [4] many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and 18 offerings: [5] amidst which they found me purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but 19 there were certain Jews from A'si-a—who ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, 20 if they had aught against me. Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when 21 I stood before the council, except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day.
22 But Fe'lix, having more exact knowledge concern-in the Way, deferred them, saying, When Lys'i-as the chief captain shall come down, I will determine 23 your matter. And he gave order to the centurion that he should be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.
24 But after certain days, Fe'lix came with Dru-sil'la, [6] his wife, which was a Jew'ess, and sent for Paul, and 25 heard him concerning the faith in Christ Jesus. And as he reasoned of righteousness, and [7] temperance, and the judgement to come, Fe'lix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time; and when I have a convenient season, I will call thee unto me.
26 He hoped withal that money would be given him of Paul: wherefore also he sent for him the oftener, 27 and communed with him. But when two years were fulfilled, Fe'lix was succeeded by Por'ci-us Fes'tus; and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Fe'lix left Paul in bonds.

25 Fes'tus therefore, [8] having come into the province, after three days went up to Je-ru'sa-lem from 2 Cæs-a-re'a. And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Paul; and 3 they besought him, asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Je-ru'sa-lem; laying wait 4 to kill him on the way. Howbeit Fes'tus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæs-a-re'a, and that he himself was about to depart thither shortly.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, [c]if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them ||more than ten days, he went down unto Ces-a-re'a; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Je-ru'sa-lem stood round about, [d]and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

8 While he answered for himself, [e]Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Ce'sar have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Fes'tus, [f]willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, [g]Wilt thou go up to Je-ru'sa-lem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Ce'sar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 [h]For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. [i]I appeal unto Ce'sar.

12 Then Fes'tus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Ce'sar? unto Ce'sar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days king A-grip'pa and Ber-ni'ce came unto Ces-a-re'a to salute Fes'tus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Fes'tus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, [k]There is a certain man left in bonds by Fe'lix:

15 [l]About whom, when I was at Je-ru'sa-lem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 [m]To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Ro'mans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have license to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, [n]without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 [o]But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because ||I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Je-ru'sa-lem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the ||hearing of Au-gus'tus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Ce'sar.

22 Then [p]A-grip'pa said unto Fes'tus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, when A-grip'pa was come, and Ber-ni'ce, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains and principal men of the city, at Fes'tus' commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 And Fes'tus said, King A-grip'pa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom [q]all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Je-ru'sa-lem, and also here, crying that he ought [r]not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that [s]he had committed nothing worthy of death, [t]and that he himself hath appealed to Au-gus'tus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you,

A. D. 62.

5 Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss in the man, let them accuse him.

6 And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæs-a-re'a; and on the morrow he sat on the judgement-seat, and

7 commanded Paul to be brought. And when he was come, the Jews which had come down from Je-ru'salem stood round about him, bringing against him many and grievous charges, which they could not

8 prove; while Paul said in his defence, Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor

9 against Cæ'sar, have I sinned at all. But Fes'tus, desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Je-ru'sa-lem, and there

10 be judged of these things before me? But Paul said, I am standing before Cæ'sar's judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I

11 done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest. If then I am a wrong-doer, and have committed anything worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if none of those things is true, whereof these accuse me, no man can [1]give me up unto them. I appeal 12 unto Cæ'sar. Then Fes'tus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed unto Cæ'sar: unto Cæ'sar shalt thou go.

13 Now when certain days were passed, A-grip'pa the king and Ber-ni'ce arrived at Cæs-a-re'a, [2]and saluted

14 Fes'tus. And as they tarried there many days, Fes'tus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, There is

15 a certain man left a prisoner by Fe'lix: about whom, when I was at Je-ru'sa-lem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, asking for sentence

16 against him. To whom I answered, that it is not the custom of the Ro'mans to give up any man, before that the accused have the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defence

17 concerning the matter laid against him. When therefore they were come together here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat down on the judgement-seat, and commanded the man to be brought.

18 Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil things as I supposed;

19 but had certain questions against him of their own [3]religion, and of one Jesus, who was dead, whom

20 Paul affirmed to be alive. And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, asked whether he would go to Je-ru'sa-lem, and there be

21 judged of these matters. But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of [4]the emperor, I commanded him to be kept till I should send him

22 to Cæ'sar. And A-grip'pa said unto Fes'tus, I also [5]could wish to hear the man myself. To-morrow, saith he, thou shalt hear him.

23 So on the morrow, when A-grip'pa was come, and Ber-ni'ce, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command

24 of Fes'tus Paul was brought in. And Fes'tus saith, King A-grip'pa, and all men which are here present with us, behold ye this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Je-ru'sa-lem and here, crying that he ought not to live any 25 longer. But I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death: and as he himself appealed to 26 [4]the emperor I determined to send him. Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you,

CHAPTER XXVI.

Of Paul's life and conversion.

THEN A-grip'pa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, king A-grip'pa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Je-ru'sa-lem, know all the Jews;

5 Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after [c]the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Phar'i-see.

6 [b]And now I stand and am judged for the hope of [c]the promise made of God unto our fathers:

7 Unto which promise [d]our twelve tribes, instantly serving God †[e]day and night, [f]hope to come. For which hope's sake, king A-grip'pa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 [g]I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Naz'a-reth.

10 [h]Which thing I also did in Je-ru'sa-lem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority [i]from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 [k]And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 [l]Whereupon as I went to Da-mas'cus with authority and commission from the chief priests,

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the He'brew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, [m]to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, [n]unto whom now I send thee,

18 [o]To open their eyes, and [p]to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Sa'tan unto God, [q]that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and [r]inheritance among them which are [s]sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king A-grip'pa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:

20 But [t]shewed first unto them of Da-mas'cus, and at Je-ru'sa-lem, and throughout all the coasts of Ju-de'a, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do [u]works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes [x]the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying, and specially before thee, king A-grip'pa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him.

26 And A-grip'pa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence:

2 I think myself happy, king A-grip'pa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews:

3 [1]especially because thou art expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore

4 I beseech thee to hear me patiently. My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among mine own nation, and at Je-ru'sa-

5 lem, know all the Jews; having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that after the straitest sect of our religion I lived a Phar'i-

6 see. And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers;

7 unto which promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. And concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, O

8 king! Why is it judged incredible with you, if God

9 doth raise the dead? I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name

10 of Jesus of Naz'a-reth. And this I also did in Je-ru'-sa-lem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my 11 vote against them. And punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I

12 persecuted them even unto foreign cities. [2]Whereupon as I journeyed to Da-mas'cus with the authority

13 and commission of the chief priests, at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and

14 them that journeyed with me. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me in the He'brew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against 15 [3]the goad. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But arise, and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things [4]wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will ap-

17 pear unto thee; delivering thee from the people,

18 and from the Gentiles, unto whom I send thee, to open their eyes, [5]that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Sa'tan unto God, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance among them that are sanctified by

19 faith in me. Wherefore, O king A-grip'pa, I was

20 not disobedient unto the heavenly vision: but declared both to them of Da-mas'cus first, and at Je-ru'sa-lem, and throughout all the country of Ju-dæ'a, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of [6]repent-

21 ance. For this cause the Jews seized me in the 22 temple, and assayed to kill me. Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying

[1]Or, because thou art especially expert
[2]Or, on which errand

none other things than those [y]which the prophets and [z]Mo'ses did say should come:

23 [a]That Christ should suffer, and [b]that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and [c]should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Fes'tus said with a loud voice, Paul, [d]thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Fes'tus; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King A-grip'pa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 Then A-grip'pa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul said, [e]I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Ber-ni'ce, and they that sat with them:

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, [f]This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said A-grip'pa unto Fes'tus, This man might have been set at liberty, [g]if he had not appealed unto Ce'sar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Paul shippeth for Rome.

AND when [a]it was determined, that we should sail into It'a-ly, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Ju'li-us, a centurion of Au-gus'tus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Ad-ra-myt'ti-um, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of A'si-a; one [b]Ar-is-tar'chus, a Mac-e-do'ni-an of Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Si'don. And Ju'li-us [c]courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cy'prus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Ci-li'ci-a and Pam-phyl'i-a, we came to My'ra, a city of Ly'ci-a.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Al-ex-an'dri-a sailing into It'a-ly; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cni'dus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under || Crete, over against Sal-mo'ne:

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called the Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of La-se'a.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, [d]because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with || hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phe-ni'ce, and there to winter; which is a haven of Crete, and lieth toward the southwest and northwest.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after there || arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Eu-roc'ly-don.

nothing but what the prophets and Mo'ses did say should come; [1]how that the Christ [2]must suffer, and [1]how that he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim light both to the people and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus made his defence, Fes'tus saith with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness.

25 But Paul saith, I am not mad, most excellent Fes'tus; but speak forth words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner.

27 King A-grip'pa, believest thou the prophets? I know

28 that thou believest. And A-grip'pa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain

29 make me a Christian. And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And the king rose up, and the governor, and

31 Ber-ni'ce, and they that sat with them: and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of 32 bonds. And A-grip'pa said unto Fes'tus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cæ'sar.

27 And when it was determined that we should sail for It'a-ly, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Ju'li-us, of the Au-

2 gus'tan [3]band. And embarking in a ship of Ad-ramyt'ti-um, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of A'si-a, we put to sea, Ar-is-tar'chus, a Mac-e-

3 do'ni-an of Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, being with us. And the next day we touched at Si'don: and Ju'li-us treated Paul kindly, and gave him leave to go unto his

4 friends and [4]refresh himself. And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cy'prus, be-

5 cause the winds were contrary. And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Ci-li'ci-a and Pam-

6 phyl'i-a, we came to My'ra, a city of Ly'ci-a. And there the centurion found a ship of Al-ex-an'dri-a sail-

7 ing for It'a-ly; and he put us therein. And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cni'dus, the wind not [5]further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete,

8 over against Sal-mo'ne; and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of La-se'a.

9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast was now al-

10 ready gone by, Paul admonished them, and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the lading

11 and the ship, but also of our lives. But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were

12 spoken by Paul. And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phœ'nix, and winter there; which is a haven

13 of Crete, looking [6]north-east and south-east. And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor, and sailed along Crete, close in shore.

14 But after no long time there beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Eu-raq'ui-lo:

A. D. 62.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.
16 And running under a certain island which is called Clau'da, we had much work to come by the boat:
17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.
18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;
[c]Jonah 1. 5. 19 And the third day [c]we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.
20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.
21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.
22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in A'dri-a, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;
28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.
29 Then fearing lest they should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.
30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,
31 Paul said to the centurion, and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.
32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.
33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.
34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for [k]there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.
‖ Or, cut the anchors, they left them in the sea, &c. 40 And when they had ‖ taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoisted up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.
[n]2 Cor. 11. 25. 41 And falling into a place where two seas met, [n]they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.
42 And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

A. D. 62.

15 and when the ship was caught, and could not face
16 the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven. And running under the lee of a small island called [1]Cau'da,
17 we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should be cast upon the Syr'tis, they lowered the gear, and so 18 were driven. And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw the 19 freight overboard; and the third day they cast out
20 with their own hands the [2]tackling of the ship. And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope
21 that we should be saved was now taken away. And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and 22 loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but 23 only of the ship. For there stood by me this night an angel of the God whose I am, whom also I serve,
24 saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must stand before Cæ'sar: and lo, God hath granted thee all them that 25 sail with thee. Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath 26 been spoken unto me. Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.
27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of A'dri-a, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were draw-
28 ing near to some country; and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they 29 sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. And fearing lest haply we should be cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and 30 [3]wished for the day. And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay 31 out anchors from the foreship, Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the 32 ship, ye cannot be saved. Then the soldiers cut 33 away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having 34 taken nothing. Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for there shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you.
35 And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all: and 36 he brake it, and began to eat. Then were they all
37 of good cheer, and themselves also took food. And we were in all in the ship [4]two hundred threescore 38 and sixteen souls. And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, throwing out the 39 wheat into the sea. And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they
40 could [5]drive the ship upon it. And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the 41 beach. But lighting upon a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves.
42 And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Paul in the island of Melita.

[c] ch. 27. 26.

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that [c] the island was called Mel'i-ta.
2 And the [b] barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

[b] Rom. 1. 14. 1 Cor. 14. 11. Col. 3. 11.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.
4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

[a] Mark 16. 18. Luke 10. 19.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and [c] felt no harm.
6 Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and [d] said that he was a god.

[d] ch. 14. 11.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Pub'li-us; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.
8 And it came to pass that the father of Pub'li-us lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and [e] prayed, and [f] laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:
10 Who also honoured us with many [g] honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

A. D. 63.

11 And after three months, we departed in a ship of Al-ex-an'dri-a, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Cas'tor and Pol'lux.

[g] Matt. 15. 6. 1 Tim. 5. 17.

12 And landing at Syr'a-cuse, we tarried there three days.
13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhe'gi-um: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Pu-te'o-li:
14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.
15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Ap'pi-i Fo'rum, and the Three Taverns; whom when Paul saw he thanked God, and took courage.
16 And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but [h] Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier that kept him.

[h] ch. 24. 25. & 27. 3.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, [i] though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet [k] was I delivered prisoner from Je-ru'sa-lem into the hands of the Ro'mans:

[i] ch. 24. 12, 13. & 25. 8. [k] ch. 21. 33.

18 Who, [l] when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.
19 But when the Jews spake against it, [m] I was constrained to appeal unto Ce'sar; not that I had aught to accuse my nation of.

[l] ch. 22. 24. & 24. 10. & 25. 8. & 26. 31. [m] ch. 25. 11.

20 For this cause therefore have I called for you to see you, and to speak with you: because that [n] for the hope of Is'ra-el I am bound with [o] this chain.

[n] ch. 26. 6, 7. [o] ch. 26. 29. Eph. 3. 1. & 4. 1. & 6. 20. 2 Tim. 1. 16. & 2. 9. Philem. 10. 13.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Ju-de'a concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee.
22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that every where [p] it is spoken against.

[p] Luke 2. 34 ch. 24. 5, 14. 1 Pet. 2. 12. & 4. 14.

43 But the centurion, desiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and 44 get first to the land: and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that they all escaped safe to the land.

A. D. 62.

28 And when we were escaped, then we knew that
2 the island was called [1] Mel'i-ta. And the barbarians shewed us no common kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present
3 rain, and because of the cold. But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out [2] by reason of the heat, and 4 fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, yet Justice
5 hath not suffered to live. Howbeit he shook off
6 the beast into the fire, and took no harm. But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.
7 Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Pub'li-us; who received us, and entertained
8 us three days courteously. And it was so, that the father of Pub'li-us lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laying
9 his hands on him healed him. And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island
10 came, and were cured: who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.
11 And after three months we set sail in a ship of Al-ex-an'dri-a, which had wintered in the island,
12 whose sign was [3] The Twin Brothers. And touching 13 at Syr'a-cuse, we tarried there three days. And from thence we [4] made a circuit, and arrived at Rhe'gi-um: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on 14 the second day we came to Pu-te'o-li: where we found brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them
15 seven days: and so we came to Rome. And from thence the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Ap'pi-us, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.
16 And when we entered into Rome, [5] Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.
17 And it came to pass, that after three days he called together [6] those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, though I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Je-ru'sa-lem into the hands of the 18 Ro'mans: who, when they had examined me, desired to set me at liberty, because there was no cause of 19 death in me. But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Cæ'sar; not that I
20 had aught to accuse my nation of. For this cause therefore did I [7] intreat you to see and to speak with me: for because of the hope of Is'ra-el I am bound with 21 this chain. And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Ju-dæ'a concerning thee, nor did any of the brethren come hither and report or speak 22 any harm of thee. But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against.

4 Da'vid according to the flesh, who was [3]declared to be the Son of God [4]with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead;
5 even Jesus Christ our Lord, through whom we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience [5]of faith

7 whom are ye also, called to be Jesus Christ's: to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, [6]that your faith is proclaimed throughout 9 the whole world. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you, always in my pray-
10 ers making request, if by any means now at length I may be prospered [7]by the will of God to come unto 11 you. For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be estab-
12 lished; that is, that I with you may be comforted in you, each of us by the other's faith, both yours and 13 mine. And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (and was hindered hitherto), that I might have some fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles.

A. D. 60.

14 [c]I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For [d]I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for [e]it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; [f]to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For [g]therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, [h]The just shall live by faith.

18 [i]For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness;

19 Because [k]that which may be known of God, is manifest ‖ in them; for [l]God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For [m]the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; ‖ so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but [n]became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 [o]Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

23 And changed the glory of the uncorruptible [p]God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 [q]Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, [r]to dishonour their own bodies [s]between themselves:

25 Who changed [t]the truth of God [u]into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature ‖ more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto [x]vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.

28 And even as they did not like ‖ to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to ‖ a reprobate mind, to do those things [y]which are not convenient;

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, ‖ without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32 Who, [c]knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things [b]are worthy of death, not only do the same, but ‖ [c]have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER II.

The Jews who sin are inexcusable.

THEREFORE thou art [a]inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: [b]for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4 Or despisest thou [c]the riches of his goodness and [d]forbearance and [e]longsuffering; [f]not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But, after thy hardness and impenitent heart, [g]treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6 [h]Who will render to every man according to his deeds:

14 I am debtor both to Greeks and to Barbarians, both
15 to the wise and to the foolish. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also 16 that are in Rome. For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also 17 to the Greek. For therein is revealed a righteousness of God [1]by faith unto faith: as it is written, But the righteous shall live [1]by faith.

18 For [2]the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men,
19 who [3]hold down the truth in unrighteousness; because that which may be known of God is manifest
20 in them; for God manifested it unto them. For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divin-
21 ity; [4]that they may be without excuse: because that, knowing God, they glorified him not as God, neither gave thanks; but became vain in their reasonings,
22 and their senseless heart was darkened. Professing
23 themselves to be wise, they became fools, and changed the glory of the incorruptible God for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 Wherefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness, that their bodies should be 25 dishonoured among themselves: for that they exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed [5]for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto [6]vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into 27 that which is against nature: and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working unseemliness, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was due.

28 And even as they [7]refused to have God in their knowledge, God gave them up unto a reprobate mind,
29 to do those things which are not fitting; being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit,
30 malignity; whisperers, backbiters, [8]hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things,
31 disobedient to parents, without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful:
32 who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with them that practise them.

2 Wherefore thou art without excuse, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest [9]another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou
2 that judgest dost practise the same things. [10]And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them that practise such things.
3 And reckonest thou this, O man, who judgest them that practise such things, and doest the same, that
4 thou shalt escape the judgement of God? Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering, not knowing that the 5 goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? but after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up for thyself wrath in the day of wrath and rev-
6 elation of the righteous judgement of God; who will render to every man according to his works:

7 To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life:
8 But unto them that are contentious, and [c]do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath,
9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil; of the Jew [d]first, and also of the †Gentile;
10 [e]But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good; to the Jew first, and also to the †Gentile;
11 For [f]there is no respect of persons with God.
12 For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law shall be judged by the law;
13 (For [g]not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.
14 For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:
15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, ‖their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts ‖the mean while accusing, or else excusing one another;)
16 [h]In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men [i]by Jesus Christ [k]according to my gospel.
17 Behold, [l]thou art called a Jew, and [m]restest in the law, [n]and makest thy boast of God,
18 And [o]knowest his will, and ‖[p]approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law;
19 And [q]art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,
20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, [r]which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.
21 [s]Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?
22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, [t]dost thou commit sacrilege?
23 Thou that [u]makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?
24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is [v]written.
25 [w]For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.
26 Therefore, [x]if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?
27 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, [y]judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?
28 For [z]he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:
29 But he is a Jew, [a]which is one inwardly; and [b]circumcision is that of the heart, [c]in the spirit, and not in the letter; [d]whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

The Jews' perogative, &c.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?
2 Much every way: chiefly, because that [e]unto them were committed the oracles of God.
3 For what if [f]some did not believe? [g]shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?
4 [h]God forbid: yea, let [i]God be true, but [k]every man a liar; as it is written, [l]That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

A. D. 60.

7 to them that by patience in well-doing seek for 8 glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: but unto them that are factious, and obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and in-
9 dignation, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew first, and also 10 of the Greek; but glory and honour and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also 11 to the Greek: for there is no respect of persons
12 with God. For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law;
13 for not the hearers of a law are [1]just before God,
14 but the doers of a law shall be [2]justified: for when Gentiles which have no law do by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto
15 themselves; in that they shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their [3]thoughts one with another
16 accusing or else excusing them; in the day when God [4]shall judge the secrets of men, according to my gospel, by Jesus Christ.
17 But if thou bearest the name of a Jew, and restest
18 upon [5]the law, and gloriest in God, and knowest [6]his will, and [7]approvest the things that are excellent,
19 being instructed out of the law, and art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light
20 of them that are in darkness, [8]a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having in the law the 21 form of knowledge and of the truth; thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou
22 steal? thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that ab-
23 horrest idols, dost [9]thou [9]rob temples? thou who gloriest in [5]the law, through thy transgression of the 24 law dishonourest thou God? For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you, 25 even as it is written. For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is 26 become uncircumcision. If therefore the uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his 27 uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who with the letter and 28 circumcision art a transgressor of the law? For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is 29 that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: but he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

3 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is
2 the profit of circumcision? Much every way: first of all, that they were intrusted with the oracles of 3 God. For what if some were without faith? shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithful-
4 ness of God? [10]God forbid: yea, let God be found true, but every man a liar; as it is written,

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man.)
6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?
7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?
8 And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.
9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before †proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin:
10 As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one:
11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.
12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.
13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips:
14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:
15 Their feet are swift to shed blood:
16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:
17 And the way of peace have they not known:
18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.
19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become ‖guilty before God.
20 Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.
21 But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;
22 Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference:
23 For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;
24 Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:
25 Whom God hath ‖set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the ‖remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;
26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.
27 Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith.
28 Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.
29 Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:
30 Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.
31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

Abraham justified by faith.

WHAT shall we then say that A'bra-ham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?
2 For if A'bra-ham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.
3 For what saith the Scripture? A'bra-ham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.
4 Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.
5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

A. D. 60.

5 But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (I speak after 6 the manner of men.) God forbid: for then how
7 shall God judge the world? [1]But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, why
8 am I also still judged as a sinner? and why not (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.
9 What then? [2]are we in worse case than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both 10 of Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin; as it is written,
There is none righteous, no, not one;
11 There is none that understandeth,
There is none that seeketh after God;
12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable;
There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:
13 Their throat is an open sepulchre;
With their tongues they have used deceit:
The poison of asps is under their lips:
14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:
15 Their feet are swift to shed blood;
16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;
17 And the way of peace have they not known:
18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.
19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world
20 may be brought under the judgment of God: because [3]by [4]the works of the law shall no flesh be [5]justified in his sight: for [6]through the law cometh
21 the knowledge of sin. But now apart from the law a righteousness of God hath been manifested, being 22 witnessed by the law and the prophets; even the righteousness of God through faith [7]in Jesus Christ unto all [8]them that believe; for there is no distinc-
23 tion; for all have sinned, and fall short of the glory
24 of God; being justified freely by his grace through 25 the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: whom God [9]set forth [10]to be a propitiation, through [11]faith, by his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of the sins done aforetime, in the for-
26 bearance of God; for the shewing, I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be [12]just, and the [12]justifier of him that [13]hath 27 faith [7]in Jesus. Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay:
28 but by a law of faith. [14]We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from [4]the works of the 29 law. Or is God the God of Jews only? is he not the 30 God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles also: if so be that God is one, and he shall justify the circumcision
31 [3]by faith, and the uncircumcision [15]through faith. Do we then make [16]the law of none effect [15]through faith? God forbid: nay, we establish [16]the law.

4 What then shall we say [17]that A'bra-ham, our fore-
2 father according to the flesh, hath found? For if A'bra-ham was justified [3]by works, he hath whereof
3 to glory; but not toward God. For what saith the scripture? And A'bra-ham believed God, and 4 it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. Now to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned
5 as of grace, but as of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness.

6 Even as Da'vid also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,
7 Saying, [f]Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.
8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.
9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to A'bra-ham for righteousness.
10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.
11 And [g]he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that [h]he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also;
12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father A'bra-ham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.
13 For the promise, that he should be the [i]heir of the world, was not to A'bra-ham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.
14 For [k]if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:
15 Because [l]the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.
16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be [m]by grace; [n]to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of A'bra-ham; [o]who is the father of us all,
17 (As it is written, [p]I have made thee a father of many nations,) ‖before him whom he believed, even God, [q]who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those [r]things which be not as though they were:
18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, [s]So shall thy seed be.
19 And being not weak in faith, [t]he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about a hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sa'rah's womb;
20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;
21 And being fully persuaded, that what he had promised, [u]he was able also to perform.
22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.
23 Now [v]it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;
24 But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe [w]on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;
25 [x]Who was delivered for our offences, and [y]was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

Of justification by faith.

5 THEREFORE [z]being justified by faith, we have [a]peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:
2 [b]By whom also we have access by faith into this grace [c]wherein we stand, and [d]rejoice in hope of the glory of God.
3 And not only so, but [e]we glory in tribulations also; [f]knowing that tribulation worketh patience;
4 [g]And patience, experience; and experience, hope:
5 [h]And hope maketh not ashamed; [i]because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.
6 For when we were yet without strength, ‖in due time [k]Christ died for the ungodly.
7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

6 Even as Da'vid also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness apart
7 from works, saying,
Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,
And whose sins are covered.
8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not reckon sin.
9 Is this blessing then pronounced upon the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say, To A'bra-ham his faith was reckoned for righteous-
10 ness. How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circum-
11 cision, but in uncircumcision: and he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that
12 righteousness might be reckoned unto them; and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father A'bra-ham which he had 13 in uncircumcision. For not [1]through the law was the promise to A'bra-ham or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world, but through the right-
14 eousness of faith. For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is 15 made of none effect: for the law worketh wrath; but where there is no law, neither is there transgression.
16 For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace; to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of A-bra'ham,
17 who is the father of us all (as it is written, A father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth the things that are not, as though they 18 were. Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, So shall 19 thy seed be. And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body [2]now as good as dead (he being about a hundred years old), and the dead-
20 ness of Sa'rah's womb: yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed 21 strong through faith, giving glory to God, and being fully assured that, what he had promised, he was 22 able also to perform. Wherefore also it was reck-
23 oned unto him for righteousness. Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto 24 him; but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, who believe on him that raised Jesus our 25 Lord from the dead, who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified [3]by faith, [4]let us have peace
2 with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; through whom also we have had our access [5]by faith into this grace wherein we stand; and [6]let us [7]rejoice in 3 hope of the glory of God. And not only so, but [8]let us also [7]rejoice in our tribulations: knowing that trib-
4 ulation worketh patience; and patience, probation;
5 and probation, hope: and hope putteth not to shame; because the love of God hath been shed abroad in our hearts through the [9]Holy Ghost which was 6 given unto us. For while we were yet weak, in due
7 season Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for [10]the good man some one would even dare to die.

[8] Or, we also rejoice
[9] Or, Holy Spirit: and so through out this book.
[10] Or, that which is good

A. D. 60.

8 But [m]God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.
9 Much more then, being now justified [n]by his blood, we shall[1] be saved [o]from wrath through him.
10 For [p]if, when we were enemies, [q]we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son; much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved [r]by his life.
11 And not only so, but we also [s]joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the ||atonement.
12 Wherefore, as [t]by one man sin entered into the world, and [u]death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, ||for that all have sinned:
13 (For until the law sin was in the world: but [x]sin is not imputed when there is no law.
14 Nevertheless death reigned from Ad'am to Mo'ses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Ad'am's transgression, [y]who is the figure of him that was to come.
15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift: for if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded [z]unto many.
16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.
17 For if ||by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)
18 Therefore, as ||by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so ||by the righteousness of one the free gift came [a]upon all men unto justification of life.
19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.
20 Moreover [b]the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much [c]more abound:
21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

We may not live in sin, &c.

WHAT shall we say then? [d]Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?
2 God forbid. How shall we, that are [e]dead to sin, live any longer therein?
3 Know ye not, that [f]so many of us as ||were baptized into Jesus Christ [g]were baptized into his death?
4 Therefore we are [h]buried with him by baptism into death: that [i]like as Christ was raised up from the dead by [k]the glory of the Father, [l]even so we also should walk in newness of life.
5 [m]For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:
6 Knowing this, that [n]our old man is crucified with him, that [o]the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.
7 For [p]he that is dead is †freed from sin.
8 Now [q]if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:
9 Knowing that [r]Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.
10 For in that he died, [s]he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, [t]he liveth unto God.
11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be [u]dead indeed unto sin, but [x]alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.
12 [y]Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.
13 Neither yield ye your [z]members as †instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but [a]yield yourselves unto God,

8 But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.
9 Much more then, being now justified [1]by his blood, shall we be saved from the wrath of God through 10 him. For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved [1]by his 11 life; and not only so, [2]but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.
12 Therefore, as through one man sin entered into the world, and death through sin; and so death
13 passed unto all men, for that all sinned:—for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed 14 when there is no law. Nevertheless death reigned from Ad'am until Mo'ses, even over them that had not sinned after the likeness of Ad'am's transgression, 15 who is a figure of him that was to come. But not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the 16 one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto the many. And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgement came of one unto condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses unto [3]justification.
17 For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and [4]of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ.
18 So then as through one trespass the judgement came unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came unto all men 19 to justification of life. For as through the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one shall the many be 20 made righteous. And [5]the law came in beside, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace
21 did abound more exceedingly: that, as sin reigned in death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 What shall we say then? Shall we continue in 2 sin, that grace may abound? God forbid. We who died to sin, how shall we any longer live
3 therein? Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his
4 death? We were buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so
5 we also might walk in newness of life. For if we have become [6]united with him by the likeness of his death, we shall be also by the likeness of his resur-
6 rection; knowing this, that our old man was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to 7 sin; for he that hath died is justified from sin.
8 But if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall 9 also live with him; knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death no more
10 hath dominion over him. For [7]the death that he died, he died unto sin [8]once: but [7]the life that he 11 liveth, he liveth unto God. Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be dead unto sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus.
12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, 13 that ye should obey the lusts thereof: neither present your members unto sin as [9]instruments of unrighteousness; but present yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14 For [v]sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, [x]because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that [y]to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin; but ye have obeyed from the heart [b]that form of doctrine †which was delivered you.

18 Being then [c]made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.

20 For when ye were [d]the servants of sin, ye were free †from righteousness.

21 [e]What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for [f]the end of those things is death.

22 But now [g]being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For [h]the wages of sin is death; but [i]the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

The law hath power only during life.

KNOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2 For [a]the woman which hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then [b]if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become [c]dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should [d]bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the †motions of sins, which were by the law, [e]did work in our members [f]to bring forth fruit unto death:

6 But now we are delivered from the law, ‖ that being dead wherein we were held: that we should serve [g]in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, [k]I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known ‖ lust, except the law had said, [l]Thou shalt not covet.

8 But [k]sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For [l]without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment, [m]which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11 For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore [n]the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13 Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

15 What then? shall we sin, because we are not under law, but under grace? God forbid. Know ye not, that to whom ye present yourselves as [2]servants unto obedience, his [2]servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? But thanks be to God, [3]that, whereas ye were [2]servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that [4]form of teaching wherein ye were delivered; and being made free from sin, ye became [2]servants of righteousness. I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness unto sanctification. For when ye were [2]servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. What fruit then had ye at that time in the things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end eternal life. 7 Or are ye ignorant, brethren (for I speak to men that know [5]the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? For the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. Wherefore, my brethren, ye also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, that we might bring forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the [6]sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought in our members to bring forth fruit unto death. But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, I had not known sin, except through [5]the law: for I had not known [7]coveting, except the law had said, Thou shalt not [7]covet: but sin, finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of [7]coveting: for apart from [5]the law sin is dead. And I was alive apart from [5]the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; and the commandment, which was unto life, this I found to be unto death: for sin, finding occasion, through the commandment beguiled me, and through it slew me. So that the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shown to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good;—that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, [o]sold under sin.

15 For that which I do, I †allow not: for [p]what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that [q]in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not; but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I [r]delight in the law of God after [s]the inward man:

23 But [t]I see another law in [u]my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from ‖the body of this death?

25 [x] I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

CHAPTER VIII.

Who are free from condemnation.

THERE is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who [a]walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For [b]the law of [c]the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from [d]the law of sin and death.

3 For [e]what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, [f]God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and ‖for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, [g]who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For [h]they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit, [i]the things of the Spirit.

6 For [k]†to be carnally minded is death; but †to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

7 Because †[l]the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, [m]neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that [n]the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not [o]the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of [p]him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, [q]he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies ‖by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 [r]Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For [s]if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do [t]mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14 For [u]as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15 For [x]ye have not received the spirit of bondage again [y]to fear; but ye have received the [z]Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, [a]Abba, Father.

16 [b]The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:

17 And if children, then heirs: [c]heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; [d]if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon that [e]the sufferings of this present time

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am
15 carnal, sold under sin. For that which I [1]do I know not: for not what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do. But if what I
16 would not, that I do, I consent unto the law that it
17 is good. So now it is no more I that [1]do it, but 18 sin which dwelleth in me. For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to [1]do that which 19 is good is not. For the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I practise.
20 But if what I would not, that I do, it is no more
21 I that [1]do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. I find then [2]the law, that, to me who would do good, evil
22 is present. For I delight [3]in the law of God after 23 the inward man: but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity [4]under the law of sin
24 which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me out of [5]the body of this 25 death? [6]I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to them
2 that are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus made me free from the law of 3 sin and of death. For what the law could not do, [7]in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending his own Son in the likeness of [8]sinful flesh [9]and as
4 an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: that the [10]ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit.
5 For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit the 6 things of the spirit. For the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the spirit is life and peace:
7 because the mind of the flesh is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed
8 can it be: and they that are in the flesh cannot 9 please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is 10 none of his. And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life because of 11 righteousness. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies [11]through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, 13 to live after the flesh: for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye [12]mortify the 14 [13]deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God.
15 For ye received not the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of adoption, whereby
16 we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God:
17 and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For [f]the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the [g]manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For [h]the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope;

21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that ||the whole creature [i]groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23 And not only they, but ourselves also, which have [k]the firstfruits of the Spirit, [l]even we ourselves groan within ourselves, [m]waiting for the adoption, to wit, the [n]redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: but [o]hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for [p]we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but [q]the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which can not be uttered.

27 And [r]he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, ||because he maketh intercession for the saints [s]according to the will of God.

28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them [t]who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom [u]he did foreknow, [x]he also did predestinate [y]to be conformed to the image of his Son, [z]that he might be the firstborn among many brethren.

30 Moreover, whom did he predestinate, them he also [a]called: and whom he called, them he also [b]justified: and whom he justified, them he also [c]glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? [d]If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 [e]He that spared not his own Son, but [f]delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? [g]It is God that justifieth.

34 [h]Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, [i]who is even at the right hand of God, [k]who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 As it is written, [l]For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 [m]Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.

38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor [n]principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and 23 travaileth in pain [2]together until now. And not only so, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for our adoption, to wit, the re-
24 demption of our body. For by hope were we saved: but hope that is seen is not hope: [3]for who [4]hopeth
25 for that which he seeth? But if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.
26 And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for we know not how to pray as we ought; but the Spirit himself maketh intercession
27 for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; and he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, [5]because he maketh intercession
28 for the saints according to the will of God. And we know that to them that love God [6]all things work together for good, even to them that are called ac-
29 cording to his purpose. For whom he foreknew, he also foreordained to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many 30 brethren: and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.
31 What then shall we say to these things? If God
32 is for us, who is against us? He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall 33 he not also with him freely give us all things? Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? [7]It
34 is God that justifieth; who is he that shall condemn? [8]It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.
35 Who shall separate us from the love [9]of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or 36 famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Even as it is written,

For thy sake we are killed all the day long;
We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors
38 through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor 39 powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other [10]creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Ghost,
2 that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in 3 my heart. For I could [11]wish that I myself were anathema from Christ for my brethren's sake, my 4 kinsmen according to the flesh: who are Is'ra-el-ites; whose is the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the serv-
5 ice of God, and the promises; whose are the fathers, and of whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, [12]who is over all, God blessed [13]for ever. Amen.

6 °Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For ᵖthey are not all Is'ra-el, which are of Is'ra-el:
7 ᑫNeither, because they are the seed of A'bra-ham, are they all children: but, In ʳI'saac shall thy seed be called.
8 That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but ˢthe children of the promise are counted for the seed.
9 For this is the word of promise, ᵗAt this time will I come, and Sa'rah shall have a son.
10 And not only this; but when ᵘRe-bec'ca also had conceived by one, even by our father I'saac,
11 (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of ˣhim that calleth;)
12 It was said unto her, ʸThe ‖elder shall serve the ‖younger.
13 As it is written, ᶻJa'cob have I loved, but E'sau have I hated.
14 What shall we say then? ᵃ*Is there* unrighteousness with God? God forbid.
15 For he saith to Mo'ses, ᵇI will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.
16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.
17 For ᶜthe Scripture saith unto Pha'raoh, ᵈEven for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.
18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.
19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For ᵉwho hath resisted his will?
20 Nay but, O man, who art thou that ‖repliest against God? ᶠShall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?
21 Hath not the ᵍpotter power over the clay, of the same lump to make ʰone vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?
22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering ⁱthe vessels of wrath ‖ᵏfitted to destruction:
23 And that he might make known ˡthe riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had ᵐafore prepared unto glory,
24 Even us, whom he hath called, ⁿnot of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles?
25 As he saith also in O-se'e, °I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved.
26 ᵖAnd it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God.
27 E-sa'ias also crieth concerning Is'ra-el, ᑫThough the number of the children of Is'ra-el be as the sand of the sea, ʳa remnant shall be saved:
28 For he will finish ‖the work, and cut it short in righteousness: ˢbecause a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.
29 And as E-sa'ias said before, ᵗExcept the Lord of Sab'a-oth had left us a seed, ᵘwe had been as Sod'o-ma, and been made like unto Go-mor'rah.
30 What shall we say then? ᵛThat the Gentiles which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, ʷeven the righteousness which is of faith:
31 But Is'ra-el, ˣwhich followed after the law of righteousness, ʸhath not attained to the law of righteousness.
32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For ᶻthey stumbled at that stumblingstone;
33 As it is written, ᵃBehold, I lay in Si'on a stumblingstone, and rock of offence: and ᵇwhosoever believeth on him shall not be ‖ashamed.

6 But it is not as though the word of God hath come to nought. For they are not all Is'ra-el, which are of 7 Is'ra-el: neither, because they are A'bra-ham's seed, are they all children: but, In I'saac shall thy seed be 8 called. That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God; but the children of the 9 promise are reckoned for a seed. For this is a word of promise, According to this season will I come,
10 and Sa'rah shall have a son. And not only so; but Re-bec'ca also having conceived by one, even by our 11 father I'saac—for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand,
12 not of works, but of him that calleth, it was said un-
13 to her, The elder shall serve the younger. Even as it is written, Ja'cob I loved, but E'sau I hated.
14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteous-15 ness with God? God forbid. For he saith to Mo'ses, I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will 16 have compassion on whom I have compassion. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that 17 runneth, but of God that hath mercy. For the scripture saith unto Pha'raoh, For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad
18 in all the earth. So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will he hardeneth.
19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find
20 fault? For who withstandeth his will? Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it,
21 Why didst thou make me thus? Or hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel unto honour, and another
22 unto dishonour? What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering vessels of wrath fitted unto de-
23 struction: [1]and that he might make known the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he afore
24 prepared unto glory, even us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles?
25 As he saith also in Ho-se'a,

I will call that my people, which was not my people;
And her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,

There shall they be called sons of the living God.

27 And I-sa'iah crieth concerning Is'ra-el, If the number of the children of Is'ra-el be as the sand of the sea,
28 it is the remnant that shall be saved: for the Lord will execute his word upon the earth, finishing it
29 and cutting it short. And, as I-sa'iah hath said before,

Except the Lord of Sab'a-oth had left us a seed,
We had become as Sod'om, and had been made like unto Go-mor'rah.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of 31 faith: but Is'ra-el, following after a law of righteous-
32 ness, did not arrive at that law. Wherefore? [2]Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at the stone of stumbling;
33 even as it is written,

Behold, I lay in Zi'on a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:
And he that believeth on [3]him shall not be put to shame.

CHAPTER X.

Righteousness of the law, and of faith.

A. D. 60.

BRETHREN, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Is'ra-el is, that they might be saved.

2 For I bear them record [a]that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they, being ignorant of [b]God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own [c]righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4 For [d]Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5 For Mo'ses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, [e]That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, [f]Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.)

8 But what saith it? [g]The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach:

9 That [h]if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11 For the Scripture saith, [i]Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12 For [k]there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for [l]the same Lord over all [m]is rich unto all that call upon him.

13 [n]For whosoever shall call [o]upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear [p]without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, [q]How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But [r]they have not all obeyed the gospel. For E-sa'ias saith, [s]Lord, who hath believed †our ‖report?

17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, [t]their sound went into all the earth, [u]and their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Is'ra-el know? First Mo'ses saith, [v]I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a [w]foolish nation I will anger you.

20 But E-sa'ias is very bold, and saith, [x]I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21 But to Is'ra-el he saith, [a]All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER XI.

A remnant of Israel saved.

I SAY then, [a]Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For [b]I also am an Is'ra-el-ite, of the seed of A'bra-ham, of the tribe of Ben'ja-min.

2 God hath not cast away his people which [c]he foreknew. Wot ye not what the Scripture saith †of E-li'as? how he maketh intercession to God against Is'ra-el, saying,

3 [d]Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? [e]I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Ba'al.

5 [f]Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 And [g]if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise

10 Brethren, my heart's [1]desire and my supplication
2 to God is for them, that they may be saved. For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, 3 but not according to knowledge. For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the 4 righteousness of God. For Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth.
5 For Mo'ses writeth that the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby.
6 But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus,
Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven?
7 (that is, to bring Christ down:) or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the 8 dead.) But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of 9 faith, which we preach: [2]because if thou shalt [3]confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou 10 shalt be saved: for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is 11 made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame.
12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek:
for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all 13 that call upon him: for, Whosoever shall call upon 14 the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear with-15 out a preacher? and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that bring [4]glad tidings of good things!
16 But they did not all hearken to the [5]glad tidings.
For I-sa'iah saith, Lord, who hath believed our report?
17 So belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word
18 of Christ. But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

Their sound went out into all the earth,
And their words unto the ends of [6]the world.

19 But I say, Did Is'ra-el not know? First Mo'ses saith,

I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,
With a nation void of understanding will I anger you.

20 And I-sa'iah is very bold, and saith,

I was found of them that sought me not;
I became manifest unto them that asked not of me.

21 But as to Is'ra-el he saith, All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

11 I say then, Did God cast off his people? God forbid. For I also am an Is'ra-el-ite, of the seed 2 of A'bra-ham, of the tribe of Ben'ja-min. God did not cast off his people which he foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith [7]of E-li'jah?
3 how he pleadeth with God against Is'ra-el, Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and they 4 seek my life. But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have left for myself seven thousand 5 men, who have not bowed the knee to Ba'al. Even so then at this present time also there is a rem-6 nant according to the election of grace. But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise

8 (According as it is written, [i]God hath given them the spirit of ||slumber, [k]eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9 And Da'vid saith, [l]Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 [m]Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather [n]through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the ||diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?

13 For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as [o]I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and [p]might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if [q]the firstfruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if [r]some of the branches be broken off, [s]and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in ||among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 [t]Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in.

20 Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. [u]Be not highminded, but [v]fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, [w]if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [x]thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, [y]if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree; how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be [b]wise in your own conceits, that [c]||blindness in part is happened to Is'ra-el, [d]until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Is'ra-el shall be saved: as it is written, [e]There shall come out of Si'on the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Ja'cob:

27 [f]For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are [g]beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are [h]without repentance.

30 For as ye [i]in times past have not ||believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:

31 Even so have these also now not ||believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32 For [k]God hath ||concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! [l]how unsearchable are his judgments, and [m]his ways past finding out!

7 grace is no more grace. What then? That which Is'ra-el seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the elec-
8 tion obtained it, and the rest were hardened: according as it is written, God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they 9 should not hear, unto this very day. And Da'vid saith,

Let their table be made a snare, and a trap,
And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,
And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their [1]fall salvation is come unto 12 the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my 14 ministry: if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and may save some of them.
15 For if the casting away of them is the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but 16 life from the dead? And if the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the 17 branches. But if some of the branches were broken off, and thou, being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them
18 [2]of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not 19 thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that I might 20 be grafted in. Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by thy faith. Be not 21 highminded, but fear: for if God spared not the 22 natural branches, neither will he spare thee. Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou
23 also shalt be cut off. And they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for 24 God is able to graft them in again. For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, lest ye be wise in your own conceits, that a hardening in part hath befallen Is'ra-el, until 26 the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; and so all Is'ra-el shall be saved: even as it is written,

There shall come out of Zi'on the Deliverer;
He shall turn away [3]ungodliness from Ja'cob:
27 And this is [4]my covenant unto them,
When I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloved
29 for the fathers' sake. For the gifts and the calling
30 of God are [5]without repentance. For as ye in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained 31 mercy by their disobedience, even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to 32 you they also may now obtain mercy. For God hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth [6]of the riches [7]both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past tracing out!

CHAPTER XII.

God to be praised for his mercies.

I [a]BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, [b]that ye [c]present your bodies [d]a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And [e]be not conformed to this world: but [f]be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may [g]prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, [h]through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, [i]not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think †soberly, according as God hath dealt [k]to every man the measure of faith.

4 For [l]as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office:

5 So [m]we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6 [n]Having then gifts differing [o]according to the grace that is given to us, whether [p]prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

7 Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering; or [q]he that teacheth, on teaching;

8 Or [r]he that exhorteth, on exhortation: [s]he that ‖ giveth, let him do it ‖ with simplicity; [t]he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, [u]with cheerfulness.

9 [x]Let love be without dissimulation. [y]Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 [z]Be kindly affectioned one to another ‖ with brotherly love; [a]in honour preferring one another;

11 Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12 [b]Rejoicing in hope; [c]patient in tribulation; [d]continuing instant in prayer;

13 [e]Distributing to the necessity of saints; [f]given to hospitality.

14 [g]Bless them which persecute you; bless, and curse not.

15 [h]Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

16 [i]Be of the same mind one toward another. [k]Mind not high things, but ‖ condescend to men of low estate. [l]Be not wise in your own conceits.

17 [m]Recompense to no man evil for evil. [n]Provide things honest in the sight of all men.

18 If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, [o]live peaceably with all men.

19 Dearly beloved, [p]avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, [q]Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 [r]Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

Of subjection to magistrates.

LET every soul [s]be subject unto the higher powers. For [t]there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ‖ ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth [u]the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? [x]do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the 7 [g]Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for [k]he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, [l]Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, [k]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore [l]love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time [m]to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: [n]let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and [o]let us put on the armour of light.

13 [p]Let us walk ‖ honestly, as in the day; [q]not in rioting and drunkenness, [r]not in chambering and wantonness, [s]not in strife and envying:

14 But [t]put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and [u]make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER XIV.

Not to censure one another, &c.

HIM that [a]is weak in the faith receive ye, but ‖ not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he [b]may eat all things; another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and [c]let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 [d]Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth; yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5 [e]One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be ‖ fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 He that [f]‖ regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for [g]he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For [k]none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9 For [t]to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be [k]Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? for [l]we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, [m]As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then [u]every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that [c]no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, [p]that there is nothing †unclean of itself: but [q]to him that esteemeth any thing to be †unclean, to him it is unclean.

not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, Thou shalt 10 love thy neighbour as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: love therefore is the fulfilment of [3]the law.
11 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you to awake out of sleep: for now is [4]salvation nearer to us than when we first believed.
12 The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let 13 us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in 14 strife and jealousy. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

14 But him that is weak in faith receive ye, yet not 2 [5]to doubtful disputations. One man hath faith to eat all things: but he that is weak eateth herbs.
3 Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not judge 4 him that eateth: for God hath received him. Who art thou that judgest the [6]servant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to make 5 him stand. One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteeemeth every day alike. Let 6 each man be fully assured in his own mind. He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord:
and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the 7 Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks. For none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to him-8 self. For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether 9 we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. For to this end Christ died, and lived again, that he might 10 be Lord of both the dead and the living. But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of God.
11 For it is written,

As I live, saith the Lord, to me every knee shall bow,
And every tongue shall [7]confess to God.

12 So then each one of us shall give account of himself to God.
13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more:
but judge ye this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling.
14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself: save that to him who ac-counteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not †charitably. [r]Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.
16 [s]Let not then your good be evil spoken of:
17 [t]For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.
18 For he that in these things serveth Christ [u]is acceptable to God, and approved of men.
19 [x]Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith [y]one may edify another.
20 [z]For meat destroy not the work of God. [a]All things indeed are pure: [b]but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.
21 It is good neither to eat [c]flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.
22 Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. [d]Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.
23 And he that ‖ doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for [e]whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

The strong ought to bear with the weak.

WE [a]then that are strong ought to bear the [b]infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.
2 [c]Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good
[d]to edification.
3 [e]For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, [f]The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.
4 For [g]whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope.
5 [h]Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another ‖ according to Christ
Jesus:
6 That ye may [i]with one mind and one mouth glorify
God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.
7 Wherefore [k]receive ye one another, [l]as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.
8 Now I say that [m]Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, [n]to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:
9 And [o]that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy;
as it is written, [p]For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.
10 And again he saith, [q]Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.
11 And again, [r]Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people.
12 And again E-sa'ias saith, [s]There shall be a root of Jes'se, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.
13 Now the God of hope fill you with all [t]joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.
14 And [u]I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, [x]filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.
15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, [y]because of the grace that is given to me of God, 16 That [z]I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the ‖ [a]offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.
17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ [b]in those things which pertain to God.
18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things
[c]which Christ hath not wrought by me, [d]to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, 19 [e]Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of 15 For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not with thy 16 meat him for whom Christ died. Let not then 17 your good be evil spoken of: for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness 18 and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. For he that herein serveth Christ is well-pleasing to God, 19 and approved of men. So then [1]let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby 20 we may edify one another. Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are clean; howbeit it is evil for that man who eateth 21 with offence. It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother 22 stumbleth[2]. The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. Happy is he that judgeth not 23 himself in that which he [3]approveth. But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.[4]

15 Now we that are strong ought to bear the infirm-2 ities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is 3 good, unto edifying. For Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that 4 reproached thee fell upon me. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through patience and through comfort of 5 the scriptures we might have hope. Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of the same 6 mind one with another according to Christ Jesus: that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify the 7 God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also 8 received [5]you, to the glory of God. For I say that Christ hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the 9 promises given unto the fathers, and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, Therefore will I [6]give praise unto thee among the Gentiles,
And sing unto thy name.
10 And again he saith,
Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.
11 And again,
Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles;
And let all the peoples praise him.
12 And again, I-sa'iah saith,
There shall be the root of Jes'se,
And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;
On him shall the Gentiles hope.
13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.
14 And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one an-15 other. But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, because of the grace that was given me of God, 16 that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, [7]ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made accepta-17 ble, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. I have therefore my glorifying in Christ Jesus in things per-18 taining to God. For I will not dare to speak of any [8]things save those which Christ wrought through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, 19 in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of

CHAPTER XVI.

Salutations and praise.

I COMMEND unto you Phe'be our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at *a*Cen'chre-a:
2 *b*That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.
3 Greet *c*Pris-cil'la and Aq'ui-la, my helpers in Christ Jesus:
4 Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.
5 Likewise greet *d*the church that is in their house. Salute my well beloved E-pen'e-tus, who is *e*the firstfruits of A-cha'ia unto Christ.
6 Greet Ma'ry, who bestowed much labour on us.
7 Salute An-dro-ni'cus and Ju'ni-a, my kinsmen, and my fellow prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also *f*were in Christ before me.
8 Greet Am'pli-as, my beloved in the Lord.
9 Salute Ur'bane, our helper in Christ, and Sta'chys my beloved.
10 Salute A-pel'les, approved in Christ. Salute them which are of A-ris-to-bu'lus' ‖household.
11 Salute He-ro'di-on my kinsman. Greet them that be of the ‖household of Nar-cis'sus, which are in the Lord.
12 Salute Try-phe'na and Try-pho'sa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Per'sis, which laboured much in the Lord.
13 Saute Ru'fus, *g*chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.
14 Salute A-syn'cri-tus, Phle'gon, Her'mas, Pa-tro'bas, Her'mes, and the brethren which are with them.
15 Salute Phi-lol'o-gus, and Ju'li-a, Ne're-us, and his sister, and O-lym'pas, and all the saints which are with them.
16 *h*Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

[1]the Holy Ghost; so that from Je-ru'sa-lem, and round about even unto Il-lyr'i-cum, I have [2]fully preached
20 the gospel of Christ; yea, [3]making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, that I might not build upon another man's 21 foundation; but, as it is written,

They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came,
And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also I was hindered these many times
23 from coming to you: but now, having no more any place in these regions, and having these many years
24 a longing to come unto you, whensoever I go unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with 25 your company)—but now, I say, I go unto Je-ru'-
26 sa-lem, ministering unto the saints, for it hath been the good pleasure of Mac-e-do'ni-a and A-cha'ia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the 27 saints that are at Je-ru'sa-lem. Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to minister
28 unto them in carnal things. When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, 29 I will go on by you unto Spain. And I know that, when I come unto you I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.
30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;
31 that I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Ju-dæ'a, and that my ministration which I have for Je-ru'sa-lem may be acceptable to the saints;
32 that I may come unto you in joy through the will 33 of God, and together with you find rest. Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 I commend unto you Phœ'be our sister, who is a
2 [4]servant of the church that is at Cen'chre-æ: that ye receive her in the Lord worthily of the saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever matter she may have need of you: for she herself also hath been a succourer of many, and of mine own self.
3 Salute Pris'ca and Aq'ui-la my fellow-workers in 4 Christ Jesus, who for my life laid down their own necks; unto whom not only I give thanks, but also 5 all the churches of the Gentiles: and salute the church that is in their house. Salute E-pæn'e-tus my beloved, who is the firstfruits of A'si-a unto Christ.
6 Salute Ma'ry, who bestowed much labour on you.
7 Salute An-dro-ni'cus and [5]Ju'ni-as, my kinsmen, and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also have been in Christ before me.
8 9 Salute Am-pli-a'tus my beloved in the Lord. Salute
Ur-ba'nus our fellow-worker in Christ, and Sta'chys
10 my beloved. Salute A-pel'les the approved in Christ. Salute them which are of the household of A-ris-to-bu'-
11 lus. Salute He-ro'di-on my kinsman. Salute them of the household of Nar-cis'sus, which are in the Lord.
12 Salute Try-phæ'na and Try-pho'sa, who labour in the Lord. Salute Per'sis the beloved, which laboured 13 much in the Lord. Salute Ru'fus the chosen in the 14 Lord, and his mother and mine. Salute A-syn'cri-tus, Phle'gon, Her'mes, Pa-tro'bas, Her'mas, and the breth-
15 ren that are with them. Salute Phi-lol'o-gus and Ju'li-a, Ne're-us and his sister, and O-lym'pas, and all the 16 saints that are with them. Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of Christ salute you.

FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE CORINTHIANS.

A. D. 59.

CHAPTER I.

Paul exhorteth to unity.

PAUL, [a]called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ [b]through the will of God, and [c]Sos'the-nes our brother,

2 Unto the church of God which is at Cor'inth, [d]to them that [e]are sanctified in Christ Jesus, [f]called to be saints, with all that in every place [g]call upon the name of Jesus Christ [h]our Lord, [i]both theirs and ours:

3 [k]Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 [l]I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ;

5 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, [m]in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6 Even as [n]the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:

7 So that ye come behind in no gift; [o]waiting for the †coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:

8 [p]Who shall also confirm you unto the end, [q]that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 [r]God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto [s]the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

THE

FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE CORINTHIANS.

A. D. 59.

1 Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sos'the-nes [1]our brother,
2 unto the church of God which is at Cor'inth, even them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours:
3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
4 I thank [2]my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus;
5 that in everything ye were enriched in him, in all
6 [3]utterance and all knowledge; even as the testimony
7 of Christ was confirmed in you: so that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the revelation of our 8 Lord Jesus Christ; who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be unreproveable in the day of our 9 Lord Jesus Christ. God is faithful, through whom ye were called into the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.
10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same
11 mind and in the same judgement. For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chlo'e
12 that there are contentions among you. Now this I mean, that each one of you saith, I am of Paul? and I of A-pol'los; and I of Ce'phas; and I of Christ.

[1] Gr. the brother.
[2] Some ancient authorities omit my.
[3] Gr. word.

A. D. 59.

13 [z]Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?
14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but [c]Cris'pus and [b]Ga'ius;
15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.
16 And I baptized also the household of [c]Steph'a-nas; besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.
17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: [d]not with wisdom of ‖ words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.
18 For the preaching of the cross is to [e]them that perish, [f]foolishness; but unto us [g]which are saved, it is the [h]power of God.
19 For it is written, [i]I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.
20 [k]Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? [l]hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?
21 [m]For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.
22 For the [n]Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:
23 But we preach Christ crucified, [o]unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks [p]foolishness;
24 But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ [q]the power of God, and [r]the wisdom of God.
25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.
26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that [s]not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called:
27 But [t]God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty;
28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and [u]things which are not, [x]to bring to nought things that are:
29 [y]That no flesh should glory in his presence.
30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us [z]wisdom, and [a]righteousness, and [b]sanctification, and [c]redemption:
31 That, according as it is written, [d]He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

How Paul preached the gospel.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, [e]came not with excellency of speech, or of wisdom, declaring unto you [b]the testimony of God.
2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, [e]save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.
3 And [d]I was with you [s]in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.
4 And my speech and my preaching [f]was not with ‖ enticing words of man's wisdom, [g]but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:
5 That your faith should not †stand in the wisdom of men, but [h]in the power of God.
6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among them [i]that are perfect: yet not [k]the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, [l]that come to nought:
7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, [m]which God ordained before the world unto our glory;
8 [n]Which none of the princes of this world knew: for [o]had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.
9 But as it is written, [p]Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.
10 But [q]God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit; for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.
11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, [r]save the spirit

13 [1]Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or 14 were ye baptized into the name of Paul? [2]I thank God that I baptized none of you, save Cris'pus and 15 Ga'ius; lest any man should say that ye were bap-16 tized into my name. And I baptized also the household of Steph'a-nas: besides, I know not whether I 17 baptized any other. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.
18 For the word of the cross is to them that are perishing foolishness; but unto us which are being 19 saved it is the power of God. For it is written,

I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this [3]world? hath not God made 21 foolish the wisdom of the world? For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the [4]preaching to save them that 22 believe. Seeing that Jews ask for signs, and Greeks 23 seek after wisdom: but we preach [5]Christ crucified, unto Jews a stumblingblock, and unto Gentiles fool-24 ishness; but unto [6]them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of 25 God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.
26 For [7]behold your calling, brethren, how that not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not 27 many noble, [8]are called: but God chose the foolish things of the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and God chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that 28 are strong; and the base things of the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, yea [9]and the things that are not, that he might bring to 29 nought the things that are: that no flesh should 30 glory before God. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us wisdom from God, [10]and right-31 eousness and sanctification, and redemption: that, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

2 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of [11]speech or of wisdom, proclaim-2 ing to you the [12]mystery of God. For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, 3 and him crucified. And I was with you in weak-
4 ness, and in fear, and in much trembling. And my [11]speech and my [12]preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit 5 and of power: that your faith should not [14]stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.
6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among the [15]perfect: yet a wisdom not of this [16]world, nor of the rulers of this 7 [16]world, which are coming to nought: but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, which God foreordained before the 8 worlds unto our glory: which none of the rulers of this world knoweth: for had they known it, they would not 9 have crucified the Lord of glory: but as it is written,

Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,
And which entered not into the heart of man, Whatsoever things God prepared for them that love him.

10 [17]But unto us God revealed [18]them through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, 11 the deep things of God. For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? [s]even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but [t]the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 [u]Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 [x]But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: [y]for they are foolishness unto him: [z]neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 [a]But he that is spiritual ‖judgeth all things, yet he himself is ‖judged of no man.

16 [b]For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he †may instruct him? [c]But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

How Paul dealt with weak believers.

AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto [c]spiritual, but as unto [b]carnal, even as unto [c]babes in Christ.

2 I have fed you with [d]milk, and not with meat: [e]for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnal: for [f]whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and ‖divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk †as men?

4 For while one saith, [g]I am of Paul; and another, I am of A-pol'los; are ye not carnal?

5 Who then is Paul, and who is A-pol'los, but [h]ministers by whom ye believed, [i]even as the Lord gave to every man?

6 [k]I have planted, [l]A-pol'los watered; [m]but God gave the increase.

7 So then [n]neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: [o]and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9 For [p]we are labourers together with God: ye are God's ‖husbandry, ye are [q]God's building.

10 [r]According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid [s]the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But [t]let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For other foundation can no man lay than [u]that is laid, [x]which is Jesus Christ.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13 [y]Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day [z]shall declare it, because [a]it †shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, [b]he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; [c]yet so as by fire.

16 [d]Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man ‖defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 [e]Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 For [f]the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God: for it is written, [g]He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 And again, [h]The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 Therefore [i]let no man glory in men: for [k]all things are yours;

22 Whether Paul, or A-pol'los, or Ce'phas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours;

CHAPTER IV.

How to account of ministers, &c.

A. D. 59.

LET a man so account of us, as of [a]the ministers of Christ, [b]and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's †judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.

4 For I know nothing by myself; [c]yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 [d]Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, [e]who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and [f]then shall every man have praise of God.

6 And these things, brethren, [g]I have in a figure transferred to myself, and to A-pol'los, for your sakes; [h]that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you [i]be puffed up for one against another.

7 For who †maketh thee to differ from another? and [k]what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?

8 Now ye are full, [l]now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath set forth ‖ us the apostles last, [m]as it were appointed to death: for [n]we are made a †spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 [o]We are [p]fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; [q]we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 [r]Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and [s]are naked, and [t]are buffeted, and have no certain dwellingplace;

12 [u]And labour, working with our own hands: [v]being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it;

13 Being defamed, we entreat: [w]we are made as the filth of the world, and are the offscouring of all things unto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but [x]as my beloved sons I warn you.

15 For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for [y]in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 Wherefore I beseech you, [z]be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause have I sent unto you [a]Ti-mo'the-us, [b]who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you [c]into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I [d]teach every where [e]in every church.

18 [f]Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19 [g]But I will come to you shortly, [h]if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 For [i]the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? [k]shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

Paul reproveth for sundry sins.

IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as [a]named among the Gentiles, [b]that one should have his [c]father's wife.

2 [d]And ye are puffed up, and have not rather [e]mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3 [f]For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have ‖judged already as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed,

4 In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, [g]with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5 [h]To deliver such a one unto Sa'tan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

4 Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, 2 and stewards of the mysteries of God. Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found 3 faithful. But with me it is a very small thing that I should be [1]judged of you, or of man's [2]judgement: 4 yea, I [3]judge not mine own self. For I know nothing against myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but 5 he that [4]judgeth me is the Lord. Wherefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man have his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and A-pol'los for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you be puffed up 7 for the one against the other. For who maketh thee to differ? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost 8 thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye 9 did reign, that we also might reign with you. For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, as men doomed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, [5]and to angels, and to 10 men. We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye 11 have glory, but we have dishonour. Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwell- 12 ingplace; and we toil, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we en- 13 dure; being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the [6]filth of the world, the offscouring of all things, even until now.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but to ad- 15 monish you as my beloved children. For though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I begat 16 you through the gospel. I beseech you therefore, 17 be ye imitators of me. For this cause have I sent unto you Tim'o-thy, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, even as I 18 teach everywhere in every church. Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you. 19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are 20 puffed up, but the power. For the kingdom of God 21 is not in word, but in power. What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

5 It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath his father's 2 wife. And [7]ye are puffed up, and [8]did not rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be 3 taken away from among you. For I verily, being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so 4 wrought this thing, in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the 5 power of our Lord Jesus, to deliver such a one unto Sa'tan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord [9]Jesus.

A. D. 59.

6 [k]Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that [l]a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even [m]Christ our [n]passover ‖ is sacrificed for us:

8 Therefore [o]let us keep ‖ the feast, [p]not with old leaven, neither [q]with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle [r]not to company with fornicators:

10 [s]Yet not altogether with the fornicators [t]of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go [u]out of the world.

11 But now I have written unto you not to keep company, [x]if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one [y]no not to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge [z]them also that are without? do not ye judge [a]them that are within?

13 But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore [b]put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER VI.

Of controversies before heathen judges.

DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that [c]the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall [d]judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 [e]If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. [f]Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, [g]and that your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; [h]neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were [i]some of you: [k]but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 [l]All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not ‖ expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 [m]Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but [n]for the Lord; [o]and the Lord for the body.

14 And [p]God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us [q]by his own power.

15 Know ye not that [r]your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? God forbid.

16 What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for [s]two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 [t]But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

18 [u]Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth [x]against his own body.

19 What! [y]know ye not that your body is the temple of

CHAPTER VII.

Use of marriage.

NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: [a]It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 [b]Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 [c]Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that [d]Sa'tan tempt ye not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, [e]and not of commandment.

7 For [f]I would that all men were [g]even as I myself. But [h]every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, [i]It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But [k]if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married I command, [l]yet not I, but the Lord, [m]Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, [n]not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else [o]were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases; but God hath called us [p]†to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt [q]save thy husband? or †how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And [r]so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? [s]let him not be circumcised.

19 [t]Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but [u]the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is [v]the Lord's †freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is [w]Christ's servant.

23 [x]Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, [b]let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins [c]I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one [d]that hath obtained mercy of the Lord [e]to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present ‖distress, I say, [f]that it is good for a man so to be.

the [1]Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have 20 from God? and ye are not your own; for ye were bought with a price: glorify God therefore in your body.

7 Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: It
2 is good for a man not to touch a woman. But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband.
3 Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and
4 likewise also the wife unto the husband. The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power
5 over his own body, but the wife. Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, that Sa'tan tempt you not because
6 of your incontinency. But this I say by way of 7 permission, not of commandment. [2]Yet I would that all men were even as I myself. Howbeit each man hath his own gift from God, one after this manner, and another after that.
8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, It is 9 good for them if they abide even as I. But if they have not continency, let them marry: for it is better
10 to marry than to burn. But unto the married I give charge, yea not I, but the Lord, That the wife de-11 part not from her husband (but and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and that the husband leave not his wife.
12 But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell
13 with him, let him not leave her. And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her hus-
14 band. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: else were your children unclean; but now
15 are they holy. Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called [3]us in 16 peace. For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife?
17 Only, as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. And so or-18 dain I in all the churches. Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision?
19 let him not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but the keeping 20 of the commandments of God. Let each man abide 21 in that calling wherein he was called. Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: [4]but if 22 thou canst become free, use it rather. For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called, being 23 free, is Christ's bondservant. Ye were bought with 24 a price; become not bondservants of men. Brethren, let each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.
25 Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgement, as one that hath 26 obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful. I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, namely, that it is good for a man [5]to be as he is.

A. D. 59.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.
28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.
29 But [o]this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;
30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;
31 And they that use this world, as not [h]abusing it: for [i]the fashion of this world passeth away.
32 But I would have you without carefulness. [k]He that is unmarried careth for the things †that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:
33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.
34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman [l]careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.
35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.
36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.
37 Nevertheless he that standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.
38 [m]So then he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.
39 [n]The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; [o]only in the Lord.
40 But she is happier if she so abide [p]after my judgment: and [q]I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER VIII.

To abstain from forbidden meats.

NOW [a]as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have [b]knowledge. [c]Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.
2 And [d]if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.
3 But if any man love God, [e]the same is known of him.
4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that [f]an idol is nothing in the world, [g]and that there is none other God but one.
5 For though there be that are [h]called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many and lords many,)
6 But [i]to us there is but one God, the Father, [k]of whom are all things, and we ‖in him; and [l]one Lord Jesus Christ, [m]by whom are all things, and we by him.
7 Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some [n]with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is [o]defiled.
8 But [p]meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, ‖are we the better; neither, if we eat not, ‖are we the worse.
9 But [q]take heed lest by any means this ‖liberty of yours become [r]a stumblingblock to them that are weak.
10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not [t]the conscience of him which is weak be †emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;
11 And [u]through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed.
28 Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife. But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Yet such shall have tribulation in the flesh: and I would 29 spare you. But this I say, brethren, the time [1]is shortened, that henceforth both those that have 30 wives may be as though they had none; and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that
31 buy, as though they possessed not; and those that use the world, as not [2]abusing it: for the fashion
32 of this world passeth away. But I would have you to be free from cares. He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may 33 please the Lord: but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may please his 34 [3]wife. And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may 35 please her husband. And this I say for your own profit; not that I may cast a [4]snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend
36 upon the Lord without distraction. But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his [5]virgin daughter, if she be past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he 37 will; he sinneth not; let them marry. But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own [5]vir-
38 gin daughter, shall do well. So then both he that giveth his own [5]virgin daughter in marriage doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do bet-
39 ter. A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be [6]dead, she is free to be 40 married to whom she will; only in the Lord. But she is happier if she abide as she is, after my judgement: and I think that I also have the Spirit of God.

8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge
2 puffeth up, but love [7]edifieth. If any man thinketh that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth not yet as 3 he ought to know; but if any man loveth God, the 4 same is known of him. Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, and that there is no
5 God but one. For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there are
6 gods many, and lords many; yet to us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we unto him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom 7 are all things, and we through him. Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol: and their conscience being weak is 8 defiled. But meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, [8]are we the worse; nor if 9 we eat [9]are we the better. But take heed lest by any means this [10]liberty of yours become a stum-
10 blingblock to the weak. For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, [11]be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols?
11 For [12]through thy knowledge he that is weak perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died.

12 And thus, sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, ye sin against 13 Christ. Wherefore, if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother stumble.

A. D. 59.

9 Am I not free? am I not an apostle? have I not seen Jesus our Lord? are not ye my work in the 2 Lord? If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye
3 in the Lord. My defence to them that examine me
4 is this. Have we no right to eat and to drink?
5 Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a [1]believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Ce'phas? Or I only and Bar'na-bas, have we not a right to forbear working?
7 What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk
8 of the flock? Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or saith not the law also the same?
9 For it is written in the law of Mo'ses, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it
10 for the oxen that God careth, or [2]saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, for our sake it was written: because he that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking.
11 If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great
12 matter if we shall reap your carnal things? If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right; but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the 13 gospel of Christ. Know ye not that they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have 14 their portion with the altar? Even so did the Lord ordain that they which proclaim the gospel should 15 live of the gospel. But I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make my glorying
16 void. For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; for woe
17 is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have a stewardship intrusted to 18 me. What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel.
19 For though I was free from all men, I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more.
20 And to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might 21 gain them that are under the law; to them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but under law to Christ, that I might gain
22 them that are without law. To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: I am become all things to all men, that I may by all means save 23 some. And I do all things for the gospel's sake, 24 that I may be a joint partaker thereof. Know ye not that they which run in a [3]race run all, but one receiveth the prize? Even so run, that ye may at-
25 tain. And every man that striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.

[1]Gr. sister.

[2]Or, saith he it, as he doubtless doth, for our sake?

[3]Gr. race-course

26 I therefore so run, [r]not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air:

27 [s]But I keep under my body, and [t]bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be [u]a castaway.

CHAPTER X.

Of the Jewish sacraments.

MOREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under [a]the cloud, and all passed through [b]the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Mo'ses in the cloud and in the sea;

3 And did all eat the same [c]spiritual meat;

4 And did all drink the same [d]spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that ‖followed them: and that Rock was Christ.

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they [e]were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were †our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as [f]they also lusted.

7 [g]Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, [h]The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 [i]Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and [k]fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let us tempt Christ, as [l]some of them also tempted, and [m]were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as [n]some of them also murmured, and [o]were destroyed of [p]the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for ‖ensamples: and [q]they are written for our admonition, [r]upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore [s]let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.
